Dear Soviet people. Awake, we implore you, as Marxist-Leninists, and do not allow to be destroyed what our venerated and glorious predecessors have built with all their suffering, privation, blood and labor.

People of Moscow, do not allow, do not tolerate this any longer! Within the Kremlin walls that sheltered the desks of Lenin and of Stalin and of their revolutionary comrades, the most shameful capitulation is being prepared that the world has ever known.

Befriended revolutionary peoples of the great and indestructable USSR, unite, all of you, in a new revolutionary spirit, guided by the correct Marxist-Leninist lines. Arise and eliminate pitilessly, unless they return at once to the right path which Lenin and Stalin had traced for them, all the present leaders, traitors, capitulators or indifferent ones, and preserve those who, despite appearances and threats, bravely resisted this policy of treason and capitulation. Call for the assistance of capable forces that have remained completely honest, and set out again for a brilliant future, the one that would be yours already if Lenin and Stalin had not died - the one which Nikita Khrushchev promised you with the firm intention of never giving it to you.

Soviet people, forward toward new victories, toward new successes; forget the miserable years in which you were mainly fed promises and American wheat, bought with the gold of your country. Do not forget, however, peoples of the great USSR, that your country carries the heavy responsibility of being the example for all peoples desiring social justice, freedom happiness, success through the dictatorship of the proletariat, and the elimination of exploitation of man by man.

The Marxist-Leninists of the entire world are looking to Moscow and sincerely regret that the new Kremlin leaders have chosen Khrushchevism in practice without Khrushchev. What good does it do exchanging one -- bad -- head for two others cooked in the same -- miserable -- broth? It means deceiving the people, playing the imperialists' game and that of the enemies of socialism, and surrendering the victories achieved to treason and defeat.

Soviet people, strong in your revolutionary traditions and in your experiences, react while there is time; do not forget - never forget the millions of martyrs who died for heroically defending their motherland, attacked by the Nazis, full of the certain hope that the capitalists would be wiped out forever.

Dear comrades and friends of the Soviet Socialist Republics, would you forget that you are living where socialism was born, that the great October Revolution is and will remain the immortal example of the first victory in the world of the revolutionary forces against capitalism?

Dear friends, demand of the party cadres, of all the organizations of your glorious CP, that they listen to the voice of the people, the voice of the masses, the voice of the true patriots, and that they renounce once and for all any kind of compromise, capitulation, and direct collaboration with imperialism.

Rise, Soviet comrades, struggle to have your leaders work for the unity of the international Communist movement, for socialist successes in the entire world. Do not let this unity be definitely broken, as seems to be the desire of those who are in charge of your government. For they persist in their -- evil -- intention of wanting to convoke a conference of the Communist parties next March, a conference which would only lead to a break with the Chinese comrades, their partisans and even the parties that wish to choose a more or less neutral line between your Party and that of People's China. This break must be avoided at any cost. No conference must yet be scheduled. A long preparation must be granted to open a frank and fraternal discussion among all the Marxist-Leninists in the world. We must no longer allow one party to dictate its own line but must, on the contrary, recognize errors, repair them, set them right with a new sincere, fraternal, revolutionary plan, and give every party the opportunity to adapt the Marxist-Leninist principles to its national situation and have all parties, no matter what their importance, considered equally.

Soviet peoples, the Marxist-Leninists of the whole world rely on you.
