H. Thomas opposes Labour Railway Directors.

INTERNATIONAL COMMUNISM.

Founded and Edited by SYLVIA PANKHURST

VOL. VIII. No. 23.

SATURDAY, AUGUST 20TH, 1921.

[WEEKLY.] PRICE TWOPENCE.

E TERROR IN ENGLAND.

A SUNDERLAND SENSATION

American and Continental Methods Introduced into England—Unemployed Leader Assaulted and Arrested on False Charge—An Important Case!

The case of Comrade James Lenagh, the Secretary of the Sunderland Unemployed Committee, is so remarkable, and, indeed, so terrible, that. lest we should be accused of bias, we prefer to give the story in the words of the local capitalist Daily, the Sunderland Daily Echo :-

James Lenagh (37), who has figured in Sunderland recently as the leader of the unemployed, was charged at the police court this afternoon before Ald. Bruce presiding), Ald. E. H. Brown, and Messrs. T. Hughes, Armstrong, and H. Bainbridge, with being drunk and disorderly and with assaulting Sergt. Pickering. Mr. T. Marshall defended, and the charges were enied. At the request of Mr. Marshall, all the vitnesses were ordered out of court until required.

Sergt. Pickering said that last night he was on duty n High Street West, near to the Liverpool House drapery establishment. He saw the prisoner coming down the High Street, and he was staggering, throwing his right arm about, and shouting. Witness stopped him, and told him to go home quietly. The accused replied: "I know you, you big --!" and kicked him on the right shin, and also struck him on the chest. He closed with the prisoner, and there ensued a struggle, which lasted about ten minutes. Lenagh was very violent. With the assistance of other officers, prisoner was conveyed to the West Wear Street Stat'on. Lenagh was violent on the way to the station and in the office.

By Mr. Marshall: The accused and witness were alone at the time of the occurrence. The first thing he said to him was: "Go home quietly!" Witness considered he was drunk because of staggering and throwing his arms about. Prisoner refused to go away, and never attempted to cross the road. When taken into custody, prisoner endeavoured to wrench himself free. Witness was in plain clothes at the time, and did not say he was a policeman when Lenagh said he knew him. He denied having bee. "shadowing" prisoner since last Friday night. There were two policemen on the other side of the road at the time, but he (witness) did not know they were there. There was no arrangement among them with regard to Lenagh. Witness was one of the officers who took him to the station.

Mr. Marshali: Was he badly treated by the officers

Witness: No, sir. He was very violent there. Mr. Marshall: Did he not ask for a doctor?

Witness: He never asked for a doctor to be sent for when in the charge office. I don't know if he asked anyone there. Policemen's Evidence.

P.C. McManns said he was on duty with P.C. Younger in High Street West, last night, when he saw a large crowd near the top of Williams Street. A civilian came up and said, "I think there is one of your fellows in trouble." Going to the scene, they found Lenagh resisting Sergt. Pickering very violently. He was drunk, and kicked all the way to the police station. No more force was used than was necessary to get defendant to the station.

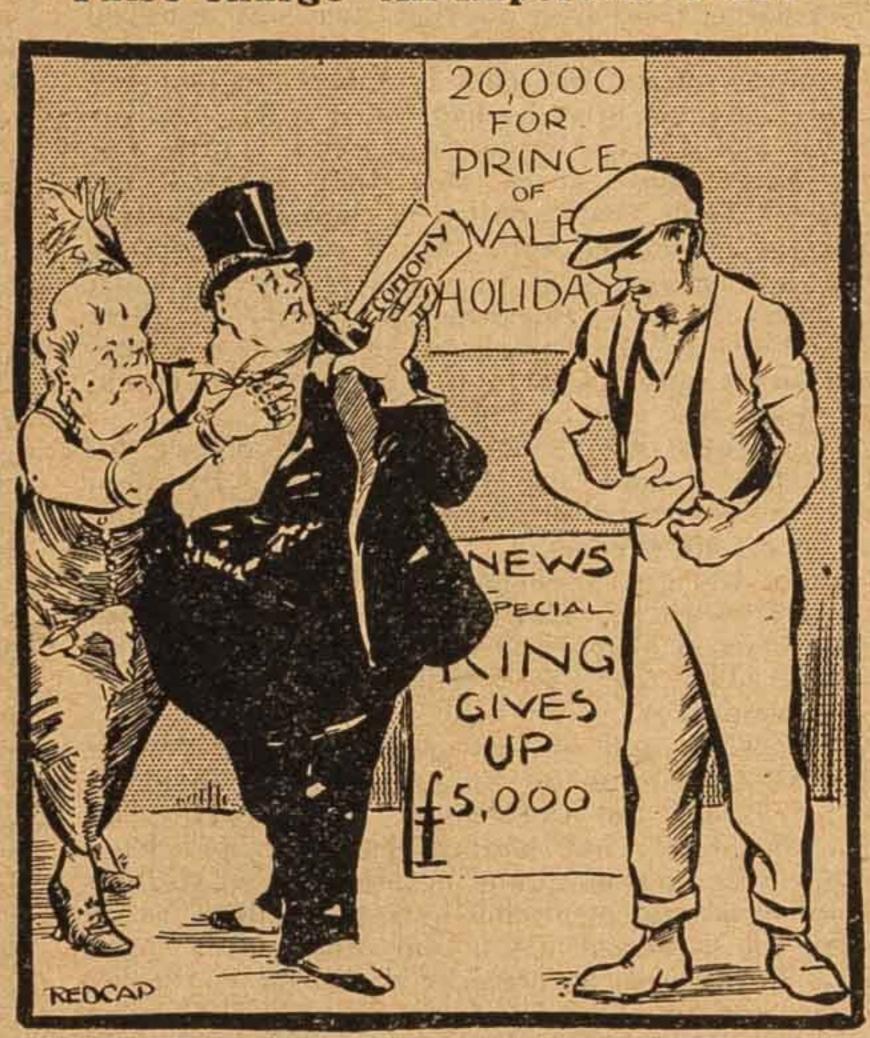

Replying to Mr . Marshall, witness said defendant was so drunk and troublesome that they had to put him in the cell at once. He was not helplessly drunk. but violently drunk. He did not ask for a doctor. P.C. Younger corroborated and denied that more force than was necessary was used. Lenagh did not ask for doctor in his hearing. P.C. Bailes, who took the charge against the prisoner, gave evidence that Lenagh was drunk. Asked by Mr. Marshall what made him come to that conclusion, witness said he could smell the drink, and Lenagh rolled about all over the place. He was excited, but witness was certain he was not mistaking the condition of excitement for drunkenness. He could smell the drink very strongly, and could smell it again when he went to visit Lenagh in his cell.

Witness did not hear him ask for a doctor. Inspector Allinson said he went to prisoner's cell to read the charge over to him. He found he was drunk and leaning against the wall of his cell. No request was made for a doctor. Asked by Mr. Marshall what evidence there was that Lenagh was drunk, witness replied that he smelt drink and he was leaning against the wall, and afterwards staggered to the lavatory. It was not beer, but spirits of which he smelt. Case for the Defence. For the defence, Mr. Marshall said his case was an absolute denial. He was in a difficulty; because he did not like having to traverse the evidence that had been given, but there were two perfectly respectable and reputable witnesses who would say that the accused could not possibly have been drunk, as alleged. According to them, Lenagh went with a man named Joseph Bernstein to the house of Joseph Taylor, 19, Violet Cottages, Fulwell, yesterday afternoon. They had tea there with Taylor, and spent the evening with gramophone music and reading. Supper was partaken of, and during the evening Lenagh had half a bottle of beer, Taylor having the other half. There was no other intoxicating liquor consumed in the house. Bernstein was a teetotaler and had a bottle of lemonade. Later in the evening, Bernstein and Lenagh left the house for their homes, and on reaching the High Street end of Norfolk Street, the former left him and went along that street. There was no call made on the road home and no liquor taken. Consequently, Lenagh could not be drunk, as alleged. There were many extraneous circumstances, into which he would not now enter, beyond saying that his client had been engaged lately in certain movements in the town, but was entitled to a fair hearing and just consideration of the evidence of his witnesses. Their evidence would be that at the time, Lenagh was "solid and sober." Just after the two had separated, Lenagh was walking quietly down the street when he was attacked by two policemen. He tried to get away by crossing the road, but found two others there. There was no doubt the man was roughly treated, and he (Mr. Marshall) had seen some severe marks on his legs. He was sure the Bench would give the evidence very careful consideration.

BOTTOM DOG: IF YOU AND YOUR KING PRACTICED ECONOMY LIKE I DO THERE WOULD BE NO NEED FOR ECONOMY.

Ald. Bruce: If he has any objection to us sitting he can say so.

Mr. Marshall: No, he has no objection, but he feels he is in a very difficult position.

Lenagh then entered the witness-box, affirming instead of taking the oath in the usual way. He said that vesterday afternoon at half-past two, he, along with the rest of his friends on the Unemployment Committee, went to the Unemployment Committee room and he there wrote a letter to the Mayor. With Mr. Bernstein, he went to the Town Hall and delivered the letter. From there they went to Mr. Taylor's.

"I may say," continued Lenagh, "from Friday afternoon, owing to certain things that happend, I did expect to be arrested, but not for what I am arrested now. I expected to be arrested for telling people to go into the street, but that is a different thing."

Mr. Marshall: Keep yourself to this charge.

Continuing, Lenagh said they arrived at Taylor's house at a quarter past five, and they had tea about 20 minutes past six. They sat on had readings and gramophone music, and about nine o'clock they were going home, when Mr. Taylor sent out and got one bottle of beer and a bottle of ginger. Mr. Taylor and he had the bottle of beer, and the lady and Mr. Bernstein had the bottle of ginger. They remained there till a quarter past ten and then they left and went towards home. At the corner of Norfolk Street, Mr. Bernstein went another way, and he (Lenagh) was just going along-swinging along quickly-when all of a sudden he got a box on the face—the magistrates could see the swelling on his face yet. He naturally wondered what it was, and jumped to one side, and when he saw two big men standing, he thought he was going to be arrested for another thing, and he rushed across the street, but he was held. There were four policemen, and he was taken to the police station. When he arrived at the station, he asked what the charge was, and he was hammered and kicked all over the place. He asked them to send for a doctor, but every request he made was refused. He was then pushed into his cell. He could show the Bench his leg and his body where it was bruised black and blue. His arms were twisted all round. All the officers who came in were in plain clothes and could not tell which was an inspector. When he asked where the lavatory was, instead of staggering to it, he was pushed into it.

In reply to a question by the Chairman as to which officer refused to send for a doctor, Lenagh said he could not distinguish him. He was not drunk, as he had not any money with which to get drunk. He could not get drunk on 15s. a week.

Joseph Bernstein said Lenagh and himself had an invitation to go to tea to Taylor's house. They had some music, and after supper they walked home. There was only one bottle of beer consumed, and that was shared between Lenagh and Taylor. He would swear that Lenagh never had more drink than that, and was quite sober when they left Taylor's house in Violet Cottages. Supt. Ruddick: Yuo have had an interview with Lenagh in the cell this morning?—Yes. He sent for you?—Yes.

Joseph Taylor, 19 Violet Cottages, said he had been employed by the Sunderland Shipbuilding Company for 12 years as a joiner. Prisoner was an old friend of his, and as he had not seen him for a year, and had read what was happening in the papers, he thought Lenagh was in need, so invited him to his house. He did not have any more drink than half a bottle of beer.

Supt. Ruddick: Did you see Bernstein this morning before you came to court?—Yes.

The Chairman: Did you arrange what evidence had to be given?-No.

The Decision. The Chairman said that the Bench had given careful consideration to what had beeen said both for and against the man, and the evidence that had been given by two civilians was such that they found it difficult to believe that the man was drunk. It was quite possible that the man might have been very excited, and the feeling of the Bench was that the case should be dismissed. That course would, therefore, be taken.

A man who attempted to applaud was stopped. Outside the court a crowd of people waited until Lenagh left the building, and, on his appearance, he was warmly congratulated by his friends.

Comrade Bernstein, who sends us the above cutting from a local paper, corroborates the story and gives further details. The curious thing is, that he was writing to us whilst waiting for Tom Lenagh to call at his house, and he was telling us that he would ask Lenagh to give us a report of the Unemployed Committee's activities. He broke off the letter on Lenagh's arrival, saying that the latter was in a hurry to go to Taylor's, Continued on page 6.

YOUR SUBSCRIPTION.

A blue mark in this space indicates that your subscription is now due.

Increased Postal rates and the high cost of production of the paper necessitate prompt payment.

"That he must go to you, or to the new Assistant nothing to do with it, surprises me."

"And what did you answer, Duclari?"

(Continued from last issue.) The Controller Verbrugge was a good man. When you saw him sitting there in his blue cloth dress coat, embroidered with oak and orange branches on collar and cuffs, you could not have found a better Resident. type of the Dutchman in India, who, by the way, is quite different from the Dutchman in Holland. Slow as long as there was nothing to be done, far from that fussiness which in Europe is mistaken for zeal, but zealous where business required attention; plain, but cordiar to those around him. He was sitting in the middle of the pendoppo, near the table, covered with a white cloth and well furnished with viands. Rather impatiently, from time to time, he asked the mandoor (the chief police mud, near the little bamboo building. official), if there was nothing to be seen.

Twenty or thirty Javanese servants, mantries and overseers, squatted on the ground; numbers of others ran in and out, and others of different rank held the horses outside, or rode about on horseback. The Regent of Lebak himself, Radeen Adhipatti Karta, Natta, Negara, sat facing him. The Regent was an intelligent old man; he could speak on many subjects with sense and judgment, and one had only to look at him, to be convinced that most of the Europeans he came in contact with, had more to learn from him, than he from them. His clear, dark eves contradicted by their fire the weariness of his features and his grey hairs.

Verbrugge began with an observation on the weather and the rain:

"Yes, Mr. Controller, it is the rainy season." Then again there was silence. The Regent beckoned with a scarcely visible motion of the head, to one of the servants who sat squatting at the entrance of the pendoppo. A little boy, splendidly dressed in a bluevelvet jacket and white trousers, with a golden girdle confining his magnificent sarong * round his waist, and on his head, the pretty Kain Kapala, t under which his black eyes peeped forth so roguishly, crept squatting to the feet of the Regent, put down the gold box which contained the sirie, the lime, the pinang, the gambier, ** and the tobacco, made his slamat by raising both hands put together to his forehead, as he bowed low, and then offered the precious box to his master. Verbrugge asked the mandoor again, if he saw nothing coming?

"I do not see anything from the Pandaglang side, Mr. Controller; but vonder, on the other side, there is somebody on horseback-it is the Commandant." "To be sure, Dongso," said Verbrugge, looking outside; "he went hunting early this morning. Ho! Duclari-Duclari-.

"He hears you, sir; he is coming this way. His boy rides after him." Hold the Commandant's horse," said Mr. Verbrugge to one of the servants. "Good morning, Mr.

Duclari, are you wet? What have you killed? Come A strong man about thirty years of age, of military ap carance, entered the pendoppo. It was Lieutenant Ductari, Commandant of the small garrison of Rankas-Betong; Verbrugge and he were familiar friends. Duclari addressed the Regent: "Does the Adhipatti know that the Controller is acquainted with the new Assistant Resident?" "I don't know him," said Verbrugge. "I only told you that I had heard a good deal about him."

"It is not necessary to see a person in order to know him-doesn't the Adhipatti agree with me?" The Adhipatti at that moment wanted to call a servant. Some time elapsed before he could say he agreed with the Commandant, but still it was often necessary to see a person before you could judge of Duclari continued his conversation with Verbrugge in Dutch, which the Regent did not know: "With regard to Havelaar, you need no personal acquaintance; he is a fool." "I did not say so, Duclari."

"No, but I say it, after all you have told me of him. I call anyone who jumps into the water to save a dog frem the sharks a fool.'

"Yes, it was foolish, but—it was witty—." "Yes, but a young man may not be witty at the expense of a General."

"You must bear in mind he was very young-it was fourteen years ago-he was only twenty then; and he was always the champion of the weak."

"Let everyone fight for himself, if fighting there must be. As for me, I think that a duel is seldom necessary; if necessary, I accept it; but-to make a custom of it-I'd rather not. I hope he is changed in that respect.' "Of course; there is no doubt of that. He is now so much older; has long been a married man; he is Assistant Resident. Moreover I have always heard that his heart is good, and that he has a strong sense of justice."

"Then he is needed in Lebak-something happened this morning that- Do you think the Regent understands us?"

"I do not think so, but show me something out of your game bag; then he will think that is what we are talking about."

Duel ri took his bag and pulled out two woodcocks, handling them as he told Verbrugge he had been followed by a Javanese, who asked him whether he could not do something to lighten the load under which the population groaned.

long enough in the Residency of Batum to know what not plant it? Are there not many wrongs in your is going on here; but that a common Javanese. 'country? Is not the number of your children small?

A Tale of the Dutch East Indies.

By MULTATULI

speaks joy out of a mouth of brass, nor the stamping of paddy by your daughters? Is there no bitterness in seeing the mountains that have no water on their "There they come," said the servant Dongso, sudsides, and the plains where the buffalo never drew the plough? Many men who were born here have left All stood up; and Duclari, not wishing to appear this country. Why do they seek to labour far from the that he had come to the frontiers to welcome the place where they buried their parents? Over there to Assistant Resident, his superior in rank, but not in the North West, over the sea, are many who have command, rode off, followed by his servant. The Adhipatti and Verbrugge, standing at the and klewang, it and gun. And there they die miser. entrance of the pendoppo, saw a travelling carriage ably; for the Government has power to vanquish the approaching, dragged by four horses, covered with rebels.

India, he was very pale. His fine features bore of the refreshments. What must the chiefs have witness of intellectual development; but there was thought of his knowing already that so many had left something cold in his glance that made one think of Lebak with bitterness in their hearts, of his knowing a table of logarithms. One could not help thinking that how many families had emigrated to neighbouring the very large thin nose on that face was annoyed countries to avoid the poverty that reigned here, and because there was so little stir.

in getting out, and after he had taken from a gentle- Havelaar continued: man, who was still in the coach, a child, a little fair "Chiefs of Lebak: We are all us in the service of boy of about three years old, they entered the the King of Holland, but he, who is just and desires pendoppo. Then that gentleman himself alighted, that we should perform our duties, is far from here. and anyone acquainted with Java would immediately "The Governor-General at Buitenzorg* desires observe that he waited at the carriage door to assist that everyone should do his duty, but he, no more an old Javanese baboe (nursemaid). Meanwhile, three than the King, can see where injustice has been done, servants delivered themselves out of the little leather for the injustice is far from him. cupboard that was stuck to the back of the coach, "The Resident of Serang, who is Lord of the like a young oyster on an old one.

hand to the Regent and to Verbrugge. By their from it, and whoever does wickedly, hides himself attitude you could see they were aware of the presence from his face, because he fears punishment. And of an important personage. It was the Resident of Mr. Adhipatti, who is Regent of South Bantam, wills of Bantam, the great province of which Lebak is an also that there shall be no infamy in that country, Assistant Residency. The Resident of Bantam spoke And I, the Assistant Resident: I, too, yesterday took as if there stood after each word a period, or even a the oath to do my duty. long pause, like the silence which follows "Amen" "We all wish to do our duty; but if there be any after a long prayer.

Max Havelaar and his wife were the two persons punish him? who had alighted from the carriage after the Resident, "I wish to live on good terms with you. Everyone with their child and the baboe. Madam Havelaar who has erred may reckon on a lenient sentence from was not beautiful; but had, in language and look, me, for, as I err so often myself, I shall not be severe. something very charming, and nothing of that stiffness Only where negligence becomes a custom I shall and unpleasantness of snobbish respectability, which oppose it. Of faults of a more grave kind, tyranny thinks it must torment itself and others with "con and extortion, I do not speak; such a thing shall not straint," in order to be considered distingué. In her happen. Is it not so, Regent?" dress she was an example of simplicity. She had a "No, no, Mr. Assistant Resident, such a thing shall noble soul, and certainly he must be blind who did not happen in Lebak." not think her face very beautiful, when that soul The chiefs, bowing low, prepared to return to their could be read in it.

Havelaar was about thirty-five years of age, slender Havelaar said : and active. Except his very short and expressive "Come, Verbrugge, don't go home yet. Come, a upper lip, and his large pale blue eyes, which, if he glass of Madeira!' was in a calm humour, had something dream-like, but They sat there together with the Regent for some which flashed fire if he were animated with a grand time. Then, all of a sudden, the Regent asked idea, there was nothing particular in his appearance. whether the money which was to the credit of the His light hair hung flat. He was full of con'radic- tax-gatherer's credit could not be paid at once? tions; sharp as a lancet, tender as a girl, he always "Certainly not!" said Verbrugge. "Mr. Adhipatti was the first to feel the wound which his bitter words knows that this cannot be done till the accounts have had inflicted, and he suffered more than the wounded. been verified." He was quick of comprehension; grasped immediately But Havelaar said: "Come, Verbrugge, don't let the highest and most intricate matter, liked to amuse us be troublesome. We will pay now; the account himself with the solution of difficult questions, and to will certainly be approved," and he called for a clerk such pursuits would devote all pains, study and from the office. exertion. Yet often he did not understand the most him. Full of love for truth and justice, he often neglected his most simple and nearest obligations to remedy an injustice which lay higher, or further, or deeper, and which allured him more, perhaps, by the greater exertion of the struggle it involved. He was affable and polite in his manners. He had experienced much, had suffered shipwrcek more than once, had hastened, whilst the Regent left, satisfied. been through fire, insurrection, assassination, war. duels, luxury, hunger, cholera, love and "loves." He had travelled in many countries:

The Resident of Bantam introduced the Regent and the Controller to the new Assistant Resident. Havelaar courteously saluted these functionaries, and with grave affability, he rebuked the Regent's too great civility, which had brought him, in such weather, to the confines of his district.

having given yourself so much trouble on my account." He persuaded the Adhipatti to join him in the carriage on his homeward journey, to avoid needless riding on horseback through the mud.

When Havelaar had taken the oaths of installation at the palace of the Regent, and had been presented to the chiefs, he requested the Controller to invite the chiefs, who were at Rankas-Betong, to wait there till next day for a Council he intended to convene. Everyone expected an address from the Resident it was not quite certain whether Havelaar himself would say anything to the chiefs; but you ought to have seen him on such occasions, to conceive how he grew excited, and spoke as an Apostle and a seer. His harangue to the chiefs of Lebak was delivered in Malay, which added greatly to its effect. He said, after the first salutation: "I have obtained information about your district, and seen there is much good in Bantam-Kidool; there are rice-fields in the valleys, rice-fields in the mountain, and your people desire to live in peace, and not to invade the districts inhabited by others. I discover that your population is poor. Chiefs of Lebak, there is much to be done in your district. Tell me, is not the labourer poor? "That means much," said Duclari. "I have been Does not your paddy often ripen for those who did generally so circumspect and reserved in what concerns Is there no shame in your souls when visitors ask:

the chiefs, should make such a request to one who has 'Where are the villages, and where are the husbandmen?' And why do I not hear the gamlang, it which left Lebak to wander in foreign countries with krists Havelaar had ordered, by a sign, the customary A gentleman stepped out. Like most Europeans in tea and sweetmeats, but few of the chiefs partook that there were so many Bantammers amongst the He politely offered his hand to a lady, to help her bands in revolt against the Dutch Government?

Residency of Bantam, desires that justice shall be The gentleman who had first alighted, offered his done, but where injustice has been done, he lives far amongst us who sell the Right for gain, who shall homes. Verbrugge, too, was about to leave, but

"But, Mr. Havelaar, it must not be! The taxsimple thing which a child could have explained to gatherer's account is under examination at Serangsuppose there be anything wanting?" "Then I will make it good," Havelaar said. Verbrugge did not understand this great consider> ation for the tax-gatherer. The clerk soon returned with some papers Havelaar signed his name and ordered payment to be (Continued in our next issue.)

* A piece of white linen. The Javanese women draw figures on such sarongs to express their thoughts-Sarong, a kind of petticoat. † A sort of turban. # Betel. ** Pinang, gambier—different spices. †† Musical instrument. tt Indian weapons. * Near Batavia.

Indeed, Mr. Adhipatti, I am angry with you for AN AMERICAN ON H. M. H. - Continued from Page 5 Mr. Hyndman says that Lenin is not "a powerful writer." I do not know whether he is or not but certain English versions of pamphlets alleged to be his are so mightily powerful that I recommend them to Mr. Hyndman as models; they may improve his style and his logic. We have to read of Russia n a language not her own, though her learned leaders seem to be polyglots and able to speak to us in our language. In our own language, we, as historians, should always try to get up a good biblipgraphy and dig out a little information before we write. Mr. Hyndman's book is dated September, 1920, less than a year ago, after many books by Englishmen and Americans for and against Russia had been published. Mr. Hyndman's bibliographic note is as follows: "The best books on Bolshevism have been published in the United States. They are 'Bolshevism' and 'The Greatest Failure in All History,' both by John Spargo (Harper Brothers, New York), also 'Sovietism,' by English Walling, containing a evry full collection of official Bolshevik documents. The case for the Bolshevik Dictatorship has been stated in England by Eden and Cedar Paul 'Creative Revolution: a Study in Communist Ergatocrasy' (Allen and Unwin, London), and in R. W. Postgate's 'The Bolshevik Theory' (Grant Richards, Ltd., London)." Only five books! And the best books are those by Messrs. Spargo and Walling!

JAPAN'S POSITION IN THE COMING WORLD'S SOCIAL REVOLUTION.

A Report sent by the well-known Japanese Communist SEN KATAYAMA to the Commintern Third Congress in Moscow.

(Continued from last issue.)

ugust 20, 1921.

The Imperialsm and Capitalism of Japan are new. Japan learned them from the West long after revolution of 1868. The Old history of Japan tells hat many centuries ago, an Empress of Japan in-Korea and made the country a tributary; at this can hardly be called an act of Imperialism, in the sense of the word now used. A little more than three conturies ago, Toyotomi, after subjugating the whole of Japan, wanted still greater fame as a warrior, and therefore invaded Korea. He also atempted to invade China, but in the latter attempt, rably failed. This cannot be called Japan's Imalism, because it was merely undertaken by Toyotomi's personal ambition. The Japan of the three centuries ending with the revolution of 1868, was certainly not mperialist or capitalist. After the reign of Toyotomi, lange, for about three centuries, shut all her doors and neither let any foreigner come in, nor any of her own subjects go out of the country. She was compelled to open her doors, by the American cannons, some sixty years ago. Then she really started to learn Western manners, including, of course, Imperialism and Capitalism.

Townsend Harris-the name of the yoke is "-Extra- when the war of 1914-18 began. Territoriality." By this yoke Japan has to maintain within her own territory-namely, at her five principal treaty ports-seventeen independent nations, not tried by the Japanese Court according to fidence in militarism. more than five per cent. ad valorem. The vox apuli of Japan, up to the time of the war with China, was the revision of that obnoxious treaty-the foreign voke. There was, as far as I know, neither a desire nor a hope for Imperialism in Japan.

I give the facts rather more minutely than I should, the same state of things is existent in China to-day. the only citizens of foreign Powers who are prevented from doing whatever they like in the vast Chinese territory. This is one of the results of perialism in China. The Chinese proletariat should interested in the destruction of Imperialism, not only that of Japan, but also that of America and

As a result of victory in war, Japan got the Treaties revised, first with Great Britain, then with other nations. Japan took Liaoyang Peninsula from China as a war prize, but was compelled to return it by the combined pressure of the Kaiser and the Czar. China, before the war with Japan, was a sleeping giant. Her navy was built under a German General, Von Hannecken. It was then the mightiest navy in the Far East, whilst Japan's navy was a child's toy. China's population was ten times larger than that of Japan; whilst her territory was twenty times that

An English farmer told me, while I was travelling through Yorkshire in the summer of 1894, that Japan must have gone crazy, to fight against China.

ism. Fortunately, the Japanese proletariat has been trying to destroy it.

The first war of Japan's Imperialism was tried with Czarist Russia in 1904-5. Seven prominent Professors of 'he Tokyo Imperial University were punished by the authorities, because they published their Imperialist opinion that Japan should occupy the East of Lake Baikal. Perhaps that was the first utterance of Japanese Imperialists of a rather extreme type. At that time, people in general considered them as

That war gave the Japanese comrades the first supreme chance to make anti-war propaganda, and to get into touch with the Russian comrades. The Far East. Japanese comrades greeted the Russian comrades.

We believe that you will not let this opportunity tionary forces of the entire world.

To the above greetings, the Russians answered:-

finally bury it."

The Russo-Japanese war of 1904-5 brought upon the the proletariat of victorious Japan nothing but curses, general misery, the burden of heavy taxes, the degradation of morality, and the supremacy of militarism. Our proletariat has learned the bitterest experiences Japan's Imperialism began its career at the con- from the victorious war. Living became more difficlusion of the Chino-Japanese war of 1894-5. Until cult than before the war; the Japanese Government that time Japan was suffering under the yoke of became more oppressive, and the Labour movement foreign countries. The yoke of seventeen nations was almost entirely crushed; above all, militarism which was put on the neck of Japan was invented by became a still more oppressive and heavy burden on paganda to form a Socialist League, promoted by an American, the American Minister to Japan—Mr. the proletariat. This was the actual state of things thirty well-known comrades, the formal organisation

No wonder that the Japanese people took no interest however, the intention of the police authorities, the in the war of 1914-18 and were more interested in the promoters of the League, by their tact and wisdom, Russian revolutions that overthrew first a Czar, and converted the preliminary meeting held on with seventeen different laws, customs, and legal then Capitalism, and with it militarism. With the December 9th into a regular meeting and passed the miserable fall of the Kaiser and his "invincible" constitution and bye-yaws of the Socialist League. Any citizen of those seventeen nations or the treaty army, which had been the idols of the Japanese Thus they skilfully evaded the Czar-like police Powers, may beat, kill, or rob the Japanese. He is Imperialists, the Japanese people utterly lost con- authorities, and the Socialist League was duly or-

Japanese laws. Japan cannot try the murderer or Yet there is no weakening of militarism in Japan. in the Spring of 1907), a lapse of fourteen years. nunish him, because he is a citizen of one of those Far from it! The European war made Japan a lending. The Socialist League was formed, with a membership seventeen nations. He is formally tried by his own instead of a borrowing country, as she was before of over a thousand. The League was intended to be Consul, who is not a judge, of course, and may have the war. The war industry of Japan infinitely quite moderate in tone and activity, so that it no legal idea at all. As a matter of fact, he is usually strengthened Japanese militarism materially and might exist legally as a general propaganda organ; set free. Not only that, but the Japan of those days financially. Expansion of armament has been the comrades who organised it, intending to pick out had no autonomy with regard to her foreign trade. order of the day. The Imperialist gang of Japan is from it a few radical members for special work. The She could not levy customs duty on imported goods well satisfied with the results of the late war, at least. Manifesto of the League was worded to evade the financially. They have been able to increase the army and navy, as they had hoped for a century.

All this is only on the surface; the Japanese Imperialists are terror-stricken by the changed attitude of the people since the war. Not only are the people becoming markedly averse to militarism, but the because I want to remind my comrades that exactly Military Academy and Naval School and Colleges are having great difficulty in recruiting new students, The Russian Soviet Republic's citizens in China are though previously they had to raise the standard of the entrance examination, in order to ward off too

> Barrack life was never popular among the proletarian youth. This unpopularity of military education among the youths of the well-to-do classes is not the only fact that has worried the Imperialists of Japan. The young and promising military officers are also beginning to quit the profession. The necessary cannon fodder can be got by compulsory conscription, but the officers come from the upper layer of society. so they had never thought of getting the officers by any compulsion. However, unable to check young officers leaving the Army and Navy, the military authorities hastily made a rule to the effect that any officer leaving his profession without an approved reason, would lose all military rank and honours, together with his pension. Even with such a rigid, arbitrary rule, they hardly checked young officers > from leaving their posts in both Army and Navy. Militarism, and consequently Imperialism, has lost all its former fervour. This is true, at least, psycho-

In spite of the predictions of the English farmer, The chief reason for the expansion of Japanese disciplined, underground party is in process of forma-Japan won the battle, and for the first time in her armaments was apparently external, but a careful tion, and we, the Communists in America, are in direct history conceived a desire for Imperialism and study of the international situation shows that, in- touch with them. italism. Now she has both, together with the significant as Japan's military and naval equipment is, hatred of the entire world. The world-wide cry of compared with either England or America numerically. the anti-Japanese is the reward of Japan's Imperial- it yet became a terror of the capitalist world. Why? Because the Western world cannot ignore the military lately finding out the curse of Imperialism and is and naval power and strength of Japan. Japan is the strongest Power in the Far East at the present moment. Given a free hand, Japan's military and naval equipment can easily crush all the Liberal and Radical movements in the Far East without the least difficulty. This fact alone is the great menace to the cause of our movement. If we consider still and its capitalism, the social revolution in the Far further that this fact is coupled with the most East will be an accomplished fact. As soon as the avaricious ambition of the Japanese Imperialists, which Far East is ours, British Imperialism is bound to go controls the destiny of seventy million people who can to pieces. With Britsh Imperialism dead and buried, can easily be made cannon fodder in the time of war, American Imperialism will not last long. and in peace can be exploited for war preparations, we must realise that Japanese Imperialism is the greatest menace to the Communist movement in the

But will the destruction of Japanese Imperialism - by some other Imperialism, say, American or "Dear Comrades.-Your Government and ours English, make our Communist movement any easier? have plunged into war, in order to satisfy their No, it means the domination of the Far East either Imperialist deires; but to us there is no barrier by American or by English Imperialism instead of of race, territory or nationality. We are comrades, by Japanese. It may satisfy Gompers and the brothers and sisters, and have no reason to fight American Federation of Labour and those who believe each other. Our militarism and our so-called in the White domination of the world, but the propatriotism are your enemy-not the Japanese people. letariat of all the countries concerned in this destruc-We feel that your people feel the same towards us. tion will not be benefited. No, our position should

Indeed, it is patriotism and militarism that are our not be that of a fisherman who watches the quarrel common enemies; nay, all the Socialists in the between the kingfisher and the clam, looking on y world look up on them as common enemies. We to his profit; we must destroy the Imperialism of Socialists must fight bravely against them. -The Japan, as well as that of others, with our own methods best and most important opportunity for us is now. and our own forces, namely, the proletarian revolu-

The Japanese proletariat is rapidly awakening and becoming class-conscious. It began to wake up at the time of the great rice riots of August, 1918. "Amidst the "jingoistic" chorus of both Then there were hardly any Labour organisations to countries, the voices of Japanese comrades sound speak of except the "yellow" Yu-Ai-Kai, and the as a herald from that better world, which, though it Printers' Union. But to-day there are three to four only exists to-day in the minds of the class-conscious hundred thousand organised workers, many of them proletariat, will become a reality to-morrow! We class conscious. Until recently, the Yu-Ai-Kai was do not know when that "to-morrow" will come, considered to be a "yellow" organisation; but since but we Social Democrats, the world over, are all the beginning of the present year, the Left Wing, working to bring it nearer and nearer. To-day we that favours the Third International, has dominated are digging a grave for the present miserable social the entire organisation, and it is rapidly becoming order. We are organising the forces which will Red. In spite of the prohibitive laws against the Labour movement and against the Labour Unions, the Japanese workers are steadily gaining ground. Our Labour organisations are mostly organised on industrial lines. Strikes are becoming more and more frequent and revolutionary. Their chief aim is the destruction of Capitalism, as was expressed by a resolution passed at an unemployed mass meeting called by the Federation of the Labour Unions of Osaka and its vicinity, last autumn.

> On December 10th, 1920, after four months' proof the League was to take place at Tokyo. Knowing, ganised again after its suppression, (which happened police censorship, which is always severe and often

> "We aim at destroying the present capitalist system from its very foundations.

> "We intend to destroy bourgeois civilisation, its various institutions, organisations, customs, thought, art, etc., that are accessory to the capitalist system.

> "We, in order to create a true living that is appropriate to mankind, intend to realise a society that has neither rich nor poor, is without classes, and in which an shall be assured of food, clothes; all dwelling, by their own labour.

> "We adopt every effective means of fighting against the capitalist system and its accessory organisations.

> "We believe that an important and real power is in the workers, and shall strive for their awakening, organisation, and discipline.

"Thus, combining the proletariat of Japan and its accessories, we shall advance without stopping, boldly and courageously, toward the new society, new organisation, and new civilisation of the proletariat!'

The Socialist League holds its public meetings, openly advertised, in spite of all. It is reported to be growing steadily in membership and its influence. The last I heard of its membership was a little over 3,000. Behind the open forum, a compact, well-

The destruction of Imperialism in any country must be the direct work of the proletariat of that particular country, led by the Communist Party appointed by the Communist International. Otherwise it would be almost impossible in a country . se Japan, which is under a powerful, though decaying, Imperialism supported by Capitalism, nationally and

With the subjugation of Japanese Imperialism

Long live the Workers' Soviet Russian Republic! Long live the Third Communist International! Long live the coming World's Social Revolution!

BADGES.

SOVIET ARMS, in gilt on red enamel, 1s. 3d. and 9d. each, 12s. and 6s. per dozen.-Apply, Manager, "Workers' Dreadnought," 152, Fleet Street, E.C. 4.

By T. G. HIGDON-

Editor: SYLVIA PANKHURST.

All Matter for Publication to be Addressed to the Editor Business Communications to the Manager: Workers' Dreadnought, 152, Fleet Street, London, E.C.4. TELEPHONE: CENTRAL 7240, SUBSCRIPTION: THREE MONTHS (13 weeks) ... Post Free 3/3 Six Months (26 weeks) ONE YEAR (52 weeks) ... .. .. 13

Vol. VIII. No. 23. Saturday August 20, 1921. action?

ROBERT WILLIAMS AND BLACK FRIDAY

Robert Williams contributes a curious apologia is dead! Long live International Working- formist body." Class Solidarity!"

which Robert Williams and his friends have said great things that the Triple Alliance would do. so many big and fine things, not long ago?

too risky and unpleasant. He says:-

"We knew that at any time a Triple Alliance contest against all the resources of the State would be an 'even' chance, but that on a falling market, with some million and a half unemployed, the odds were against us."

He adds:-

"After a long drawn-out mining dispute, when a their work; but in the case especially of a Transport Dispute . . . reinstatement is the most difficult problem that concerns us everywhere."

workless miners in the coalfields?

the failure to act, that, as parties to the Triple Alliance; by bluff, by threats; but when the t'me Alliance, the miners will not take strike action came for fulfilment, the bubble burst—the without a ballot of their members, that being Triple Alliance would not act. Everyone knows laid down in their constitution, whilst the rail- that, so long as its present Executive is in power. waymen and transport workers can act without it will not act. Therefore, no one cares any taking a ballot. He says, that when the Alliance more for the Triple Alliance. As Robert constitution was drawn up, the Miners' Feder- Williams tell us, it is dead. ation tried to impose its ballot system on the Robert Williams admits mistakes were made; declares have been destroyed by British competit other two constituent bodies; but a compromise he would have done things differently, or would was arranged, allowing that each of the constitu- do things differently now, were the time to be goods manufactured in Ireland by making the ent bodies should decide whether to engage in lived through again. We all feel that, after a The War Debt. joint action, "by such methods as the constitu- great failure. We all must sympathise with the tion of each organisation provides."

seems to think that the railwaymen and transport the failure? Alas, no; for even now his regrets workers have a legitimate reason for backing out are not for the failure to act, but for not having Irish bearing a share of Britain's War Debt. of all sympathetic action, because their constitu- bluffed again :tions allow them to strike without a ballot, and "Had the Miners' Federation gone to Lloyd George, that of the miners does not. He says that either the miners must change their constitution, or the other organisations be "entitled to take a ballot as to whether joint action should be taken with the miners."

Surely they are so entitled, and, if they were not, it would be for themselves, and not the miners, to change their constitution.

But what ignoble quibbling! Does William: not himself say that the attempt of the miners to impose the ballot " almost torpedeed the Triple Alliance "?

Has he not advocated strike action without waiting for the ballot, in the interests of Labour's ditions on which strike action is declared are consented to act as Secretary." more arduous for one industry or another, so long Yes, G. D. H. Cole has made some grave mis-thing that the other Unions were able to move quickly in joint action?

Granted that when the railwaymen were on strike, the miners' constitution impeded sympathetic action: did Robert Williams do anything to hasten the action of the miners, or did he try to confine and speedily shut down the railway dispute? Is it not well-known that he took the latter course?

In the interests of the working class, in the interests of Socialism and the Revolution, to which, even in this Labour Monthly article, Robert Williams expresses devotion, was it not important for the working class to put up solid fight in sympathy with the miners; was not important to bring the Triple Alliance into

If, as we believe, even Robert Williams must answer Yes to those questions, the futility of such excuses is apparent.

Another excuse made by Robert Williams is Office and asked how that can be since there for Black Friday, to the August issue of the "the Triple Alliance could never be held to be Labour Monthly. He says "the Triple Alliance a revolutionary organisation. From the period of is irretrievably broken . . . the Triple Alliance its inception in 1914, it has been frankly a re-

Certainly, we have said that many times; but the primitive methods of cultivation still employ The concluding phrase is very proper; but Williams has always denied it: he has hitherto why have smashed up the Triple Alliance, about spoken, with much bombast and bluff, of the Even in this very article he does not refrain from Robert Williams infers that the failure of the his old boasting though he begins on a sober Triple Alliance to act on Black Friday, was the note. He goes on to tell us that " many leaders death-blow to the Alliance. He does not defin- of the Soviet Government he met in Russia were itely explain the failure to act, with which he convinced that the action of the Triple Alliance, appears to have been in agreement; but, again, by its strike threat (oh, those strike threats!), one is led to infer that to act would have been and in holding up munitions of war, had saved the situation."

Did the Alliance hold up munitions of war, quite completely; did it? Let Mr. Williams give us some concrete facts about that. We have not forgotten how, when certain London railwaymen refused to handle "White" munitions, the N.U.R. Executive ordered them back to their resumption takes place, the problem of reinstatement task. The Jolly George refusal was a spontaneous does not arise, the men automatically proceeding to action of the men on the job remember. It was not organised by the Triple Alliance

Williams continues:

"The Triple Alliance was responsible . . How can Mr. Williams say this? Where is for preventing the importation of coloured indentured he living that he does not hear the cry of victimi- labour into this country. . . . The Triple Alliance sation, unemployment, failure to secure re- was successful in the joint economic movement which secured an all-round reduction of hours of labour for

Williams puts forward the petty excuse, for great nation-paralysing strike by the Triple bitter after-regrets which torture those who but to the Irish manufacturer, or would-be man who was just as scared as we were, in the forenoon of that important Friday when the Triple Alliance strike was in potentia, the Miners would have made a a settlement wherein the Government would have given such assistance to the Mining Industry as would have been requisite to maintain wages up to the cost

No, Mr. Williams; you misread the situation: it was more serious; it is more serious, than that. But you call yourself a revolutionary. Why are you always playing for peace?

One shrewd cut only, makes Robert Williams, and that is against G. D. H. Cole. who trouble to Britain's soldiers, should they be rushed criticised the Triple Alliance policy in the across. same magazine last month.

Williams says, acidly: "The Triple mobility in the class struggle? Does it really Alliance showed sufficient insight to keep away matter, in the interests of the entire working from the National Joint Industrial Council, of class and Labour's solidarity, whether the con- which, if my memory serves me well, Mr. Cole as they can all be mustered for joint action when takes and still, Fabian-like, is apt to make them. That is why we were surprised to find the Seeing that the miners, who are slow to move, Labour Monthly, which he edits, puffed by that had moved, was it not to be counted a fortunate particularly exclusive organ, The Communist

UNEMPLOYED: OLD FORD TO SHEFIELD Last week a woodyard was burnt down Ford. This week a riot in Sheffield. Such dents do not provide work for the unemployed are you surprised that the unemployed have o angry and desperate? It is hard to starve in a of plenty. It is unjust that the workers should forced to do it. The local capitalist paper Sheffield Daily Telegraph, accuses the Sheffield of inaction, showing "great deference" towards demonstrators, and of failure to protect adequa the premises of the Sheffield Daily Telegraph. Sheffield Daily Telegraph also complains that the trams were stopped "because the running of trans cars past the Town Hall disturbed the orators. Evidently the Sheffield Daily Telegraph cons there is too much sympathy with the unempl mongst the employees of certain official depart This is important and interesting to us all-a stree

Last week, as always, our comment was that palliative reforms, only the replacing of capital by Communism, will put an end to unemployn A worker thereupon called at the "Dreadnor famine in Russia.

Of course, our reply is the well-known one the outbreak of famine in one part of Russia another is chronic, but accelerated this year by excessive drought. That the famines are caused by in Russia. Old wooden ploughs, such as have in use for hundreds of years, do not make furrous deep enough to save the corn from being withred in dry weather; artificial irrigation is not a forthcoming were necessary. The war and blockade have heightened the difficulty of overcor the causes of the recurrent famines which ravaged the population of Russia from time

IRELAND.

We predicted that the present Irish negotiatio would produce no settlement, and our predicti about to be verified.

It seems too unbearably terrible that the mu gangs will again be at work in Ireland, that t homes will be burnt and the people killed as before But it seems that this is to happen, and the truce will but have embittered the fight.

to those who realise that the winning of Independen for Ireland will not mean the emancipation of her masses: that the class struggle will still have be fought amid the disillusion that mere independe from Britain must inevitably bring to those who was to see the world made a better place for the ordin person to live in. And yet the Irish fight is historic tending to the destruction of the British Empire important bulwark of the capitalist system. Will Ireland secure Independence from Eng this side of the Revolution? The question is v Yes, it may be; all things by the threat of a doubtful. Certainly the British people are not you stirred enough to force the Government to grant The terms the Government is offering to Irela will not be accepted by Sinn Fein, because deny the very points which are most cherished the economic interests behind Sian Fein.

The Tariff Question-The British terms lay down that there shall no protective duties between Britain and Ireland. Sinn Fein is anxious to build a tariff wall roun Ireland for the fostering of Irish industries which Sinn Fein desires to force the Irish people to imported competitors prohibitively expensive.

This proposition does not appeal to Commun Instead of abiding by this compromise, he were responsible. But has Williams learnt by facturer, it is a sound one: the British terms knock in trying to explain to a complacent liberal the the proposition on the head.

The British Government's terms insist upon the The desire of escaping this burden is, of course, one of the spurs to the independence movement. a nation setting out to build itself anew the impo ance of securing freedom from such trammels

The Army, Navy and Air Force. Ireland, even though nominally given comple freedom from Britain, because of her relative weal ness, would still remain under the domination Britain's naval and military power unless she enter into an alliance with another strong Power, or great Powers made a pact concerning her. In pendence is denied by the Government's terms, it is made clear that the British navy and force remain in control whilst Ireland's own territorial force is to be limited, not to give too mu

The Ulster Separation. Those who are desirous of making Ireland a nation naturally desire to maintain industrial Ulster as part of Ireland. This Lloyd George's terms deny. Indeed, there could be no reason why Sinn Fe having made the stand that it has, should acc the terms unless it were a question of pure exhaustion Naturally Sinn Fein has rejected the terms, and the fight goes sadly on.

DREADNOUGHT DEVELOPMENT FUND Abraham Daniels 6s. 9d., M. E. Marsh 2s. Anonymous 6d., Anonymous 5s., Beatrice Adam Anonymous 5s. Total, £1 0s. 6d.

AWAKENING OF THE AGRICULTURAL WORKER

omrade Tom Higdon, and Mrs. Higdon are welln in connection with the Burston School Strike. veryone knows, the strike took place because the ns were agitating amongst the agricultural rers, forming a Union amongst them, and bethey and the labourers were elected to the rich Council, the Parson and the farmers losing their

. Higdon is Treasurer of the Agricultural abourer, of course, remain; but, for the most established throughout the country.

s because of the smallness of his wages in days his labour, choosing rather to give it away?

The cost of living could be what it would in the as witness the "hungry forties." rying to get up a Union with a view to raising Without the revival of this spirit and the culhad done. It was conspiracy, too, when it was again to slavery.

my happy lot to initiate a branch of the National The intelligence and calibre of the labourer To-day there is a flourishing branch at Tol- the operation of the Wages Board and puddle, and the whole of Dorset is well organised Committees, and he has shown himself, in a large turned George Edwards to represent them in own capable representatives there. worker of to-day is the same sleepy creature of, premier county of the Union's activities—while this time. v. ten years ago. Types of the old, dormant the national character of the Union is well But let the Government abolish the Wages blowing which may show the direction of the coming and less believable still to the he old man himself wants to know where he is. Hodge we used to know would have been the and the time of the clock every time he wakes annuncement that he would live to see his hours reduced—from anything up to a hundred, or The amount of his wages, for one thing (prices more-down to the present maximum of 50 in side), is a wonder to him. This is not because summer, and 48 in winter, with overtime rates it is really a large sum, it is only a 46/- minimum of 1/1 per hour on weekdays, and  $1/3\frac{1}{2}$  per hour at present, and will shortly be reduced to 42/- on Sundays. Had he not always religiously the recent decision of the Wages Board kept holy the Sabbath Day, by refusing to sell > ne by, when they were only ten, or twelve, or A good cartoon picturing the surprise and inrteen "bob" a week. War wages, or what credulity of dear old Hodge, dead half a dozen not he could never have believed that he would years ago or so, on coming to life and being told "play up" to it. er reach such a "high" figure as that which what has happened, would be worth the artist's

And the best of it is that the labourers have old war days, or in the days of the Corn Laws, accomplished this themselves, through their own but the agricultural labourers' wages did not rise, organisations and by the re-quickening of the revolutionary spirit of their forefathers of the Remember, the Tolpuddle martyrs were ar- days of John Ball, Wat Tyler, Kett. James ested, shackled, imprisoned, and transported for Hammet, Geogre Loveless, and Thomas Brine.

their wages above seven shillings a week. It was tivation of an aptitude for organising, the Agrispiracy, declared the Authorities! Well, if cultural Wages Board would have resulted in sion some day, which shall be the bed-rock and t was conspiracy, then it was conspiracy a year nothing more nor less than a modern "Statute basis of the Britain that is to be—and of the New or two back, when I went into Dorsetshire on of Labourers," to keep wages down and to pre- World-in which my holidays and called aloud to the villagers of vent them from rising, through scarcity of labour Tolpuddle to come out under the Martyr's Tree during the war, as happened after the "Black again make their attempt, as their forefathers Death," when the labourers were soon reduced

Union of Agricultural Workers there that night. have been tested severely during the period of -while the South Norfolk labourers have re- measure, able to control them by sending his Parliament. The Burston School Strike, in That is the real and only reason why the Mr. Edwards' constituency, is a further awaken- Government has resolved to abolish the Wages One can hardly realise that the agricultural ing of the agricultural workers of Norfolk—the Board. Hodge has been too much "all there"

> Board, it cannot make much difference in the long run. It may cause some temporary setbacks in the way of wage-cuts, as in some other industries, but if the labourer retains his latent aptitude for organising and the spirit of revolt which has arisen in his breast, he will soon find a better and more effective instrument for expressing his hopes and aspirations and for accomplishing his end than the Wages Board.

> From the latest reports of the Union, there is every sign, numerical and financial, that he is realising that sense of self-reliance and responsibility that the moment requires, and that he will

> The abolition of all land monopolies by private landlords and capitalists with free access to the land for the landworker, with a view to its full cultivation and greater production, the benefits of which all may share, are some of the things

Some of us realise that Agriculture is not merely an industry; but that the land is a Coinmunal inheritance, and will be a common posses-

"A hundred nations (shall) declare that Pity and Peace and Love among the Good and Free." - (Shelley.)

HAN AMERICAN VIEW OF H. M. HYNDMAN.

the follies of the individual to the social and party. m the title to the last paragraph, is a shell full decay and corruption. For his title, Mr. Hyndman thanks a friend, which is like thanking the man the next desk for lending you a rubber-stamp. A B C of what revolution means, I have been e effectively, desperately silenced, by that horrible pun! In the last half of the last century the word "evolution" became a king's crown and a scholar's gown to any rickety idea that could don it or sneak The only other word that equalled pecious dignity was "scientific," and Mr. Hyndman, by the way, dedicates his book to "My Comrades of the Old Social-Democratic Federation: the Pioneers of Scientific Socialism in Great Britain."

Mr. Hyndman's book is devoted to the development of three propositions: (1) that throughout history here have been many several kinds of slavery and nany revolts against it, mostly unsuccessful; (2) that Social-Democratic Federation of England laid down the right rules for revolution with grateful regard for what other times and other nations had ht the English Social Democrats; (3) that the sian Revolution, not that of the wise Kerensky, the present one of the wicked Lenin, did not en according to the rules laid down by the -Democratic Federation of Great Britain, and efore cannot be what it is, because it ought not to be what it is according to the Marquis-ofndman rules. Of these three propositions the first 18 more or less certain and the other two arensense. Even the first proposition is not worked with precision, insight, general accuracy. But, a'l, a curacy in detail does not matter so much, details are always in dispute or lost so that most patient historian can not get at them. r. Hyndman's erratum-note is pathetic. He "wishes orrect the statement in which he reports Cicero as ng strangled Cataline. It was Cataline's tes and friends who were strangled. Cataline

he stands like a blighted tree. In spite of its because one of the principles he insists on is that If it is true that "peace, in fact, can only be made somewhat pompous spread of learning and appear- no social movement can cheat the clock. The reason certain by the determination of the peoples themance of stout English oak, Mr. Hyndman's book, that the slave-revolts in Rome failed, was not so selves to resist, by pressure at home, all attempts much that the slaves were beaten as that the in- of the governing class in any country to enter upon exorable old clock, which is not only the recording hostilities," then it is disingenuous to call the instrument of evolution, but its master in control of "pacifism" of many of the French socialist leaders the whole works, put up its hands and ticked: "Nay, "unfortunate." If it is true that in 1910 and 1911 The Evolution of Revolution!" How many times Spartacus, nay!" I know that clocks were not in- "economic and social conditions were" "ripe" "for vented until some time later in Germany, but a complete change," then whatever revolution has taken little anachronism is quite appropriate in a discussion place in Russia since 1911 cannot be "untimely." of Mr. Hyndman's book. . . . Mr. Hyndman says of the French Revolution: "Economic and social causes work slowly forward to their inevitable end, regardless of the persons engaged in consciously . . . it cannot be true that "had Nicholas II. thrown off This teaching of history becomes monotonous in its iteration." But the pendulum goes on oscillating, through 'forty-eight and 'seventy-one with their rigid calendar-mathematics, through the British Chartist movement and the subsequent "period of apathy," until finally we, the Social Democrats, arrive. We, also, are inevitable—slaves of the clock. We are the If it is true that "the fetishism of money and the true children of relentless and fulfilling time. But what is the matter with the lock? Other fellows are here, too, confound them! Now, in 1880. . . That is where the clock should have stopped and then it would have lived up to its historical reputation for regularity. Who spoiled that wonderful clock? The Independent-Labourt party stuck a finger into it and so "has done much to retard the spread of socialism." Not Marx, to whom we all bow. but Engels, his "evil genius" (sic), and the foods who will not understand what Marx really means, have shifted the dial until we do not know whether it is three-quarters past one century or one-quarter > have smashed our best British chronometer. So Mr. Hyndman blunders into the present time Government in 1914, then the Socialists of other inevitable they should?"

past the next. But the arch-destroyer of time is that domoniac relativist Lenin-Lenin and his accomplice, Germany, and the syndicalists, the anarchists, the direct-actionists, the whole gang of bunglers that

JOHN MACY (In the "Freeman")

If Mr. Hyndman were a writer of editorials for died in battle." The great erratum of Mr. Hynd- countries who did not uphold their Governments the New York Times or a college professor of man, however, is squinting at history, deliberately should not be treated with scorn by this Englisheconomics (and he is eminently qualified to be either), preparing all the ages of man so that they shall man for their "ecstasy of pacifism." It cannot it would not be worth while to quarrel with him; lead up to the grand climax, which includes a possibly be true, even if the Bolshevik leaders are but for a generation he has been a leading spokes- Hyndman solo on an improved Marx mechanistic villians and monsters, that they "have ruthlessly man for the Social Democrats of England, and his pianola with a vox Britannica modulating device—the endeavoured to establish a servile State with capiords have the authority of age, experience and climax of the appearance of the Social-Democratic talism more dominant than ever." It is inanity to position, every authority indeed except that of Federation, followed by the anti-climax of getting say that Russia "has no political history." Russia . It is, therefore, the critic's duty to expose the reliable London bobbies to clear the hall of the has a political history, long, dark, and intricate, Mr. Hyndman's fallacies, in order to get underneath outrageous Russians who broke in and spoiled the and the man who could make a statement like that is the last man in the world to understand the recent istorical errors in which he is rooted and on which Mr. Hyndman's chronology is the more puzzling political history of Russia or of any other country.

If it is true that "men could only understand and take advantage of the opportunities afforded them by the inevitable growth of economic forces," then the influence of his half-insane Tsarina and his bigoted men of God, and taken the advice of statesmen and members of his own family, he might, as Louis XVI. could have done when Turgot and Malesherbes were in power, quite possibly have helped forward a peaceful and beneficial revolution." worship of individualism are dying down inevitably," then it cannot be true that "while the philanthropists of capitalism have been philanthropising, their fellow-capitalists have been appropriating." If it is true that "the process of historic evolution, slow or fast, cannot be overleapt by the most relentless fanatic, least of all in an empire such as that of Russia" (why does evolution evolve more or less in one place than in another?); and if it is true that "the vast movements of world-wide civilisation develop themselves under conditions which take much less account of the greatest individuals," then why back down and confess, apropos of Lenin, that "the individual here and there does count in human affairs, nevertheless?" If this man, Lenin, is "perhaps not even a man of high intelligence," why endow him with "some inscrutable hypnotic power?" In other words, why talk of "miracles" in order to squere yourself with 1880, in the evry and utterly misconceives it. . . . If the Social act of accusing Lenin of being a many with certain Democrats of Germany were wrong in upholding the misconceived theories which "go wrong, as it was The Derbyshire Miners' Association Again. In the "Workers' Dreadnought" of July 30th I gave an outline of the constitution of the Derbyshire Miners' Association, and showed how the rules might be amended to give the membership more power in electing the executive and officials. I shall now review the position of the union in selves more firmly together nationally. relation to the M.F.G.B., the Triple Alliance, the Trade Union Congress, and Labour Party. Many of

First of all, be it remembered, that so apathetic have the members of this organisation been that their executive members have become practically permanent; the membership has not had the energy necessary to secure any change.

with force to other unions also. _

The Executive is supposed to consider resolutions sent in by the districts, and also to introduce what business it thinks fit. Generally speaking, the Executive makes its own policy in all things; then asks the membership for support, which is granted without question.

Rotating Delegates.

The lodges in rotation appoint delegates to all conferences at which the council decides to be represented. This includes the M.F.G.B., of course, or to break away from them. Labour Party, and Trade Union Congresses.

To the Miners' Federation of Great Britain Conferences the Derbyshire miners send three delegates from the lodges, as well as two permanent officials this should be tabled for next council meeting. and the President and Vice-President alternately.

These delegates are only given mandates on the Resolutions sent in from Derbyshire; they use their discretion on other matters.

gates being changed each time, and these delegates Congress. a more advanced policy.

The delegates who rejected the owners' terms in structed free lances. the last dispute were not those who were in attendance when the terms were accepted. The dispute, in fact, can have two national conferences of a very different character so far as the representatives of the Derbyshire miners are concerned.

This should be altered by an amendment to Rule 73 of the Association's constitution as follows:-Delete the words-

"Lodges in rotation shall appoint delegates to all conferences that the council decides to be represented at." And substitute-

"All delegates to conferences shall be nomi-Officials and executive members may be delegates like the ordinary members. The delegate council, or, in case of emergency, the lodges by postal vote, shall decide at what conferences the Association shall be represented."

Resolutions for M.F.G.B. Conference.

Miners' Association. Derbyshire lodges sent into their great Lock-out. council meeting five resolutions for the last M.F.G.B. Conference. The Derbyshire Association is, however, only allowed to table three resolutions in one year for the M.F.G.B. discussion. The resolutions sent in by lodges, and rejected by the council meeting,

(1) A Federation fighting fund.

(2) A Federation Journal.

(1) Six shifts pay for five days' work. (2) The abolition of the contract system.

(3) State control of hospitals.

These resolutions show that the membership is, as yet, mainly Reformist in opinion, that it has has yet no conception of the working class joining as a concerted body in the class struggle. The members voted for six shifts pay for five days' work because they saw in it an immediate gain, and did not contemplate the fact that they are opposed by a united capitalism which manipulates the rise and fall in the cost of living. They voted for the abolition of the contract system as a pressing evil under which they suffer; but their minds did not extend to the idea of abolishing the wage slavery system. They voted for State control of hospitals, because, as miners, they are always liable to accident, and have a daily interest in receiving better hospital accommodation and treatment.

On the other hand, they were not interested in a The resolutions for the Derbyshire Miners' Asso-to put up a stronger national struggle against the and, if the executive thinks well, it circulate employers. They failed to realise that even the resolutions to the branches. It is of course in resolutions they chose to adopt are but waste paper for branches to instruct their delegates on without fighting power behind them, and that the tions they have not seen. All resolutions and are fight to secure such reforms would be greater than ments should be printed and circulated to branch a mere local one.

which they might educate themselves and weld them- Indeed, it is time the organisation drew up

The membership of the Derbyshire Miners' Association is therefore not highly advanced in its views. Nevertheless, the membership is potentially further the remarks which I shall have to make will apply advanced than its leaders; the membership, however ignorant and backward, is suffering under the oppressions of the capitalists; the leaders are largely emancipated from that position, and since they were not originally of revolutionary fibre, and Communist belief in most cases, they, therefore, inevitably drift rightward. Where the leadership is staunchly Communist and revolutionary, the power of immediately influencing policy by the rank and file may often prove a danger. Where the leadership is reactionary, the only chance to obtain progress is by a constitution giving opportunity to the waves of mass feeling to bring a speedy pressure to bear upon the driving wheel as they arise. That is why it is so important, either to democratise the machinery of the industrial organisations, Resolutions at Labour Party Conferences.

The Agenda of Labour Party Conferences does not come before the lodges. A resolution demanding Moreover, lodges should write to their own E.C. asking for this Agenda meanwhile, and should send resolutions for it to be brought up at their councili meeting. If the Agenda is not obtainable from the As the lodge delegates to the conferences are sent Derbyshire Miners' E.C., and, in any case as an by the lodges in turn, there is no continuity in the extra precaution, lodges should also apply for it representation. The same subject may be discussed to the Secretary of the Labour Party. The same by two or more conferences; the Derbyshire dele- steps should be taken regarding the Trade Union do not represent the union, they represent their At present the delegates from the lodges receive particular lodges. If it is the turn of a reactionary no mandate on the resolutions for these conferences, lodge in a backward district to send a delegate, because as the Agendas are not before them they the delegate will vote for reaction; if it is the turn cannot instruct the delegates. The delegates vote of a lively, forward lodge, the delegate will vote for for M.F.G.B. resolutions and do as they please on other questions: in fact, they are practically unin-

> The Derbyshire Labour Party, however, discusses Rush up the sky, ye clouds of night the Labour Party Conference Agenda, and as the Ye warriors of the storm ! miners have delegates there, they are perhaps, to a certain extent, influenced by its decisions.

The Triple Alliance Executive.

The miners' representatives on the Executive of the Triple Alliance are elected by the National Conference of the M.F.G.B. The rank and file have no part in their choice. The question of who the miners' delegates are to vote for ought to be discussed by the lodges, but it is not.

Triple Alliance Conference.

The executive members of the M.F.G.B. attend nated by the lodges and the list of nominations the Triple Alliance Conferences by virtue of office. shall be sent to the lodges, and the delegates Such "outside offices," as they are called by the shall be elected at council meetings by lodge members, are monopolised at present by the officials delegates on the instructions of their lodges. and executive members of the various districts. The Reds should select their candidates and fight to conferences, but only if nominated by a lodge for the right to push them through lodge meetings and elected by lodge delegates at council meetings to delegate council meetings, and from thence to the offices they wish their candidates to occupy.

Resolutions to Triple Alliance Conference. These are sent in by the M.F.G.B. Executive.

and the miners in the lodges do not even know what they are till a report is circulated about eight. Resolutions for the M.F.G.B. Conference may come months later. No printed report has yet appeared from the council or the Executive of the Derbyshire of the deliberations in connection with the recent-

Delegates to Trade Union Congress.

All that has been done with regard to the M.F.G.B. representation applies also to the Trade Union Congress, and the subject is regarded with complete indifference by the lodges. The Reds sho get their lodges to nominate Red representatives for M.F.G.B. Executive and T.U.C. Parliamentary Committee, and send these forward to be discussed at Those sent in by the lodges and accepted by the the next council meeting. They should have it out, council for tabling at M.F.G.B. Conference, were fairly and squarely, as to whether this is to be a matter for arrangement by the officials or not.

The Labour Party Executive.

Lodges can nominate the representatives to be put him, before his encounter with the four police was would oppose his amendment on the ground forward on behalf of the miners for the Labour Party Executive, and a vote on this question may be taken through the districts, but the question as to whether the Derbyshire Miners' vote shall go for J. H. Chomas, James Sexton, Tom Shaw or other representatives of other industries is not voted on; delegates get instructions as to the miners' representative, but no further. The Reds in the lodges should send in resolutions for the next conference that delegates should be instructed as to how they should vote on all candidates for Labour Party E.C. and Trade Union Congress Parliamentary Committee. The Reds should also formulate a list of candidates, get these candidates nominated by as many lodges as possible, and try to secure that the lodges shall vote for them.

Resolutions for D.M.A. Conference.

federation fighting fund, which would enable them ciation's own conferences are sent in by the lodges

A resolution to this effect should be put in the They were not interested in a national journal by which are very sketchy and imperfect at n plete set of new rules. The Reds should committee of their own to work on this at on > Cresswell, by the way (the place where the of the "Dreadnought" was fined £50 under D.O.R.A., and where the miners most didly rallied to her defence), has a Vigiland mittee that is trying to wake things up. Cress.

The whole question is at present chaotic.

A resolution to the following effect would to put the matter of resolutions into concrete shan

"All resolutions for D.M.A. Conference lodges must be embodied in a preliminary aver and circulated to lodges for amendment. ments and resolutions must be circulated branches as a final agenda.

"Lodges may send resolutions and ments to the executive for Labour Party Union Congress, M.F.G.B. and Triple congresses. These must be circulated to in order that they may be voted upon at Council or by postal vote of lodges i emergency. Agendas of Labour Party. Union Congress, M.F.G.B. and Triple Congresses must be circulated to lodges that they may instruct their delegates Such agendas must be discussed at D.M.A gates' Council Meetings specially summoned that purpose.'

The restriction on the number of resolution in to the M.F.G.B., which is a handicap to pr should be abolished. A resolution to this should be put forward.

TWILIGHT OF STORM.

Fly with the wind of the sea, Fly with pennons of grey outflung To the wide sweep of the boundless dome, The pageant place of all the tempests Time has loosed upon our world.

Race with the death of the day, ye clouds Heralds of the hurricane to come, Van of the turmoil and the strife Waged and to be while yet suns swing In ordered paths around yet other suns.

Look on this tumult, ye warrior lords, Ye crowned and yet uncrowned kings, Ye princelings of the mart and State, Ye indolent and slothful ones. Let this stupendous peep-show of the skies homas and Barnes.

Be a symbolic warning that ye may, If fortune smiles, escape the horror of the day That else will be another Twilight of the God JAMES WALDO FAWCETT

South Casco, Maine, U.S.A.

WHITE TERROR IN ENGLAND—Continued and that he had persuaded Bernstein to accome pany him. In concluding his letter, Bernstell explains its postponement. He says that he Lenagh left Taylor's at 10.20 p.m., and walk home as far as their ways lay together, and the Lenagh had hardly gone ten yards after qu men, who were in plain clothes.

The case is so glaring, that no comment be strong enough for it. It was even too glaring for a Bench of capitalist magistrates. 1 was so obviously attacked for his activitie behalf of the unemployed, that even the mag trates felt obliged to let him off. We I however, warn our readers that if the method used in this case represent the official police the Government, magistrates will presently found who will fall into line and readily so the matter with their consciences in some W

This is a very important case which should no means be allowed to pass unnoticed.

ARLIAMENT AS WE SEE IT.

dem has its roots in economic conditions. in the Civil Service.

Hills moved a resolution that women shall in the civil service under the same as men after a transition period of two "provided that arrangements in hand for on of ex-service men on special terms vented or delayed."

Horne, for the Government, moved an to put the matter of for three years add the following phrase:that the allocation by the Civil Service

n of such candidates as qualify at the on shall be made with due regard to the ents of the situation to be filled." ther clause knocked the bottom out of untry this House cannot commit itself to ase in the Civil Service salaries involved men as compared with men shall be reviewed said, protested Barnes:a period not exceeding three years."

orthern Railway, of which he is Chairman, do very well for 4 or 5 hours, but after seem to get confused and cannot keep that he had had a circular from the of Women Clerks and Secretaries, which to the Trade Union Congress, saying that effective ought to replace men in the Civil Service ew of the need for National Economy, and 560,000 could be saved by employing them Grade I. men. These dear ladies state members do not mind being replaced by Trade Union Congress and the members nisation should have a straight talk! with send out such circulars. The class vidently is not taken into account by the tion of Women Clerks and Secretaries.

e "Worker." Hall (C.U.) said that the National Workers' and the Scottish "Worker" are sub-Russian Bolshevik money. He said that by Tom Barker in the "Worker" was and declared that Barker is an alien erican. He called on the Government to ch "undesirable aliens out of the country. secuting the Ex-Soldier.

homas Flowers was sentenced to a month's iment because, having been granted 25s. a which was doubled on condition that he took ospital treatment, he left the hospital unafter nine operations, and continued to draw ension for some weeks.

Government's Railway Bill—Thomas again efends Railway Directors-A Duel between ernment Bill amalgamates several railway It limits, by agreement with the railompanies, of course, the number of people are to sit on the railway boards. Within those out in, it appears, purely as a matter of railway companies are to decide how ctors there shall be as well as to appoint tors they choose. Barnes, the renegade Labourist, moved an nent to emable the workers to elect seven whether the Board is to number 21, or in some cases. Barnes said that he would content with a smaller number, but he because that number had been suggested .-Commander Kenworthy, the energetic and ous Liberal member for Central Hull.

declared that he was anxious to establish ciple of joint control of industry by the ers and the employers. He said that J. H. would upset an arrangement come to between alway companies and the N.U.R. officials out-H. Thomas in the main, of course. He ered the bargain an exceedingly bad one. The ter of Transport had told the House that the This proposal, Barnes asserted:-

eliminated by the workmen in consideration this country than was actually the case. to have that Wages Board. The Bill authorises policy was bringing results.

iminal Law Amendment Bill, the chief Member for Derby has made a bad bargain. He which is the protection of young girls, has given up something and got nothing, or very little, in return." Barnes added that-

"Thomas and his friends had 'closed the avenue to one of the finest opportunities that has been presented to the workmen in his time.""

Will Railway Wages Board Disappear? Barnes further asserted that one of the railway managers had said in a committee in the House

Board as purely temporary. interests, afterwards stated, in reply to Barnes, that of a strike breaking out in another industry or in this remark by a railway manager was "unfortunate," but that is no guarantee that it is not an accurate

Thomas Defends himself.

Thomas replied to Barnes that to impose joint control by Act of Parliament would not bring about "that good feeling between employers and employé regard to the present financial position that we all desire." It was no use, he said, seeking to impose on employers conditions which they "absolutely refuse to accept." Sir Frederick Banbury. ment of women in all cases at the same one of the railway directors with whom Barnes en, but the question of the remuneration sought to hitch the N.U.R. up as directors, had

"He will not have us-he will have nothing to piect provided opportunity for a long debate do with us whatever. . . . If the railway directors ch effort to curry favour with women electors. had welcomed the innovation, of course we should said he had been a pioneer in advocating have jumped at it, but what earthly good is it to par for men and women and women factory say by Act of Parliament to them: 'you must have these men as directors and then assume that all is Frederick Banbury (C.U.) said that on the going to work smoothly.' It is going to do nothing peasantry-held in Berlin-resolved that:of the kind, and instead of making a bad bargain I say we have done quite the contrary. A body of 500 men is not an easy body to control. It is a fairly formidable body, and a body containing various

That was a broad hint by Thomas that the railway capitalists would not like the railway workers sitting as co-directors with them, and that they ought to be deeply grateful to Thomas for keeping the workers so thoroughly in order. He said there is unanimity between the general managers and the N.U.R. officials on a working scheme for eliminating disputes.

The agreement we made was made on the understanding that we should not go on with this particular proposal. If he divides on this Amendment I shall Compulsory Labour Proposal. go into the Lobby against it.

For this, Thomas said, he would be attacked out- by the A.D.G.B., July 10:side, and he pleaded with Barnes to withdraw the Amendment, which Barnes finally did.

Our View.

We do not believe in schemes of joint control between workers and employers: we do not believe they are workable unless the workers in jointly controlled works accept the conditions prevailing in industry outside. In that case the workers cannot benefit much, if at all, from joint control.

Moreover, and this is the chief objection to joint control, the workers in that case abandon the class struggle. If they continue the class struggle they cannot accept joint control with the employer in carrying on his business.

Those who are looking forward to the abolition of capitalism must oppose joint control, because it takes the workers who co-operate in it out of the class

The Position of J. H. Thomas.

J. H. Thomas supports joint control, his reason being that he desires to damp down the class struggle. He believes in "joint control," so he says, but he does not wish to have it forced on the railway companies against their will, even though the Government may be willing to do so. Therefore he accepts a Wages Board and an informal conciliation employer and employed— that, at least, is what he internationally to create relief committees for sendposition? We think not.

Is the Government Willing to give Joint Control? ... Would the Government have persevered with the and the Central Co-operative Union. joint control scheme in defiance of the railway companies, had the N.U.R. desired it?

Certainly not. The Government would not force anything in opposition to any great capitalist interest, because the workers wanted it. The Government is the creature of the great capitalist interests? exists to work for them. The Government's dallying with joint control and other such ideas took place during the war peribd' when labour was shorter than the demand for it, when ment had submitted to the employers and the temper of the workers seemed militant when ers the framework of a Bill giving the workers some people thought the influence of the Russian Revolution had a greater grip on the workers of

Board. On that strictly sectional or technical danger profits, it might be worth capitalists while to me. of the matter I submit that it is a bad temporise with labour—at any rate, to talk of tem-ing of that notice the National Wages Board organisations to carry out their strike threats, the Say, when we get Communism. exist. The Wages Board may cease to loss of the railway strikes and the coal lock-out, operate . . I submit that the hon. changed the picture. No need for conciliation now, King is getting an increase.

say the capitalists. So conciliation is gradually But perhaps the capitalists are over-reaching themselves. Let us hope so.

FOREIGN NOTES.

How German Government helps in lowering

The German Government has issued the following order, which is contained in the Reichs-arbeitsblutt of June 30th: " Not only may no employment pay be given to workers who were employed in an industry of Commons that the managers regarded the Wages wholly or in part closed in consequence of a strike or lock-out, but it is also to be withheld from those Sir George Younger, on behalf of the railway persons who are thrown out of work in consequence another industry suspended by reason of a lock-out; so long as the strike or lock-out is the preponderating cause of the unemployment."-Kommunistischer Gewerkschafter, July 23rd.

This will spread to Britain next.

White Terror in Belgrade.

'Many of the prisoners are forced to fantastic confessions by the following methods of examination. The suspect is hung up in a chimney by the legs. head downwards, and fire lighted under his head And a day later the government press is full of new sensational discoveries which the government had already prepared bejforehand, and which are necessary for the carrying out of the White Terror." In Belgrade alone there are 14,000 arrested .-

Die Rote Fahne, Aug. 3rd.

German Agricultural Labourers. A conference of German land-workers and small

"In order to meet the dangers which threaten the proletariat in general and the agricultural proletariat in particular, the agricultural workers must resolutely take up the fight to destroy the power of capital and Junkerdom. The Conference warns the agricultural workers that the leaders of fhe D.L.V. show no will to fight. The bureaucratic tendency of the D.L.V. purposely hampers the revolutionising of the Union, and hence the class-war on the land, which must be carried on by the landworkers, in close association with the town proletariat, for the overthrow of the bankrupt capitalist and Junker system."

-Kommunistischer Gewerkschafter, June 18.

Beidermann, at the Hamburg Conference called

"It is thought that, in place of the former two years' compulsory military service, there should be a similar duty to labour-service. It is clear to all that, in the two years' military service, we have lost a valuable piece of education. The idea of a service owing to the community has fallen :1.10 decay. There is no more feeling amongst our young people of any responsibility towards the community. . . . And therefore the idea of one year's compulsory labour for young people from 19 to 21 is altogether congenial to me. "The idea of a ninth and tenth working hour has been put forward by the economists in connection with the rendering of the compulsory labour year. We may deprecate this method and yet we shall be forced to employ it, because, in the fulfilment of peace obligations, this current of ideas plays an enormous part. . . . We shall not be able simply to stand on one side. We forced the signature of the Treaty, we are therefore under an obligation to assist on our part, as much as possible, in shouldering the burden. Labour can only do this by giving more work. It implies that the workers, as the real base of economics, must bear the load."

-Der Kommunistischer Gewerkschafter, Berlin. Russian Famine.

Tchitcherine, through Rosta, Soviet Russia's official scheme in the interests of brotherly love between news agency, appeals to Labour organisations to unite gives out to the world as his motive. Having made ing food and medicine to Soviet Russia. In ten a bargain with the railway companies for something provinces 41,000,000 million poods of grain are less, he will even go so far as to oppose joint needed at once, and 15,000,000 million poods of control if Parliament attempt to make it law. seed before September 15th. Rosta states that no Oh, honourable Thomas! But is that really the disorder has occurred in the famine areas. Delegates are being sent to Europe from the Famine Relief Committee, the Central Trade Union Council Equal Economic Status coming at Last.

Twenty Moscow factories employing 100,000 workers were, on August 1st, put on a new collective remuneration system. The system is that the State pays to the factory money and kind wages as a collective body in accordance with its general efficiency. This is divided equally amongst the workers and employees by a Wage Committee.

Imaginative Tom: If we was rich we'd have a ing a quid pro quo in the shape of a National If industrial unrest became so great as to en- boat, and I'd learn to row it. Daddy would teach Daddy: Chuck that, my boy. No use sayin', "If because they have not a National Wages porising gave such apostles of industrial peace as we was rich." You want to go along bein' rich, except in so far as the other side allow. Thomas the chance to tell the workers that their do you, and leavin' the comrades to go on slummin' it while you're rowin' round a-lookin' for waterside to give twelve months' notice, and on The oft-repeated failure of the great industrial lilies, as if you was the Duke o' Westminster hisself.

In the very day that the amalgamation schemes the trade depression, the vast unemployment, have Everyone else's wages are going down, but the

CORRESPONDENCE.

John MacDonald (New Zealand) writes: "New Zealand factory-made butter is preserved with boracic acid: all butter from the factories sold retail here has on the printed wrapper, 'Preservatised by 2 oz. per lb. with boracic acid.' Export butter is preserved to the same extent. Owing to length of distance of New Zealand to save cost and substitute for salt, which is a healthy method, boracic acid is used, which stops the digestive juices from function Medical authorities declare it to be harmful and productive of mal-nutrition. The U.S.A. Govern- Continental publishers. ment refuses to permit the import of New Zealand butter because it contains boracic acid."

[Or is not this to protect the American producer from New Zealand competition .- ED., "Workers'

Dreadnought."] "Why should the British worker consume a product that America with all its corruption and ruthlessness decides is not fit for human consumption?" [Because it pays Big Business that he should .-

ED.] "The farming and merchant class in New Zealand are now cutting down wages and altering hours as fast as they can. The country has a large unemployed section, and worse to follow?"

R. G. writes: "I am only a youngster, and have learnt more through the "Dreadnought" than any other paper. I should like you some time to run a series of articles on the S.L.P., the W.I.I.U. and the Workers' Committee Movement, and the C.P., showing where their methods differ. Unfortunately this branch of the C.P. thinks too much of Parliamentarism. The Labour candidate got a big vote here last election. The C.P. thinks it has a large backing, but it is nearly all 'hot air,' steady plodding and educational work is needed, not election stunts. Wishing you and the paper every success in the fight."

[Many thanks; bearing your points in mind.-ED.]

RUSSIAN BOLSHEVIKS AND ANARCHISTS. Dear Editor,-In your issue of August 6th, under the heading of "The Grief and Glory of Russia,"

Henry Sara writes:-"Several capitalist newspapers have from time to time given considerable sympathy—and space to the tales of Bolshevik tyranny towards the Anarchist movement in Moscow. A forged statement is in circulation, bearing signatures of prominent Anarchists like Emma Goldman, Alexander Berkman and Shapiro." I presume that Mr. Sara is referring to the letter to Lenin and the principal ruling bodies in Russia, which appeared in "Freedom" (June issue). This letter reached us by means of the underground route which our comrades in Russia are compelled to use, and we have every confidence in its authenticity. Mr. Sara does not give a scrap of evidence in favour of this statement that it is a forgery. But there is one means of testing it which is open to him, as he is persona grata at Moscow. Let him send a copy of "Freedom," in which the letter appears, to A. Shapiro or Emma Goldman, and ask them whether the letter is genuine. We promise to print their reply in "Freedom," but stipulate that the reply shall be in their own handwriting. As our letters to Moscow are lost on the way, and "Freedom" meets with the same fate, we must rely on Mr. Sara's good offices. We challenge his statement, and ask him to supply the proof of it.

> Yours, etc., THOMAS H. KEELL, Editor, "Freedom."

YOUNG WORKERS' LEAGUE v. LABOUR PARTY. E. W. Wagstaff writes to complain that the Hampstead Labour Party refused a room to the Hampstead Young Workers' League because the Executive of the Labour Party objected to the "Left Wing" speeches of the Young Workers' deputation. He wants comrades to get busy.

DREADNOUGHT BOOK SERVICE.

H. Howard Warrington.—You do not send the necessary deposit.

ANSWERS TO CORRESPONDENTS.

- A. Gosling (Yorkshire).—Thanks for increased order. M. E. Marsh (Portsmouth).—Thanks; hope you will have good luck.
- F. W. Taylor (Sutton).—Thanks; glad to welcome your co-operation.
- C. Drake (Custom House).-Many thanks; send us your impressions on the situation from time to
- F. Haughton (4, Station Road, Winchmore Hill, N.E. 1).-Thanks for your kind promise to act as agent for us at the beginning of September. We send your a show card to help your sales.
- Cresswell .- always glad to hear from Cresswell and Clowne. We know what a fine body of workers tney are.
- Rosyth.—Tranks for promise to try to clear debt and work up sales; that is the best sort of help. Let us have it as soon as you can.

WORKERS' DREADNOUGHT BOOK SERVICE.

152, FLEET STREET (Entrance first door on left in Bolt Court from Fleet Street.)

Open Daily till 5 p.m. Saturdays 6 p.m. Sundays 11 a.m. to 1 p.m.

By arrangements now completed, we are in a position to supply promptly to comrades who will favour us with their orders, any book they desire, either from English, American, Tr

By buying books from us, Comrades will get a prompt and reliable service; will be assured of our personal attention to their orders, and will have the pleasant feeling that, if only in a small degree, they have assisted propaganda.

By buying their books from us, the middleman's profit is abolished, because it will be devoted purely to assist the propaganda.

If you are in London, you may probably conveniently call at our office, consult publishers' catalogues and place your orders there and then.

If you are outside London, you must add to your order, on the average, one penny for every shilling, to cover postage.

In cases when you are not sure of the name of the publisher and the cost of the book, send us all the particulars you have and a deposit. We will do the rest and promptly communicate with

In some cases, certain classes of books are available in London, second-hand, in good condition, and at a low price. If we know what you want, we shall endeavour to find the book for you, provided always a deposit is sent.

In the case of foreign books, postage is charged to the buyer, from London only, and the nrice fixed at the current rate of exchange.

price fixed at the current rate of exchange.
WE HAVE IN STOCK
Books on History and Economics.
Modern Science (Leo Tolstoy)	2d.
An Appeal to the Young (P. Kropotkin)	2d.
Gold, Prices and the Witwatersrand (R. A.	S. Free
Lehfeldt)	5/-
Origin of Poverty, and Formation of the Village Community (J. St. Lewinski,	The state of
D.Ec.Sc., Brussels)	3/6
The Industrial and Commercial Revolutions in Great Britain during the Nineteenth Century. (L. C.A. Knowles, Litt.D.).
432 pages. Cr. 8vo	6/6
The Industrial History of Modern England.
(G. H. Perris). 603 pages	8/6
The Inequality of Incomes in Modern Communities (Hugh Dalton, M.A.). 8vo. ... 10/6 The Working Life of English Women in the Seventeenth Century. 8v. ...... 10/6 Civil War in France (Karl Marx) ...... 3/-A.B.C. of Communism (Bukharin) ...... 2/9 Communism (Eden and Cedar Paul) ...... 6d. A History of Trades Councils, 1860-1875 (Cicely Richards) ...... 1/-With the Turk in War Time (Marmaduke Pickthall) ..... 5/-Red Europe (Frank Anstey) ...... 3/3 Economic Consequences of the Peace (Keynes) ...... 2/-Abolition of Money (Seijiro Kawashima, Editor of "Dai Nippon") ...... 1/6
	1010

A large Stock of Russian Literature. Before and After the Revolution (S. Carlyle Potter) ...... 1/-

A Market Bundle (A. Neil Lyons, Author of

Novels, Poetry, etc., with a Communist Tendency

"'Awkins," etc.) ...... 7/-Looking Beyond. A Sequel to "Looking Backward" (L. A. Geissler) ..... paper 1/6 Looking Backward (Edward Bellamy) paper 2/limp cloth 3/stiff boards 3/6 My Life, and other Stories, from the Russian (Anton Tchekhov) ...... 7/-The Green Ring, and other Stories, from the Russian (Zinaida Hippins) ...... 3/6 Works by Anatole France (Translated into English) ..... 2/-The Crime of Sylvestre Bonnard ...... 2/-The Red Lily ...... 2/-Penguin Island ...... 2/-Thais ...... 2/-Monsieur Bergeret in Paris ...... 7/6 Clio and the Chateau de Vaux-le-Vicomte... 7/6 On Life and Letters (3rd Series) ...... 7/6

Le Comte Morin Deputé (Illustrated by Henri Basthelemy) ...... 7/6 Marguérite (Illustrated by Siméon) ...... 7/6 The Spy (Upton Sinclair) ...... 3/6 The Iron Heel (Jack London) ...... 2/-A Communion of Sinners (Evelyn Sharp) ... 1/6 Prison Impressions (Clara Gilbert Cole) .... 6d.

(4th Series) ...... 7/6

Communist Books, Literature and Periodicals in German, French, Russian, Norwegian, Dutch, etc.

Reduced Rates are offered to customers taking over a hundred copies of the following pamphlets

Name or Title	Price	Price	Price per 100.
Red Russia (Reed)	6d.	4/-
Ireland (Gorter)		9d.	16/-
the Finnish Revolution		2/6	8/.
The Communist Party (Zinoviev)		1/6	8/-
The Hungarian Revolution
(Schmidt)		8/9	-24/-
Bourgeois Democracy (Lenin)		1/6	8/-
The Truth About Russia		0/
(Ransome)		8/-	12/
Facts About Communist Hun- gary (Alice Riggs Hunt)		3/-	10/
To British Workers (with map			16/- explaining Soviets' working system		2d.	1/-
An Appeal to the Young
(Stewart)	2d.	1/6	8/-
Communist Song Book	4d.	3/-	8/-
	Nº / A	The state of

RECEIVED FOR REVIEW.

The Communist International, published in Moscow (German edition), contains a report of the III. Congress of Comintern. Articles by A. Ronmer. J. Friis, Zinoviev, Lenin, E. Varga, F. Kapelusch. O. W. Kuusinen, Tom Barker, Trotski, Lutatscharski, W. B. Haywood, Sen Katayama and others. A photograph of Comrade Sylt on his deathbed. The Plebs, August.

Unemployment and Industrial Insurance. By D. H. Cole. Labour Publishing Company. 6d.

The American Empire. Scott Nearing Rand School. U.S.A. 50 cents.

EXCHANGES.

Papers exchanging with the "Workers' Dreadnought" should be sent to 152 Fleet Street, London, E.C. 4.

THE EDITOR "AT HOME."

The Editor will be in the Workers' Dreadmought office, to meet comrades, the last Sunday in every month, from 4 p.m. to 6 p.m.

ADVERTISEMENTS. OUR RATES.

One Single inch (up to three inches) ...... 58. Every additional inch after three inches ....... 48. Contracts for not less than 13 weeks 25% discount. Contracts for a column, half column, page and half page with liberal discount. Terms on application to-MANAGER,

> "Workers' Dreadnought," 152, Fleet Street, E.C. 4.

LIFE-SIZE PORTRAIT OF LENIN.

In colour, 3/- each.

Order early to avoid disappointment.

BEAUTIFUL HALF-TONE PORTRAITS OF LENIN, In Black or Brown, 1/-

> From "Workers' Dreadnought" Office, 152 Fleet Street, E.C. 4.

THE YOUNG COMRADE.

A Children's Monthly. Published by the Young Communist International.

Price - - 3d.

From the "Workers' Dreadnought" Office.

DENTISTRY. For Satisfactory Teeth see F. ALDRIDGE, Communist, 44 Waterloo Road, S.E.1.

10 per cent. Discount for Comrades.

TYPEWRITERS AND DUPLICATORS.

Yost 11, £5 5s. Rem. 7, £5 5s. Barlock, £6 6s. Yost 20, £9 9s. Rem. 8, £7. Monarch, £9 9s. Oliver, £6 6s. Rem. 10, £9 9s. L. C. Smith, £9 9s. Flats, £2. Gest. Rotary, £7. Roneo, £10. PAYMENT ALSO BY INSTALMENTS.

Send for List. W. FRANCIS DEACON, 91 Long Lane, Borough, S.E.I Hop 3621.

SMALL ADVERTISEMENTS-1d. a Word.

WANTED AGENTS for the "Workers' Dread nought" in Leicester, Dowlais, and Mid-Rhondda Write for terms to "Workers' Dreadnought, Manager, 152, Fleet Street, E.C. 4.

IF YOUR Branch could do with a Reliable Type writer or Duplicator, see my Advertisement above Note Prices. Deacon, also at 14, Crooked Lane E.C. 4.

WANTED a Comrade to sell the "Workers' Dreadnought" in Victoria Park, E., on Sunday evenings 7 p.m.

Published by E. Sylvia Pankhurst at 152, Flee Street, London, E.C. 4, and printed by S. Corio at 10, Wine Office Court, Fleet Street, London E.O. 4.