Dear Friend,

We received today the following dispatch from our editor. We are releasing it prior to publication in our next issue for the information of interested individuals and the numerous ad hoc committees recently established in solidarity with the victims of the repression.

BRUSSELS.... A solidarity campaign in behalf of the victims of the Gaullist repression in France has been set in motion here. The first responses have proved very encouraging and it is expected that the campaign will rapidly be extended to other countries in Europe.

The committee in charge of this work has asked that funds, which are needed immediately, should be sent to Brussels. Checks should be made out to Emile Van Ceulen and sent to the following address:

Emile Van Ceulen
Secretary, Fonds de Solidarité contre
la Répression en France
