THE WORKERS' DREADNOUGHT

For International Socialism.

Vol. V.-No. 24

SATURDAY, SEPTEMBER 7th, 1918

Price Twopence.

THE POLICE STRIKE.

Spirit of Petrograd! The London police on strike! After that, anything may happen. Not the Army, but the police force is the power which quells political and industrial uprisings and maintains the established fabric of British society. we in this country have not known it.

And now, with Law and Order on strike, our homes are not robbed. We are not molested on the road, even the traffic regulates itself well enough! A triumph for the Tolstoyans!

Thousands of striking policemen go marching through the streets, striding along with a free swinging gait, buoyant, triumphant, without even a thought of fear or reluctance. Who shall blackleg them? In all England where shall bureaucracy find such a body of men? Few are in uniform, but everyone knows them; they are unmatchable. The Government has been striving these four years past to comb out all the biggest and strongest men to serve in the war. The Army never held a company of such men as this from poor Irish hovels, from far away English and Scotch villages, from all over the kingdom they have been assembled, chosen for their size; then drilled and trained for strength. They are badly paid, and, worse still, robbed of the ordinary freedom that is common to others; denied the right of combination; held under by a pitiless bureaucratic discipline, which gives them liberty only to boss the poor, and to be, if they desire it, the little tyrants of mean streets, whose testimony dovetailed and marshalled by counsel for the prosecution, always outweighs the testimony of lowly people.

But you belong to the working-class army now policemen; you have gained class-consciousness, now you go marching through the streets, with all the world agape at you. Bus drivers shout: "Good luck." And you, light-hearted, singing, the rate of 1s. per week, to £2 7s. call back to them to join you. Charwomen and work girls cheer you. Army officers look on grimly. "The Tommies will be striking tomorrow," says one of them. Who knows, who can foresee what will happen in this cataclysmic revolutionary time? in the crowd. "What are you going to do?" doors to-night?

let them go! A file of men in blue comes strug- Downing Street and even went so far as to hold a gling through the crowd. "We'll stick to you, meeting there. It is significant that soldiers mates!" "We'll stand by you." "Now for the were brought out to guard the official residence, specials!" "Have out the specials." The cries and curious that Mr. Lloyd George should have are louder. The special constables come out said that the presence of a union or committee The Army may be behind, but for many a year and with cheers they are carried away on men's amongst the soldiers had largely caused "the shoulders. "Marlborough Street next. Marlborough Street." The procession reforms. There are no prisoners to release at Marlborough Street, only the special constables to call out, and presently they come. Then, the cry is, "Marylebone Lane next. "Next stop Marylebone Lane," and so the procession goes off around London.

Will the police ever again lose their sense of solidarity with the working class? Will they ever again allow their comrades to be victimised for endeavouring to organise them? A few years ago twenty-seven were dismissed from the Metropolitan Police and two from the City Police for attending a meeting in Hyde Park to organise the police, when off duty and in plain clothes. The sufferings endured by John Syme in his efforts to form the Police and Prison Officers' Union. But at last the strike was called because of the victimisation of another of their number, T. Thiel, provincial organiser of the Union, and delegate to the London Trades Council, who was dismissed for "grave breach of discipline in taking part in the management and being a member of an unauthorised association."

The foremost demand of the strikers was reinstatement of Thiel and recognition of the Union. They also asked for a permanent addition to their wages of £1 a week and 12½ per cent war bonus on all wages and allowances. The present rates of pay are as follows:-

Constables, £1 10s., with an annual increase at the rate of 1s. per week, to £1 18s.

Sergeants, £2 3s., with an annual increase at Inspectors, £3 6s., with an annual increase at the rate of 2s. per week, to £3 14s.

In addition there is a war bonus of 12s. a week, with an allowance of 2s, 6d. for each child in the case of married men.

The strike has been speedily settled, but recog-Down the Strand, up the Haymarket they nition of the Union, the most important demand march swiftly. At Piccadilly a halt, the ranks are is not yet conceded. There is merely a promise broken, crowds collect and seem at last to be that some machinery shall be set up under which hesitating like untrained London crowds. "Vine members of the force can bring their grievances Street." One hears the word passing to and fro before the authorities. The growth of the Union is certain to continue, however, and eventually, someone asks. "They've locked some of our perhaps gradually, and at first informally, it will men up in Vine Street Station, we are going to obtain recognition. It has been agreed to raise bring them out!" Policemen always guard the the scale of pay by 13s. a week in addition to the dreary detention cells; will they unlock their war bonus of 12s. and 2s. 6d. for each child of school age. A widow's pension of 10s. a week Masses of men are gathered at either end of is also granted in addition to the existing child Vine Street and the narrow passage way is thronged. pensions of £12 a year. These pensions are "Fetch 'em out!" "Fetch 'em out! many miserably small. Why not make them adequate? voices are demanding. Then a cheer. "When We should like to know whether the policemen they saw we were coming to fetch them, they thought of the suffragettes when they invaded trouble in Russia," and that the police are a semi-military force. When matters are so near revolution that a policeman's trade union will cause a revolution, Mr. Lloyd George, you will certainly not be able to prevent the creation of a union. But in any case the Union is an accomplished fact. To refuse to recognise it is to pursue an ostrich policy.

CAVE V. CARMICHAEL.

The result of the Police strike eludes the public comprehension in its vital points. These are two. First, as the famous John Syme League placard has it "Policemen of the Nation Claim Right of Combination," and, this, of course, without restraint by official prescription. Secondly, that with the principle of collective bargaining operating; "discipline" itself shall be in the last determination amenable to the commonsense of the whole body.

Sir George Cave's talk with the Press on Saturday night appears greatly like ladling spilt milk from a littered floor. Carmichael was quite wrong; said he, in announcing the recognition of the Union, for the Prime Minister had expressly declared that to be impossible, in war time. Sir George said, too,-I quote the Sunday Times report: "I hope now the trouble is at an end." A really ingenuous thing to say in view of the Prime Minister's reported remark. The present writer is one of the founders of the National Union of Police and Prison Officers, and seeks now to make clear to his readers his own reading of the situation immediately after the Great Police Strike.

Everything turns uncertainly for the moment upon the soul of the compact which is to be made, between the Home Office and the Union representatives; as a working arrangement for the period of the war, and upon the character of the new Commissioner. If the Government insists on detachment from organised Labour, and that is accept ed I shall be glad. If the men insist on the re-instatement of every man victimised during the five years of the Union's fight for life I shall be glad. (This to carry full repayment of all deductions, of course.) If the right to resume publication of the Union Journal forthwith be claimed, and the claim admitted, I shall be glad. If, however, the men hold their Union to be unsafe if severed from the Industrial Unions, and organised Labour fights to have the Police Union attached to its body; the Government may reflect that the stupidity of four successive Home Secretaries is the direct cause of that alliance.

Ex-Inspector John Syme, and ex-P.C. John Wilkinson, the secetaries of the Union from the start, have both suffered under the, "system" they are in revolt against, they must have justice done them, too.

Sir Nevil Macready; are you ready?

The Police strike strikes at the heart of Prussianism in Whitehall. MOCASSIN.

THE INTERNATIONAL.

According to the Populaire, a certain unrest is noticeable amongst the workmen of Western Germany, especially at Essen, Bochum and Barmen. They demand a 25 per cent increase in their wages, but the masters refuse to grant it because "it is not in the interests of the realm.'

The Volksrecht, of Zurich, reports that Kautsky who wanted to go to Switzerland has been refused a passport.

FRENCH OPPOSITION TO ALLIED INTER-VENTION.

The Populaire prints a long article in which it vehemently opposes Allied intervention in Russia. In the article entitled, 'A "Useful" Crime,' occur the following passages :-

"The ex-majoritarians declare that the Allied intervention in Russia is a useful thing. We look upon it as a crime Could these comrades [those in favour of intervention at the National Conference] allow themselves to be misled and to believe that this expedition held any other object save that of overthrowing the power of the Soviet and of crushing the workmen's and peasants' revolution in Russia? "In the Party there are men whose feelings towards the monster Russian Commune are the same as those of the Versaillese [i.e., of those who were responsible for the bloodshed of the Paris Commune].... "The articles by Pax and P. F. have vigorously denounced the scandal of this intervention about which the Chamber has never been consulted and which was launched without a word of warning to the country." We invite the British working-class to second the efforts of French Labour and pass resolutions against Allied intervention in Russia, and the crushing of the Russian Socialist Republic. Such resolutions should be forwarded to the Prime Minister A. S.

and the Foreign Secretary.

LENIN SHOT AT.

The outbreak of war saw the assassination of Jaures, the powerful French Socialist leader. Now, if Press reports are to be relied on, the assassins' hand has been raised against a greater Socialist, Lenin, whose wonderful strategic abilities and faith in Socialism and the people have enabled him to play a great part in the creation of the first Socialist Republic of which he is now Prime Minister. We hope the report that he is now out of danger is true!

SOUTH AFRICA.

Comrade Bunting, the acting editor of The International, the organ of the South African International Socialist League, Comrade Tinker, the acting secretary of the League, and Comrade Hanscombe were arrested and charged with offending against the Riotous Assemblies and Criminal Law. Amendment Act of 1914.

The following extract from the German Kreuztung is illuminating:

"If England agreed to abandon her naval bases at Gibraltar, Aden, &c., Germany would guarantee not to create similar bases, particularly in regard to the Belgian coast, since there would be no further need for them when the liberty of the seas had been assured and England had reduced the strength of her Fleet to the needs only of a "sea police.' There is no obstacle, says the article, to the restoration of Belgium if England would give these guarantees and others ensuring Germany against economic reprisals. To guarantee equitable economic treatment for all an International Control Committee must be appointed. Germany's colonial possessions must be restored in view of their importance for German economical expansion."

CONSCIENTIOUS OBJECTORS' NEW PLEA.

The Army Act, part 1, setion 68, part 2, provides that no offender shall be subject to imprisonment or detention for more than two consecutive years, whether under one or more sentences. The Act which makes this provision under section 17, subsection 1 and 2 of the Amending (Military Service) Act, 1916, is to be read with the Act of 1916 under which Conscientious Objectors are now imprisoned. It would therefore seem that it is illegal to imprison Conscientious Objectors for more than two years continuously for the offence of refusing to deem themselves soldiers. Moreover, prisoners who are of good behaviour are entitled to remission of onesixth of the sentence imposed upon them. Therefore, it would appear that Conscientious Objectors sentenced to two years' imprisonment are entitled to four months' remission, if they are not guilty of misdemeanour in prison. Nevertheless, Conscientious Objectors are kept in prison for two continuous years and then brought into court and immediately sentenced to two further years' imprisonment. Fred. H. Sellar who was a conscientious objector to compulsory military training for youths in New Zealand before the war, has now with other conscientious objectors pleaded that a sentence of more than two years for the offence of refusing to accept military service is illegal.

A conscientious objector in prison tells his mother that he cannot sleep at night for the tramping up and down and the terrible cries of the C.O.s in neighbouring cells. He writes: "Send me all the books you can to drown my thoughts." Another C.O.'s mother, realising the torture which solitary confinement is inflicting upon her own boy, says: "How wicked we have been to allow men and women to be kept like that all these years! If our sons buoyed up by a principle and with all their resource feel it so, what is it for those poor people who have no resources ? '.

THE WORKERS' DREADNOUGHT

EDITOR: SYLVIA PANKHURST. Published by the Workers' Socialist Federation, 400 OLD FORD ROAD, LONDON, E.3

Telephone; EAST 1787.

Annual Subscription - Post Free, 10s. 10d. Back Numbers, 41d, post free.

All business communications should be sent to the MANAGER, 400 Old Ford Road, London, E.3

Vol. V., No. 24.

A PRINCIPLE AND A VISION.

The Strike of Co-Operative Employees.

ment of the means of life.

Hitherto the Co-operative Movement has largely failed to achieve this purpose. It could not fully succeed, as yet, because its operations have been carried on in the midst of a competitive capitalist world in the markets of which it has had to compete. But its failings are not wholly due to external circumstances. The Movement has lost much of its value by adopting the capitalist practice of paying dividends. It has lost more still by the fact that it has not recognised the 80 men and women are now on strike. A branch paramount importance of co-operating with, and of the A.U.C.E. was formed there on a dark night emancipating from, exploited servitude, the last winter, the meeting being held out in the workers who produce and distribute the com- open, because the C.W.S. officials had refused modities on which it thrives.

Wages and hours in co-operative employment in many cases compare favourably, in some cases unfavourably, with those of average capitalist employment. Hitherto, there has been no big attempt to make employment in the great Cooperative Movement, something quite other, and incomparably superior to that in the ordinary commercial whirlpool. There has been no attempt to give the co-operative workers in co-operative industries control of those industries, or even to set up an equal joint control by producers, dis-between the co-operative committees and their paid. Yet when the C.W.S. is applying for take the world as we find it. We are emerging employees, and are as bitterly fought as those exemption from military service for its employees, from Capitalism into Socialism: the struggle is between the ordinary employer and employed. it urges that, by intensive cultivation, it is pro- harsh and many and many an idealist, contributing On August 29th there were 7,000 employees ducing three times as much per acre as other his or her part to the evolutionary accomplishment, of the Co-operative Wholesale Society on strike growers, and that, therefore, its workers are more will in person be broken by the war. Many and and the dispute was spreading. At Crumpsall valuable to the nation! The C.W.S. workers many an enterprise conceived in love for humanity Biscuit Works 700 were out, only 20 working, at on strike are being blacklegged by the women of and in enthusiasm for the emancipation of the Silvertown, E., all the C.W.S. factories were the Land Army, who being under military disci- oppressed, will be brushed aside and left derelict, closed, all the workers were out at Pontefract, pline dare not refuse. So the Co-operative Move- but the ideal that launched it will live on. So, Irlam, Slaithwaite, and at Halifax and Sowerby ment is using the State control of labour, some- in the great struggle, if the Co-operative Move-Bridge Flour Mills; 800 were striking at Middleton thing that is a partial form of Industrial Con- ment as we know it to-day, should hinder the Jam Works, and workers were on strike at scription, to grind down its employees. Trafford Wharf Grocery Packing Department.

of their Union, the Amalgamated Union of Co- ployees, and does not work directly at any rate,, of attack upon the older capitalist forms which operative Employees; secondly, for increased to get higher wages for workers in other employ- the future will abolish, and, above all, if it can be

Many who are prepared to admit the urgent justice of some of the wages demands are opposed to the strikers, from dislike of the A.U.C.E.

are but two tests of the value of any trade or organised, and acting compactly as co-operative forever, the Co-operative Movement of to-day. industrial organisation: firstly, whether the employees. If the workers in other flour mills We do not believe that it will destroy the Coworkers for whom it caters approve it and desire and grocery stores strike surely they will have a operative Movement; we believe that it will to join it; secondly, whether it is an effective better chance of succeeding if the co-operative transform it. The struggle may be bitter, the instrument for improving the conditions of its. workers keep to their tasks and the private millers pace slow, the greatest demands of the co-operative

The A.U.C.E. undoubtedly satisfies the first of these conditions in a much larger measure than any other union open to the co-operative workers. The Co-operative Movement employs 120,000 people, of whom 10,000, according to the present-day standards of the various unions in question, are unorganisable, being managers or girls and boys under the age fixed for trade union membership. 35,000 are unorganised, 10,000 belong to various craft unions clerks, shop assistants, bakers, boot and shoe operatives, and so on. 65,000 belong to the A.U.C.E., the civil membership of which stands at that figure apart from members who are in the Army or Navy, who bring up the total A.U.C.E. membership to 85,000. The A.U.C.E. is growing rapidly; eleven years ago it numbered only 11,000 members. To-day there are less than a dozen bigger-trade unions in the country. The Co-operative Printing Works at Longsight, Manchester, employs 750 workers. 300 of these workers are members of 14 separate craft unions, the 350 were unorganised until six months ago, when the women and girls (most of whom were debarred by the rules of the cannot possibly afford to buy them! unions against admitting women from joining the craft unions) appealed to the A.U.C.E. to organise who might belong to other unions. We under-co-operative employees have joined it.

The proof that the A.U.C.E. is an efficient instrument for raising the status of its members is that the main charge against the A.U.C.E. is that it is too efficient an instrument, and that it is forcing the Co-operative Movement to provide better conditions than those which obtain capitalist employ. If the A.U.C.E. is able force the Co-operative Movement to treat employees better than those of the ordinary private capitalist, that is an evidence of its usefulness; but force ought not to be necessary for the purpose of the Co-operative Movement first of all to emancipate its own workers. The Co-operative Movement has passed beyond the period of young adventure; it is no longer a fledgling with a capital mainly composed of ideals. It is a great and permanent value to humanity, its purpose and powerful organism, every day growing and must be to emancipate the workers from capitalist expanding, acquiring farms and tramways, and exploitation and to give them opportunities for building estates, and so on. This growth must training themselves in the co-operative manage- not continue to be made at the expense of the employees. In Plymouth it is said that approximately 8 out of every 10 families are co-operators; as a working-class movement it should show that it has something better to offer to its workers than the ordinary capitalist concern. Yet it was in Plymouth, where co-operation is so powerful, that during a recent strike, gross sweating of girls and women by the Co-operative Society was

On the C.W.S. estate at Roden in Shropshire a room in the old-fashioned capitalist fashion. The women in the tomato and cucumber houses are paid 20s. to 21s. a week, the men 33s. The women's working hours range from 56 per week in winter to 62 in summer. The majority of the workers are women, and it is the duty of the men, originally more skilled, to be in charge of the work of a given number of women-the women are becoming as skilled as the men. The union to which the majority of the co-operative A.U.C.E. is asking for 33s. a week for the women and 44s. a week for the men. Equal pay is not is a flagrant departure from duty on the part of a yet demanded. The employers of the C.W.S. in the old way of private farmers, argue that no We may regret that the spirit of comradeship advance in wages need be granted because the is not paramount in the Co-operative Movement; And so, from time to time, disputes arise Trade Board rate for agricultural workers is being but, without bitterness or recrimination, we must

The A.U.C.E. is attacked because it exists to ments. It were as logical to complain that the shaped to the fashion of the new self-governing Shop Assistants Union or the N.U.R. had not forms of co-operative industry, which will form obtained higher wages for the miners or the the pillars of the coming Socialist community. workers in the confectionery trades. But as a In the great struggle the A.U.C.E. has, it appears matter of fact the Co-operative workers can best to us, an historic mission. It is the instrument But surely everyone must concede that there help the workers in kindred trades by being which shall eventually either refashion or destroy and grocers see their trade being captured by the workers to-day fall miserably short of the status C.W.S. and the Co-operative Store. If the which should be assured, which will one day be Co-operative Movement is to be an instrument assured, to every worker in the Co-operative for breaking down the capitalist system and for Movement. The possibility of realising that establishing a co-operative commonwealth in its ideal status to-day seems far away; but the place, it is important that as capital's employees movement grows; we are in the current of an are attacking the citadel, co-operation should upward moving evolution; the ideals of the thus aid in the struggle. However little the human imagination, in the long run, dominate C.W.S. and the managers of the retail stores human society. Taken in the mass, humanity recognise this position, and unfortunately the fashions the society it desires and human beings C.W.S. directorate does not possess the Socialist desire, in the main, the highest that they know. outlook, they are willing to reap any benefit The pressure of the struggle for subsistence forces that may accrue by their employees remaining the forms of human society into many moulds, at work when others are striking. But the and the strong pressure of the rank and file co-operative employees must not then be expected workers in the co-operative industries and disto suffer all and reap nothing, to abstain from tributive centres will force the Co-operative pressing for advantages when others are doing so Movement into a new and better mould. At and to have no means of securing advantages on present the pressure of the co-operative workers their own account. It is neither right nor possible is exercised through the medium of the A.U.C.E., to expect the co-operative employees to be satisfied because it is the A.U.C.E. which has combined them. that the C.W.S. should grow tomatoes for muni- Should it fail at any time to give adequate extion workers earning upwards of £5 a week, pression to their needs some other form of comwhilst those who grow the tomatoes, the women bination will be evolved. In the meantime the earning 21s. a week and the men earning 33s., A.U.C.E. has our cordial good wishes and our

The A.U.C.E. is accused of accepting members and support of the Labour Movement as a whole. them. 320 of the workers are now members stand that the A.U.C.E. does not admit the of the A.U.C.E.; 300 are members of craft unions, charge which is made by unions whose members and the remainder is still unorganised, but the have blacklegged A.U.C.E. strikers. But, after A.U.C.E. hopes to enrol them. At Silvertown, all, the object of all industrial combinations of East London, the A.U.C.E. has 750 members, the workers is not to enhance the prestige of any the Millers' Union 20, the Dockers 3, the General particular organisation, but to create the most Labourers 2 and there are 15 non-unionists and effective fighting force possible, a force which will 20 persons in official positions. Such figures obtain for the workers always more, more, more, speak for themselves. It is impossible to submit till they gain control of the industry itself. that the A.U.C.E. is not wanted by the co- Obviously, the employees of any firm can bring operative employees since the majority of the more pressure to bear on that firm if they are united in the same combination. If a typist is dismissed from the office of one of the C.W.S. factories, and all the workers in the factory at once withdraw their labour, her re-instatement will be speedy. The machinery of appealing to the National Union of Clerks to call out from the factory office perhaps two or three other clerks, who are easily replaced by non-unionists, or perhaps all the clerks employed by the C.W.S. is a much more combrous machinery, which is less likely to be successful, and because it is so remote and cumbrous the grievance will probably be allowed to pass without protest. Industrial unionism is the strongest form of working-class combination yet devised, and it has the great advantage of placing at the service of the weaker sections of the employees the power of the more numerous and essential, and therefore stronger sections. It is said that the A.U.C.E. is not an industrial union; its exact description is unimportant; the main point is that the combination of all co-operative employees in one union gives them the power of bringing pressure to bear on the employer, which is the main asset of the industrial union. Though the A.U.C.E. is called by its enemies "a blackleg union," its members have the satisfaction of knowing that they are organising industrially on the modern scientific method: the method that wins immediate benefit; the method that will persist when the old petty sectionalism has disappeared, right on into the time when self-controlled industries shall make > up the industrial co-operative commonwealth. In the meantime it is a serious matter that the A.U.C.E., which comprises the majority of the co-operative employees, and which is one of the larger unions in this country, was not represented at the Trade Union Congress. It is a serious matter that a group of craft unions, many of which, by the way, are not willing to accept as members the majority of the co-operative workers in their respective trades, should have made common cause with the employers—the C.W.S .- to crush out the employees belong. To combine with the employer emancipation of the workers, who produce and distribute all wealth, it must and will be destroyed. The workers are striking firstly, for recognition secure better conditions for co-operative em- It can only survive if it can be used as a weapon hopes that it will shortly receive the endorsement

E. SYLVIA PANKHURST.

Special Indian Supplement.

The Montagu-Chelmsford Report.

and a graveyard for working-class democracy.

In asking our readers to pay close attention to this Report, we are inviting them to do what is the we should employ the method now familiar to as an ideal. The Asiatics are bound to take this Report, signed by the accredited mouth-pieces of Now this is a candid confession. An arch-British rule in India, as the authentic expression bureaucratic official, who is Secretary of State of British ideals, unless Democrats in Great for India without a single Indian vote being cast Britain openly repudiate it as a whole, or at least to put him in that position, goes to India to meet expose its most reactionary portions, and demand his sub-bureaucrats, each one of whom is similarly that they be expunged. hints, concerning the Report, in preparing which bureaucratic doctrine as his conclusion. We know we have made full use of the advice and experience scores of Liberal and Radical apostles of the of some of our trusted Indian comrades, whose people's rights and human liberty who succumbed wish it is that the report and these criticisms shall to similar conclusions as soon as they were installed be discussed by all Labour and Socialist news- in a bureaucratic official position. The list of papers, both at home and abroad; and that, casualties is not only long, but cruelly unfortunate having seriously considered the question, working- and, so far as our knowledge goes, does not show class organisations shall adopt a definite policy any survivors. But after having thus openly upon it which shall be embodied in resolution and expressed this conclusion, why waste time and tion of conquered peoples' lands which have been European progress and political civilisation? merchants, landlords, and adventurers, or whether conclusion. it is to be retained by a few privileged Britishers. and truly of the people, by the people, and for the given answer ?people. We want to know whether the proposed P. 149, cl. 180.—" Further we have every reason main a deeply cultured and ancient civilised the wishes of her people." race to take their seat among the brotherhood Is this Report therefore given out to create the food growers of India will be counted as equal hopes? human beings with councillors and statesmen.

the following words from Mr. Winston Churchill's (p. 156); "Councils will be made more representaspeech on the War's anniversary day, August 5th tive " (p. 157); "In proportion as effect ' stands, without giving to it the chastisement that be the judge of the limits being reached ? Will it it deserves, we shall doom our children to accept be the Indian, who claims restoration of all his for all time, the British bureaucrat, the British exploiter, and the heaven-born British Imperialist who must govern other people's affairs, at their own

As we nodded our heads in thoughtful assent, our Indian friend interrupted: "Ay, and do not forget that, as all silence must mean consent, we shall read at the bottom of this valuation sheet the certifying endorsement of British democracy. If you feel that this endorsement is only a forgery in anticipation of your assent, you must come out and say so."

THE REPORT.

(Reference . p.=page; cl.=clause no.) By way of preface we start with the very last clause of the Report (p. 282, cl. 356):-

P. 282, cl. 356.—"The liberty of the world must of Indian political institutions can acquire any tangible meaning."

What is the tangible meaning of this sentence? Is it not true that the liberty of the world can be won only by all nations giving up conquests to the children of the soil without unnecessary delay? Can the liberty of the world be won by Germany alone being made to give up some conquered territories, the area and non-German population of which are microscopically small compared with India?

REPORT ADVISES OLD BUREAUCRATIC AUTOCRACY BE MAINTAINED.

conforms to those methods can possibly serve our clivities of a lower house."

small capitals in quotation are ours unless otherwise

For this purpose we have come to the conclusion that pregent duty of all British Democrats and Socialists. Indian institutions [we should say to institutions in This is a Report presented to the Indian public, all conquered and subjugated territories in the of British Democracy, as a great lesson to backward upon which the Government can in all circumstances Asia as to what politically forward Europe holds rely, as to ensure the passage of the legislation that rights! Then, again :-

installed over a foreign people. After exchanging We propose to offer to our readers a few guiding views with them he accepts the most notorious paper on making this Report ?

This country is pouring out millions of human If the basic principle of political institutions in lives and thousands of millions of money under enslaved countries is to be left intact in India, well, the guidance of a Government which tells us that leave it, but why hold up before Asia a caricature all this sacrifice is for liberty and the disannexa- of democracy and free institutions in the name of absorbed by ambitious imperialists. Let us see If the Indian is British, he must be trusted to from the concrete shape of this Report what take care of all honest British interests in his part practical suggestions for the realisation of this of the world, just as much as a Welshman can do ideal the Government offers to India in the name in Great Britain or a Frenchman in Canada. If of the British nation. We are not concerned as the Indian is not really British, then our rule over to whether a backward reactionary, capitalist him must be a foreign domination for purposes machinery of government is to be wholly or largely and interests of our own, and this latter condition handed over to Indian Home Rulers, Rajas, alone can be a logical explanation of Mr. Montagu's

We are anxious to see whether we are at last giving WHAT IS THE OBJECT OF THE REPORT? to India, or allowing India to take to herself, a Why this Report? we ask again. Can the governmental machinery which is or is not really following puzzling sentence be an unconsciously machinery of government will enable the 330 to hope that as the result of this process, India's millions of human beings of what is in the connection with the Empire WILL be confirmed by

of peoples of the world, and whether the 38 appearance of such wishes before Britain's Allies million industrial workers and the 200 million and the Central Empires in discussing after-war

In four clauses are the following phrases: One of our Indian Comrades, in discussing this "As far as possible" (p. 155); "As soon as possi-Report, summed up his view of it by paraphrasing ble" (p. 155); "As far as conditions permit" (p. 157). Who is going to define the nature and "If we endorse, or even admire, this Report as it prove the existence of limitations, and who is to natural birthrights, or will it be the Briton who claims a peculiar heaven-born right to control, teach, and overlord the Indian, or will it be some third party? "Government will remain partly bureaucratic" (p. 175). If the bureaucratic part has the ascendant power, does it make any difference if it is partly or wholly bureaucratic? The Report bristles with such phrases.

COUNCIL OF STATE: SECOND

order to create a foreign, irremovable, and in- are the two following clauses :vincible official government of paid and non-elected "(a) The consolidation and the maintenance of councils of all sorts and varieties, devises a final of India. instrument of bureaucracy in the shape of his be won before our deliberations over the liberalising "Council of State," the like of which no Czar or Sultan has yet invented, and where out of 51 members there will be only 15 indirectly elected representatives of the people! This proposed Second Chamber is put before the whole of Asia by a British democrat, belonging to a party which is known in Asia to have undertaken some day to mend or end the House of Lords: This confession of the underlying spirit of the leading Liberals must be carefully noted by our Labour rank and

P. 209, cl. 258.—"We might secure men for the upper houses who would not seek election or even accept nomination to a composite assembly, where the majority of members were of a different status P. 223, cl. 276.—"We seek deliberately, when the from themselves; and so the second chamber might purpose justifies us, to depart from popular methods develop a conservative character which would be a of legislation, and it is obvious that no device which valuable check on the possibly too radical pro-

A haven and refuge for the imperialist bureaucrat purpose. (What is that purpose?) [The italies and CHECKS TO ANY DEMOCRATIC ACTION.

Men who consider the representatives of a people too low to sit with them are to be given, not only a separate chamber, but higher and dictatorial powers to check the ultra-radical actions of a lower chamber, where already the Viceroy and through them to the whole of Asia, in the name world.—ED.] of maintaining such a number of votes and his paid bureaucratic official lieutenants in the Executive Council have final and absolute

> "At the same time we bear in mind that as pro-· vincial councils approach more closely to Parliamentary forms, the need for revising chambers may

As long as you have shams and mockeries of people's chambers the Report will tolerate them. but as soon as any reality of parliamentary rights is reached, not only is the need of a Second Chamber felt, but a Liberal Minister is ready to provide it in advance. We should certainly like to hear the official Liberal Party views on this

On p. 229, cl. 284, Mr. Montagu gives consolation to the people's representatives in the Lower House that though provision is made for the Upper House killing their measures, they may bravely keep on passing resolutions. He says "that in itself will mean that the significance of resolutions will be enhanced." May we ask, in whose eves they will be enhanced? Will a future Subramanya Iyer be permitted to write the truth to the President of America, or will all the slaughtered resolutions of Indian democrats be produced every year before an impartial international tribunal of European, African, and Asiatic peoples?

THE DEFENCE OF INDIA AND THE ROUND TABLE IMPERIAL MOVEMENT. But this must be so, the fortified position of the British world-ruler must remain, "so long as the Empire is charged with the defence of India" (p. 256, cl. 323). Mr. Montagu just forgets to explain charged by whom? "Providence," reply the Liberal Party and all British Chambers

The Empire is charged with the defence of India! It means in practice the bureaucratic capitalist group that has seized the Empire for management, to the advantage of a few families in Great Britain, is to defend the rights of the self-same families in India against the people of India, when and as necessary.

In his grateful acknowledgements, Mr. Montagu tells us (p. 281, cl. 355) that one Mr. Marris (Inspector General of Police) has earned warm appreciation and gratitude by assisting in the task of drafting the Report. About the end of 1916 had not Mr. Marris earned equally warm appreciation and gratitude for assisting Sir James Meston, the Lieutenant-Governor of the United Provinces, and Mr. Lionel Curtis, the representative of The Round Table imperial movement, in drafting a document that accidentally got into publicity, in which plans were elaborately set out for preserving British imperial and commercial interests in India? In advocating these plans, Curtis observed: "Let us do it, facing the fact that we cannot effect the changes advocated without provoking in India an agitation, which, as I judge, might lead to bloodshed."

AGREEMENT BETWEEN BRITAIN AND

Now let us turn to a British document styled "Agreement between the United Kingdom and Japan-signed at London, July 13, 1911." In the In order to adhere to his definite conclusion, in preamble, describing the objects of the agreement, persons, Mr. Montagu, after creating intermediate the general peace in the regions of Eastern Asia and

"(c) The maintenance of the territorial rights of the high Contracting Parties in the regions of Eastern Asia and of India, and the defence of their special interests in the said regions.'

"Article I .- It is agreed that whenever, in the opinion of either Great Britain or Japan, any of the rights and interests referred to in the preamble of this Agreement are in jeopardy, the two Governments will communicate with one another fully and frankly, and will consider in common the measures which should be taken to safeguard those menaced rights or interests."

"Article V.-The conditions under which armed assistance shall be afforded by either power to the other in the circumstances mentioned in the present Agreement, and the means by which such assistance is to be made available, will be arranged by the Naval and Military Authorities of the High Contracting Parties, who will from time to time consult one another fully and freely upon all questions of mutual interest."-Signed, E. Grey and Takaaki Kato.

Continued on next page.

MONTAGU-CHELMSFORD REPORT.

racial pride, believe that the British are fitted to Now at this period, not only according to driven to desperation, ruin, or savagery any race naval and military authorities of Britain and sufferers being the victims, Mr. Chamberlain had say:-Japan, the British people and Parliament appar- to resign. This Manipur affair was really an treaties made concerning her without consulting less resignation. If such a "punitive measure" tion. It is in any case a small proportion; but to her people will be set aside. When the British had been taken in Armenia or Kerman, Lord Bryce the particular numeral we attach no importance. people get genuine self-government such treaties would have issued two volumes on '-- Atrocities.' We are not setting about to stir 95 per cent of the

as this will become impossible. Agreement was ushered in in its present form. be granted to British Governors :-To-day, when the Russian workers and peasants are seeking social and economic freedom from Czarist and foreign commercial thraldom, Japan is brought out to oppose them. In other respects the "defence of India" is carried out by completely disarming Indians. An Indian army is maintained to safeguard British interest in India and has been used to carry on what we regard as Great Britain's depradatory missions in Afghanistan, China, Persia, Burmah, Egypt, Abyssinia, and other parts of Africa.

There is a characteristic chapter on the Indian Army worthy of a tactful financier. On p. 261, cl. 329, you will read of increases and improvements in pay, pension, &c., all in percentages. Actual figures of pay and pensions are not given, and there is abundant prodigality expressed in ratios. For instance, we shall not say that a British Minister has increased his wages by £1,000 over an annual salary of £4,000, and that a British shoe-black by charging 3d. instead of 2d. has increased his income by about £25 a year, but we shall tell you that, whereas a British worker has been allowed a rise of 50 per cent, a self-denying Minister of the State has been content to raise his salary only by 25 per cent. The Report tells you, and other parliamentary papers tell you, that the Indian soldier in France is doing the work as well as a British Tommy, and is surrendering an equally valuable asset, viz., human life. But we are not told the exact difference in payment, nor are we told in this Report that in future the Rajas, merchant princes, and landlords will be taxed more and the Indian soldier will be paid as well as the British soldier. Here is a clever passage :-

P. 264, cl. 330.—"The Indian soldier who fights for us and earns promotion in the field can reasonably ask that his conduct should offer him the same chances as the European beside whom he fights."

This is typical of a certain sort of University trained business-man and "Liberal" politician. The Report refers to "the same chances," but not to the same pay or pensions to the soldier's bereaved family when he has given his life for you! The Report fails to give the figures. They are such that any nation might well be ashamed of them. But we have a Parliamentary paper before us which throws some light upon the Indian soldier's pay and pension. Question No. 42, by Mr. Ramsay Macdonald, for Thursday, June 6th, 1918, is very lengthily replied to, and the plain answers disclose the facts that salaries to various grades are paid at 2s. 9d. weekly to about 6s. weekly, and pensions are granted subject to elaborate rules from 1s. weekly (for entire families, including out:promises no reforms in this.

HOW INDIAN SOLDIERS ARE RECRUITED.

salaries. We have before us English papers from associated." India (to wit, The Times of India, mail edition, Then comes the wonder of wonders in the shape ordinary perpetrators of crime. In England March 2nd, 1918) which gives a Government press of an attempt to describe its democratic and extremists, like Halsbury, Carson, F. E. Smith, communique detailing "an account of the opera- harmless characters (p. 227, cl. 281) as "a revising Northcliffe, and Lloyd George are extolled as true tions in the jungles of Manipur to quell the body in which Government is in a position to exert patriots with whole-hearted convictions, in India Kuki and Naga hill tribes who had given as little influence as it likes." "As little influence they are described as criminals only. trouble in raising accorps of hillmen for service as it likes" seems in this instance to mean "as The same paragraph continues:behind the lines in France." The British column much power as it pleases." We suppose to-day punishment was not enough." More columns were Germany "is in a position to exert as little influence sent, we are told, "Mr. Cosgrave met with little as she likes." serious opposition, and destroyed several rebel villages and a good deal of property." We suppose there are no innocent women, children, and . infants among those hill tribes! The communique goes on to say: "Mr. Higgins had harder fighting, or set aside, and foreign officials and merchants, but he too has been successful in burning a number and similar classes of native origin are to be the of rebel villages and taking their cattle and other protected minorities with heaven-born rights. In property." But even this is not enough, and its historical research from the early beginnings something additional is done. "They are half- of British power to Lord Morley's attempt at nomadic and attach little value to their villages, reform, the Report frankly admits that no demobut they will soon feel the effects of the destruction cratic or representative political institution or govern over all others, must surely ask why the German reports, but our own also, the German save the mild, philosophical Indian, whose fatalist Japanese should be called in to settle matters Crown Prince had not left the western front, and disregard of suffering kept him happy and hopeful. affecting India in which Indians are not consulted. the Bolsheviki had not migrated to Manipur, and The Report itself admits:-Moreover, it is surely a serious infringement of the Mr. Montagu was actually in India on a Liberal P. 109, cl. 130.—"It will be agreed that the rights of the people of this country that the mission to give to Asia Light, Love, and Liberty character of political institutions reacts upon the conditions under which armed assistance may be in the name of British democracy and European character of the people... the exercise of responsigiven to defend Japanese interests in Eastern culture! The Mesopotamia affair was an un- bilities calls forth the capacity for it." Asia and India shall be "arranged" by the fortunate muddle, and yet a few European In face of this knowledge, the Report goes on to

When India gets genuine self-government all even asked for Mr. Montagu's explanation, much stitutions does not exceed five per cent of the popula-This great Reform Report is silent about such people out of their peaceful conservatism and setting When the cry of freedom began to be expressed abuses of British power in India! it offers no audibly in India, the men who dared to ask for it control over it to Indians. Nay, it even deprives were called extremists, as if to be a political them of the power to bring such incidents to light MAJORITIES DENIED RIGHTS AND extremist is at all a crime, and the Japanese by an extraordinary additional power proposed to

QUESTIONS MAY BE DISALLOWED.

P. 192, cl. 236.—" If a question is not objectionable in itself, but cannot be answered without harm their character," deprive them of the "exercise of to the public interests, the Governor should not responsibilities" and thus undermine their capacity disallow the question, but his Government should for it, and then refuse to bestir them from their refuse to answer it on that ground.'

should be retained in the Governor's hands to the path might be (that, too, in your own arbitrary disallow questions, the mere putting of which opinion) "new and difficult." would be detrimental to the public interests." And the Governor, the head of the offending one European from other silly or interested THE INDIAN SOLDIER'S PAY AND machinery, is to be the sole judge of public interests. Europeans about the savage tribes, and Bhils, and He will have the power to conceal any atrocities, castes, &c., It pretends to feel greatly for corruptions, cruelties, and injustices which might the right of minorities to be protected against be perpetrated by subordinates!

FAVOURED POSITIONS TO A FEW.

matters proposes to give favoured positions to a few and to call this "advancement and liberty." Clauses 328, 329, and 330 grandiloquently tell you for India. These millions of men and women that in India, over a purely Indian army, the Indian British subjects cannot and shall not be from the very outset, in the Introduction to the the natural heads; but that a lucky few of them. will get some kind of commissioned posts. The last sentence of cl. 330 on p. 264 confesses: "We feel sure that no measure would do so much to stimulate Indian enthusiasm for the war." Is this a key for our British comrades? Does it tell them why sometimes Mr. Lloyd George, Mr. George Barnes, Lord Milner, and Lord Curzon may consider it opportune and expedient to recognise some of the claims of the workers as long as they continue to fall short of real power.

Lord Morley's reforms did one thing successfully for the Government. They drove into silence men of sterling self-respect who would not submit to and waste time over farcical political forms of no value, and it brought into prominence a fairly large number of ambitious "Indian Liberals," to whom names, forms, and appearances would be quite as acceptable as realities to sounder men. Thus the Government soon got a host of obedient councillors and "people's representatives" who gave assent to measures enforced by Lord Hardinge, to which even D.O.R.A. is a kinder sister.

The Report gives every imaginable autocratic right of final decision, appropriation of money, over-riding people's representatives' suggestions, bills, or amendments, and of suppressing all inconvenient questions, to provincial and supreme governments, composed of Governors and Executive Councillors over whom not a fraction of 1 per cent of 240 million people has a controlling voice. After this Mr. Montagu calmly points children) to 2s. 6d. weekly. The reform Report P. 225, cl. 278.—"The Council of State will be the supreme legislative authority for India in all crucial questions, and also the revising authority upon all Indian legislation, we desire to attract to it the services of the best men.... We consider that "measurement" forms no part of a democratic the designation 'Honourable' should be enjoyed constitution, "nor can the condemnation of We are also not told much about the method of by the members it would be, as will be seen, the extremist and revolutionary action be left only to requisitioning human lives on these shadows of Council of State with which the Princes would be the official classes" (p. 124, cl. 150). The sentence

"burned Ukha and other hostile villages, but the Belgium has also a system of government in which

PRIVILEGED FOREIGN MINORITIES.

The people of the country are slandered, duped,

(Continued from page 1071).

of their food supplies and of the harrying that rights have been so far permitted to India. This policy must have a dire effect, and would have

P. 119, cl. 144.—" We have seen it estimated that ently being ignored! "atrocity," but the British Labour Party has not the number of people who really ask for free intheir feet upon a new and difficult path."

RESPONSIBILITIES.

There you are, first enslave a people, destroy their universally existing democratic system of panchayats, give them deceitful, unnatural, soulless "political institutions, which must react upon slavery, called "peaceful conservatism," and Now, mark this additional power: "Power continue to deprive them of their birthrights, as

The Report indulges in romantic quotations by majorities, as if the majorities are to have their normal and natural rights, and then deprives the immense majority of farmers and workers comprised in a population of over 300 millions of every The part of the Report dealing with military possible right, under excuses as to their incapacity, as judged by an unappreciative capitalist traveller, set up by his own foreign friends as the Secretary capable of realising their own wants are described Report on p. 3, as, not only unable to express their opinions, but as "not capable" even of "holding" opinions. You can start railroads, open post offices, telegraphs, factories, mines, dockyards, fisheries; you can grow for your requirement wheat, .cotton, jute, indigo, tea, opium, myrabolans, oilseeds, rice, &c. In all these activities you count upon fairly civilised labourers and farmers to the tune of some hundreds of millions. You are not deterred there by castes, separate religions, social superstitions, the presence of Bhils and savages, by "peaceful conservatism," or by the "inability of the people to hold opinion." But when it comes to giving a proper measure of rights, sufficient wages, human freedom, essential education, or sanitation, all these horrible factors hinder your honest democratic European con-

Even the educated Indian who is not suffering from "peaceful conservatism" is deprived of his administrative rights in public matters, though he fully exercises and retains his capacity for it in social and business matters, and is described on p. 181, cl. 222, as being without "experience of the power of dismissing ministers ":-

"Nobody in India is yet familiar with the obligations imposed by the tenure of office at the will of a representative assembly." P. 184, cl. 225.—"We must in fact measure the number of persons who can in the different parts of the country be reasonably entrusted with the duties of citizenship.'

In practice such discrimination too often comes to mean men who will not, or dare not, expose official autocracy and incompetence, and who can even join the Government in the condemnation of outspoken and fearless critics. Therefore such that follows mixes up political extremists with

"Now that His Majesty's Government have declared their policy, reasonable men have something which they can oppose successfully to the excitement created by attacks on Government and by abuse of

But, as we have seen, the new policy staunchly adheres (see p. 223, cl. 226) to the same old conclusion, viz., to "employ the method familiar to Indian political institutions" before the Report. So where are we? Is it all jugglery to defy the new law of "self-determination," and to give to rampant despotism the garb of a people's will? And is this deception to be practised in the name

(Concluded on page 1074.)

LABOUR CONDITIONS IN INDIA.

The new iron and steel industry in India happens to be in the hands of men who are held to be "extremely broad-minded and generous masters," nevertheless the average wage paid by them to adult men unskilled workers is less than 6d. per day. For highly skilled work in the rail department Indians are now employed at 10d. per day place of British Trade Unionists who were brought out on contract at a wage of 12s. per day.

A 9 hour day has been instituted in the new steel works, but the Indian Factory Act permits 1 12 hour working day and the 12 hour day is general in Indian industries.

Coal miners and flux carriers also get 6d. a day; in many other industries the wages are lower. Thus saving the carriage from other countries and paying wages which, on the average, consist of pennies where European wages consist of hillings they have the opportunity to make enormous profits. Low railway rates aid them 87 mills of the city. If the mill owners had any in the struggle for profit. The pre-war rates sympathy for their employees they could do much per ton per mile for railway transport in India good from this hoard of confiscated money-the and her principal European competitors were as

		PENCE.
India		.150; per	ton	per mile.
Holland		.590 ,,	,,	,,
Germany		.637 ,,	22	,,
France		,726 ,,	27	"
Denmark		.956 ,,	"	"
United Kingdom		1.192 ,,	23	"

Now that an effort is being made to develop 10. Cotton mills in the city have no full time of Britain or India whose cause is one. When the India as a great manufacturing country, it is doctors maintained on the mill premises as in Bengal. Czar dissolved the first Duma Professor Paul more important than ever that these things should General medical relief now given is more or less Miliukoff came to this country as a Revolutionary; be seriously considered by British workers both very perfunctory. The total number of accidents to-day it is clear that though opposed to the for their own protection and that of their Indian brothers and sisters. Workers, whether Indian or otherwise, who have been able to exist somehow on a mere pittance in a leisurely state of existence cannot have the stamina to survive the driving all appeals made by Factory Inspectors for their to establish a close solidarity not between the wear and tear of modern factory life on their old provision have been made to deaf ears.

starvation basis. by an Indian society, but not mentioned in his factory children. Model Primary schools main-Report, graphically reveals the unfortunate posi- tained by mill owners are badly needed within milltion of the Indian working-class. The petition has been supplied to us by the Workers' Welfare clothing. League of India. British workers, if you do not 12. The climatic effect of working inside the mills aid the Indian workers to raise themselves from their state of heavy oppression, you may shortly find their labour power used to oppress you!

THE KAMGAR HITAWARDHAK SABHA. An Association for watching the interests of Indian Working-men.

> 'KESHAVALAYA," DADAR, Bombay, 12th November, 1917.

To the Right Honourable EDWIN SAMUEL MONTAGU, M.P.,

His Majesty's Secretary of State for India. Sir,-On behalf of the "Kamgar Hitavardhak Sabha." an Institution for watching the interests receive your favourable consideration.

operatives in the city, and it has from time to time on the contrary add to the efficiency of workers, come forward to ventilate the grievances of the mill which would be a blessing in disguise to employers hands. The Sabha gave what support it could to of mill labour who insist upon efficiency. Government, counteracting the strong opposition 13. Under the present system of Factory inof the capitalists in the press and in Council Halls, spection by a staff of European Inspectors without when the Indian Factory Law was amended in 1912 the help of experienced Indians more in touch with and limitation of working hours was introduced in the workers, the Sabha submits, it is not possible mills and factories. We believe our humble efforts to carry on inspection thoroughly and to grasp firstin that direction at the time were appreciated by hand the grievances of mill hands where the require-

3. The total number of operatives in the Bombay fully begs to point out the necessity of appointing Presidency is about 290,618 of which about 162,343 a certain number of Indians, who have gained exfind employment in the 174 mills and factories in perience in mills and factories, as factory inspectors.

4. Judging from figures available in blue books Legislative Councils and other Political Bodies in for the previous years no perceptible rise in the the interests of the working-classes has been by wages of these operatives is apparent whereas the capitalists themselves, whose interests naturally prices of food stuffs as well as house rents have gone clash with those of their employees. The helpless up by leaps and bounds.

5. The following, the Sabha submits, are briefly tration of the country, has to compete with the matters which vitally affect the working-men classes and which call for enquiry at the hands of Government, viz. :-

(a) Housing and sanitation; (b) Inequitable rules and regulations in mills such as holding of men's wages in arrears and their forfeiture;

(d) Legislation for compensation in case

(e) Free education of factory boys; (f) Reduction of working hours;

(g) Need of Indian Factory Inspectors;

(c) Medical help;

(h) Representation in Municipal bodies and Legislative Councils. 6. In connection with the housing problem the mill hands of Bombay submitted a few years back representations to the Mill Owners' Association and the City Improvement Trust, asking these bodies to construct cheap dwellings with recreation facilities in the vicinity of mills and factories in order to > relieve the hard pressed, indebted, and resourceless men from the exhorbitant demands of landlords. Since then several appeals have been made but in

7. Most arbitrary and one-sided rules, solely in the interests of the employers, and such as we believe have not been heard of anywhere, continue in force in our cotton mills; these inequitable rules in order to have a tight hold on the men, results in their loss of independence and in their meek submission to arbitrary conditions; the men put up with the oppression rather than lose their slender earnings. In plague times the Sabha has known Anglo-Indian capitalists to exploit the Indian of many pitiable instances in which the operatives Workers. Some of our Indian friends have called have sacrificed their meagre earnings by flight to our attention to letters which appeared in The their villages rather than face death. The economic Bombay Chronicle from Mr. Joseph Baptista, an effect of this, the Sabha submits, is highly injurious Indian barrister visiting this country, who deto the men and the poor illiterate workers are driven to greater improvidence by seeking the help of Indian manufacturers fix the selling price of money-lenders. Very few mill owners show any democrat," and seems equally friendly to the their goods to Indian buyers at five or ten per cent. interest in this respect and no systematic efforts policy of Mr. Lloyd George and to that of the less than the price charged for imported goods. have been put forth to prevent their chronic in- Labour party, apparently recognising no disdebtedness by starting co-operative banks for them.

9. The total amount of unclaimed and forfeited wages in our textile mills, taking a moderate estimate of say Rs.2000 per mill, comes approximately to the enormous sum of Rs. 174,000 annually for the hard earned wages of sweated workers. The natural reluctance of mill authorities to volunteer information to Government officials about the internal working of mills and factories makes the Sahba apprehend that the figures above named are considerably under-estimated. In this respect, so far back as the year 1911, the Honourable Mr. John Ward, M.P., asking Your Honour in the House of Commons, made an unsuccessful effort at getting a return of forfeited and lapsed wages of mill emin mills and factories is increasing and there is great need of legislation in the interests of the working men such as Employers' Liability and Workmen's Compensation Acts. In case of accidents no ambulances and first-aid appliances are available and

The following petition presented to Mr. Montugu of employers in the matter of free education of India. children could be fed and provided with books and on the operatives-mostly drafted from agricultural districts-tends to shorten their lives and they cannot stand comparison with the healthy lives led by out-door unskilled labourers who enjoy greater freedom of movement in open light and fresh air. The Sabha has come across very rare cases of mill hands reaching old age. Complaints are frequently heard among mill hands that they can see the cheerful faces of their children only once a week, that is when the mills are not working. The men leave early in the morning when their little ones are in bed and Tuesdays, SOCIALISM; Thursdays, INTERNATIONALISM, before they return home from work after lamplight the children are fast asleep. In this respect the lot of mechanics and artificers working in Government, Railway and private workshops is better, in that they work from 8 to 9 hours and enjoy greater of the working-men classes in this city, we have the leisure. The shortening of working hours from honour to submit the following representations 14 to 12 under the present Factory Act has in no bearing on the general wants and grievances of the way affected the wages of mill hands who are paid working-men classes, and to beg that they may according to the actual work turned out. The Sabha is sanguine that even a further reduction in 2. The Sabha is composed mainly of textile the hours of work will not hamper production but > ments of the Act are evaded. The Sabha respect-14. So far all representation on Municipal Boards, working man thus, without a voice in the adminiscapitalist class advanced and up-to-date in every method which their compeers in the West follow. In these circumstances the Sabha begs leave respectfully to suggest that in the consideration of any scheme of administrative reform the claims of the voiceless working-class population in the matter of representation may not be overlooked. It is, the Sabha submits, high time that some facilities were given to the labouring class of this country, so as to enable them to send representatives-men elected

15. In conclusion the Sabha would pointedly refer to the illiteracy of the working classes who through ignorance are unable to organise measures for self protection and for the amelioration of their condition: for these compulsory education is, it is humbly submitted, a sine qua non.

We have the honour to be,

Your most obedient and humble servants, H. A. TALCHERKAR,

S. K. BOLE, S. M. PATIL,

Hon. Secretaries, The" Kamgar Hitawardhak Sabha. INDIAN "LABOUR" CANDIDATES.

Indian Socialists, both in this country and in India, are anxious lest the British Labour movecall for an early and thorough enquiry.

8. The system of keeping back six weeks' wages to forward the setting up of governmental machinery in India, which, though it may be ostensibly tending towards Home Rule will give as its main product, greater power to Indian and tinction between them. Mr. Baptista wrote:-

> 'Personally I can easily get a constituency and in a Labour constituency I am fairly confident I can succeed. Mr. Lansbury and I are going to see Mr. Henderson to arrange for at least two seats.... I shall stand for one at all costs. The election expenses will not exceed £2,000. including not strictly election expenses. I shall rely on you to find the sum for me. Then as to the future sums. I require altogether one lakh (£6,666) including the £2,000 to keep things going in Bombay and here for four or five years. By that time I shall

Our Indian Socialist friends declare that men like Mr. Baptista neither understand nor sympathise with the ideals of the Labour movement and are not fitted to represent the workers either Czardom he is a capitalist-imperialist of pronouncedly anti-socialist type. So, our Indian friends declare, it is with many of the Indian "Home Rulers." The Indian Socialists desire British worker and the Indian Prince and capi-11. There is a systematic indifference on the part talist, but between the workers in Britain and

> THE EAST WEST CLUB. 144 High Holborn (corner of Bury Street).

Open Monday to Friday evening from 6.30 p.m. Saturday from 4.30 p.m.

Membership, 10s. per annum, 3s. per quarter.

Free Discussions open to all.

WELFARE LEAGUE OF

(Trade Union and Labour),

18 Featherstone Buildings, London, W.C.1.

Minimum Affiliation Fee, £1 1s. per annum; Individual Subscription, 5s. per annum.

REVIEW.

'Songs of Freedom,' price 3d., and 'The New Evangel,' price 2d., by the late James Connolly, have Liberty Hall, Dublin. From the first of these we

BE MODERATE.

Be moderate," the timorous cry, Who dread the tyrant's thunder, "You ask too much, and people fly From you aghast in wonder.' 'Tis passing strange, and I declare Such statements cause me mirth.

For our demands most moderate are,

We only want The Earth.

Workers' Dreadnought

For International Socialism.

Annual Subscription 10s. 10d. post tree.

Of all Newsagents and Wholesalers.

MONTAGU - CHELMSFORD REPORT.

(Continued from page 1072.) of British democracy without an open challenge from British workers?

The rights of the majority are sometimes substituted by a benevolent despotism, but in the Report we do not find mention of any benevolence. The majorities are mentioned as existing, their happiness and contentment are taken for granted under a set of highly-paid foreign officials, who hardly understand the people's language, who do not condescend to live in the same part of the village or town with them, and through lack of proper appreciation, who openly calumniate the tions! religious and caste systems of the Indians and their social and matrimonial customs, all of which have some points yet to teach to Christianity, European civilisation, and English class snobbery.

political instincts; all Indians who endeavour to immediately legislating for proper wages and consolidate the opinions of their countrymen short time. and to give publicity to their sufferings are called The postmen in Mr. Montagu's service, who were nominally native-ruled, as one for purposes of contains not a word upon this. people's rights. We shall find approximately 25 million living in towns, as against 29 millions in England and Wales, with a voting force of about 10 millions. Shall there be, say, 8 million voters But there are elaborate chapters (cl. 318, 319, among the urban populations all over India? 320, 321, 322) on improvement of conditions, pay, "vehement and sometimes malignant abuse." There is a rural agriculturist population of 250 pensions, leave, and expatriation allowance for millions, and an industrial workers population of European servants, who are now paid by hundreds 38 millions, and domestic servants population of and by thousands of pounds yearly. There are 6 millions. What representation does the Report actual substantial increases to a service which was propose to give to these 44 million workers and notorious as the most highly paid service in the 250 million peasants?

INDIAN SUGGESTIONS SET ASIDE.

in giving lengthy publicity to their own opinions, years of war." Still no such considerations are but they make scant reference to the views sub- mentioned in the Report for the most miserably mitted by popular bodies. On p. 197 and p. 198, paid service in the world. ol. 244, we are told that proposals for divisional councils are rejected, but we are not given the proposals because, say the authors of the Report, We found at the outset weighty reasons for Not only are increases proposed to the European rejecting them." Thus Montagu and Chelmsford, employees, but, as usual, their right to adopt disliking the proposals made by Indians in a lawless (or above-the-law methods) is strengthened. Report of 300 pp., do not think it necessary to The banking law will permit any law-abiding make the proposals public! One of these petitions citizen's money to be remitted to England at the sent in by an Indian Association for watching the rate of 1s. 4d. per Indian rupee, but for the princes are described as being "under British interests of Indian workers we publish in an European servant in India his pension will be protection." Are the British people to continue adjoining column. We are told that the proposed handed to him at the illegal rate of 1s. 9d. Why to maintain reactionary Rajas and to protect plan "would not satisfy political needs," and not give him an honest, open increase instead of them against their own People? These princes would also have the effect of very largely de- this dodge? Imagine a rule in England as a priving those who had had some experience of subterfuge of ministers to increase their own wages, political matters and whose life is spent in the that a one pound note or coin presented by a pleasures, and entertaining and on giving presents provincial capitals of many opportunities of minister from his salary or pension must be cashed to the British officials. Indian Rajas are not effective political work." Thus the large majorities by the public for 26s., instead of the legal and compelled by a legislative body to confine themworking under a system of economic enslavement customary 20s. are to be deprived of all opportunities in order to preserve the monopoly right of the city capitalist and the professional politician, carefully selected from the reasonable crowd that will readily condemn "extremist" criticism of Government methods, so that another Montagu may still be enabled to repeat in 1958 :-

P. 215, cl. 265.—"So long as the people of India were content to leave their government in official hands, the system was well devised to the needs of presentatives. And who are these poor helpless Council to allow what it thought proper to the the country, and was directed with astonishing zeal minorities ?and success to beneficient ends."

p. 41, cl. 45, of the Report, describes the capitalist out of all proportion to their numerical strength." position of the Government of India as a huge Why not nominate a few non-elected members We wonder why Mr. Montagu chose an Inspector landlord and commercial magnet owning canals, in our House of Commons from among our alien General of Police to draft a charter of people's railways, banks, &c. The Government is the traders, like Russians, Turks, Germans, Japanese, liberties. The old idea was to place such drafting largest employer of labour. But there is no &c., who reside here to control special financial in the hands of a jurist or Parliamentarian. The proposal for Labour's amelioration from its most interests out of proportion to their number? wretched plight of wages, hours of work, practical "Special electorates will no doubt be required people—the workers in the fields and factories was referred to as the winner of the battle of received a very cold receiv absence of housing and furniture that can be for the representation of the planting and mining described as a home, deprivation of all benefits of interests, for the Chambers of Commerce, and possibly sanitation and education. The eight Executive also for the Universities Where the great land-Councils are to have no Labour secretary, the eight owners form a distinct class in any province we ministries are to have no Labour Minister, the think that there will be a case for giving them an Councils are to have no Labour representatives, the Franchise Committee is to have no Labour The rights and privileges of all services are to be member, and it is taken for granted to give no increased and strengthened. The people of India franchise to Labour, and to consider votes for them are groaning under the yoke of their "Servants," as an absurdity. Mr. Montagu, when on his because these servants are not controlled by the mission, took with him a member of the House of people, but come out from outside to rule over a Lords, and a member of the capitalist Liberal helpless people who are denied a word as regards Party, took no one from the British Trade Unionist their functions, salaries, qualifications, and illand Labour Party. As a consequence, the Report manners. This bare-faced position is now upheld contains many meaningless platitudes. On as a great virtue of the European Service. A pp. 268-9, cl. 338-9, we are told that an Industrial further huge deception is being attempted. As Commission is now sitting-without any Labour the new system is a pretence at democratic Party representative on it-which will advise the control by elected representatives, the European Government on "the extent and form of State servants are to be all the more necessary and Indian Government contained in the Montaguassistance" to Indian industries, "with due powerful to be able to train the people. Now it is Chelmsford Report which fail to give any genuine reference to Imperial interests," but without any a notorious fact that the Indian Civil Service man measure of self-government to the Indian people, reference to the interests of united British and comes out from his University into a position which are essentially anti-democratic not only as lines, &c." Not a word of organising, legisla- perience of election in the Lower House. But Indian. We demand that the proposals contained ting for, and paying Indian Labour on European the bulk of Governors and 100 per cent of the in the Report be withdrawn and replaced by a scheme lines! "Although labour is plentiful, education European servants in India have not only no of genuine democratic self-government for India-is needed to inculcate a higher standard of living." experience of franchise, elections, and administra-There is no suggestion that the Indian worker tion controlled by people's representatives, but shall have sufficient wages and proper factory they have the greatest contempt for such systems. legislation, an 8 hours day, or proper housing and Some Indian friends have suggested to us that all medical facilities; he is to wait to improve his Governors and principal heads of districts should be standard of living till his masters agree to pay elected by the people of India from, say, members more taxes and give him education, which for the of the House of Commons, according to their last hundred and fifty years they have not found career and attitude towards India in the British it convenient to do. In reply to Mr. King in the House. This, they think, would stimulate the House of Commons, we were informed, not very zeal of English M.P.s regarding their parliamentary long ago, that education cannot be spread freely duty to India. They also suggest that there in India all at once, as the question is mixed up should be present in the House of Commons at with important political and Imperial considera- least one Indian representative of each province

"Labour, though abundant, is handicapped by still pursuing uneconomical methods, and its output would be greatly increased by the extended use fo to exercise any control over their executive officers. British trade unionists' contention that the Indian administrators should be chosen by the Yet, curiously, all patriotic Indians who desire to output of Oriental labour would be extended by Indian people and we would point out that whilst go among these majorities are said to possess no less fatigue and better feeding, that is to say, by extremists, whom we should condemn and suppress on strike during his visit to India, were put down as criminal agitators. The majorities comprise with the assistance of the Government's European discontents. vast groups of human beings. Let us convert all servants. All services under him employ millions figures on p. 110, cl. 133, from percentages to actual of human beings on 5s. to 8s. per week, that, too, numbers, and let us take India, British-ruled and paid at the end of each month. The Report

IMPROVED PAY FOR ANGLO-INDIANS. world. The Report says (p. 254, cl. 318) that the real pay of the Services must be brought "to the level which proved attractive twenty years ago." We are told (p. 254, cl. 319) that the old Montagu and Chelmsford spend India's money complaints "have been since aggravated by three are to be "safeguarded" and "guaranteed." are free to work out their own destiny. If the They are to have a voice from the beginning in Montagu |- Chelmsford Report were a genuine everything. The Franchise Committee and other Reform document it would at least hand over Committees are to be composed purely of this the revenues of the States governed by Indian class. All councils are to be filled by their re- Princes to a Council of the people; leaving that

MONEY MYSTERIES.

PRIVILEGED ELECTORATE.

P. 189, cl. 232.-" The general European com-The Decentralisation Commission, quoted on munity, whose material interests in the country are electorate of their own."

where all his life he has not to submit to a single between the Indians and the British, but as between "Conditions are ripe for the development of election, municipal or parliamentary. In very new and for the revival of old industries on European rare cases a Governor or Viceroy has had exin India, and that this committee of Indian M.P.s should have an advisory place on the Indian

We do not ourselves expect much from this suggestion. We have less faith in Parliament and its members than have our Indian friends. majorities are politically impotent and unwilling Even Lord Leverhulme should now support the Undian administrator and unwilling Even Lord Leverhulme should now support the Undian administrator and unwilling Even Lord Leverhulme should now support the Undian administrator and unwilling Even Lord Leverhulme should now support the Undian administrator and unwilling Even Lord Leverhulme should now support the Undian administrator and unwilling Even Lord Leverhulme should now support the Undian administrator and unwilling Even Lord Leverhulme should now support the Undian administrator and unwilling Even Lord Leverhulme should now support the Undian administrator and unwilling Even Lord Leverhulme should now support the Undian administrator and unwilling Even Lord Leverhulme should now support the Undian administrator and unwilling Even Lord Leverhulme should now support the Undian administrator and unwilling Even Lord Leverhulme should now support the Undian administrator and unwilling Even Lord Leverhulme should now support the Undian administrator and unwilling Even Lord Leverhulme should now support the Undian administrator and unwilling Even Lord Leverhulme should now support the Undian Even Lord Leverhulme should not be undian Even Lord Leverhulme should now support the Undian Even Lord Leverhulme should now support the Undian Even Lord Leverhulme should not be undian Even Lord Leverhulme should not be undian to send representatives to the British Parliament. so long as the British Parliament governs India. yet the Irish have not found the sending of representatives to Westminster the solution of their

"UNTOUCHABLES."

The Report greatly praises the British official. as well as the merchant and his offshoot, the Eurasian. The Indian Service is always admired by its members and those who select them and maintain them. By the Indian people over whom they rule, they are subject, we are told, to There is no impartial investigation of this difference of opinion. We are told of the Hindoo Brahmin creating "untouchables"; but the Report is silent regarding the appropriation by Europeans of public lands and donations for exclusive clubs and hospitals, where the most respectable Indian has no entrance, even as a visitor. Nothing is said of the high-handed maffner in which the European enjoys the right in public railways of travelling separately from the "untouchable" Indian. The European commands reserved seats in churches and even in cemeteries apart from Indian Christian converts. The Report does not tell us how the European foreman drives his coolie subordinates in public services, in factories, mines, &c.

THE NATIVE PRINCES.

In conclusion we must point out that the native treat their State Revenues as private and personal revenues, spending them lavishly on palaces, do. Indian institutions have been, as it were, crystallised during a hundred years of British rule; they have not progressed and changed like the Now let us see how the rights of the minorities governmental forms in countries where the people ruler, so long as the people might choose to main-

SELF-DETERMINATION.

The British Constitution is itself already out of date; America, Switzerland, the Scandinavian countries, and the overseas dominions long ago improved on it. The Russian Soviet system has cast all previous attempts at democratic constitutions into the shade. In setting up a new constitution for India the least that can be expected of British politicians is that they should offer the most democratic form of government that they know and understand. The constitution suggested in Mc. Montagu's Report is far from conforming to this principle.

RESOLUTION.

This organisation repudiates the proposals for SOCIALIST EDUCATION. By Eden & Cedar Paul.

VI.—CONTEMPORARY AUSTRIAN PIONEERS.

Socialists of every country, writes Emmy Freundlich in one of the issues of Gleichheit for November, 1917, have recognised that to exercise a decisive influence upon young people of all ages is of primary importance to the socialist movement. Efforts begun before the war to create socialist schools have been continued during the war. Referring to and commending attempts to give socialist education to those who have left school, she rightly contends that it is eminently desirable to influence children towards socialist thought during the school age, while their minds are say that socialist parents should educate their children in the socialist sense, for education, socialist education not excepted, is mainly work for specialists. The influences acting upon children in the State schools are by no means of a socialist character, and the writer says that the matter has been further complicated during the war. Owing to circumstances with which we are familiar in England, but which have been far more aggravated in Germany and Austria, owing to the continued rise in prices and to the influx of women into munition and other industries, as we have our own economics. Before we can enable each to give of his best.

hitherto been carried on in that city and in Vienna, course.

Children is not a political organisation, We do system has hitherto been applied solely in certain not wish to engage in political activities, and yet bourgeois educational experiments and in a few we wish to create a socialistic educational organisa- kindergartens, but it has remained quite alien which our opponents fastened before the war, and Solely in the educational organisation of the diction is involved. Socialist philosophy is too necessary spiritual foundation. comprehensive to find its whole expression in the work of a political party, for it aims at the foundation of a new world. It follows that not every- that recognises no other authority than the plastic. But, she points out, it is not enough thing which is socialistic need necessarily be unified will of the community, an education that political. If we wish to lay the foundations of an breaks new trail, must aim at awakening new organisation for socialist education, we must inquire what are the main intellectual and moral bases of socialist philosophy. We find that the chief of these bases are the concepts of democracy and solidarity. Freedom and equality are the fundamentals upon which must be upbuilded the economic organisation, the political system, and the ethic of socialism.... How can we secure a practical advance towards the goal of our

"The Friends of Children is an association of we need, and in due course this gap will be filled. children have been under-fed and neglected to parents. It is not a union of philanthropic At present we can do no more than dimly imagine an increasing extent. The capitalist society of individuals who want to take care of other people's what the new literature for children will be like. the Central Powers could not look on supinely at children. The parents of the children who have Every epoch has to create its own spiritual and this degradation of proletarian youth, at this to be cared for must unite, so that union may literary embodiments, for children no less than impairment in the quality of the fighters and effect that which is beyond the competence of the for adults. workers of the next generation and various attempts individual. The parents themselves must originate have been made to provide a remedy, mostly the ideas, must determine their form, and must in the form of institutional education for prole- decide how they shall be carried out in practice. tarian children. The results are described as For this end they must themselves be educated, unhappy, as may well be imagined in the case of just as we workers have to educate ourselves for war emergency measures of this character. But the tasks of industrial and co-operative organisanot as a matter of war emergency alone, nay, tion and for political activities. This association rather as a permanent aim, we socialists, she of parents must resemble an expanded family, insists, must aspire to have our own pedagogics just consisting of persons who make common cause to fulfil this aim, much practical experimental work . "The educational method we apply is the old and tried proletarian method—the method of Thus far, apart from the quotations made in joint organisation. The children are united. It previous sections, we have given no more than a matters not whether it is for country excursions, brief summary of our Austrian comrade's idea. knapsack on back; for afternoons in the play-The summary was worth making, even at the cost ground; for a visit to a museum or a monument: of some repetition, if only to show that like all who go make up a community whose members socialist principles and like economic and political are endowed with equal rights and have equal conditions are, even in war-time, leading educa- duties. All share in the preparations and in the tional theorists in widely severed countries to tidying up; to each his appropriate task; everyone enunciate like practical aims. But now that we' has an equal right to the communal belongings. come to actual achievements we must let Emmy The leaders are nothing more than the bigger Freundlich speak for herself, so that no one can comrades; they consult with the rest, and such suggest that we are fitting her facts to our theories, authority as they possess is based solely upon In Austria, she says, there has recently been wider knowledge and greater energy. Discipline founded an organisation known as the Friends of is secured solely by organisation and example. Children. It was initiated by a Gratz socialist With good organisation and good example, the always that they are given freedom to work along named Affritsch, and its chief activities have right way of doing things comes as a matter of furnishing practical results with which it is "To promote the self-discipline of the will we vigorous progress, and hundreds of thousands eminently desirable that the international pro- divide the children into groups of ten. Each are now receiving at our hands a happy upbringletariat should make itself acquainted. In the group elects its own group steward, who is merely ing, are having their health and their wills steeled autumn of 1916 the Society was reorganised on responsible for the order of the group and for the for the arduous struggles and the great deeds of national lines, and for the guidance of its activities satisfaction of its wants; like the shop steward adult life. Our hope is that throughout the it has formulated principles which sharply dis- (werkstättenvertrauungsmann), he is a leader world, wherever the workers are organised, this tinguish it from capitalist benevolent institutions. freely chosen by the community. Punishments children's realm may be created."

"In the first place," continues the writer, can be inflicted only by the children themselves, "our constitution insists that the Friends of the as decided in joint sittings. With us this American tion. This is an apparent contradiction, upon to the general character of bourgeois education. which they will not be slow to point out once proletariat does it find its natural place and its more when the war is over. But no real contra- intellectual meaning, for here there exists the "Our methods tend to diverge more and more from those of bourgeois education. An education faculties, and cannot continue to employ the ancient methods. Above all, knowledge must be secured by contact with practical life. In so far as we must have recourse to books, we find that there exist as yet few books which help us to build for the child a bridge between what it gains as it were instinctively out of the institutions of our educational organisation, and the philosophy of socialism which lies half concealed in all things. Necessity will create for us the poets and artists

"In the organisations of the Friends of Children these new ideas are to an increasing extent being realised. Let me refer to one point as of especial importance. We wish the children to live as little as possible within narrow walls; we wish them for the good alike of their lungs and of their souls to make conquest of the open world, to become acquainted with all that moves and works

"In so far as is possible the workers must create what is needed for the new educational development, relying upon their own energies and availing themselves of their previous experience in the organisation of self-help. But where these powers do not suffice, where the collaboration of the unions and the co-operatives is not competent for the task, it may be necessary to have recourse for help to the local or central government. With us the workers are gladly endeavouring to do what is requisite, for they wish to provide for the education of their own children. State and municipality already incline to hand over some of the work of education to private organisations, and the working classes wish to play their part here, to receive their share in the grants, provided

"The fashioning of our children's realm makes

THE BATTLE OF PLUMSTEAD COMMON.

Some weeks ago the Woolwich I.L.P. organised a demonstration at Abbey Wood with Ramsay Socialists, determined to maintain the right of free speech, organised a meeting for Saturday, August 31st, to take place on Plumstead the opposition being run by a bastard organisation react on them and as a direct result the revolumisnamed the Woolwich Workers' Society. It is tionary movement will be greatly strengthened. also stated that the pacifist meeting was broken up by soldiers, whereas it was not a pacifist meeting, it was not broken up at all and most of the soldiers present were with the defenders of free speech. As one of the advertised speakers I went along and Joined in the procession from Plumstead Common. When we reached the Common we saw the Stubbs crowd on the right and to avoid any direct conflict we turned to the left, and took up a pitch some distance away. The opposition immediately shut down and made their way towards our meeting. But the boys and girls were prepared and locked Jack Sheppard, one of our greatest stalwarts, discharged soldier stated that he and some of his

WORKSHOP NOTES: By W. F. WATSON.

received a nasty crack on the head and had to be Tommies. The Railway controller, refused pertaken away. Jack Mills, the fighting Chairman, mission for a train to be used for their benefit. had the narrowest escape of his life he has ever Macdonald as principal speaker. The patriots of experienced. Whilst addressing the meeting a House and were turned down. They then proceeded Woolwich, misled by one Stubbs, smashed up the large flint came at him and just grazed his cheekmeeting. The Woolwich Trade Unionists and bone. But Jack went on. About 100 silver badged men acted as stewards for us and uniformed soldiers locked arms and protected our with the same result. platform. Grace Neal and a number of other Common. The "patriots" organised a counter- great and good girls mounted the platform and that although there was an apparent majority in demonstration and issued a handbill quite com- faced the fusilade of stones, and Tom Rees burst favour of the committee's recommendation to new idea is to leave it to representatives of the patible with their intelligence, wherein Stubbs into our meeting to render assistance. Tom resume work, a very powerful element thought that Abbey Wood. The thing was deliberate incite- his position. In spite of what the Press says we ment to violence and I wonder why it is the held our meeting and the opposition got in- in the next list of B.E. "honours?" The only authorities have not taken action under D.O.R.A. finitely more than it gave. The quality, courage redeeming feature is that the Strike Committee is But then why should one wonder. The capitalist and determination was all on our side, and I say press glory in the "gentlemanly" manner in most emphatically that it is a good thing for an unofficial committee, analogous to the Workers' which the "patriots" demonstrated their love Stubbs, Dacre Fox, and the other "lovers of of freedom. And as usual the press freely lied. freedom!" that our comrades maintained their It was stated that the counter-demonstration coolness, self-possession and self-restraint. I am was organised by the Local Branch of the Dis- quite confident that the workers of Woolwich charged Soldiers and Sailors Federation; whereas were ashamed, and disgusted with the actions of that branch took no action at all, as a branch, the patriots and the whole sordid business will > STRIKE OF LONDON TUBE WORKERS. On Saturday, August 24th, London was startled by a sudden cessation of work on the part of the Tube workers who demanded that the women should receive the same pay as the men. The strike caused the writer to be too late for work, and falling in with some of the strikers I accompanied them to Chandos Hall where there was a general meeting of those affected. The meeting was splendidly enthusiastic, and both men and women appeared determined to fight to a finish to establish the principle of equal pay for equal work. The difference at present between the wages of the men and women amounts arms around the platform, whereupon Stubbs to 12s. 6d. per week. The question of wounded took up a position a few yards away. Comrade soldiers being unable to travel was raised and a a week.

comrades had intimated to the Railway controller their willingness to take out a train from Golder's Green to Charing Cross exclusively for wounded

The Strike Committee went in a body to Unity to the offices of the Railway Executive where they were met by a lad of 18 who informed the deputation that he could do nothing for them. From there a deputation waited upon the Ministry of Labour

My view is that no success was gained at all and still in existence, and is considering the setting up of Committee, that shall represent all grades and both sexes of workers on the Underground system to work in conjunction with the Bus and Tram workers. We wish the committee success in its efforts

£5 A WEEK AND NO OVERTIME.

The workers in the various trades concerned in the Clyde shipbuilding industry are putting forward a united demand for a wage of £5 for a 54-hour week and have decided to cease working overtime. At a meeting of shop stewards in Glasgow on August 10th it was decided by the stewards in 39 yards to 9 to stop all overtime. It was decided to ask the employers to give their decision on the £5 per week by August 24th, but only a formal acknowledgment was received. Other shipbuilding centres are also moving; Barrow has stopped overtime and is demanding £5 per week. Belfast is not content to work a 54-hour week. A meeting was called at the Ulster Hall to consider putting forward a claim for 44 hours, but by a large majority it was decided to work only 40 hours, i.e., 8 hours a day on five days

Continued on back page.

WORKERS' SOCIALIST FEDERATION.

LONDON MEETINGS.

OUT DOOR.

FRIDAY, SEPTEMBER 6th. Queen's Crescent, Kentish Town. -6.30.P.M., Miss Price.

LATURDAY, SEPTEMBER 7th. Great Push for Socialism, Peace and Votes for All in Tottenham. - Meet at 3 and 6.30 P.M. at High Road, Tottenham, corner of West Green Road. Speakers: Miss Price, Mrs. Walker, and Mr. Mackinlay.

SUNDAY, SEPTEMBER 8th. Osborn Street, Whitechapel.-11.45 a.m. The Square, Woolwich. - 7 P.M., Mrs. Walker. MONDAY, SEPTEMBER 9th.

Hoe Street, Walthamstow.—7 P.M., Mrs. Walker. TUESDAY, SEPTEMBER 10th. Grundy Street, Poplar.—11.30 A.M., Miss Price.

FRIDAY, SEPTEMBER 13th. Hague Street, Bethnal Green.-11.30 A.M. Miss Price.

SATURDAY, SEPTEMBER 14th. Great Push in Hoxton.

INDOOR. SUNDAY, SEPTEMBER 8th. 400, Old Ford Road. - 4 P.M. At Home.

MONDAY, SEPTEMBER 9th. 44, Malden Road, St. Pancras W.S.F.-2.30 P.M., Business Meeting.

THURSDAY, SEPTEMBER 12th. 29b, Lincoln's Inn Fields.—7.30 P.M., Miss Sylvia - Pankhurst.

PROVINCIAL MEETINGS.

SUNDAY, SEPTEMBER 8th. Sheffleld, Westbar.—11 [A.M., Mr. Goldstein, Mr. Carford. Sheffleld, Rivelin. -3.30 P.M.

OTHER ORGANISATIONS.

TUESDAY, SEPTEMBER 10th. Walthamstow League of Rights, William Morris Hall.—2.30 P.M., Miss Horsfall.

FEDERATION NOTES.

Mr Herbert Cole has generously given us the plates of Walter Crane's 'First of May,' which was one of his school prizes years ago. Will some generous friends provide frames for them? Herbert Cole has also given some of his own original works to sell in aid of the Ribiero fund. These include 'The Enchantress' and 'The Gift,' lithographs drawn on the stone by Cole himself. 'Nereid and the Sea Serpent,' a pen drawing tinted in watercolour, a line drawing, 'The Pale Cow,' to illustrate an Irish story; 'The Mirror,' an illustration to Shakespeare's Sonnet LXXVII; a chalk drawing tinted in water-colour, and a chalk drawing, slightly tinted, to illustrate Zangwill's 'Grandchildren of the Ghetto.' We should be glad to receive offers for these charming drawings which will, of course, fall to the fortunate highest bidder!

WORKSHOP NOTES. (Continued from page 1075.)

DAVID KIRKWOOD.

T. G. Spencer, A.S.E., writes expressing the opinion that to refuse to take the vote on the election of A.S.E. Chairman because of the disqualifying of Kirkwood (as suggested in these columns some weeks ago) would be to play into the hands of the Executive. Further were the other candidates to resign it would secure Brownlie's unopposed return. Comrade Spencer suggests that the better way would be to participate in the ballot and to vote for any other candidate than Brownlie. We are not convinced. Quite 100 branches have decided to refrain from voting at all and were the other candidates to shew their disgust by withdrawing the position of J. T. B. and the Executive Committee would be untenable.

EQUAL PAY.

At the National Federation of Women Workers' Conference in Manchester, on August 31st, an executive resolution protested that women are excluded from War Advances made to men, and that the Minister of Munitions discriminates against the women in aircraft, and all wood work formerly done by men. The women 'bus conductors have shown the women in other trades how to get equal pay. We commend their example to Miss MacArthur and her colleagues. The executive further reaffirmed its demand for four weeks furlough, on full pay, at the close of the war for the workers in trades where there has been excessive overtime; also for "adequate provision' during unemployment, and for "training" with maintenance to equip wemen who cannot find employment for new trades. These demands need stiffening and defining. What is "adequate provision"? What is "excessive overtime?" How and by whom is "training with maintenance" to be provided? The wisest demands for the workers to make on the question of unemployment seem to us to be that the hours of labour shall be shortened until all workers are absorbed into industry, and that whilst arrangements for the absorbtion are being completed unemployment benefit should be paid, as it now is in Soviet Russia, at the trade union rate of the previous employment, until work can be found at not less than the trade union rate. We advise the Members and Executive be reconciled with the nation's cry for the greatest of the N.F.W.W. to study the Regulations on Unemployment Insurance adopted by the Russian Soviet Republic, the text of which appeared in our last issue.—S.

2s. AN HOUR FOR LEITH.

The Leith A.S.E. is demanding a flat-rate for its members of 2s, per hour to include all allowances save overtime, evening overtime to be charged time and a half and double time for Saturday and Sundays. The district officials of the A.S.E. are pushing this demand instead of leaving it to the officials as is usual.

GENERAL FUND .- Profit on Woodford Outing, £8 11s. 11d.; Irene, per Mrs. Drake (20s. weekly), £5; Mrs. M. G. Almond, £2; Anon., £1 0s. 4d.; Mr. Boris Sarne (card), £1; Mr. F. C. Conybeare, 16s. 10d.; Profit on Bow Social, 16s. 2d.; S. Chandler, 10s. 6d.; Mr. F. G. Tompkins, 5s.; Mrs. A. Clarke (Peace), 5s.; Miss Birch, 3s. 11d.; Miss A. Selby, 2s. 6d.; Mrs. Fox, 2s. 6d.; Miss G. Barnard, 2s. 6d.; Mrs. H. Long, 2s. 6d; Mr. J. Verstapper, 2s.; Miss Lillie Perkins, 1s.; per Mrs. Cole, 1s. COLLECTIONS: Miss Price, £12 11s.; Mrs. Walker, £4 0s. 3d.; Poplar Study Circle, 3s. 6d.

SOCIAL WORK

THE MOTHERS' ARMS!

Gifts of clothes and boots and shoes for children of all ages are urgently needed at the Mothers' Arms. Also soft white rags, old sheets, &c. Jam and pickle jars can be made use of. Flowers, plants and branches, eggs and fruit always gratefully received. All parcels to Miss Burgis, 400, Old Ford Road, Bow, E.3.

SOCIAL WORK.—Balance of Palladium Performance, £40 6s. 9d.; Mr. and Mrs. Sadd Brown, £11; Miss Scott Troy, £5; Mrs. Baillie-Weaver, (45s. monthly), £4 10s.; Miss Elsie A. Mason, £3; Sale of clothes, £2 15s. 3d.; Mrs. M. Gibson, £2 2s.; Mrs. Boswell (monthly), £2; East London Toy Factory, £2; Misses Gulland, £1 15s.; Nurse Hebbes (10s. weekly), £1 10s.; Mrs. Richmond (10s. fortnightly), £1 10s.; Mrs. Marion Judson, £1 5s.; Mr. Chas. E. Foster, £1 1s.; E. J. Cattle, £1 1s.; Contessa Tomasi Isolani (monthly), £1; per Miss J. E. Weir, £1; Mrs. Neal, £1; Miss Jones, £1; Miss L. Usherwood, 12s.; Mr. Surtees, 10s. 1d.; C. Cottrell, 10s.; Misses Barrowman (5s. monthly), 10s.; Augusta C. Beard, 10s.; F. E. Fitt and friends, 10s.; Miss W. Turner, 6s.; per Miss Bendelsta, 6s.; Mrs. Gillies, 5s.; D. Wilkie, Esq., (2s. 6d. monthly), 5s.; Miss E. Canning, 5s.; Miss Green, 5s.; Mr. Thos. Downey, 5s.; Mrs. Grieve, 5s.; Stratford Branch Amal. Society of Carpenters and Joiners, 5s.; Miss Crabb (monthly), 3s. 6d.; Mollie Newman, 3s.; Mr. Stiebel, 3s.; Cathleen Shurr, 2s. 6d.; Miss M. Prentice, 1s. 6d.; Mrs. E. Shurr, 1s. 4d.; Mr. R. Cohen, 1s.; Mrs. Gull, 1s.; per Mrs. Thring, 3d. COLLECTIONS: L.S.A. Toolroom, £5 3s. 34d.; Misses E. and K. Lagsding, T. Barker and J. Watts (Green's Yard and Cubitt Town), £1 13s. $4\frac{1}{2}d$.; per Nurse Hebbes, 9s. $3\frac{1}{2}d$.; Nursery Box, 38. 71d.

REMEMBER THE DATE!

YOU are cordially invited to our RUSSIAN "AT HOME," on Sunday Afternoon, SEPTEMBER 8th, at 4 p.m., in the Hall, 400 Old Ford, Road. E.3.

Music, Songs, Recitations, Refreshments. Short Speeches by Russian

Friends. COME and BRING YOUR FRIENDS WITH YOU.

RIVETTING RECORDS OR WAR WORKERS AT PLAY.

BY A BARROW SHOP STEWARD.

The hooter howled, the usual mid-day hour's respite from our tasks had arrived. I proceeded towards the department where an attempt was being made to break rivetting records, listening the while for the clatter of the "Little Davy" to lead me to the spot. Eventually, I saw a-head of me the figures of workmen who had climbed upon any and every semi-built structure that offered a clear view of the record-breaking farce. I, too, climbed and gazed around.

Within a roped area nine or ten fires glared fiercely. The "potting lads" withdrew their rivets and flung them one by one to the feet of the men engaged in "holding up." These holders-up were on one side of a row of Howitzer firing beams. On the other side was a man alternatively wriggling for a position on his seat and being jerked about by a pneumatic hammer, which he clutched like one possessed of something akin to frenzy. This was the record

In this individual there was not to be seen the resolute intelligent workman, whose powers of observation and good judgment controlled all his actions; but the mere victim of a craze, a being driven by a mad passion over which he had no control which made him almost as pitiable as the harlot or the drunken sot.

Within the same roped area managers, foremen and naval and military officers were mustered. They reminded me of the street urchins who are to be seen playing round the hobby horses at any town's fair. Delighted smiles fluttered over their countenances as one and another held out his chronometer and timed the driving of some half dozen rivets. Solemn policemen, too, were there, who by virtue of their vowed allegiance to service, are prevailed upon to keep order throughout any farce the authorities may seem fit to devise. There were also works detectives-that grade of man-power whose qualifications are of such magnitude that they can only serve their nation as spies on workmen.

As I grasped the whole situation a feeling of disgust came over me. How could this sordid scene utility of its man-power? Here was one man working at tremendous pace, with one eye on a heap of gold, his attendants and guard amounting in number to anything between thirty and forty men. The spectators who had taken up their position around the roped arena must have amounted to many thousands in the course of the day. All neighbouring work that tended to interfere with the making of rivetting records must cease, and thus did Barrow utilise its man-power.

I make bold to say that no director, manager, foreman or workman can claim to be serving the DREADNOUGHT.

Money is urgently required for buying paper. Also waste paper. Collect all you can and then send us a postcard on receipt of which we will tell you where to send.

DREADNOUGHT' FUND.—Miss Gliksten, £20: Mr. Allbright, £10; Mr. Leakey, £4; Lady Clare Annesley, £3; Mr. Gasiorowski, £2 10s.; Mrs. Hylda. Ball, £1 10s.; Mrs. and Miss Casey (10s. monthly), £1; Mrs. M. E. Almond, £1; Mrs. Aiton, £1; P. H.D. 15s.; Mrs. Brimley (2s. 6d. weekly), 12s. 6d.; Dr. and Mrs. Schutze (monthly), 10s.; Mr. Beavis, 10s.; Mrs. Bodley, 10s.; Walthamstow B.S.P., 10s.; Mrs. R. Albery, 10s.; Mrs. Mackenzie Kennedy, 7s.; Mrs. Richmond, 2s. (fortnightly), 6s.; Mr. W. T. Levett, 5s. 3d.; Miss B. Joyce, 5s.; Mr. J. A. Morton (monthly), 5s.; Mrs. Baillie-Weaver (2s. 6d. monthly), 5s.; Sale of waste paper, 5s.; Kentish Town N.U.R., 5s.; Mrs. Lanchester, 5s.; Mr. Jones, 4s 10d1.; Miss Buchan, 4s.; Mr. W. Toop (monthly), 2s. 6d.; Mrs. E. Barfield, 2s. 6d; Kentish Town B.S.P., 2s. 6d.; Hackney B.S.P., 2s. 6d.; Miss L. Balchin, 2s. 5d.; Mr. Burroughs, 1s. 8d.; Miss K. Lee, 1s. 2d.: Miss S. W. Newsome (monthly), 1s.; Mrs. Payne, 1s.; COLLECTION: Chandos Hall, per Mr. W. F. Watson, 9s. 8d.

MISCELLANEOUS ADVERTISEMENTS

FAMILY LIMITATION DOCTRINE. Post free, 11d. -Malthusian League, 48, Broadway, Westminster.

WOMEN WORKERS should spend their holidays at "Sea View," Victoria Road, Brighton.-Hostess, Miss

ANTIQUES.

For Genuine Old English Furniture and China MARY CASEY, 29b Lincoln's Inn Fields, W.C.2.

Greer's Agreeable BAKING, CUSTARD, EGG AND BLANCMANGE POWDERS

In 11d. Packets. Obtainable from all grocers, wholesale only from D. W. GREER & CO., London, S.E.5

INTERNATIONAL YOUNG AGE PENSIONS. Dear Friends of Humanity,-In order to relieve the terrible poverty and suffering that is devastating Europe, let us endeavour to place the children and all those who are helpless in comparative safety by securing SEVEN SHILLINGS A WEEK each for them from the state, that we may be free to work for other reforms. At present, whilst they are exposed to cold, poverty and hunger, we can think of nothing else. 7s. a week would ENABLE FAMILIES TO MOVE AT ONCE INTO BETTER HOUSES, and to obtain better milk and food. This would stimulate local trade and reduce expenses of WORKHOUSES, HOSPITALS, PRISONS and LUNATIC ASYLUMS, and do away with all poor rates to such an extent as to be A GREAT SAVING to the taxpayers, and would enable sensible girls to marry where they would otherwise not dare to do so, and to bring up healthy happy children to become stalwart citizens and parents in their turn, besides relieving untold pain and suffering, and being an estimable benefit to

The fact of a married man becoming automatically POORER at the birth of each child constitutes a cruel wrong to all children, and until each child has 7s. a week in its own individual right, as an infant citizen, suffering, war, disease, and poverty can never be abolished. Let us all demand this from our different Governments now, before itmay be too late. S. MACKENZIE KENNEDY.

To Dreadnought Readers in the Borough of Croydon. Do you know Croydon's own Socialist Weekly Newspaper?

THE EPISTLE (estab. 1916).

The Editor, Contributors, Publishers and Printers are all Socialists, Price 1d. weekly, delivered anywhere in Croydon. Send post card 112, Woodville Road, Thornton Heath, for weekly delivery.

"DREADNOUGHT" ON SALE At Mrs. CARFORD'S, 183, WEST STREET, SHEFFIELD, interest of the nation whilst taking active interest in such freakish escapades as making rivetting records.

Wholesale and Retail.

The number of rivets headed by one man in a given time under such conditions cannot be taken as a deciding factor in estimating the amount of work a man should accomplish in any given timenone but a fool would suggest it. Even to think it is to acknowledge that we are to continue to be mere pawns in any game the capitalist seems fit to play—that the master realising that his horse can go faster will drive him thus. To this I say, No! emphatically, No! You and I, dear reader, are citizens of a great world, which offers great possibilities for our enjoyment. Enjoyment to which we have a sacred right. Once realising this and sinking our own trifling differences, uniting in one purpose the whole working mass of humanity-an end to which even you must play your part-then we shall be able to go forth and claim our own, and when that day comes, records or no records, it will be wee unto the parasite that says us nay. R. F.

LEANEY'S LTD.,

WHOLESALE NEWSAGENTS.

City Agent for the Workers' Dreadnought. 9 and 10, ST. BRIDE'S AVENUE, E.C.4. (Late City and Suburban Publishing Co.).

Printed by J. E. Francis, 11 and 13 Breams' Buildings, London, E.C.4, and Published by the Workers' Socialist Federation, 400 Old Ford Road, London, E.3