the Grief and Glory of Russia.

Workers' We Dreadnought

FOR INTERNATIONAL COMMUNISM.

Founded and Edited by SYLVIA PANKHURST

VOL. VIII. No. 21.

SATURDAY, AUGUST 6TH, 1921.

[WEEKLY.] PRICE TWOPENCE.

BY RIGHT AND REASON—NOT BY FORCE.

Right not might, by reason not by force: that is the ideal towards which humanity is working. Of course, we all look forward to that desirable end.

But the world is very savage still, and the capitalist system, the system that maintains the Haves as rulers of the Have Nots, is maintained entirely by force; the display Is of force, the threat of force, when necessary the use of force. We are environed by the rule of force, and all around us is the affirmation that the rule of force administered by the Capitalist State is just, necessary, and permanent in the sense that it s something that always must remain. There is even the tacit assumption that this rule of force is not force at all, but the passive compulsion of general consent, in spite of the Army and Navy used for compulsion of the home population, as well as abroad; the police force in all its branches, the constables with their truncheons, the racks of rifles that have lately crept into the police stations, the detectives with lead-weighted sticks and rifles in the hip pocket, the warlike Royal Irish Con-in support of capitalism is a tremendous task, a task that only gigantic movements of the people can render possible. We need not wonder that when we quail before its immensity, as all who realise it must quail at times, some should fancy these fears to be the voice of conscience telling them to do all things only by consent, not to take his wealth from the rich unless he give it; not to bind the strength of the strong unless he surrender it.

Bailing the Revolution.

When the Russian Revolution broke out and swept all before it, apparently with so much ease, so little danger or conflict; apparently with the general consent and applause of all the governments and peoples of Europe, then a shout of approval rang out from the Socialists of all kinds and countries.

The Herald Group takes Action.

Here in England George Lansbury and the Daily Herald group bestirred themselves, and presently convened an informal Herald young men with their enthusiastic brotherly airs and intellectual voices, led y their big man Lansbury; big Robert Williams, the platform fire-eater of the Herald-cum-industrialists, the oratorical diplomatists of the I.L.P. with their most cautiously orthodox Ramsay MacDonald and Philip Snowden (they were Members of Parliament then with their seats to consider), and the B.S.P.ers pale from the dusky, airless offices of Maiden Lane, E.C., Fairchild, Albert Inkpin and the rest, besides a bunch of pacifists like C. G. Ammon, and a few carefully selected women. Somehow we also were included in the invitation to the preliminary conference where strange new lights were seen flaming ruddy on the horizon and the air seethed with the steps of the oncoming masses who would arise with amazing speed to establish Workers' and Soldiers' Councils. The International Social Revolution was on the point of knocking at Britain's door, and it was important to insure that the proper people should float on its shoulders into power.

Now go away for six months and I promise you, when we meet again, a great surprise.

The National Executives of the I.L.P. and the B.S.P. were the first, and apparently the most legal claimants to office. They had formed the United Socialist Council, and if the masses should make a revolution it would clearly be their duty to allow this body to control them. That was obviously, the view of the United Socialist Council.

But the Herald also put in a claim, and the Herald young men urged that a revolution must not be monopolised by a clique: people of all shades of opinion must be given a chance to come in and control it. Obviously it would never do to leave out the Herald and George Lansbury and Robert Williams, and the other buoyant brotherly big men in whom the Herald young men place their faith.

Here in England George Lansbury and the Daily Herald group bestirred themselves, and presently convened an informal meeting, at which foregathered all the Herald young men with their enthusiastic brotherly airs and intellectual voices, led by their big man Lansbury; big Robert Williams, the platform fire-eater of the should be a provisional committee of thirteen members at that small meeting to make perfectly sure that the right people should be on it. A further thirteen could be elected more democratically later on.

So they were appointed, the leaders of the British Soviet Revolution—for they were out for Government by Workers' and Soldiers' Councils in those days, you know. Here is the list:—

George Lansbury.
Ramsay MacDonald, M.P.
Philip Snowden, M.P.
F. W. Jowett, M.P.
Robert Smillie.
Robert Williams.
Charles G. Ammon.
W. C. Anderson, M.P.
E. C. Fairchild.
H. Alexander.
J. Fineberg.
Tom Quelch.
C. Despard.

TO GEORGE LANSBURY & L. T. SADLER

Mrs. Despard's name was selected last of all in the list. The woman was chosen as an afterthought. "We must have a woman!" The original number had been twelve Eyes were turned anxiously in several directions, and they rested more than once on the not unwilling Mrs. Snowden; but someone mentioned Mrs. Despard, and the politeness of the gathering could not venture a contest around that venerable figure.

So events moved on to the Leeds Conference. We had always our doubts of these thirteen enthusiastic revolutionaries, but they had no doubts of themselves. Oh, gone whatever! The revolution was coming: the workers and soldiers would certainly make it, and these bold leaders would certainly not shrink from leading those who would undoubtedly do the work.

In the meantime the manifestoes were a bit mixed.

Leeds Conference was held; what an orgy of enthusiasm! Delegates flocked from all parts of the country, filled all the available lodgings, and even commandeered the railway trains to sleep in. It seemed a veritable breaking of the bonds. When the conference was over, we found that nothing definite had been done. We had not even elected the remaining half of the executive. Nevertheless, we were all out for the Revolution; there was no doubt about that.

The provisional committee issued a manifesto. Here is the greater part of it:—

WORKERS' AND SOLDIERS' COUNCIL. Manifesto to District Conferences.

The memorable Leeds convention will remain a landmark in our democratic history. Masses of our people have been stirred deeply by the glorious Revolution achieved by the men and women of Russia. Caring for democracy and the Labour cause, with the triumph of which is bound up the triumph of world-wide peace, they have preserved the instinct of freedom through years of repressive and coercive laws. The time has come for organised common action, and for a general advance. . . .

The Work and the Spirit.

Workers and soldiers are achieving a common power. If justice is to be secured for all soldiers and their dependents, and if freedom is to be won for all workers, they must join forces. These reasons led to the creation of the Workers' and Soldiers' Council. In accordance with the resolutions passed at Leeds, the Provisional Committee desires to indicate, in broad outline, to the local organisations something of the task ahead, and the spirit in which it should be undertaken.

The Russian Lead.

Not in any narrow or exclusive sense, we desire to cultivate close alliance and solidarity with the Russian democracy. They have kindled in every land a new hope. They have given fresh courage to all struggling against bureaucracy and despotism and toward liberation. Every people must work out their own salvation in their own way, with such industrial and political weapons as may be available. The Russian workers have pointed the way towards the healing of nations and a new Internationalism, and it is the manifest duty of the Workers' and Soldiers' Council and all its branches to proclaim

YOUR SUBSCRIPTION.

A blue mark in this space indicates that your subscription is now due.

Increased Postal rates and the high cost of production of the paper necessitate prompt payment.

BY RIGHT AND REASON—Continued.

the real meaning and purpose of the Russian achieve ment, and its deep significance in relation to other countries, including our own. To celebrate the Russian Revolution, to welcome genuinely the dawn of freedom in that land, we must strengthen in our own country the movement toward political and industrial emancipation, and take a firm stand against all forms of exploitation.

The Breath of Revolution. The present hour, heavy with destiny and fate. with new mighty movements in the making, with the breath of revolution in the air, does not call immediately for programme-building, but when the full Council of 26 is assembled, and with the mandate from the Movement in the country, a ful statement of immediate aims and objects will be forthcoming. Great principles are needed, and all should be inspired by the love of freedom, the hatred of tyranny. In all this, there is work lying ready to hand. . . .

The Doom of Rulers. Russia demands that democracy must rule, since the guilt and doom of rulers have been traced in both sweating and profiteering.

the blood of millions. We are at one with Russia in striving for a people's peace. . . THE PROVISIONAL COMMITTEE OF THE WORKERS' AND Will you renounce the Red Army method? Did SOLDIERS' COUNCIL:-

F. W. Jowett, M.P. H. Alexander. Geo. Lansbury. W. C. Anderson, M.P. J. Ramsav MacDonald, M.P. C. Despard. Tom Quelch. E. C. Fairchild. Robert Smillie. Philip Snowden, M.P. J. Fineberg.

Robert Williams. All communications to the Secretary,

4, Duke Street, Adelphi, London, W.C. 2. The Hearts that Qualled.

DISAPPROVAL Was meeting "THE BREAK OF REVOLUTION," but still hope ran high; for to maintain the capitalist unless he is to the need and will of the individual limited a space, for an all too little space: it was be repaid in worthless money, which only by the productive power of the comsoon to fade. District conferences were announced, mobs organised by the capitalist press attacked them; the provisional committee could find no offices; no landlord has wealth which he does not produce, re- to end armies and exploitation too? So the hearts quailed of those who had on the common stock of produce. He will meant to lead the Revolution, and they began to shuffle out. The thirteen district leged than those who have only what they enforce the exploitation. So long as there representatives were elected by proportional representation through the post, because the consideration of their incapacity to labour. by another every people maintains as large convincing itself that the strength of the masses, might, after a long series of individual reprisals the whole convincing itself that the strength of the masses the illusion mass of the people would rise in revolt for the them had been attacked. When we district Communism, a menace to it, and a charge exploitation, to enable it to exploit others council. Lansbury's hopes were fled and the fire of his enthusiasm vanished, he was too busy to attend, and could hardly spare space in the Herald for the council's announcement. The I.L.P. representatives, a little more tenacious of their reputation for faithfulness and responsibility were almost too busy to come; they came still. but they came exceedingly late. The B.S.P., long accustomed to wait cap in hand despoil the capitalist. upon Hyndman and his coterie, were too We suppose he will reply: "I would not the unemployed would go short of for timid to proceed without the important per- despoil him: I would buy him out."

Already the first breath of GOVERNMENT

was met with a stony silence. day, and we arriving, for once a little late, that it were possible to buy out the capi- who possess it from those who possess it from the pos found that in a few moments it had dis- talist, what would Dr. Sadler do should the property. Just so, if the discoverers and is very important for the proletariat." The whole solved itself and was no more.

The opposition was too great, the response undoubtedly would? from the workers too small, the time still Would Dr. Sadler decide to give up the in every land they came to defended by unripe, said the council. All that may be attempt, or would he use the power of the true a thousand times; but they who formed State to compel the capitalist to sell? that Workers' and Soldiers' Council are Perhaps Dr. Sadler will say that he would Dr. Sadler's house and home and world! to-day in a curiously inconsistent position proceed by process of law, but that ist merely goods are protected by the force of if they say they are opposed to Revolution, begging the question; force is employed to Capitalist State; he must not therefore to Soviets, and to ought but conciliation enforce legal process. A poor woman we met complain because the Communist State and constitutional progression for the end- in Holloway prison borrowed some money on its own force, the Red Army, to protect ing of the capitalist system.

Dr. Sadler's Argument.

sistent in his pacifism than the impulsive for money she parted with the security, Soviet employs its organised force to enforce Heraldites. He returns to debate with us and when the time for repaying the loan its decree. in a praiseworthy spirit of persistence.

Here is his further reply:-DEAR EDITOR-

Thank you for giving an answer to some of the points raised in my first letter. You will see I said I did not desire interest on the money lent to Russia; but only the gradual repayment of the capital, as they were able.

If this plan prevailed in all the capitalist companies -73,000 are registered in Britain-it would soon change the social system: for many investors have already been repaid, by rent, interest or dividends, what they invested!

You do not quite grasp the other aspect of my complaint: viz., the use of force by Lenin. He has forcibly despoiled local landowners and capitalists by

It is the Red Army I chiefly object to. I want an end of rent and interest, as I hope to show in a small forthcoming book; but I do not want this result by Lenin's Red Army method: for when I read history, ancient or modern, I see that war breeds war, as in the Balkan States, or to-day, in Ireland, where there is a see-saw of ghastly reprisals.

In my first letter I said I objected to Lenin's method of theft by force. To take over land which had been taken from peasants is not theft; take it and give no compensation for drainage and farm buildings may be theft; and Lenin used the Red Army for all his deeds. They used "terror, and Lenin acknowledged this.

Lenin's method is the hurry-method of violence. I want private landownership to cease. I want one Commonwealth Bank (with branches), ending the paying or taking of interest. I want Companies to be changed into groups of sharing workers, with prices fixed by the consumers and workers together, to avoid

But I want all this without killing, or getting ready to kill one's fellow-men. not Lenin say that 5,000 or 6,000 men had been shot in getting the rule by the proletariat? Can you show us how to end armies and exploitation too? The former support the latter in most

Yours, etc., G. T. SADLER.

To Repay the Capitalist is to retain the Parasite. We have explained to Dr. Sadler that for be possible under genuine and comp a Communist community to undertake 'the Communism. Communism entails, gradual repayment of capital" is to undo view, the ending of wages and prices, and so Communism: for to repay the capitalist is consumption without payment according will buy nothing in which case he would munity. not be repaid. If he is to be paid in any Armies and Exploitation. remain in a position wealthier, more privies exploiting people must possess an army to are granted in return for their labour or in is the danger of exploitation of one people Therefore his existence is a negation of an army as it can to protect itself f upon the producing community, which can- or at the bidding of a stronger Power which not theoretically be tolerated, though in orders the weaker nation to assist practice it may have to be conceded.

How should we despoil the Capitalist.

Dr. Sadler complains that the Red Army has been used to despoil local landlords and capitalists. He objects to the use of

We ask Dr. Sadler how he would himself the remnant of the committee sat fuming talist is impossible, because whilst capital no police or other power to prevent the with impatience, and yet any attempt, and remains in his possession there is no Com- satisfying their hunger. Everyone who we made many, to proceed with the business munism, and because the charge upon the flects sensibly upon this matter knows community during the repaying process every moment of our lives the force of Finally the committee met promptly one would be a crushing one. But assuming State is protecting the property of the capitalist refuse to be bought out, as he explorers who have gone out from Britain stand taken by Plekhanov later on, especially during security to put into the business she had Russian people and enforce the laws of inherited from her father during her hus- their Soviet Republic. The Soviet Dr. Sadler is more complete, more con-band's absence in China. Being pressed decreed the ending of landlordism; came she pleaded for a week in which to But this is a temporary phase. When produce the money. The creditor refused the landlords have been dispossessed to to wait; the woman was proceeded against Red Army will no longer have the task of and sentenced to six months' imprisonment. dispossessing the landlords to perform. Her destitute children were taken in by a will merely be required to prevent kindly neighbour, and the State through seizure of the land by the old landlord the Public Trustee made the woman a bank- by some other. As the benefits of Co rupt and sold up her goods. The Governor munism come to be experienced, as people of Holloway brought her the key of her come to realise that enough is as good at the reformists for whom sometimes even the Second place for Communists. He later somewhat modified empty shop and a document stating that she a feast, and that to have the butcher calling had been made bankrupt.

This was force applied not by the because the Army was not needed. other forceful measures employed Whether the minion of the wears a black coat or a wig and gown blue or a khaki uniform, is indifferent vided he possesses the power of compu Dr. Sadler may perhaps say tha woman who sold the security for her is more blameworthy than the capitalis the landlord: it is a matter of opin which we will not at present argue. Sadler should remember that opinion usually the conventional product of env ment, and endeavour to emancipate his own The real point here is not whether in woman was or was not more blameworth. than the landlord and capitalist. question of the use of compelling Frankly, we do not believe that society will re-organise itself without the use of for on both sides, because the present is maintained by force.

Wages and Prices.

Dr. Sadler says: "I want companie be changed into groups of sharing worker with prices fixed by consumers and worker together, to avoid both sweating and fiteering." That in our opinion would stronger in its own exploitation of others.

So long as a class of people exploits maintain its exploitation by military for and such substitutes for that force as it deems suitable and sufficient. Let those who doubt this consider unemployed, and ask themselves whether passing by shops and restaurants where they sonages, and so hours would pass whilst. We have shown that to buy out the capi- see it provided in abundance, if there were army too powerful to be overthrown, Empires would have been formed.

Continued on page 8.

RUSSIAN MOVEMENT BEFORE 1905.

history of modern revolutions shows a great ity of main and side-currents, of heated disons, wasted energies, forgotten sacrifices. This s especially to the first decade of this century, pochs immediately preceding and following the Revolution, that of 1905.

revolutionary movement had then just begun rge from the stagnation into which it had unged after the destruction of the "Narodnaya the bold terrorist organization whose chief olishment-the execution of the Tsar Alexan-1, in 1881—was also the beginning of its decline. ically all its members were arrested before viddle of the eighties. What followed then was much a struggle against the ruling power, pretical discussions within the ranks of those he had either escaped abroad or completely withdrawn from any illegal activity. Until that time Russian revolutionary movement-while still callitself Socialistic presented a Socialism of a cally autochthonous type. It was a struggle e progressive layers of the bourgeoisic-notably ntellectuals-whose aim was the Europeanizan of the country, the introduction of Western cratic institutions. But while in Western Europe ight for democracy was carried through with elp of the industrial proletariat, there was in usia no industrial working class to speak of. Quite urally the Russian malcontents turned to another atisfied element-the peasantry. The then preling romantic illusion that the Russian peasant was a genuine Communist (because of his association with the mir, the quasi-communistic landholding stem) gave rise to a beltef that Russia need not through the capitalist stage of Western Europe, night proceed directly from feudalism to ggle for bourgeois democracy. roved the organization.

the new ideology. Tikhomirov said: "I admit that like Russia? the proletariat is very important for the Revolution." the war and the Revolution of 1917, shows that and other countries had found the natives while the terminology was different, at bottom they e in agreement. Only Takhomirov was more nical in his readiness to use the workers frankly as a tool for his, the Bourgeois Revolution—while lekhanov, more circumspect—meant that the Boureois Revolution was of paramount necessity for the workers themselves. The workers might make their Social Revolutionists and Social Democrats.

LUNATCHARSKI-MINISTER FOR EDUCATION.

vialism. The bitter experience of whole generations International as too revolutionary. And it is a grim by two picturesque young men, an Armenian student vouthful propagandists who "went among the joke that the two leading spirits of their terrorist with the strange name of Nicholas Romanov who, ole," but usually succeeded only in getting fighting organization, especially after the arrest of quite different from his illustrious double, was famous d and handed over to the Tsar's police by Gershuni, were the two supermen of spydom and for his wit and cleverness, and a former theological se same "communistic" peasants, turned the erst- white-guardism-Azev and Savinkov. This is the student with (then) Tolstoyan leanings (hence his propagandists and "goers to the people" into party that brought forth Kerensky, Chernov, Avk- nickname "Tolstoy"), the group claimed to be the sists. With the killing of high officials and sentyev. Tchaikovski and so many other heroes of direct continuator of the gospel of Bakunin and y of the Tsar himself, they hoped to force the Russian and European counter-revolution. Nechayev. Like Machajski, they argued that the democratic institutions that would enable them to beginning of this century, its great rival on the Machajski, being a cold realist, wanted to employ would accept their tenancy; the Government main as a parasite upon the community, a We answer: "Armies can only be ended for their socialist ideal. At present we know that In its aims it did not differ very much from the concrete demands, and was absolutely opposed to the proposed to t announced its hostility to the movement.

Charge on the labour of the producers and by ending exploitation." So long as there keep the socialist phraseology was self-deception, Social-Revolutionists. Both were fighting for the any idealist slogans such as "Socialism," "Anarchy," Social-Revolutionists. Both were fighting for the any idealist slogans such as "Socialism," "Anarchy," and the socialism of the producers and by ending exploitation." So long as there keep the socialism of the producers and by ending exploitation are socialism of the social exploitation of one people by another, the was only an idealistic embellishment of their heroic same "ideal," the democratic Republic. They differed etc., which according to him could not bring about only in their means and in some purely theoretical the workers' revolution, the "Beznachaltsy" urged hey did not succeed. The government, shattered conceptions. Not sharing the S. R.'s view as to the masses (or rather the few hundred readers whom a moment, had almost been induced to start important role of the individual. they rejected ter- their papers and leaflets reached) to kill, to rob the totations with the "Narodnya Volya"-but after rorism as unnecessary, and even harmful, for indiviin reality reposed only on the heroism of a number according to them, create in the masses the illusion mass of the people would rise in revolt for the individuals, carried the struggle to an end and that they need not themselves fight. And they com- beautiful ideal of Anarchy. The group met with a centrated all their efforts on organizing the industrial sud fate. Nicholas Romanov was arrested in Russin.

look for another way to defeat Tsarism. They When speaking of the coming revolution-both of hard labour. "Tolstoy" tried to rob a bank in und this way in the Marxian Socialism of Western revolutionary parties had exclusively in mind the Switzerland, killed two clerks and citizens who purope. The spokesman of this group was none bourgeois democratic revolution. If the Social-De- sued him, and finally committed suicide in prison ther than George Plekhanov, who, together with mocrats sometimes spoke of the "revolution of the by burning himself with a kerbsene lamp. A number another class the exploiting class will be Deutsch, Paul Axelrod and the former active proletariat." or the "proletariat." or the "proletariat." or the "proletariat." errorist Vera Zasulich formed the group "The meant it in a somewhat Pickwickian sense: the In general, the group disappeared. In a way, ancipation of Labor," which marks the beginning fighters in the revolution were to be proletarians, Makhno might be called their epigone. the Social-Democratic movement in Russia. The but the goal was to be democratic, which sounded Very near to this group was another Anarchist dustrial proletariat, which at the time had just better than "bourgeois." Nothing was more remote circle called after its organ "Chornove Znamya" mine Russian socialism began to acknowledge the really meant a great step forward. And what is good He borrowed much of his thunder from Machajki, aportance of the working class in the forthcoming for ourselves we usually consider as good for others and consequently did not like him very much. His task. In a discussion between Plekhanov and Tik- 100. It is the old mechanics of unconscious deception two new contributions to Anarchist terminology were and groups who in that period, shortly before and killing the first bourgeois one met on the street. after the first revolution (1905) began to speak of a It was called "unmotived," as opposed to the regular Social or Workers' Revolution as against the bourgeois terrorism which was practised by other Anarchists revolution heralded by the two great parties. usually were, so to speak, the illegitimate offspring of the two parties, as well as of orthodox Anarchism, the Anarchism of Kropotkin, which, while theoretically preaching Social Revolution in Europe, practically did not differ at all from the S. R. and the S. D. in its conceptions as to the purely political character of the coming Russian revolution.

One of the first "dissenters" of this epoch was Out of the remnants and admirers of the "Narod- the Polish-Russian revolutionary Marxist, W. Machajnaya Volya," based on the ideology of Lavrov and ski (A. Wolski), who in 1902 published in his Siberian Wikhailovsky, developed in the beginning of the exile an interesting pamphlet under the title "The wentieth century the Party of the Socialist-Revolu- Evolution of Social Democracy", (the first part of the tionists (usually called after their initials, the S. R. his large work "The Intellectual Worker") in which, " Esser's "). Although "in principle" they re- proceeding still from the Marxian point of view, he gnized the class-struggle, they considered as the criticizes the bourgeois character of the Socialist main forces of the revolution the intellectuals and parties, the prevalence of the class interest of the he peasants. Their favourite means of combat was intellectuals in their policy, and advocates the immerrorism, and they have to their credit some of the diate seizure of power and dictatorship of the prolemost admirable types of heroes and idealistic martyrs, tariat for the immediate abolition of the bourgeois such as Balmashov, Yegor Sazonov, Kalayev, Gershuni. exploitation. The insight with which he exposes and But with all due respect to the heroism of their almost predicts the future anti-proletarian and antiighters—the aims of the party were purely bourgeois; amazing, and his criticism of bourgeois democracy, its goal was bourgeois democracy of the French or revolutionary role of the Socialist parties is most English type; after this was reached, they were to which at that time was quite unusual and was stand on the extreme right of the Socialist move- considered an exaggeration even by most of the nent, together with Bernstein, Henderson, and all Anarchists, has since 1917 become almost a common-

HISTORICAL

By MAX STRIPIANSHI

his views, and his theoretical system, which brought forth a rather voluminous literature, was often called a combination of Marxian, Blanquist, Bakunist and Syndicalist elements. He and his adherents founded a number of groups ("Makhayevtsy") in Petrograd, Odessa, Warsaw (and Cracow, on Austrian Polish territory), concentrating their activity mostly among the unskilled workers and the unemployed, whom they urged to come out with immediate concrete demands addressed either to their employers (higher wages) or to the Government (to provide immediately work for all unemployed). According to them the working-men were always ready to fight, if only the object was obviously in their interest, such as higher wages or providing of work for the unemployed. The further development of this struggle, assisted and organized by a secret organization, was to bring about a decisive clash between the whole working class, using the weapon of the general strike, followed by insurrection, and the forces of the Government. The outcome was to be the dictatorship of the working class which, however, in Machajski's view. was somewhat different from the conception commonly prevailing since 1917. This group was not very successful in its activities. Most of its members were soon arrested and dispersed. Some of them are at present active in the Communist movement. Machajski himself after the November Revolution (the latest news of him reached us in 1918), admitted that part of his predictions had not come true-viz.. the Bolsheviki had turned out to be better than he expected. And he was not sorry.

Anarchist Tendencies.

On the opposite pole, although likewise appealing to the unskilled and unemployed, was the Anarchist group "Beznachalye" (Without Authority). Founded form of real value he will, in so far as he Dr. Sadler asks: "Can you show us how government to grant political freedom and western Parallel with this party there developed, after the masses are always ready to revolt; but while his defeat stirred a number of revolutionists workers for the struggle for political liberty. with bombs in his possession, and got fifteen years > begun to develop in the great Empire, was to from their minds than the Social Revolution; for, (The Black Flag). Its founder, Judah Grossman ecome the main force for the overthrow of the first, most of them were bourgeois intellectuals or ("Roshchyn"), was a very brill:ant speaker, who atic despotism. Even the adherents of the old intellectual declassés, for whom bourgeois democracy could enthrall his listeners with elever paradoxes: nirov, the then most important literary spokesman and self-deception that may be observed in every the "commune" and the "unmotived terror." His of the "Narodnaya Volya" abroad (he later recanted revolution. And second, even in the industrially idea of the "commune" consisted in "seizing a Te and became editor of a reactionary daily in Moscow) highly developed Western Europe the proletarian city" if only for a couple of days, abolishing all here were coined the notable sentences which almost revolution was a distant dream—was it then worth authority there—and thus giving a shiping example in a nutshell show the stand taken by the old and while to speak about it at all in a backward country to the workers of the country. This plan remained forever dead theory. He had more success with his "unmotived_terror." It consisted of throwing bombs But, nevertheless, there appeared some individuals into fashionable hotels, cafés, theatres or even in on capitalists who for some reason had become obnoxious to the workers; his terrorism was to be practised without any special motive. Of course, he was quickly contradicted by some still more consistent rivals, who declared that killing bourgeois could not be called "unmotived" in any case, for the very fact of being a bourgeois was to the Anarchisa already a criminal offence. There were such "unmotived" bombs in Odessa, Yekaterinoslav and Warsaw. A number of his personal friends and followers were executed. Grossman himself somehow survived and is now co-operating in Moscow with the Soviet Government as leader of the "Sovietsky," i.e., pro-Bolshevist Anarchists, bitterly attacked, of course, by many of his former admirers.

> > Marxian" Anarchists.

In this connection we must also mention the group of Marxian or "Syndicalist-Anarchist-Communists," formed around the paper "Novy Mir" (1905), which was founded by a former Social-Democrat (of the Bolshevik faction, if we are not mistaken) who assumed the name of "Novomirsky." He was strongly opposed to the "expropriations" (i.e., armed robberies), which had become a kind of favourite sport of a great number of Anarchists, and opposed to their heroic suicide-mania, something that was very

Continued on bottom of page 4.

Editor: SYLVIA PANKHURST.

All Matter for Publication to be Addressed to the Editor Business Communications to the Manager: Workers' Dreadwought, 152, Fleet Street, London, E.C.4. TELEPHONE: CENTRAL 7240,

SUBSCRIPTI	ON:		n flori
THREE MONTHS (13 weeks)		Post	Free	3/3
Six Months (26 weeks)			31	6/6
ONE YEAR (52 weeks)				13/-

Vol. VIII. No. 21. Saturday, August 6, 1921.

HALF THE PEOPLE KEEPING THE OTHER HALF.

The plea of the Poplar Labour Councillors for the equalisation of London's rates is not a Communist or revolutionary one: it is purely respectable Reformism to which many a rigid Liberal will agree. Nevertheless, assuming that the Poplar Labour men stand to their guns and go to gaol for their principles, we offer them our congratutions, and cordially hope that they will get political treatment at Brixton. Nevertheless, should they get it we shall remember regretfully that their zeal for prison reform and their sympathy for other political prisoners, as well as for the other offenders, would have been greatly enhanced had they gone through the ordinary mill.

Mr. Lansbury's protest that half the people of Poplar are keeping the other half is as serious an indictment of the capitalist system as could be delivered.

employed. They are not wanted by capitalism, and since they cannot legally be killed off they are maintained on the lowest possible rations by the people capital finds it profitable to employ.

refused the community is actually short of the services the workless are accustomed to provide. Some of them are bus workers, and daily we fight for a place in the 'bus in going to and from our work, and plead with the conductor to let more than five of us hang on to the straps. Some of us Opposition was proclaiming the sacred right of ingo short of clothing, boots and food, coal surrection against the proposed decrees of the Govand gas, and workers in all these services are unemployed. The houses in Poplar borough are falling down through age, neglect, and original poverty of construction, and if amongst the unemployed of the borough there are no builders, plumbers, carpenters or joiners, some of them might be trained in these crafts if only the capitalist system could be swept away. Under Communism there will be an abundance of work for all; a shortage rather than a surplus of labour, firstly because since all will live in comfort and plenty, consumption will be greatly increased. Thus there will be a much larger call for labour than at present.

Secondly, all workers will have abundant leisure for study, recreation and rest; the working hours will necessarily be reduced.

Out-of-works, you are not wanted in this system; because it is a system in which consumption is kept low by keeping the mass of the people in a state of chronic want.

Therefore change the system!

MOVING ON.

At French General Confederation of Labour Con-

For Amsterdam 1,572 yo	otea
For Moscow	otes
A Revolutionary Trade Union Committee wil	l act
as the Left Wing in the C. G. T.	Sylven

UNEMPLOYED.

Robert Warwick, aged 60, lay on the railway at Peterborough and allowed a train to run over him because he was penniless and hungry. Four men, three aged more than 70, and one aged Soviet republics. 29, were found ill from starvation in London during the holidays and removed to infirmaries.

OUR SYMPATHY.

We tender our sympathy to the relatives of the Comrades, delegates to the Third International, who lost their lives in the Russian railway accident, and to the movement which will suffer the loss of their activities.

HYNDMAN ON THE DOWN GRADE.

H. M. Hyndman, having found himself in a reactionary minority in the B.S.P., left it to form a new organisation, which now calls itself the S.ID. F. It seems likely that Hyndman will presently have his B.S.P. experience in his new organisation. When he referred to "Maniacs from Moscow" delegates to the Annual Conference of his organisation howled at him. He and the Executive failed to secure the passing of a resolution against "Direct Action," and one urging British workers to "keep careful watch against being used by pro-German international militarists and financiers in weakening entente nations."

A resolution on Ireland was adopted, which is Agriculture Commissariat. more advanced than any adopted by the Labour Party, and than the official policy of the Labour Captain Bowyer complained that the proposal Party and its Parliamentary group.

This resolution condemned the partition of Ireland, abolish the use of white lead in painting because demanded the withdrawal of British troops, Irish is so harmful to the workers engaged in it mig control of the R.I.C.,; here is the crux of the mean the closing down of lead mines in Australia, Irish demand which the Labour Party is afraid Burma and Rhodesia. Trade comes before humani of: "The abandonment of Castle rule and its re- in capitalist eyes. He asked that the British repr placement by an All-Ireland Parliament with fuli

A RECKLESS RECTOR.

Even the wiliest of politicians is liable at times to depart from the realm of illusion into that of fact. It is hardly surprising, therefore, to find that Mr. Half the people are keeping the other Bonar Law, who is not exactly a Machiavelli, was half mainly because the other half are un- recently guilty of a serious breach of professional

The indiscretion referred to happened on the occasion of Bonar's installation as Lord Rector of the Glasgow University. Whether the sense of his new dignities, combined with the plaudits of the gilded youth of St. Andrews had temporarily turned his brain, it is impossible to say; but certain it is, Though the work of half the people is that the Right Hon, gentleman was moved to make the following remarkable confession:-

"Whatever may be in front of us, I have had, up to now, no serious disagreement with the Prime

"Not even when the latter gentleman was sowing his political wild oats by robbing hen-roosts and generally dragging British politics into the mire with his Limehouse oratory, nor yet when the ex-leader of the ernment in which the present Prime Minister was a

To tell the truth, we had always suspected that these crises in the nation's history were not quite as desperate as they were made out to be at the time; but scarcely hoped to have our suspicions confirmed in so unmistakable a fashion from so authoritative a

After his burst of candour, it only natural that the new Rector should proceed in the spirit of levity which we are accustomed to associate with ceremonials of this description. Here is a sample of his somewhat ponderous humour:-

"One of the disadvantages of public life in a democratic country, is the part which the limelight apparently [!] plays in securing success. That part is not so great as it seems. The political leader must understand the people, with whom power rests [winks from the undergrads] and he is tempted to play on their weaknesses, but this does not go as far as is often supposed.

"No man can secure the confidence of the House of Commons or of the country, unless he has gained a reputation for disinterestedness and sincerity. The only way such a reputation can be retained is by the actual possession of these

In other words, if a statesman remains in office for any length of time, it can only be because he is tried, trusted and true.

A very consoling doctrine for the heroes of the "New World," "Hang the Kaiser" and "Make Germany Pay" election; but what do the recipients of their disinterested sincerity think about it? FRANK TANNER.

IMPORTANT NOTICE.

Accounts must be paid monthly. Returns only accepted if sent in when account is due.

NEWS FROM SOVRUSSIA.

Fuel Supply. The collecting of stocks of fuel is proceed successfully in Russia, the Ukraine and the

"No Socialists Wanted."

The Japanese government has forbidden the parti cipation of any Sociálists in the Vladivostok

Convention of the Baltic States.

After two days' negotiations the foreign minist of the Baltic States have signed a political, economic and military convention. After two months the will be a new conference of the foreign ministers A conference of the ministers of commerce will in place next week.

The chemical laboratory of the Petrograd Acade of Sciences has obtained ten milligrams of radio from the first shipment of ores which they receiv It is hoped to obtain 500 milligrams in the comof the current year.

Tribute to Tolstoy.

Government decree instructs People's Educational Commissariat, acting through duly appointed cus. todian, to preserve Yasnaia Poliana as a national Tolstov Museum and educational centre, maintaini intact the entire estate with all buildings and reverently protecting the great thinker's grave. agricultural land adjoining the estate to be hand over to the Tolstoyan Communist Industrial gro governing it autonomously in accord with People's White Lead.

the International Labour Conference at Geneva sentatives should stand up for the use of possonous white lead against the world. At the Marmet B Carriage Works, Letchworth, ten persons are em ployed in the painting department: five cases of lead poisoning are officially reported amongst t this year. The firm decided to discontinue the use of lead paints in May.

RUSSIAN MOVEMENT BEFORE 1905. Continued from Page 3.

much akin to French Syndicalism. However, Communist-Anarchism for him soon became only program minimum," and he was about to withdr to a purely philosophical Anarchism, when he was arrested and condemned to eight years of hard labour. After escaping from Siberia, he came New York, determined to withdraw from politics f good, when the Russian Revolution of 1917 induced him to return again to his country. He is now frequent contributor to Russian Communist reviews. and it is most likely that the old-time rivalry the two Anarchist herejarchs, Grossman-Roschyn a Novoyirsky, has come to a close, now that they are both working for the Soviet Government.

The Maximalists."

The Social-Revolutionists also gave birth to current that already in 1905-1906 was advocated the Social Revolution. It was at first only a opposition within the party, the main controve being, if we are not mistaken, the question of agrarian terrorism (terrorism against the big la holders) and the armed attacks for expropi government money for party purposes. The office party, bent upon its respectability, was against the two forms of terrorism, and recognized only killing of obnoxious government officials. Fin that opposition founded a separate party calli itself "Socialists-Revolutionists-Maximalists," mean ing that their revolutionary activity was bent u immediate conquest of the maximum program, Socialism itself. One of their first theoretician was Engene Lozinsky, a writer of great learing ability, who later embraced the gospel of Machajski. This party stands out among all other terroris groups that ever existed in Russia, through the almost incredible daring with which they, in large groups, organized their terroristic attacks against the leading officials or the property of the Governme Most of them perished in the unequal struggle. was their name (Maximalists) that was attached ten years later, after the March Revolution of 1917, h the bourgeois press to the Bolsheviki.

Among the present champions of Social Revoluti in Russia it was strangely enough the then Menshevik Leon Trotsky who at that time, after the downfall of the Revolution of 1905, was the first to propagate the idea of the Social Revolution, not as something that was far distant, but as the task of the actual moment. This stand, of course, separated him fr his former associates; he formed among the Russian Social Democrats a class by himself. No wonder that he joined the Bolsheviki, who had always formed the left wing of the Russian Social Democracy, when during the war they took the stan that in the course of time made them the party the Social Revolution.

DREADNOUGHT DEVELOPMENT FUND

Mrs. Brimley 10s., Dr. Polorteer £1, Friend Robinson 4s., W. J. Braddock 14s. 6d.

THE GRIEF AND GLORY OF RUSSIA.

Kropotkin's funeral.

he Anarchist Movement in Russia.

about the Anarchist movement in Moscow. I saw was sufficient to convince me that noin Capitalism would the same thing be allowed On the big main street, Tverskaia, are to my knowledge two Clubs, one held by parchist-Individualists, and the other run by Anarchist-Communists, and I have seen both of acked with mixed audiences, with their speakers forth, and the hour has been past midnight. st mottoes and portraits in colour adorned the of William Morris. Meetings in these halls, Kloobs," were frequent, and outside the buildwere big sign-boards bearing the name and culars of the organisation responsible for running okshops, and at least three Anarchist publi- fermation. s, two weeklies, and one monthly were obtaine when I was in Moscow in May this year.

Anarchists in Prison.

much for Anarchist suppression by the Bolanti-Bolshevik yarn. My authority for this iction is an Anarchist whose lover was amongst mashing the Eagle.

low for the story "against" the Anarchists. er a visit to the Kremlin, I went in company a few others to see a very fine Museum which s near to the famous Christchurch. We were panied by a comrade who, to let him down romanced a little. He was a strong antiist. As we passed up the steps leading to the A Factory Meeting. remove all emblems of the old regime. They understanding or other, a certain amount of disagree- the illustration or the model, or both, is or are used.

in Moscow, in full sympathy with the Com- knowledge of Art, however, was nil. There had been The freedom of the whole affair was astonishing. Party. Alexandra Berkman and Emma no acts of violence, either by Anarchists, or ary nan are collecting, for the Museum of the Hist other groups of the workers; the Museum exhibits of the Revolution. They were both in Moscow were intact; the supposedly broken statues were reproductions of such world-famous examples of sculptuas the "Victory" of Samothrace, "Venus" of Milo, and other damaged or imperfect works of the old Lenin has said that there is always some explanation of the lies about Soviet Russia, and they are usually based upon half a truth or fact. These two stories serve to show how these varus begin.

Workers' Control of Industry.

Podulsk is a town 40 versts outside Moscow; the huge factories erected by Singer's Sewing Machine Company stand out conspicuously, and the name of In the Anarchist-Communist Hall I saw a "Singer's" likewise, for it had not been removed from the walls when I was there. It was here that I got my first lesson as to the depth of power of control that the workers exercise in industry.

Through the large offices we went; the photographs of Singer's factories in America, hanging on the walls, s to literature, Bakunin's works and the writings seemed incongruous; the office staff seemed over-Anarchists were prominently displayed in courteous and anxious to assist us in obtaining in-member of the Communist Party, named Bundin. could issue an allowance of only 10 lb. of He lacked all the fine grace usually associated with bread per month, whereas, previously, they were "nice" people. He was proletarian, vigorous, deci- getting 18 lb. Asked how the people managed to Now for two stories which help to explain sive and strong. Under his guardianship we went get over the inability of the Soviet to issue them a conflicts" begin. The first is "against" the through shop after shop in the great locomotive full ration, it was explained that the workers had When Kropotkin was buried, works. The usual charts depicting factory system gardens from which they got plenty of vegetable food. rchists" who were in prison for some offence and management were explained, showing the method and they were able to obtain a good supply of fish the Soviet, were given permission to leave adopted regarding the process of shop connection and from the Vollickaye River, a tributary of the Volga, and attend the funeral of their leader if they lines allowing the parts as completed to traverse con- which ran nearby. red; the varn was then spun that when those secutively from one shop to another. Screw-making vailed themselves of the privilege returned to lathes and every type of milling and planing machine rison gates, they were refused admission, on were in action; pneumatic rivetting and tube-insertround that they had not got a "probusk" ing were deafening. Hospital cars were in course of to allow them to enter. As a matter of fact, construction, by which epidemics were to be coped were entitled to stay out of prison until . e with and the shortage of doctors overcome. A car morning at 11 o'clock, which they did, and was occupied by youths who were being taught arned without any such hitch as is described mathematics and drawing in intervals during their working time in the factory. The visit to the technical section and offices was instructive, not only for the samples of work to be seen, but also for the enthusiasm shown, as depicted in the chart of increased production, detailing the steady rise of output, in spite of the hardships that the workers in the Sisters showing not the slightest trace of fear Podulsk have had to contend with in the past. Dinner was served in a hall, much after the method of old. adopted at Bournville, in this country. The food was extremely good and tasty.

TTYSKLAND!

SLOVAKIEN!

um, he pointed to the large bronze Eagles lying During the visit I had an opportunity of attending kinds for instruction. The method underlying the ed in the snow. "See those," he said; "that at a factory meeting. A Chairman was chosen from educational system in Soviet Russia is practical, and kind of thing the Anarchists did: they smashed their own circle, called upon the "works manager," whatever can be taught better by illustration or model g they could." Now, as a matter of fact. Bundin, to give an explanation of certain matters than by oral instruction, or where oral instruction the avowed policy of the proletariat in Russia regarding factory management. Through some mis- can be improved by the use of illustration or model,

DELEGATES AT THE COMMINTERN

As seen by the Artist of the "FOLKETS DAGBLAD POLITIKEN" of Stockholm.

By HENRY SARA

everal capitalist newspapers have from time have not done it thoroughly, but the Russian Eagle is ment was shown, and when matters reached a climax, me given considerable sympathy—and space— not quite so conspicuous as it once was; so these Bundin said that he would vacate his position. He tales of Bolshevik tyranny towards the two bronze ones lying in the snow did not register did so by getting right away from the circle, and list movement in Moscow. A forged statement the downfall of Art at the hands of the destructive returned only when repeated and unanimous calls circulation, bearing signatures of prominent Anarchists quite in the way that the guide seemed were made for his return. To me it was a good sign. hists like Emma Goldman, Alexander Berk- to imagine. When we got inside, further images The workers were exercising their power to have and Shapiro, which finds full space for repro- and objects were pointed out to us as examples of whomsoever they wished to act in their interest. sometimes even in facsimile, in papers having, Anarchist wilfulness and destruction among the Art These factory "hands" were thrashing out problems rule, strong anti-Anarchist views. Shapiro is treasures of the Moscow Museum. Our guide's for themselves, not allowing others to think for them.

> A hooter went, telling of the closing down of the power plant. We surged out of the gates, above which was painted a figure of "The Worker," standing towards the rising sun. And above all, in the falling snow, the Red Flag swayed steadily in the breeze.

A Market.

On February 19th I left Moscow in order to make a journey to the South, and did not return to the Capital until Wednesday, April 6th. 1 propose to tell something of the general conditions, as briefly

The first stop we made was at Sysran about 500 miles from Moscow. It has a mixed population of about 6,000. A very large market was in full swing. The prices sound enormous to our English conception. For instance: sugar was 9,000 roubles per lb.; a loaf, 4,000 roubles; potatoes, 13,000 roubles per pood (36 lbs.); a small brass mug, tinned inside, 1,500 roubles. But there had been great scarcity in these parts. Much sabotage had been going on, and was still going on. The folks were simple, and an easy prey to the unscrupulous. Some idea of the hardship through which they were passing can be At last we were introduced to the manager, a understood by the fact that the local authorities

Proud of their Wheat Contribution.

In 1919, the Soviet demand for wheat from this part was 2,000,000 poods: towards this amount they managed to contribute 1,600,000 poods. In 1920, the Soviet demand was for 1,800,000, of which the people of Sysran contributed 1,200,000 poods. The little delegation of labourers, with one Communist, spoke rather proudly of their achievement; it was obvious that their's had been, and was, a bitter

At this place we were able to see a Nunnery, with at our visit, and apparently conducting their lives as

We went over the school depot, a place packed with charts, diagrams, models, and exhibits of all from left to right, top row-M. Relent (French Syndicalist), Herran (Communist Party, England), General Cushmin (Archangel), Abiloff (Soviet Republic of Azerbajan) A Woman Delegate from Azerbajan, Bill Haywood (I.W.W. of U.S.A.). Second Row-Rosmer (French Delegate and Member of the E.C. of the Commintern), Burian (Czecho-Slovakia), Reichenbach (Communist Labour Party of Germany), Kreibich (German Part of Czecho-Slovakia), Eugen Claussen (Norway) Colbjornsen (Norway), Steinhart (Austria-Hungary).

KREIBICH H

SLOVAKIEN!

TYSKA TIBOR

The garbled press reports conveyed little of the danger to the British public, in whose heart the old spirit of conquest and vengeance was aroused with visions of "collecting an indemnity" by an advance of Anglo-French military forces into Ger-

The complicated nature of such a step, and the was kept from the public ear; France determined in order to stiffen her resistance to France. Neverto collect a substantial indemnity payment in coal theless, the passage of indemnity goods to these independent of Britain, and its adverse effect upon shores represents a fall in the quantity of normal our export coal trade was held from publicity. The Anglo-German trade. What a mess, what a demonplot against Anglo-French peace was unknown. Yet stration of Capitalist failure amid the straining at the fact remains that war was in the air, and a miracle has prevented its outbreak.

The Coal Dispute here.

The press has informed the people that high wages in the coal industry have rendered our export coal prices prohibitive. How silent are the miners' leaders! Yet how simple is the answer open to many. According to the indemnity terms, payment in kind is exceptable, and Germany has proceeded to carry out the terms by flooding Europe with indemnity coal. As a result there is a slump in our export coal

French Imperialist aims. The debt of France to America is so vast that the Briand Government must look favourably on plans of recuperation and the development of French the financial advantage of French capitalists. The gain of considerable iron resources in Alsace-Loraine, augmented by iron ore from the Ruhr, combined by unlimited coal seized by force of arms,

During the months of April and May this year economic fortune, the slump in logical consequence the shadow of war hung over Europe again. Whether of our own, follows in sharp consistency an old man's such a danger has been removed it is difficult to peace, and carries with it the final demonstration of

That matters are so we see no reason to complain. The science of Socialism teaches us the cause; we are content to leave the wiseacres of Britain and France respectively to dig the grave of Capitalism.

The Effect of Indemnity in Britain. While France continues in wild abandonment to threaten the peace of Europe by mad Imperialism (to save herself); Britain, in view of public opinion, may is now a pupil of Mr. Keynes, who wrote "Th secret quarrel about the possession of German coal, be forced to offer to reduce the German indemnity Economic Consequences of the Peace." the leash of the dogs of war!

> After due reflection upon the bankruptcy of our foreign policy, it was refreshing to read the frank admissions of Winston Churchill in a speech to the Manchester Chamber of Commerce on Wednesday, June 3rd. Whether he was singing a swan song to the Liberal traditions of Lancashire I have since wondered; but, in any case, he delivered a "Dempsey thrust" at the present Government policy.

He said that Germany had paid nearly 350 millions in indemnity or reparations, including gold, shipping, and commodities. "The indemnity which Germany has bound herself to pay during the next 40 or 50 years must in the main be paid in manufactured goods, for Germany does not produce raw materials Europe!

But, in so far as goods from Germany come here, he added, not as a result of natural trade (which with foreign trade, can consume indemnity coal to of course means exchange of goods between two diplomats long and strive to resist the rising of the countries), but in the mere payment of a debt, tide. undoubtedly they would exercise a depressing in- Out of it all stands the unassailable fact that fluence over domestic industry, and hamper in a Europe is heading fast towards war, or, if Inter-serious manner our export trade. would aid in restoring France. Here lies the danger America, he asserted, is passing through a financial task, towards the march of millions in revolutionary of hostility between Britain and France. The fancied crisis due to the interference of normal European array, and in one mass surging forward to thwart "make Germany pay" nonsense brought with it the exchanges of goods with America, by the indemnity the plot against the peace of Europe. As William rattle of the artillery and the bark of the machine terms, which load her home markets with German Morris wrote: "And who are these with eyes aflame guns between former Allies. The boast of French goods, and make continuance of exports impossible. and hands to deal and do?

Germany, a vanquished country, he said, presents a spectacle of feverish industrial activity; her work. ing class are busy paying off the indemnity in goods to the detriment of Allied commerce. Then comes the astoundingly candid admission: "If Germany during the next 50 years should continue to pay pr in goods, she would, by that process, become master of every market in the world! She would be, in fact, the sole exporting nation."

Churchill has brains and can see the death of Britain's economic prestige in the blundering demnity clauses of Versailles. Indeed, Mr. Church

Reforring to peace, he threw cold water on the League of Nations. "It is no good trusting to a paper League of Nations," he declared. Fancy such candour from such a source! One can see Lord Robert Cecil blush, and almost anticipate an Admiral Sims' fate for "Winnie."

The world must be made secure by a lasting fraternity between Britain, France and Germany, we have been told, and the wind blows an echo from Fleet Street: "Never again!"

pullers are making love to German ears in order to stiffen German bayonettes against Foch in the Ruhr! not the monopoly of the privileged few. France wants the Ruhr coal, must have it, in fact, Ille and Sex. in order to smelt iron!

Britain wants to stop the Ruhr coal going to start present constituted, is its misconception and France, must stop it, in fact, to keep a lead in subuse of the sexual instinct. This, the source of all

Hence Churchill's swan song, and his platitudes to "reduce the indemnity sentiments." Beneath it all seeths the pit of war, while national Labour has the mind and courage for the

"I am glad to see you-I just came to inquire if By M.I.C.P. you think the Revolution will break out soon," said Mrs. Fitzgerald, at a loss for something to say. "I think the Revolution will come when the people

> Once safely in Fleet Street she called the first taxi, and was whisked off to Earl's Court, again to venture on the trail of the "Reds."

WHAT'S SHE, THE GRANNY WITH DEMENTED LOOKS?

> What's she the old soul with wild, whispis And black eyes burning in a pallid face,

Her fingers sticking out like waxen spikes Under the long sleeves that engulf her hands? Goes she not tamed among the ordered file, But hither, thither, runneth o'er the grass, Gathers green leaves and tells a chattering tale, Her garments flapping in the frisky wind, Her stockings and her garters round her feet. Now stern the officer to order calls:

To send this old demented granny here.

CONGRATULATIONS.

To Errico Malatesta and Amando Borghi, released in Milan on July 31st. To John McLean, released in Glasgow in August

To Comrades Cook, Dollings and Wells, the Wales Rebels, who are always fighting, on their present. We hope they will suffer as little 38 possible from their ordeal.

BADGES.

SOVIET ARMS, in gilt on red enamel, 1s. 3d. and 9d. each, 12s. and 6s. per dozen.-Apply Manager, "Workers' Dreadnought," 152, Fleet Street, E.C. 4.

THE DEBASEMENT OF LOVE. By D. E. MULLINS. parental vice, makes indignant reply to the pastor who has been shocked at hearing of the kind of life

It renders his appeal less effective; since only a broad outlook which can attract men of August 6, 1921.

a far cry from Socialism to psycho-analysiseach is devoted to the same great task: the ragement of theatres and Art schools. We desire msic, art, and literature are a part of his heritage,

One of our strongest grounds for hating Society, graded to the level of a commercial transaction d robbed of all its joy and beauty. Here, then, is Purity v. Legalism. field for revolution—for the assertion of the rights personality against the cash nexus.

our endeavours to overthrow an economic system immorality. The intellectual inertia which forms so s a standing violation of the principles of powerful an obstacle in the path of progressive thought erhood and mutual service, it is essential for and social reform, is a factor to be reckoned with in remember that it is not on economic grounds alone the moral sphere. It is much easier to accept without we are fighting for revolution. The social revo- question the code upon which Society has set its mary must guard against restriction of interests seal of approbation, than to investigate the bases of activities, if the New Order for which he is that code and to judge them by rational analysis. I ig is to be worthy of his sufferings and sacri- is self-evident that true morality must rest upon a The more he learns of the complex nature of more secure foundation than that of popular opinion, in relationships and of the influences which affect which is more easily influenced by custom, herdthe more will be realise the futility of such a instinct, and catch-words, than by calm reasoning.

Why Love is Misunderstood.

types and sympathies. It may seem, for ex- Popular ideas with regard to the sexual relation ship are peculiarly subject to the influence of the "conventional" outlook. The requirements of erance of humanity from tyranny and repression. traditional usage are considered all-important, while The Path to Reform. the present critical juncture we are obliged to psychology and physiology are almost entirely dispasise the economic aspect—we cannot as yet regarded. We therefore discover very clear and unof to slum-dwellers by lectures on psychology mistakable manifestations of the conflicts and Greek art. Yet that is our ultimate objective, repressions familiar to students of psycho-analysis; Our Russian comrades have shown their realisation of tendencies which lead to mental instability rather is fact by their zeal in education and their en- than to radiant physical health. Not only is this a menace to national welfare—it constitutes a danger The indemnity clauses must be reconstituted: The primary instincts of the milder terms," etc. Ah, the humbug! British wire levote himself to the common weal; the treasures of human race are those of self-preservation and sex, and it is therefore evident that society can be stable only in so far as it provides suitable means of expression for them. It is an unfortunate fact that sex has been so much misunderstood, through an entirely false and unnatural prudery, that popular education on the subject becomes a difficult matter. Obscurantism bears its natural fruit of unreality, and but is best in life, the inspiration of the poet's the dictates of "respectability" are accepted as ectest lays and the musician's divinest melodies, inviolable laws (unless they can be broken in secret!).

A man may be both impure and licentious in his private life, provided that his loveless liaison be dressed to :sanctioned by Church or State. Purity is con-An undue respect for convention results in a warped cerned less with morals than legality. There is a prejudiced view of ideas which, given but super- striking scene in Henrik Ibsen's famous play, consideration, seem calculated to encourage "Ghosts," where Oswald Alving, cruel victim of and should be clearly marked "Editor."

lived by the artists of Paris. He has learnt that legal bonds alone do not make for love, happiness, or purity—that "irregular unions," where there is mutual respect, are incomparably more beautiful.

The Fear of Freedom.

It is easy to understand the opposition of religious teachers and others to such ideas—they fear that liberty may lead licence, and are dubious of placing too much faith in human nature. We would admit the possibilities of danger in that direction, but we would point out that prostitution and vice are rampant now; and also that progress in freedom, whether in the political, industrial, or any other sphere, must of necessity involve the taking of risks. We are reminded of the saving of Archbishop Magee: " I would rather see England free than England sober."

In order to attain the fullness of our social aspirations, we need a higher standard of education and communal responsibility than obtains at present. .. e repudiate the idea that ideals may be depreciated, simply because they are "Utopian." It is our pitiful lack of ideals which stands in the way of progress. We therefore fail to realise the wonderful possibilities enshrined in the conception of the "Social Revolution." As for the mere legalist, he fails entirely to see that a community inspired by the spirit of comradeship and sacrifice can dispense with many laws rendered necessary by conditions of greed, force.

COMMUNICATIONS TO THE EDITOR.

All letters and MS, for the Editor should be ad-

THE WORKERS' DREADNOUGHT. 152, FLEET STREET, E.C.4.

ON THE TRAIL OF THE REDS!

Dedicated to the Readers of the "Morning Post."

and the "British Bolsheviks."

failed to discover, namely, the "British Bolsheviks" tongue, and they were admitted. manufacturing revolution.

for a fourpenny ticket, for which she tendered a ten appeared, and after some delay she was admitted. pound note. The clerk judging her only by her Inside was a dark entrance hall and more Chinamen attire, was suspikious of the note, and demanded with daggers, and other mysterious looking men, something smaller. This made Mrs. Fitzgerald very making mysterious signs to one another. But at angry, but bravely bearing this insult from one of the sight of her the men, suddenly becoming susthe lower orders she searched her pockets for the picious, put on top hats to disguise themselves. To pick a crust from some cell window cast, necessary pence, and snatching her ticket hurried Then she imagined herself getting round the China- And childish, fancying pigeons to entice, on for her train. She was careful to get into a men, and the mystery men, and walking straight Chases their buoyant flight with tottering tread. smoking carriage, as she thought it more probable through to the room where Comrade Pankhurst was she might overhear some conversation which would sitting, and then she became confused and dropped give her the "clue" she was seeking. She entered her note-book, which was picked up by a Persian The well-fed Magistrate hath felt no shame the carriage, and looking round stealthily, spied a guard, who read it, and uttered some words in an couple of working men in shabby attire siting unknown language, then all the company rushed at together at the far end, and conversing in fairly her in a threatening manner, as if they would kill loud tones. She heroically dashed down the carriage her. She was saved at last by a misled Britisher took the vacant seat opposite them-and listened who happened to be there, and escaping, she hurried to their conversation.

"Old Fitzgerald's got the wind up, eh?" said one of the men, "'spect he's got too much to lose, that's But when an hour later she found herself at "Not half!" answered his companion, who was studying a newspaper. "Look here, he says in this paper that the blooming capitalists give us what we earn, I'd like to know who earns £150,000 a year. As Comrade Pankhurst says in the 'Dreadnought,' 'we're robbed '."

"We could see Comrade Pankhurst to-day, she will in plain attire, studying the "Sunday Truth." be at the 'Dreadnought' Office. I should like to "Can I see Miss-er-Comrade Pankhurst?" inask her a few questions about getting to Russia."

Mrs. Ellen Fitzgerald was a woman of about stopped, got out, and changed her carriage, and desire it," replied Miss Pankhurst, gently. "Perhaps fifty years of age, but looked much younger. Being when she was comfortably scated took out her note- you would like to buy some literature on the subject, the wife of a millionaire financier she could afford book and wrote: "Pankhurst, Dreadnought' Offices." here is Upton Sinclair's 'The Spy,' here is a Rolls-Royce or some such means of transport; she. "Ha," she murmured, "I'll find this Bolshevik. But Mrs. Fitzgerald did not wait for any more, could dress magnificantly and look attractive, if she I'll expose her luxurious living, I wonder if she will she was out of the office and down the stairs in had so chosen. But Mrs. Fitzgerald's happiness had be wearing the Bolshevik jewels; oh, the Anti-Christ, twinkling. of late been disturbed by the alarming allegations the blood-thirsty Bolshevik, I should like to kill of her trusted friend, the Editor of . The Morning her! I can't see why Bernard doesn't find her. Truth." That gentleman, Gregory by name, had If he had only half my brains! isn't it easy!" and made a special point of referring to "Bolshevik with a disdainful look at the solitary man at the Gold," "Bolshevik Diamonds," "Bloody Revolution," other end of the carriage she leant her head down

Mrs. Fitzgerald was alarmed; in fact, she imagined At Trafalgar Square Station she got off the train the revolution being manufactured; and the horrible and inquired for Fleet Street, and while waiting for article, by now nearly completed. She was remotely the 'bus she let her imagination run loose. She related to Sir Bernard Sleuth, the head of the imagined a dark passage, a dark heavy-looking door Secret Service; therefore she had it in her blood- with a sliding panel halfway up it, she waited a and she could not help it. Accordingly, one Sunday while and watched. Presently two men approached afternoon she disguised herself in the attire of a and knocked on the door, after a few minutes the respectable working-class woman, and journeyed forth panel flew open, and a Chinaman put his head out; to try and find out what her great relation had one of the men gave the pass-word in an unknown

In imagination Mrs. Fitzgerald saw herself ap-She proceeded to Earl's Court Station, and asked proach the door and knock. The Chinaman again off, in imagination, to Sir Bernard Sleuth, and thus. saved the country-in imagination.

152. Fleet Street, and climbed some dark stairs- 2nd. no Chinamen were to be seen, no mystery men. But still Mrs. Fitzgerald hoped. But lo! she is at the fourth floor! There three doors confront her. A note on one of them says: " Workers' Dreadnought." Come in "-she crept in.

There was only an ordinary office. Books and "Oh, by the way, Harry," said the first speaker. pamphlets, here and there. A lady sitting alone quired Mrs. Fitzgerald in faltering tones.

Mrs. Fitzgerald could hardly contain herself with "I am Miss Pankhurst. What can I do for you," excitement on hearing this, and as soon as the train replied the lady.

CORRESPONDENCE.

THE ETHICS OF INVESTMENTS.

r Editor,-I was very much interested in your cussion on the above subject. May I be allowed understand your acceptance of Lenin's Methods acquainted with them from a reliable source, and ot take for granted the garbled version of the

'If a man robbed and killed your friends in the ocess of educating his son, his action would have an excuse, though no justification;" but the Capitalist to blame for his loss than his own British pseudo- and is likely to be so for some time. covernment, whose action absolves Lenin from any

When the Russian Czarist Army crumbled away, the Russian people, in the throes of the debacle, called Lenin to the rescue. Lenin was quite averse the re-establishment of a National Army, and eaded for peace, but the allied bandits (the British g the dominant factor) compelled Russia to reconstruct an Army in self-defence, and in direct position to, and violation of the principles* of enin and his group. The cost of reconstruction and maintenance of the Army, and the unnecessary continuance of war, completely dissipate any claim that the capitalists might otherwise have had. Had have been no Russian Army to-day!

When the Lenin government proposed to negotiate for peace, which of course includes repayment of pital t by instalments or otherwise. Dr. Sadler's pitalistic dictator, the British Plutocrats, arrorepudiated Lenin's authority and refused to egotiate, and thereby enforced Russia to re-mobilise. which would consume their capital and render it apossible for Lenin either to repay or negotiate or any repayment.

Further, Lenin's group never received either the apital or the Railways it was supposed to have The Czar's group had these, and the Czar's capitalist's war destroyed both Capital and ways along with the Russian Army long before ne accession of Lenin! There is no case against Lenin. I have invested some savings in local enterand Industries, and received neither interest repayment of capital, of which I hold the hless scrip, so much waste paper, I might just easily accuse Lenin of robbing me of this.

illy brings grist to the capitalists' mill.

against Asquith, Lloyd George and the Coalition, life, and no longer exist as a mere intellectual with their allied confederates. Lenin is not guilty!

Yours truly,

97, Aireville Road, Frizinghall, Bradford.

I* It would be more accurate to sav against their desires. The Bolsheviki foresaw that capitalism would fight to maintain itself, and knew that Communism must be prepared to resist capitalism's armed attack. -Editor, "Workers' Dreadnought."]

It Repayment of capital by a Communist country could only be forced as an unfortunate necessity; at could never be done willingly as a matter of principle.—EDITOR, "Workers' Dreadnought."] vernments kill and rob your friends without the Dear Editor,-I quite agree with Comrades Staple dow of an excuse, from sheer greed, rapacity and Goldberg that the Religious Dope is a very nd covetousness. And the Doctor has no one else real menace to the Modern Communist Movement,

> But I think that a very little more thought upon the matter will enable Comrades Staple and Goldberg to see that the way to meet the evil is not by setting up against the old religious dogmas the new ones of Marx: "Materialist conception of History Class Struggle: Theory of Surplus Value."

> This way met the remedy would soon prove a greater evil than the disease. The evil must be met in quite another way, namely, by producing by the modern facts of exploitation an atmosphere which will cause the old dogmas to wither away, and will cause the Comrades who hold them to drop them, or go out from us.

If we are not content to rely on this, but must the allies been conciliatory or tractable, there would bring in force and a fresh set of Dogmas, then I think we may well question the strength of our own case. I remember well the time when the Sky Pilots entered the S.D.F. and I.L.P., destroyed its little revolutionary energy and reduced it to a state of fog, in which no man knew where he was.

But what was the cause? The vile wretches or our Class out for Graft, and to feed personal ambition, wanted to get on the Town Councils and in the Capitalist Parliamen, and to get votes they told us that we must not hit too hard the Dopers. But this cannot occur again, because the Movement is rapidly becoming Anti-Parliamentarian.

We are approaching the stage when we are more likely to be divided by Modern Dogmas than by Ancient ones. The Marxian Dogmas have, to put it at the mildest, been proved insufficient where they Minister of Justice. duse it imcreases the robbers' capital, and inci- become faithful to such doctrines as the Class War throughout human life. and the Dictatorship of the Proletariat when they Doctor, your claim for breach of trust lies have entered into and have become a part of our formula of Marx or Lenin. The real vital experience of the Members must be the driving force of the Communist Movement, not the thoughts hardened into Dogmas of a few great men, past and present. As Michael Bakounine says: "Let us put our trust in the Eternal Spirit that destroys; it is the unfath hable and eternally creative source of all life. The passion of destruction is a creative passion." JOHN TAMLYN.

15, New Street, Plymouth. [This correspondence must now close.—ED., W.D.]

Clara Cole (Camberwell) writes: "John Brown's article in the week before last is specially fine."

PRISON LIFE.

DEAR EDITOR-I had no intention of entering into a "debate" with you, but perhaps you will allow me a few words

1. First, I am not Hon. Secretary of the Howard League for Penal Reform. That post is in the more competent hands of Miss Margery Fry, to whom I handed over the Hon. Secretaryship of the Penal Reform League more than two years ago.

2.—Your idea of the Probation Officer is perhaps taken from bad examples, of which their are plenty, or from a misconception. Many ex-probationers will give a very different account of the Probation Officer; for they have found him or her a good friend in need. The probation method may be only a makeshift to mitigate an evil system, but it introduces a new principle and a good onenamely, friendship in place of repression and retaliation. The fact of the Probation Officer being a Court official does not entirely spoil the friendship. if he is the right sort.

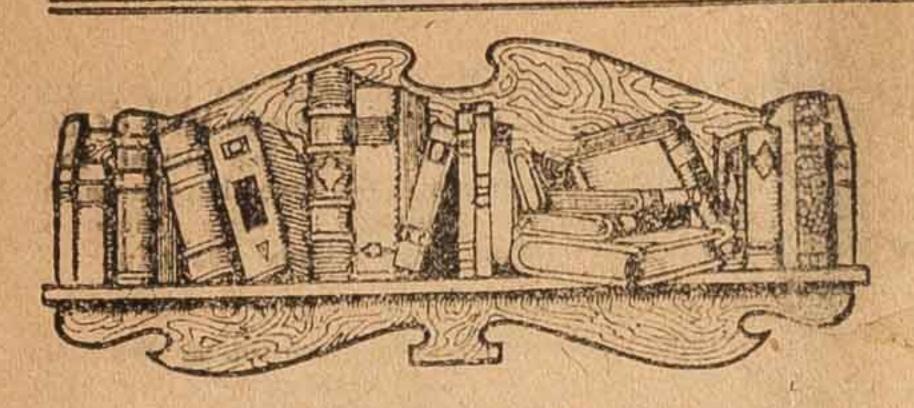

3.—Hospital colonies for inebriates, etc., such as I have advocated, are possible under Capitalism, as you would, I think, agree if you had seen the Norfolk State Hospital in Massachusetts.

4. - I have never forgotten that people will not want the fact that they have been punished to be known; but you will perhaps agree that they will not be ashamed of a training college in which they have found fellowship, useful knowledge, and happy life. My whole aim has been to get away

5.—I do not think I said anything about militia in that rather hasty memorandum I wrote at the request of a friend of Kerensky, when he was have come up against facts. The Manhood Suffrage For the rest, I so much agree with you, especially and Political State Socialist Movements did not at over the children, that I am not inclined to quarrei all come out as Marx and Engels expected. The with you or your programme. Certainly I am not whole vile pack of State Socialists ratted when very proud of the production which you have specially the day of trial came. Therefore do away with all the selected for criticism. My own aim, in directing the Dogmas, say I, Religious. Political and Social, and policy of the Penal Reform League was, in the main. he Doctor says "Capitalism is a great evil!" let us keep our eyes on the living facts ever chang- not so much to formulate measures or programmes as ut tries to beguile himself that good comes out of ing about us, and let us be guided by this living to work out the principles and generate the spirit which is against his own creed and principles. experience, and allow no man to erect his experience and understanding which would make a real revoluargue thus would be to say that Plunder is good into a Dogma and standard for ours. We can only tion possible, not only in this department, but

ARTHUR ST. JOHN

OUR BOOKSHELF.

THE CIVIL WAR IN FRANCE.

(By Karl Marx. With an historical Introduction by R. W. Postgate. Labour Classic No. 1. The Labour Publishing Co., 6, Tavistock Square, W.C. 48 pp. 3s. 6d. net.)

As a note forewarms us, this volume partly consists of matter reprinted from "Revolution 1789—1906," by the same author, with the addition of two manifestoes issued by the E.C. of the First Intertional in 1870, at their offices in 256, Holborn (W.C., as in up-to-date fashion the Author adds). Comrade Postgate is a painstaking student who is fortunate with his connection with printers. The Pelican Press Booklets are always good.

Although the slavery of the wages system remains, many things political have changed since Marx wrote, and consequently reprints of his pamphlets or newspaper articles without explanatory notes are likely to be somewhat dry reading, and may also fail to be of immediate educative utility, however much they may satisfy the historical student.

These useful reprints will assist greatly in awakening the attention of workers to the high importance to be attached to anything Marx wrote, and we hope the day is not distant when an English. Comrade, uniting with Postgate's diligence, ability of author and critic, will provide the movement with a critical study of Marx's writings, showing clearly his attitude, not only towards the economic facts, but also towards more rapidly changing political happenings.

PUBLICATIONS RECEIVED.

History of Trade Councils. 1860-1875. By Cicely Richards. Labour Research Department, 31, Eccleston Square, S.W. 1. 1s.

Labour Monthly. A magazine of International Labour. No. 1, July, 1921. Labour Publishing Company, Limited. 1s.

The Social Expression of the Spiritual Life. By Gilbert T. Sadler, M.A., LLB. C. W. Dansel, Ltd. 3s. 6d. net.

J. H. THOMAS, MONARCHIST.

J. H. Thomas, in the House of Commons on July 29th, said:—

"The position that Ilis Majesty occupies in this country to-day, is a position second to none occupied by any King in any part of the world. . . .

"If the party with which I am associated came into power to-morrow we all believe that His Majesty would accept our advice as he readily accepts the advice of the present Government. (Loud cheers.)

"It is the duty of all in the House to associate themselves with the dignified protest that he makes . . . not only in the interests of himself, but in the interests of constitutional government in this country."

We, of course, desire a Soviet Republic. We were under the impression that all Socialists must of necessity be republicans. It is said by some people that the Labour Party has become Socialist now.

BY RIGHT AND REASON—Continued from Page 2.

with fresh meat to one's liking gratis every day, is better than keeping a whole carcas on ice in one's private larder, the need to prevent people from seizing land or other forms of wealth for private hoarding will cease.

When there are not masses of hungry people watching the well-fed and well-to-do enjoying a life of plenty, robbery, burglary and such results of the existence of rich and poor will cease. When the world of the enterprising merchant, who is the citizen of a mighty Empire, and whose God is £ s. d., on the one hand; and of the weaker peoples dwelling in rich lands they cannot defend, on the other, has been replaced by a federation of Communist Republics' Armies and Navies will be memories of the past.

To-day force wars with force, and those who stand aside and refuse to take a hand in the overthrow of the exploiting system are consenting parties to the continuance of the rule of force.

E. SYLVIA PANKHURST.

THEY ARE TRYING TO STARVE YOU!

TO THE UNEMPLOYED.

The Government has cut down the unemployment dole.

You go to the guardians for relief.

The guardians are not very generous, but they you something.

The guardians give only a little to each unemployed applicant. Some they refuse altogether, but all the little doles amount to a vast sum. Up go the rates! The ratepayers are crying out!

Up go the rents, too. That hits you, the unemployed, as well as the rest.

At last the rates get so high that the Borough Councillors dare not levy them.

That has happened first in Poplar: it will happen in other Boroughs next.

So the Council gets into debt.

The King "George the Fifth by the Grace of God, of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland, and of the British Dominions beyond the Seas, King Defender of the Faith," sends greetings to Poplar Borough Council by order of Lloyd George's Government, the Government that cut down the unemployment dole. The King sends with his greetings two writs: one because the Poplar Borough Council has not paid the money it owes to the London County, Council, and the other because it has not paid what it owes to the Metropolitan Asylums Board, the latter sum being £7,036.

If the Poplar Councillors go to prison or cave in, then relief by the guardians to the unemployed is going to stop. It will be a case of "no relief to the able-bodied poor."

What will happen to you then? Some of you will calist. Some of you will

The rest will starve or ——.

Change the system. That is the only way to put an end to unemployment.

There is no unemployment in Soviet Russia.

THE WORKERS' DREADNOUGHT BOOK SERVICE.

(Entrance first door on left in Bolt Court from Fleet Street.)

Open Daily till 5 p.m. Saturdays 6 p.m. Sundays 11 a.m. to 1 p.m.

By arrangements now completed, we are in a position to supply promptly to comrades who will favour us with their orders, any book they desire, either from English, American, Continental publishers.

By buying books from us, Comrades will get a prompt and reliable service; will be assured of our personal attention to their orders, and will have the pleasant feeling that, if only in a small degree, they have assisted propaganda.

By buying their books from us, the middle-man's profit is abolished, because it will be devoted purely to assist the propaganda.

If you are in London, you may probably conveniently call at our office, consult publishers' catalogues and place your orders there and then.

If you are outside London, you must add to your order, on the average, one penny for every shilling, to cover postage.

In cases when you are not sure of the name of the publisher and the cost of the book, send us all the particulars you have and a deposit. We will do the rest and promptly communicate with you.

In some cases, certain classes of books are available in London, second-hand, in good condition, and at a low price. If we know what you want, we shall endeavour to find the book for you, provided always a deposit is sent.

In the case of foreign books, postage is charged to the buyer, from London only, and the price fixed at the current rate of exchange.

WE HAVE IN STOCK Books on History and Economics. Novels, Poetry, etc., with a Communist Tendency. A large Stock of Russian Literature. Communist Books, Literature and Periodicals in

German, French, Russian, Norwegian, Dutch, etc.

OUR STOCK INCLUDES:-

	Works by Anatole France (Translated into English)	2/-
	The Crime of Sylvestre Bounard	2/-
	The Red Lily	2/-
	Penquin Island	2/-
	Thais	2/-
	Monsuier Bergeret in Paris	7/6
	Clio and the Chateau de Vaux-le-Vicomte	7/6
	On Life and Letters (3rd Series)	7/6
	,, (4th Series)	7/6
	Le Comte Morin Deputé (Illustrated by
	Henri Basthelemy)	7/6
	Marguérite (Illustrated by Siméon)	7/6
	Taktik und Organisation der Revolution-	61
1	ären Offensive die Lehren der Märzaktion	2/-

Civil War in France (Karl Marx)	3/-
A.B.C. of Communism (Bukharin)	2/9
Communism (Eden and Cedar Paul)	6d.
A History of Trades Councils, 1860-1875	William.
(Cicely Richards)	1/-
Prison Impressions (Clara Gilbert Cole)	64
The Iron Heel (Jack London)	2/-
With the Turk in War Time (Marmaduke
Pickthall)	5/-
The Spy (Upton Sinclair)	3/6
A Communion of Sinners (Evelyn Sharp)	1/6
Red Europe (Frank Anstey)	3/3
Economic Consequences of the Peace
THE RESIDENCE OF THE PARTY OF T	2/-
Abolition of Money (Seijiro Kawashima,
Editor of "Dai Nippon")	1/6
	The second second

SUMMER CLEARA  During JULY and AUGUST  Reduced Rates are offered to  over a hundred copies of the fo	NCE ONLY, to cust	SAI the f	ollowing taking
Name or Title	Price	Price	Price
	Each.	Doz.	per 100
Red Russia (Reed)	60	4/-	10
Ireland (Gorter)	1d.	9d.
Ireland (Gorter)	3d.	2/6	8
The Communist Party (Zinoviev)	2d.	1/6	S.
The Hungarian Revolution	i		Market 1
(Schmidt)	9d.	8/9	21/
Bourgeois Democracy (Lenin)	THE RESERVED OF THE PARTY OF TH	1/6	8/
The Truth About Russia
(Ransome)		3/-	12/
Pacts About Communist Hun-	1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1
gary (Alice Riggs Hunt)		3/-	10/
To British Workers (with may explaining Soviets' working
	ld.	2d.	100 A
An Appeal to the Young
(Stewart)		1/6	200
	AND REAL PROPERTY AND ADDRESS OF THE PARTY O	1/6
Communist Song Book	PU.	3/-	The State of

ADVERTISEMENTS. OUR RATES.

"Workers' Dreadnought," 152, Flast Street, E.C.4.

PUBLISHERS' ANNOUNCEMENTS.

"MOSCOW."

Daily Organ of the III. (Congress of the "Commutern" (Communist International).

3d. each.

An interesting and valuable record.

From the "Workers' DreadNought" Office.

THE YOUNG COMRADE.

A Children's Monthly.

Published by the Young Communist International.

Price - 3d.

From the "Workers' Dreadnought" Office.

DENTISTRY.

For Satisfactory Teeth see

F. ALDRIDGE, Communist, 44 Waterloo Road, S.E.1.

10 per cent, Discount for Comrades.

TYPEWRITERS AND DUPLICATORS.

Rem. 7, £5 5s. Barlock, £6 6s. Yost 11, £5 5s. Rem. 8, £7. Monarch, £9 9s. Yost 20, £9 9s. Rem. 10, £9 9s. L. C. Smith, £9 9s. Oliver, £6 6s. Gest. Rotary, £7. Roneo, £10. Flats, £2.

PAYMENT 'ALSO BY INSTALMENTS.

W. FRANCIS DEACON, 91 Long Lane, Borough, S.E.1
Hop 3621.

SMALL ADVERTISEMENTS-1d. a Word.

EDMONTON.—WANTED an Agent for the "Workers' Dreadnought" in Edmonton and District. Write for terms to Manager, 152, Fleet Street, E.C. 4.

WANTED "Dreadnought" buyers and sellers Dowlais, Glams and Mid Rhondda.

IF YOUR Branch could do with a Reliable Typewriter or Duplicator, see my Advertisement above. Note Prices. Deacon, also at 14, Crooked Lane, E.C. 4.

WANTED a Comrade to sell the "Workers' Dreadnought" in Victoria Park on Sunday evenings, 7 p.m.

BED-SITTING ROOM to Let. Communist only 260, Well-Hall Road, S.E. 9.

Published by E. Sylvia Pankhurst at 152, Fleet Street, London, E.C. 4, and printed by S. Corio at 10, Wine Office Court, Fleet Street, London, E.C. 4.