THE WORKERS' DREADNOUGHT

For International Socialism.

Vol. V.-No. 17

SATURDAY, JULY 20th, 1918

Price Twopence.

CENTRAL POWERS REPLY TO ALLIED SOCIALISTS.

Much criticism and even recrimination has been levelled at the Socialists of the Central Powers on the ground that they had neglected to reply to the Interallied Labour and Socialist Memorandum on War Aims agreed upon on February 20th and 24th, 1918. Their delay in replying was, however, due to the tardiness of the Government officials on both sides. The authorisation to send the memorandum out of the country was not received by the British Labour Party until May. The German reply would have been given at the Labour Party Conference, but for the fact that the British Government refused a passport to attend there to, Troelstra, the Dutch Socialist, who had interviewed the German Socialists in order that he might place their answer before British Labour. The following summary of Troelstra's interview with Scheidemann, the German Mejority Socialist leader is now to hand :-

THE GERMAN REPLY.

Scheidemann declared to Troelstra that the German Majority Socialists have always been in favour of negotiations, not on the hasis of the military situation but on the general principles of a Socialist Congress. The main point remains the constitution of a League of All Nations, in order to prevent new conflicts, to create arbitrage, avoid economic war, abolish armaments, and make the world safe for democracy. With regard to the concrete points, the German Majority does not refuse to recognise the Alsace-Lorraine question, and in the case of Belgium they have declared in favour of complete independence. They are of opinion that the question of indemnities for the little nations which are unable to restore themselves, ought to be settled by a general fund, for one day of war is more expensive than the payment of one nation. They are, in other words, willing to adopt as a basis of discussion, the proposal of the neutral Socialists formulated at Stockholm under the chairmanship of Branting and Troelstra, and they agree without reserve to the convocation of an International Conference. They agree also that Troelstra, Branting, and Huysmans should arrange to convoke this conference, and they accept Berne or any other Swiss town as the place of meeting. It appears they are ready to discuss the question of the origin of the war, though they are of opinion that this debate will not be conclusive. They note that the Minority Socialists have announced their views at Stockholm as being favourable to a speedy peace and do not care much about territorial questions, which, in the case of a general settlement and the creation of a League of Nations, are of secondary importance.

This brief reply should help to smooth the way for the international workers' Conference towards which those who desire the speedy ending of the war have long been looking. The statement that the German Socialists, even the Socialists of the Majority, "do not care much about territorial questions" is encouraging; it seems to indicate a realisation of the fact that territorial additions to an Empire in no way benefit the workers of the Empire, that the nationality of the employer often makes little difference to those he employs and that a democratic Socialist Government must necessarily reflect the desires of the people living in the area of its jurisdiction whatever its name may be.

Objection will be raised in some quarters to any German Socialists' proposal to adopt the Stockholm suggestion for an international fund to indemnify Belgium and the other small nations that have been invaded. The suggestion is in our view both practical and just, but it should be noted that the German Socialists do not insist upon this as a condition of joining the conference; indeed it would seem that they make no conditions. That they desire and have always desired the conference. The tone of the statement and the fact that they are content to leave the calling of the conference in the hands of Branting, Huysmans and Troelstra, two of whom are considered pro-Ally in sentiment, appears to indicate that they are prepared to adopt an international attitude and are not at the moment nervously trimming their sails to meet the hostile criticism of jingoes at home, a weakness too frequently displayed by the Majority Socialists of all countries.

THE AUSTRIAN REPLY.

The Austrian Socialists' reply was published on June 29th in the Vienna Arbeiter Zeitung, the organ of the Majority Party. The Austrian Socialists desire :-

1. The union of all the peoples in a League of Nations which would effect international disarmament and the submission of conflicts between States to the decision of a competent tribunal which would bring the collective strength of the whole League to bear on any State which transgressed international

2. No annexations. The solution of all territorial questions on the basis of the liberty of every people to decide its own fate.

3. No indemnities, the equal freedom of economic development for all peoples, and the prevention of all economic wars.

The Austrian Socialists recognise that such a peace cannot be attained by the victory of one imperialist group over another-such a victory would not bring about the right of self-determination, but would violate it. For instance, if Italy were to have complete victory over Austria-Hungary Italian Imperialists would not merely try to possess themselves of the Italian parts of Austria, but would also seize great Slav districts. If, on the contrary,

Continued on next page.

THE INTERNATIONAL.

THE FINNISH MASSACRES.

Swedish papers report that up to date 11,000 Finnish Socialists have been executed by the victorious counter-revolutionaries. Since the Paris Commune no massacre of Socialists on such a large scale has taken place. Even the number of those executed by the Tsar's henchmen during the years 1905-09 falls far short of 11,000, and the fact that the reported Finnish massacres are said to have taken place within as many months adds to the ghastliness of the charge against the Finnish bourgeoisie.

The Finnish Socialist and Trade Union organisations were powerful already under the Tsar, but martial law and the opposition of the Finnish bourgeoisie prevented the workmen and petty farmers from improving their conditions. To the last Diet elected under the Tsar 103 Social-Democrats and 97 middleclass men were returned. But owing to its composition the Diet was never convoked. When the Tsar was overthrown the Diet assembled and Comrade Pokoi was elected president. The Russian Provisional Government promised Finland full autonomy and Kerensky, when he first visited Helsingfors, sealed the promise by giving Comrade Tokoi a kiss. Was it a Judas's kiss?

When the Russian and Finnish bourgeoisie realised that all power was to pass into the hands of the workmen and petty farmers it took fright and Kerensky dissolved the Socialist Diet. [We may note here en passant that Kerensky, "the lover of freedom," dispersed a Socialist Diet, while the Bolsheviki "dictators" knocked a counter-revolutionary bourgeois constitutent assembly on the head.] Those Socialist deputies who attempted to hold a sitting were dispersed by Kerensky's dragoons.

A new Diet was elected to which, owing to corrupt practices on the part of the Finnish bourgeoisie, 107 middle-class deputies and 93 Socialists were returned. The bourgeoisie immediately started to pass measures detrimental to the working class and the petty farmers, and began to organise the White Guards to enforce its unpopular measures. The Socialists were bound to act in self-defence and began to organise the Red Guards.

When the Marximalist revolution was accomplished the Finnish Socialist Party formed a Central Revolutionary Workmen's Committee, seized all important centres, and sent the following ultimatum to the Diet: "The Diet in session is declared to be illegal and the old Diet dispersed by Kerensky is to be convoked." As a result the White Guards started open civil war and the bourgeoisie invoked German aid to overthrow the Workmen's Government, which had proved itself the strongest power in the State even under the Tsar.

The Workers' Organisations were gradually defeated and the frightful massacre of Socialists still continues. We invite Socialists and Labour organisations to pass resolutions condemning the savagery of the Finnish bourgeoisie and calling upon it to discontinue the executions if Finland is to be regarded as a civilised nation. A. S.

CZECHO-SLOVAKS NOT ANTI-BOLSHEVIK. According to the Izvestiya (organ of the Petrograd Council), Nos. 107 and 109, the revolutionary Czecho-Slovak organisations recently Held a Congress in Moscow. The majority of the Czecho-Slovak soldiers were represented and the debates showed that only a minority supported the counter-revolution. The following resolution, moved by Comrade Ruzicka, was passed: "Only the Russian Bolshevik Party has remained true to Marxian Socialism. In order to emphasise the unambiguous difference that exists between them and the discredited Social-Democrats of the Second International they have assumed the proud name Communists. We lay claim to the same name and wish to fight in the ranks of the international proletariat till Socialism is victorious." The Congress also issued an appeal to its compatriots misled by the counter-revolutionaries. The appeal says: "Comrades, bethink yourselves! Do not bring disgrace upon the honourable name of the Czech proletariat. Drive away your leaders who are the Tsar's former henchmen.... To arms against our Czecho-Slovak counter-revolutionaries!"

According to Politiken (S.-D., Stockholm), "The Czecho-Slovak troops have been defeated at several places and have been pushed back by the Council troops. In Petrograd the opinion prevails that the critical stage has passed. It is believed that a regular train service with Siberia will be established." A.S.

THE CZECHO-SLOVAK MYSTERY.

We are informed from a reliable source that the Czecho-Slovaks have not been armed by Trotsky but by Kerensky and they were incorporated into the Russian Army for fighting against Austria and Germany. After the Bolshevik Revolution the International Socialists among the Czecho-Slovaks rallied round the Soviets, but the greater part under the influence of Russian Contra-Revolutionary officers refused to fight against Germany for the Soviets, abandoned the Ukraine and demanded to be transferred to the Western front. On the way to Vladivostock they were bribed by money by the bourgeoisie, suppressed the Soviets, and restored to power the bourgeoisie. They are acting now simply as mercenaries. Their exact number cannot be given, but it will be between 50,000 and 100,000. As they are properly armed and disciplined, and as the Bolsheviki do not keep garrisons in every town, the Czecho-Slovaks succeeded temporarily in becoming masters of the situation in various localities. In the course of time the Soviets will be able to disarm them, unless they are reinforced by foreign troops.

THE ALLIED MOVE IN RUSSIA.

Capitalist governments may fight each other, but they will sink their quarrels and fight their common enemy-the awakened revolutionary working class. In 1871, when the Prussians were at the gates of Paris, they released French prisoners of war and lent them to the French Government to crush the Paris Commune. In 1918 German arms set up a reactionary regime in the Ukraine and crushed the Ukrainian Council Government. Also, in 1918, France "recognised" the reactionary bourgeois Government of Finland and Germany. stepped in to crush the Finnish Red Government.

That Allied intervention is an immediate danger threatening Russia is shown by the following telegram sent by Zinovyev (one of Lenin's chief supporters) to the Councils (Soviets) on the Murman Railway and to the Railway Administration: "Exciting events take place on the Murman Coast. Foreign troops are being landed and concentrated at various points, and an attack on the Murman territory may be expected. It is possible that the White Guards may attempt to join hands with the Czecho-Slovaks. Hence the Council of People's Commissaries has resolved that: Immediate steps must be taken to safeguard all stations and bridges in the Murman territory and those of the Northern Railway. Passengers in all trains must be examined and all armed Council forces are to be held in readiness. All counter-revolutionary elements which seek to come to an understanding with foreign troops must be dealt with severely. The measures taken are to be at once reported."

The rumours spread by the capitalist press to the effect that the people of the Murman territory as a whole have invited Allied intervention is not true and a pretext for the invasion of the territory against the wishes of the local Soviet Government.

We call upon the British working class to protest against the invasion of Russia by Great Britain and to take immediate action to prevent the overthrow of the Russian Socialist Republic.

A SERIOUS CHARGE.

M. Writski, President of the Petrograd Commission against counter revolution alleges that Britain has given £40,000,000 to crush the Soviet and is prepared to give £250,000,000 more. Mr. Lockhart the Bitish representative at Moscow, denies the charge.

WHAT ANTI-BOLSHEVISM MEANS.

This is the programme of General Horvat who is seeking to form a counter revolutionary Czecho-Slovak Government in Siberia:-

The abolition of all Bolshevik laws and ordinances. The recognition of all former alliances, conventions, and agreements with Allied and neutral countries. The restoration of the Army, with the strictest discipline and without political rights. Restoration of the right of ownership of private property. Restoration of commerce and trade by the abolition of the nationalisation and socialisation of commercial and industrial organisations.

AMERICA.

Conscription is being enforced against the American Indians and the San Francisco Chronicle reports that 200 Creek Indians are resisting the draft at the instigation of one of their women, who is said to be organising a new secret society. This woman visited Washington and on her return began lecturing the Indians and telling them that they cannot be forced into the army and that the Government is robbing them and trying to send them across the waters to be killed.

NEXT WEEK'S DREADNOUGHT will contain

A Speech to the Moscow Soviet

By LENIN. (The Bolshevik Prime Minister).

Order Extra Copies in Advance.

THE WORKERS' DREADNOUGHT

EDITOR: SYLVIA PANKHURST. Published by the Workers' Socialist Federation, 400 OLD FORD ROAD, LONDON, E.3 Telephone: EAST 1787.

Annual Subscription - Post Free, 10s. 10d. Back Numbers, 41d, post free.

All business communications should be sent to the MANAGER, 400 Old Ford Road, London, E.3

Vol. V., No. 17.

means of creating a democratic order in the world. and the cancelling of all the high falutin' promises Nevertheless, it is the duty of the workers in all to "make the world safe for democracy" that are countries to strive that the coming peace shall, as far so glibly uttered to-day! as possible, realise their ideals, although they must recognise that the true democratisation of the world cannot be secured as a result of this war, but by the the position, how weak is Mr. Henderson's comment class struggle and social revolution, for the people that an International Labour and Socialist Conwho bleed from endless wounds cannot afford to ference would provide an opportunity to convince continue the war until the working class becomes the the peoples of the Central Empires that the Allies form into an international labour organisation. dominant power in all countries. The Austrian neither pursue a policy of political extermination This League of Nations should ensure to all people Socialists are convinced that, since the future will against the Central Empires, nor seek to isolate the right to use the natural monopolies, including either be a peace dictated by the victorious to the and Socialist Parties of the world should strive disclaimer of the trade war, comes the demand of in order that others may not endeavour to secure to secure the latter. It is possible to obtain peace by the French Ambassador, M. Cambon, for an Allied conciliation now; to secure a victory peace for either "economic bloc," made in a speech on July 14th, "bolder" on the question of colonies than that of the side, the war must continue yet for several years. and his statement that "having repulsed the Allied Memorandum which they say." adheres closely A victorious peace would lead to new wars, because brutal attacks of the enemy we must not allow him to the existing situation, a situation that may give better understanding between peoples.

capitalist Governments.

A victory peace would consolidate the authority of Imperialism and Militarism in the victorious the various countries, especially if their Governments were obliged to conclude such a peace by the pressure of International Socialism and Labour. If Socialism ments to the table of negotiations, they would appear through the Workers' International? to the peoples as the peace-bringers, as the liberators from the horrors and sacrifices of war. By this act millions would be gained for Socialism.

The Governments on both sides have used, in turn, the favourable or unfavourable state of the military begin negotiating, the sooner will the workers influence, not only opening of negotiations, but the terms of peace and the future organisation of mankind.

the Inter-Allied Labour and Socialist Conference rendered more cifficult by the victory! concerning a League of Nations. They agree with the proposals for the economic relations of peoples especially with those formulated by the Conferences at Berne and Leeds.

They demand the transformation of Austria-Hungary into a League of Autonomous Nations.

Powers of the frontier provinces detached from and self-determination for all the subject peoples Russia. They declare that they have fought against the peace of Brest Litovsk and Bucharest both in Parliament and the press.

Belgium; but say they, "we do not consider as which would in no way distress the Austrian war, not only in money but in human life, we cannot agree to the prolongation of the war on account of financial disagreements.'

They desire that the position of Alsace-Lorraine, determination, but, they add, "we are under no illusions on this point and we understand that this demand, owing to the actual distribution of forces, will not be realised; we do not favour the prolongapossible." Whilst International Socialists should accept a peace of conciliation (in other words, a secure the furthest application of the principle of self-determination that is possible without prolong-

The Censor has here suppressed 25 lines. We conclude that these lines were of such a character as and aims of the Governments of the Central Powers. The Socialists continue: For this reason we desire as soon as possible the convening of an International Labour and Socialist Conference in a neutral country. Sat., July 20th, 1918. We accept as a basis for the discussion for this Conference the Stockholm Memorandum and also the Memorandum of the Inter-allied London Con-

Austria-Hungary were to gain a complete victory 'This memorandum of the Austrian Socialists over Italy the Austrian Imperialists would consider marks a distinct advance in the movement towards it right, not only to refuse to the Italians in their own the international consolidating and reconciliation district, self-determination, but under the pretext of of the official working class parties. Compare it improving the strategic frontier, they would annexe with the Inter-Allied Labour War Aims Manifesto, concerned. It would be the same in the case of France and Germany: if France were to be victorious, an Allied victory. It one-sidedly declares that French Imperialism would not only try to annexe "A victory for German Imperialism would be the Alsace-Lorraine, but also, in all probability, parts of defeat and destruction of democracy and liberty the essentially German Rhineland. If, on the in Europe," and that the Allied Socialists "are contrary, the German Empire were completely inflexibly resolved to fight until victory is acvictorious it would not only retain Alsace-Lorraine, hieved." "The victory of the Allied Powers," i but would also try to annexe, against the will of their populations, the mineral districts of French Lorraine. In a secreted, "must be a victory for popular liberty, In both cases the right of self-determination would be for unity, independence, and autonomy of the disregarded. If the Central Powers were completely nations in the peaceful federation of the United victorious, they would possibly proclaim the right of States of Europe and the World." Who is to self-determination for Ireland, Egypt, and India, but make it a victory of this kind? How can it be they would consider the settlement of the rights of done by the official Socialist parties, which have their own peoples to be a question of interior policy; been too weak even to induce Governments to if, on the contrary, the Entente were victorious, they would possibly proclaim the liberty of the Letts, Ests, and Poles; but they would postpone the to prevent Governments refusing passports to their recognition of the rights of the peoples of Ireland, delegates and guests? Small efforts these in Egypt, and India. It is evident, therefore, that the comparison with the herculean task of forcing victory of no Imperialist group can bring about the capitalist Governments, which have always steered democratic order. The Austrian Socialists, therefore, their course in accordance with Imperialistic advocate a so-called peace by conciliation. But motives, to abandon all their aims of annexation! whilst urging this, they recognise that such a peace concluded by capitalist Governments would not completely realise the objects of International statement that a victory peace secured by either Socialism. It would not be determined by demo- group of belligerents would lay the way open to cratic principles, but by the relative strength of imperialist annexations by the victorious Power. Such a peace might mean the sweeping For this reason the war cannot possibly be the away of all altruism from the peace settlement

In view of this clearly reasoned statement of and crush their economic life! In face of his outlets to the sea, which exist in certain countries, it would create in the vanquished the desire for to insinuate himself into our industrial life." The rise to conflicts in the future, even as it has given revenge. A peace of conciliation would facilitate a Paris Conference resolutions, the Inter-Allied rise to the present conflict." The Bulgarian Socialists Commercial Conference in London, the reports of Trade Committees set up by the Government, all the League of Nations for the economic use of all countries and would render the democratisation of point to the economic war which the capitalists those countries more difficult. A peace by under- intend to wage. How is Mr. Henderson able to standing would convince all peoples that wars created ignore these threatening factors; how is he able by capitalist Governments only bring to the people to assure the Socialists of the Central Empires of in dealing with the Balkan question, and especially endless sacrifices. Such a peace would therefore the loving kindness of the Allied nations, since he consolidate the peaceful and Socialist tendency in expressly states that the conversations of the International Socialists "will have no binding effect upon any of the Governments" and that and Labour were to succeed in bringing their Govern- there is "no intention of negotiating peace"

Socialism. How wisely the Austrians recognised controversy.' that even a peace of conciliation made by capitalist To do the framers of the Memorandum justice, Governments "would not be determined by many of the Bulgarian complaints appear to inoutlook as a pretext for refusing to negotiate, but democratic principles, but by the relative strength dicate that they have not seen a complete authentic the Austrian Socialists have desired all along and of capitalist Governments"! How right they are copy of the text, but the Bulgarian protests provide without considering the military situation to enter in their recognition of the fact that capitalist further evidence of the wisdom of an international into peace negotiations. The sooner the working Governments will never make a Socialist peace; meeting. classes in all countries press their Governments to and that the people of the country which obtains a What will the Allied Labour and Socialist Parties; victory will suffer bitterly from the triumph of their what will the British Labour Party do, to ensure the own capitalists and militarists; their struggle for speedy meeting of the International? The Austrian Socialists agree to the proposals of Socialism, even for palliative social reforms, being

Perhaps it is the fact that the Austrian Socialists have so clearly realised this truth, which has led and social reforms to be included in the peace treaty, them to demand reforms and disannexations within the Central Empires, instead of following the bad example of the Inter-Allied Memorandum, which to us to be evidences that the stories of counterignores the annexations and oppressions within They desire the creation of a League of Balkan the Allied Empires, whilst it denounces in detail the annexations of the Central Empires, both They repudiate the annexation by the Central prior to and during this war, and demands release within the Central Empires, even to the total disruption of Austria-Hungary and the substitution They claim the restoration and compensation of of a federation of free Danubian States, a solution decisive for the opening of peace negotiations the Socialists. The Allied Memorandum has nothing question of who is to bear the expense of this com- to say in regard to restitution and self-determination pensation. Considering the immense sacrifices of for Ireland, India, Persia, South Africa, Morocco, Tripoli, Egypt. Perhaps it is intended to deal with these countries under the section entitled 'Colonies and Dependencies,' which calls for "administrative Italy, Poland, Turkey, and the tropical colonies shall autonomy for all groups of people that attain to a be settled according to the peoples' right of self- certain degree of civilisation." Ireland, at least, would deeply resent the classification and mere "administrative autonomy" means very little.

The passages in which the Austrian Socialists reject the idea of prolonging the war until the right of self-determination has been secured to all peoples, will be-and, indeed, have already beenselected for special criticism by those whose outlook is governed by narrowly nationalistic prejudice: but, read in conjunction with the entire memorane dum, we think that the words must be taken to mean primarily that the Austrian Socialists do to dissociate the Austrian Socialists from the policy not desire Austria to continue fighting until the self-determination of the peoples of other empires has been conceded. The Austrian Socialis's express their desire for the application of the principle of self-determination within the Austrian Empire; and it is to be assumed that they will continue to work for this after the war, if it is not secured by the peace settlement.

The Austrian Socialist Memorandum has not the Bolshevik spirit: it does not boldly call on the workers to overthrow the capitalist Governments and assume control. Its protestation that the Socialist Party has "fought" against the Brest-Litovsk peace and the Bucharest peace "in Parliament and in the press" sounds rather tamely in view of the fact that members of the Party are killing and being killed on the battlefields in support of what the memorandum, we think, by implication, recognises to be a capitalist war. But this unfortunate position is that of all Socialist Parties, save those which have achieved the social revolution. Perhaps it is the experience of their helplessness in face of Brest-Litovsk and Bucharest which causes the Austrian Socialists to realise the futility of boastful talk in regard to national peace terms, whilst capitalist Governments remain in power. Perhaps it is this which causes them to point out to their comrades of all nations that the measure of their power to force the Governments to open negotiations, is the measure of their power to influence the character of the peace settlement. It should be noted that whilst the Allied Memorandum asks for the limitation of armaments, the Austrians demand dis-

BULGARIAN REPLY.

The reply of the Bulgarian Socialists was published in Narod on April 23rd and May 26th, 1918. It was evidently based on press reports of the Inter-Allied Conference as the actual Memorandum was not dispatched till May. The Bulgarian Socialists accept the general principles laid down in the Inter-Allied Memorandum. They desire:-International arbitration.

Self-determination of peoples. International control of armaments leading to total disarmament.

A League of Nations which Socialism will transthat the final opinion of the International may be desire all colonies to be placed under the control of peoples. They complain that the Allied Memorandum has considered only British interests in dealing with colonies; only French interests in dealing with Alsace-Lorraine; only Serbian interests with the controversy between Serbia and Bulgaria. They complain that treaties which are unjust to Bulgarians are not mentioned in the Memorandum. They recall that the Russian Soviet demanded that Macedonia should obtain a provisional autonomy to give its population the opportunity to decide its own destiny; they recommend this example to Nowhere does the Allied Memorandum refer to 'foreign comrades' who do not understand the

A FRESH PHASE OF THE WAR.

We believe still that the Bolshevik Government is more firmly entrenched than the capitalist Powers would have us believe. The still persistent appeals for Japanese intervention, seem revolutionary successes are exaggerated, for surely, if the counter-revolutionaries were able to vanguish the Bolsheviks, they would cease to appeal for foreign aid.

We believe that the power of the Bolshevik Government lies in the fact that it has done what the majority of the Russian people desire, and, possessing the devotion of the people, we believe that it cannot be permanently overthrown. Though it may be faced with stronger armies than those at its disposal, the industrial power, which the Russian workers have learnt to use, is greater than the power of any army, and this force will never support the counter-revolution.

E. SYLVIA PANKHURST.

SOCIALIST EDUCATION. By Eden & Cedar Paul.

SOME THOUGHTS AND SUGGESTIONS.

I.—Introductory. These words are quoted from the preface to H. riddle of destiny." Caldwell Cook's brilliant volume on education, It is in the realist and not in the religious spirit terest of these peasants is in their land-holdings, he said to himself: 'Surely this will be the vision and workmen"! "A social revolution of some kind will be that the angel of the Lord will give.' And then Enheartening as has been the Bolshevist revolunecessary in England after the declaration of he slept. Next day at the appointed hour he tion in Russia, we must not too readily apply its peace on the Continent; for, even supposing went once more into the presence of the angel. lessons to countries where capitalism is more some fair principle established by force of arms, But he was given no glorious vision. Instead, strongly enthroned, and where State education it has still to be wrought into a living practice the angel led him unto a child and said: 'Here, has for a couple of generations been carried on by right education and good government. For O prophet, is the answer of the most High God. under capitalist auspices. Russian conditions are many of us the greater war is yet to come." For in the child there lies the solution of the peculiar. Four-fifths of the Russians are peasants

'The Play Way' (Heinemann, 8s. 6d. net). It is that we quote this parable. We idealise children and the support given by the peasants to the possible that when Mr. Cook writes of a social just as little as we are inclined to idealise their groups of Marxists among the operatives of the revolution he is not contemplating anything very elders, just as little as we are inclined in most towns has assured the success of the Bolshevist drastic, that he does not understand the phrase respects to echo the words of the rabbi who said: revolution—if its success, as we hope, be even yet as it will be understood by the more Bolshevist "Suffer little children to come unto me, for of assured. Russia seems likely to skip the epoch among the readers of these articles; it is possible such is the kingdom of heaven." But we certainly of fully fledged capitalist industry and its conagain, that when he speaks of the greater war lean to the view that there is more to be hoped comitant bourgeois parliamentarism. We need vet to come he is not thinking in terms of the from the average child than from the average a Bolshevist revolution here no less, a proletarian class struggle; but even so, it is significant that adult; we think that there is good ground for revolution is indispensable to all the countries of the thought of a prominent and successful bour- believing that the larger the number of those who the western world, but they are not likely to get geois educationist (Mr. Cook is a teacher in the receive a genuinely socialist education, the it on such easy terms. We are faced by the old famous Perse School at Cambridge) should be so speedier will be the coming of the kingdom of man. problem. A socialist community, a co-operative extensively permeated with the spirit of socialist The crux of socialism, and the means of its realisa- commonwealth, needs socialists for its realisation, have ever seemed to us to be intimately tion; but capitalist society, working through Let us quote from a yet remoter source. On interconnected with this question of socialist capitalist State education, through militarism, March 4th, 1917, in All Souls' Church, Winnipeg, education. The active participants in the social through a myriad ingenious sophistications rangthe Rev. Horace Westwood, D.D., preached a revolution are likely to be a minority, which may ing from religious idealism to the Whitley report, truly remarkable sermon on 'Our Educational be small but must not be infinitesimal. That generalises a mentality adverse to the revolu-Forces and the Problems of War and Peace." minority must be able to count upon the active tionary spirit. There are, of course, counter-We) cannot even summarise his lengthy address, support, as soon as success looms on the horizon, vailing forces, both economic and political. In and will give no more than the text upon which of the great masses of the workers; it must not the end, perhaps, like the mills of God, they will he preaches and the parable with which he con- be fettered by the inertia of those whose whole grind exceeding small; but at present they grind cludes. The text is from Aristotle, and runs: education and vital experience have served to slowly. Is there no way of quickening the pace? "The best laws are of no avail unless the young convince them that the established order is We think there is. The workers must found are trained by habit and education in the spirit unchangeable if not positively sacrosanct. But their own educational institutions outside the of the polity." Here is the parable: "One day "the inevitable tendency of State systems of framework of the capitalist State. They must a prophet of the most High God went into the education—we speak, of course, of the capitalist provide in all big industrial centres for infant presence of one of His angels and said unto him: state, without prejudice to the question whether education more or less on the lines of the Mon-O thou who art a servant of the Most High, I am under socialism the State as we know it will tessori system. They must provide largely for weary with the troubles of earth and discouraged "die out"—is to turn the average proletarian elementary education to rival and ultimately to by the hopeless task of seeking to bring goodwill, into an average Henry Dubb to whom the em- supersede capitalist State education, on the lines peace, and justice among men. Will these things player is (as our German comrades phrase it) the of the "new school" movement. This carries on ever be, or is it all a hopeless dream? Give unto "bread-giver." Capitalist state education makes education up to the age of 16 to 18. Pending me a vision so that I may return to earth and of the workers' children the "ragged trousered these developments, and during their continuance, prophecy with certainty what shall come to pass philanthropists" of Robert Tressall's fascinating the workers must do everything possible to among men.' The angel pondered long and then study; people who when grown up thankfully promote "independent working-class education" said to him: 'Return to-morrow at this hour accept what is as "good enough for the likes of for young adults on the lines already vigorously and thy request shall be granted.' As the pro- us," rather than self-respecting human beings promoted by the Labour Colleges and the Plebs phet lay awake that night on his couch he wondered fully aware that the class war must be waged to League. These three branches of activity will be greatly what the vision would be. There passed the bitter end until class rule is overthrown. separately considered. But before discussing inbefore his imagination the hosts of humanity It is capitalist state education which has made fant education let us invigorate our minds by glorious and free. He beheld fair cities in which even avowed socialists willing to serve on govern- recognising how even amid the stresses of war, there was nothing vile. He looked upon smiling mental committees appointed "to make and our continental comrades are thinking similar villages untouched by the blight of poverty and consider suggestions for securing a permanent thoughts and advancing along the same paths.

upon nations freed from the curse of war. And improvement in the relations between employers whose grandfathers were serfs. The main in-

PARLIAMENT AS-WE SEE IT.

guilty of plotting with Germans." He suggested that the man should serve. that the British Ambassador in Paris should make inquiries of her friends there with a view to consider her release. Mr. Bonar Law protested that it was the STATUTORY UNDERTAKINGS BILL. to a Bill which would authorise State intervention in place. such enterprises as gas and tramways where the position is so seriously affected as to call for such intervention. We ask why should companies be the company's inability to pay pre-war dividends.

POOR FOREIGN OFFICE! Foreign Office, more dignity!

PRINCETOWN STRIKE. also taken into consideration; but the remark made indicate the contrary' by Mr. King (L.) that Mr. Norman "brought a case against the Law Courts and lost it " seems to be an Xplanation of the differentiation against Mr. Norman.

'MAN'S INHUMANITY TO MAN."

July 8th. -Mr. King (L.) drew attention to the out of this she pays 5s. a week for the supervision of surprise expressed in France at the internment of her child during working hours. Sir A. Geddes Mme. Gonne MacBride "under colour of being explained that three separate tribunals had decided

PROLONGATION OF PARLIAMENT. lady's actions in Ireland that caused her internment. the present Parliament until January 31st, 1919, was was negotiating for the exchange of prisoners—to deal Though Mr. King's suggestion was meant in a spirit introduced and passed. This means that the present with the subject of interning aliens. We are glad to of goodwill, we feel sure Mme. Gonne wishes her case House will have continued for eight years. Is it any notice that he preserves a little more sense of decency to be heard on its merits, and not in relation to her wonder that many of those who were staunch sup- than those who are hunting their fellowmen for what public trial for her as well as for her compatriots. democratic form of Government! No guarantee born a German or a Turk! The whole attack is as was given that this would be the last occasion on idiotic as it is vile. The aliens abroad must be much which this autocratic process of lengthening the amused at it too, for England has not even a British Mr. Wardle asked that a Second Reading be given tenure of office of the present members would take dynasty or purely British Government. However,

The following motion was moved by Sir Montague exempted from hardships, when the individual Barlow (U.): "That, in the interests alike of the consumer receives no protection, but is being called State and of the wounded and discharged sailors and on to pay increased rates without more reason than soldiers and their dependants, and of the widows and orphans of those who have fallen, it is essential that Why should pre-war dividends be paid, we ask again! all questions relating to pensions and allowances should be kept free from party politics and the influence of party organisations." The motion was July 9th.—Lord R. Cecil protested that there is carried though, as Mr. Pringle (L.) remarked, it was no ban on press statements concerning Russia beyond "fatuous, futile, and canting." He further and giving there, whilst the British public is kept in for the resolution, his action in so doing being one, well-to-do for the "defenders of their country"? gnorance, because the newspapers have been pro- of "sheer hypocrisy." And thus hours were spent in ibited from publishing the information. Lord R. recriminations from all sides of the House. Meanwould be abominable."

years' imprisonment. Mr. R. Lambert (L.) pointed Secretary, Mr. Shortt, from his replies does not seem. Is not Ireland now "an illegal" assembly? out that now Mr. Hughes is allowed to take up work to incline towards leniency or fair play. For instance, under the exceptional employment scheme, whereas he stated that Orange celebrations will be subject to

HYDE PARK MEETING.

that the Peace Meeting arranged by the Women's Reading. International League and others could not be per-July 10th.—A tale of wretchedness was disclosed mitted because a demonstration of sympathy with MATERNITY AND CHILD's WELFARE BILL. Mr. Jowett (Lab.) when he enumerated the the French nation would take place in the Park on the The Committee stage of the Maternity and Child reasons why a certain J. W. Muff should not be called same day. The police authorities advised him that Welfare Bill was taken on July 9th and on the 12th it pon to serve. Both his parents are blind and undue demands would be made on the police, so he was given a third reading and passed. Where aged, 67 and 73 respectively; he is their sole support; decided to "prohibit the pacifist demonstration." there are no women on the Council, "it will be lear daughter in London earns only 5s. a week in Is there any reason to believe that soldiers or the compulsory on the Council to co-opt women." wages as a waitress and uncertain sums in gratuities, French would cause disturbance when the question of peace is being discussed & Further, which meeting was the first to obtain a permit? If the French, then why were not the "Pacifists" recommended to choose another day? We fear Sir G. Cave tries to be too diplomatic at times! Also what about the

In a long speech Sir G. Cave told the House that he On July 8th and 10th a Bill to prolong the life of received a wire to return from the Hague-where he previous behaviour. Her friends should demand porters of Parliament are now seeking for a more is no fault of their own. Can any one help being Sir G. Cave remarked that as an Englishman he did not feel proud of the methods employed by the "Intern them all" clique. Committees are to be set up to pacify the indignant Britishers, and a British Nationality and Status of Aliens Bill will be introduced. Mr. Lloyd George is becoming pious and wishes "to save from temptation" those Germans as large at present. But, mark you, not because of the 'outcry in the press," but because "the time has

PIGSTYES FOR THE WORKERS July 12th.-Mr. Anderson (Lab.) stated that that which applies to military operations. Mr. G. justly pointed out that so long as two members of the "housing in Sheffield is so short that two families-Lambert (L.), however, alleged that Germany has Government were prominent in the British Workers' both those of discharged soldiers—are housed in access to Russian news of the help the Allies are League, the Leader of the House had no right to vote disused pigstyes. Are there no vacant houses of the IRELAND v. ESTHONIA. Cecil pleaded the innocence of his Department, while the party that had done least for these men Mr. King (L.) asked whether the Government saying: "I am sure that if my Department is blamed wanted to get credit for being too noble to use such acquiesced in the recent action forbidding the use it is blamed unjustly." Dignity, gentlemen of the weapons. As Mr. Bonar Law put it: "I think it of the Gaelic language in public places. The answer was in the negative. Does the Government forget the recent R.I.C. prohibition of Irish songs and speeches at an Irish festival? Is this denial merely As a result of the strike at Princetown after the . July 11th.—Many questions on the subject of opportunism used to fall in line with the complaints death of Mr. Firth, J. P. Hughes and C. H. Norman various injustices committed by the Government in in the press against German tyranny which compels were court-martialled and both sentenced to two Ireland were put by Mr. King (L.). The Chief Esthonians to use German as the official language?

BRITISH NATIONALITY. H. Norman has been refused any work at all. the same conditions as any other demonstrations. A Bill to introduce wider powers of revoking Sir G. Cave remarked that a man's past career was Unfortunately, the reports in the newspapers certificates of naturalisation was introduced by Sir G. Cave, "The British Nationality and Status of Aliens Bill." We anticipate much inconvenience for both "friendly and enemy aliens" as a result of this Sir George Cave carefully explained to the House measure should it be passed. It was given a Second

Mackinlay.

WORKERS' SOCIALIST FEDERATION.

LONDON MEETINGS.

OUT DOOR.

FRIDAY, JULY 19th. Cobden Statue. -6.30 P.M., Miss Price.

SATURDAY, JULY 20th. Great Push for Socialism, Peace, and Votes for All in the Holloway district. Meet at 3 and 6 P.M. outside Nag's Head (corner of Seven Sisters' Road and Holloway Road, 10 minutes' walk from Finsbury Park Station). Speakers: Mrs. Edmunds, Miss Price, Mrs. Walker, and Mr. A.

SUNDAY, JULY 21st. Osborn Street, Whitechapel.-11.45 A.M., Miss

Price. The Flagstaff, Hampstead. —3 P.M., Mrs. Walker.

MONDAY, JULY 22nd. Hoe Street, Walthamstow. - 7 P.M., Miss Price.

WEDNESDAY, JULY 24th. Armagh Road, Bow. -7 P.M., Mr. A. A. Watts and W.S.F., 76 Plimsol Road, Finsbury Park. others.

FRIDAY, JULY 26th. Hague Street, Bethnal Green. -11.30 A.M., Miss Price.

SATURDAY, JULY 27th. Great Push in Hammersmith.

INDOOR.

MONDAY, JULY 22nd. 44 Malden Road, St. Pancras W.S.F. -2.30 P.M., Business Meeting.

WEDNESDAY, JULY 24th. Leonard's Academy, High Road, Leytonstone. -7 P.M., Mrs. Horsfall; chair: Mrs. Hart.

OTHER ORGANISATIONS.

WALTHAMSTOW LEAGUE OF RIGHTS.

TUESDAY, JULY 23rd. William Morris Hall, Somer's Road. -2.30 P.M., Miss Lambie.

THE EMILY DAVISON CLUB. 144, High Holborn, W.C.1. For weekly meetings see last week's "Dreadnought." W.S.F. SOCIAL WORK.

"Mothers' Arms Day," organised by the Nursery Staff, was very successful. The sellers worked hard, some starting at 4.30 A.M. and did not leave off till 9.30 P.M. All the boxes are not yet in; balance sheet next week.

W. F. S. NOTES.

Members are asked to attend "Push" Meetings on Saturdays; more sellers of DREADNOUGHTS and other literature and canvassers in the immediate neighbourhood needed; people should be appealed to to join the Federation. All willing to help should apply to Miss Smyth, 400 Old Ford Road, or to the nearest Branch Secretary. Those who have not had the following pamphlets should get them at once: 'The Schooling of the Future,' 1d.; 'How to Solve the Housing Question,' &d.; 'Mothers' Pensions,' 2d.; 'The Birthrate,' 1d.; 'Parents and Militarism,' 6d. for 50. Discount for quantities.

A deputation consisting of thirty Old Age Pensioners from Bow, Poplar, Stepney, and Kentish Town, got up by the old people themselves, went to the House of Commons to demand 15s. a week. Another deputation from Walthamstow will be going shortly. Further particulars from Miss Price,

We are calling a Conference, representative of all organisations interested in spreading the true knowledge of Russian conditions, at Chandos Hall on July 24th at 7.30. All organisations interested in this question should apply to the Meetings Secretary, 400 Old Ford Road, for delegates' credentials.

· BOW.—Branch Meeting: 400 Old Ford Road, Tuesday, July 23rd, 8 P.M. Bow members start for the Outing at 10 A.M. outside Bow Station (North London) and go by 'bus to George Lane. Members are asked to sell as many tickets as possible, price 3s. All unsold tickets to be sent to Miss Bush by Thursday, July 25th.

ST. PANCRAS.—Hon. Secretary: Mrs. Brumsdon, 38 Dale Road, Kentish Town. Branch Meetings every Monday at 2.30.

SHEFFIELD. -Hon: Secretary: Mrs. Carford, 183 West Street. Branch Meeting, B.S.P. Rooms, 198 West Street, Tuesday, July 23rd. Good literature sales at Comrades of the Great War Meeting. More sellers of literature and DREADNOUGHT needed.

BRYN MAUR and NANTY GLO. -Hon. Secretary: Mrs. Hayward, Coedcoe Garn Fach. Meetings were addressed by Miss Sylvia Pankhurst in the Market Place, Bryn Maur, on July 13th, and July 14th at Blaina. The attendance, literature sales, and collections were good. Mrs. Hayward made a very successful chairman.

MISCELLANEOUS ADVERTISEMENTS

FAMILY LIMITATION DOCTRINE. Post free, 13d. -Malthusian League, 48, Broadway, Westminster.

WOMEN WORKERS should spend their holidays at "Sea View," Victoria Road, Brighton.-Hostess, Miss Turner.

ANTIQUES.

For Genuine Old English Furniture and China - MARY CASEY, 29b Lincoln's Inn Fields, W.C.2.

Greer's Agreeable BAKING, CUSTARD, EGG AND BLANCMANGE POWDERS

In 13d. Packets. Obtainable from all grocers, wholesale only from D. W. GREER & CO.,

London, S.E.5

ELECTRIC MACHINE BAKERY 91 BURDETT ROAD, MILE END,

W. WOODS & SONS,

Family Bakers.

INTERNATIONAL YOUNG AGE PENSIONS. Dear Friends of Humanity,-In order to relieve the terrible poverty and suffering that is devastating Europe, let us endeavour to place the children and all those who are helpless in comparative safety by securing SEVEN SHILLINGS A WEEK each for them from the state, that we may be free to work for other reforms. At present, whilst they are exposed to sold, poverty and hunger, we can think of nothing else. 7s. a week would BNABLE FAMILIES TO MOVE AT ONCE INTO BETTER HOUSES, and to obtain better milk and food. This would stimulate local trade and reduce expenses of WORKHOUSES. HOSPITALS, PRISONS and LUNATIC ASYLUMS, and do away with all poor rates to such an extent as to be A GREAT SAVING to the taxpayers, and would enable sensible girls to marry where they would otherwise not dare to do so, and to bring up healthy happy children to become stalwart citizens and parents in their turn, besides relieving untold pain and suffering, and being an estimable benefit to the State.

The fact of a married man becoming automatically POORER at the birth of each child constitutes a cruel wrong to all children, and until each child has 7s. a week in its own individual right, as an infant citizen, suffering, war, disease, and poverty can never be abolished. Let us all demand this from our different Governments now, before it S. MACKENZIE KENNEDY. may be too late.

AEROPLANE STRIKE: By W. F. WATSON.

WARING & GILLOWS SACKED.

The aeroplane workers brush with the employers is now over, and the following settlement has been effected: "That we, the National Woodworkers' Aircraft Committee, London District Aircraft Committee, and other representatives of the workers (both metal and wood) hereby pledge the whole of the men and women now on dispute, loyally to abide by the decision of the proposed inquiry, if Mr. Rock be allowed to start work as soon as the Ministry of Munitions has assumed the effective control of the factory, and that if Rock be acquitted he shall receive compensation from the date of his dismissal from the Alliance Aeroplane Company. Further, we hereby recommend an immediate resumption of work at all shops now on dispute.'

By taking the drastic step of sacking the firm, the Minister of Munitions administered the D.O.R.A. and the Munitions Act with far more equity than has hitherto been displayed by Ministers of State. This was not necessarily due to any sense of justice, equity, or magnanimity on the part of Mr. Churchill; it must be remembered that the industrial forces were too strong to be ignored. From all parts letters and telegrams were received to the effect that the workers were prepared to down tools in sympathy, and had the Ministry turned down the workers' demands the order would have been to bring out the whole of Woolwich Arsenal.

Rock himself was on the deputation to the Ministry, as also were delegates from the unofficial committee and from the Arsenal Shop Stewards. But what is perhaps best of all is that Rock actually re-started work before the firm became a national factory. It appears that Rock presented himself for work on the Monday morning. The Government representative in charge declined to engage him; but, upon being informed by the Shop Committee that there would be trouble if Rock were not started, the gallant Major thought better of his refusal and our comrade worked for an hour or so before attending the inquiry.

As one who took an active part in the negotiations and a member of the deputation, I should like to record my impressions of it. Some difficulty was encountered with the officials, who did not wish the unofficial executive to be on the deputation, although they were willing that two men from Waring & Gillows should accompany them. However, this opposition was overcome, and we met Mr. Churchill at 2.30 on Tuesday, July 9th.

The Minister of Munitions, evidently hoping to impress us with his impartiality, told us he had had very little friction between workers and employers during his tenure of office. He then went on to say that the sun was very hot, inferring that that was why the men struck. He urged that they must be got back to work as quickly as possible, because of the war position. He was mainly concerned about beating the Huns. One of the deputation very pertinently asked him if he would apply the "hot weather" argument to Capt. Waring, who was understood to be a very hot-headed individual.

When Stennet had stated the workers' case, Mr. Churchill said he had no proposals to offer until he had heard the employers' side; but he expressed the view that arbitration should settle whether Rock should be reinstated. The deputation pressed for reinstatement prior to arbitration. Mr. Churchill said that was not a matter of substance (although it is one of principle), for if Rock were reinstated he would not be actually at work, since his presence would be essential at the inquiry. Of course, the Minister may have been sincere; but it appeared to me that he was trying to "kid" us. Mr. Churchill then left to interview the bosses. We WRITE for CATALOGUE, DESIGN & QUOTATION that we were up against the organised employers.

Upon his return the Minister informed us he was unable to give his decision then. It was unfortunate that the strike would have to go on, but it could not be helped. He hoped to be able to give his decision on the following day at 3 P.M.

learned that Sir Alan Smith of the Engineering

Employers' Federation was in attendance, and knew

We duly showed up next day, when we found that the National Aircraft Committee had been brought into the dispute, at the instigation of the Ministry. After we had waited over three hours Mr. Churchill came in and told us of the drastic action he had taken in sacking Waring & Gillows. He hoped the transfer would be accomplished in a few days. All the men should apply for employment and priority would be given to those previously working there. He modified this by guaranteeing employment to all working there including Rock. An inquiry would be immediately set up to deal with the whole case. We drew from Mr. Churchill a definite promise that if the firm, or any member of the management, were proved by the inquiry to be guilty they would be adequately punished. There then remained two points: (1) What was to happen to Rock during the period of transfer; and (2) the question of compensation. Mr. Churchill desired guarantees that the men would abide by the result of the inquiry and was informed that these would be forthcoming. Upon being pressed for a definite promise that, in the event of such guarantees being given he would use his influence to secure the immediate reinstatement of Rock, he said he would not give his decision then, but would leave us to discuss the matter. I believe the whole of the deputation was of opinion that, providing we gave the necessary guarantees, Mr. Churchill would insist upon the immediate reinstatement of Rock. As a result of our discussion a resolution embodying guarantees was drawn up, adopted, and sent up to the Minister. The reply was that he had no power to compel the firm to reinstate Rock. Unfortunately, from my standpoint, the rest of the deputation accepted the position, and a resolution to that effect was sent up. The reply was quickly forthcoming and it was found that four words had been inserted, making Rock's reinstatement subject to the inquiry, compensation to date from time of re-starting work. However, we were quite alert, and Sir Stephenson Kent was reluctantly induced to delete the obnoxious words and to make compensation date from the time of dismissal. The inquiry started at 11.30 on Friday and finished on Monday, and we may expect the verdict by the time this is in print. I thoroughly enjoyed the fight, and the way all sections worked together was splendid. The Workers' Committee Movement has been amply justified. It is for us to consolidate our gains by establishing a real Workers' Committee for London that shall co-ordinate the activities of all workers regardless of craft, grade, or sex. I may add that I was not very much impressed by the ability of either the Minister of Munitions-or any of his officials.

Established 1855 Phone: Central 3820 TOYE & Co. 57 Theobalds Road, London, W.C.

Sole Manufacturers of Banners and Flags for Demonstrations. Metal and Enamelled Badges for all Societies. Medals. Celluloid and Buttons. Flags for Charity Collection Days.

WORKSHOP NOTES.

THE INDUSTRIAL LEAGUE ? ? ?

A pamphlet issued by the above League states that its aim is "to bring the employer and employed together in an atmosphere conducive to a calm and fruitful discussion of industrial problems in which they are mutually interested." The League seems to be an adjunct to the Industrial Reconstruction Council the object of which is to back up the recommendations of the Whitley Report. Amongst the Executive Committee we find the names of A. Bellamy, C.B.E., N.U.R., G. Latham, R.C.A., G. H. Roberts, G. J. Wardle, and Robert Young, O.B.E., A.S.E.

At a meeting of A.S.E. Shop Stewards held on Sunday, under the auspices of the London District Committee, the following resolution was unanimously adopted :-"That this Mass Meeting of Shop Stewards resolves to report back to the shops for their approval its opinion that the Government's attempt to make exemption from military service conditional upon enrolment as W.M.V.s is a further attempt upon the industrial freedom of the organised workers, and declares its intention on behalf of its free units not to participate in this attempt to suborn our liberties. We further express the opinion, after careful consideration, that the obvious duty of every organised worker at present enlisted as a W.M.V. should be to repudiate his contract, in view of the Government's arbitrary abrogation of its voluntary basis."

A further resolution asking the L.D.C. to convene a conference of all shop stewards, regardless of craft. or grade, to discuss ways and means of giving effect to the resolution, was accepted by the chairman as a recommendation to the L.D.C.

The following candidates for Chairmanship of the A.S.E. are now announced: J. H. Ballantyne, Toronto; J. T. Brownlie, Woolwich (3); G.H. Colwill, Swansea; J. D. Lawrence, Woolwich (2); J. J. Vipond, Stockton; Henry Wilson, Gateshead. Kirkwood's name does not appear and there is no mention of his treatment in the A.S.E. monthly journal. Has the Executive no shame at all? Many branches resent the action of the Peckham autocrats and have resolved not to take the vote until Kirkwood's name appears on the paper. I appeal to the candidates to use their influence to stop the ballot until Kirkwood gets justice. What about it, Jack Lawrence?

The following circular issued by a Federation firm has been sent to us for circulation. Comment is quite unnecessary; it shouts for itself !-

"In accordance with instructions received from the Minister of Munitions we are prohibited until further notice from engaging skilled men of any type. By the term "skilled men" is understood any man in recept of at least the Standard District Rate. You are requested to note that any infringement of this rule renders us liable to heavy penalities under the D.O.R.A., Section 8A, and every effort therefore must in future be exerted whenever it is necessary to employ men to make use only of semior un-skilled men.

"Nothing in the foregoing prohibits us from employing a discharged soldier or sailor."

LEANEY'S LTD.,

WHOLESALE NEWSAGENTS.

City Agent for the Workers' Dreadnought. 9 and .10, ST. BRIDE'S AVENUE, E.C.4. (Late City and Suburban Publishing Co.).

Printed by J. E. Francis, Il and 13 Breams' Buildings, London, B C.4. and Published by the Workers' Socialist Federation, 400 Old Ford Boad, London, E.3