Labour Fakirs attack Unemployed.

Morkers & Dreaduought For International communism. Founded and Edited by SYLVIA PANKHURST

VOL. VIII. No. 29.

SATURDAY, OCTOBER 1st, 1921.

[WEEKLY.]

PRICE TWOPENCE.

SHOULD SYNDICALISTS JOIN THE COMMUNIST PARTY?

By A COMMUNIST DOCTOR.

("La Vie Ouvrière," weekly organ of the organised revolutionary minority in the French General Confederation of Labour, has been conducting a correspondence on the above question. This article has been translated from one of those contributed to "La Vie Ouvrière." We invite our readers also to express their views on this question.)

One reply, signed "Albert Lemoine," interested me, especially by its clear-cut character, above all, in the following declaration:—

"Either the Communist Party will admit only workers, in which case it will uselessly duplicate the Labour Unions, or it will admit members, regardless of their class, and then the class-struggle it preaches becomes an absurdity or a lie."

In other words, Lemoine, like many active revolutionists wants a revolution made by the workers against all the other elements of the population, and he has more faith in the Labour Unions than in a political party.

Now, "working class" and "Labour Unions" are not identical, and both terms will stand a little closer examination.

I know an industrial city where there is a political group and a Union of metal workers.

The political organisation does not ask its members whether they work in iron, steel, literature, wood or leather. It asks them: "Do you stand for a Communist Social Revolution?" And the advocates of such a revolution are admitted to membership.

The Labour Union, on the other hand, does not question applicants as to their opinions. It merely asks them: "Do you work in the iron or steel industry?" And the metal workers join the Union without necessarily being partisans of the Social Revolution.

But lo and behold! the revolutionary Unionists scorn the revolutionary party (whose members come from different trades and callings, but are all of the same economic and political opinion) and they expect the Revolution to be achieved by the Labour Union, which draws its members from a particular trade, without reference to their opinions—an arrangement which makes it possible for anti-revolutionists to join and to feel perfectly at home—and even, at times, to constitute a majority.

Apparently, an organisation cannot do effective work for the Revolution unless it is composed of members who are not required to be revolutionists, but merely to prove that they can cut steel, tan lather, or saw wood!

And yet Lemoine is one of the railway workers who were discharged for their activity in the 1920 strike. He must have seen and learned many things. Has he forgotten certain "fellow workers," to whom he is partly indebted for the loss of his job? Jack, for example, who took part in the strike only in order to do his work as stool-pigeon for the company? Or Jim, a member of the Union, who said that, since the strike seemed to him to have a political object which went beyond the proper limits of a Labour Union, he refused to take part in it? Or George, who, timid, spineless, nagged by his wife, quit the strike the very first day?

And that is not all, for Lemoine does not speak merely of the Unions, but, more broadly, of "the working class." Well, do not Tom, Dick, and Harry also belong to the working class?—Tom, a member of the "scab" Union, and Dick and Harry, of the Catholic Railway-men's Union, all of whom worked like beavers to help break the strike? And what about the X local, which voted to strike, but not one of its members went out? Or the Y local, which likewise voted to strike, but only one man went out—and he got fired!

Nevertheless, as between members of the working class and an "intellectual," Lemoine does not hesitate for a instant. Hatred of the intellectual is the fashion just now. It is hard to say where the intellectual begins and ends. A worker in blue overalls, who stands watch all day over the running of delicate, gigantic machines, and takes the readings of countless meters and registers, is not clased as an intellectual. But the doctor, who handles knife and forceps, and climbs fifty flights of stairs a day, is dubbed by this opprobrious term, for it is an opprobrious term to-day; Lemoine's attitude on this point is becoming more and more general.

The Revolution, it would seem, is to be directed principally against the intellectuals. This promises some interesting consequences!

Of course, Lemoine assures us that he does not share in this hatred of the intellectual. He merely classes him, as well as the technician, with the rich man, the policeman and the judge, among the "ruling class," all of whom, with a wave of the hand, he would send to see how things are going on in the other world. Beyond that, he wishes them no harm: oh, no! none at all!

Now I have known some pure "intellectuals," by which I mean men who were not obliged to make any physical effort in their daily work. Some of them, as university professors, drew their salary from the Government: some lived on the sale of their books: others, favoured by fortune. "capitalist exploiters," luckily had enough to live on and to carry on scientific investigations which brought in no money, but caused them heavy expense.

Well, let me tell you, some of these "intellectuals" have given liberally of their time, strength, and money to the revolutionary movement (while the proletarian mass remained indifferent) and have been arrested and prosecuted, and their homes searched.

We are called upon to choose between such men and the Toms, Dicks and Harrys mentioned above. Lemoine's choice is quickly made. He will begin by dynamiting the intellectual, in order to get rid of this troublesome individual and teach him to mind his own business. Then he will throw himself into the arms of Tom, Dick and Harry, BECAUSE THEY BELONG TO HIS CLASS, AND THAT IS THE ONLY THING THAT COUNTS FOR HIM.

As for men like Elisée Reclus—away with them!

Well, every man to his taste. I am not a working man, but if I were, I would prefer Elisée Reclus.

Let me touch, in passing, on one question that is important, although something of a side-issue here—the general fear of "introducing politics into the Labour Unions." We lose our heads over phrases, without bothering to look into their meaning. Let me ask you, yes or no, does a Social Revolution have a political side to it? If you want the world to "change its basis of life," is that a change which affects organised society, the "polis," or community—in short, partly a political change?

What a ridiculous contradiction of terms, for revolutionists to cry: "No politics!" This position is so clearly absurb, that it can be turned right againt them. "No politics in the Labour Unions" can mean only one thing—that the Union confines itself strictly to trade questions—which, in my opinion, is its proper field, for the simple reason that it is an industrial group, composed of people who have the same trade, but not necessarily the same opinions.

One word more. Lemoine criticises the Communists for admitting bourgeois intellectuals, on the ground that many of them turn traitor. Coming from a Syndicalist, at a time when the French Syndicalist movement is being betrayed by its own leaders, this criticism is a bit simple minded. Let the Syndicalists first get the traitors out of their own ranks!

I should think that revolutionists of the working class ought to join hands with revolutionists of other classes, sooner than with members of their own class, who have so often left them in the lurch and always will do so, except, perhaps, when victory seems certain. But revolutionists of different classes cannot combine in a Labour Union, but only in a political party.

The way in which a Union recruits members makes it a purely industrial organisation. As such, it cannot normally play a political rôle and cannot, therefore, be revolutionary, since one cannot speak of revolution without entering into politics.

I believe that there can be revolutionary Syndicalists, but not revolutionary Syndicalism, except for brief periods.

In closing, let me make my position perfectly clear. I wish that the power of the Unions might be in the hands of the revolutionists, but I maintain that their efforts, their activity, their propaganda, can bring this about only occasionally and in spite of the method of recruiting members—a method which is inevitable, because it forms, so to speak, part of the very definition of a Labour Union, and which will always tend to bring the Union back to what it really is by its nature, namely, a purely professional trade group.

P.S.—As I was finishing this letter, I had an opportunity to talk with two working men, as bitter as the bourgeois against any strike or revolutionary movement. They declared that they would not give any help, or even a crust of bread, to a striker, or to any of the men who lost their jobs in the 1920 strike. Now go and make a revolution with the help of these congenial working-class brothers against those damned intellectuals!

-Translated by FREDERICK A. BLOSSOM.

YOUR SUBSCRIPTION.

A blue mark in this space indicates that your subscription is now due.

Increased Postal rates and the high cost of production of the paper necessitate prompt payment.

MAX HAVELAAR.

Edward Dowes Dekker, who used the pen name of "Multatuli," was Assistant Resident of the Dutch Government in Java during the 'fifties. He agitated against the monstrous extortions and tyrannies of which the natives were victims, and sacrificed his position in a vain effort to secure contains, he declared, nothing that was not true. We reproduce here a translation of Multatuli's work by Baron Alphonse Nahuijs, using, not the complete novel, but the more striking portions welded Havelaar, and when the salutation was over, picions. According to the doctor Slotering not be broken.

Characters in the Story.

MAX HAVELAAR, who, on coming to take up the post of Assistant Resident in Lebak, discovers that the Regent a native functionary, and other native many times complained in vain to:

MR. SLYMERING, the Resident of Bantam, the principle representative of the Dutch Government in an administrative area of which Lebak is a part, and the superior to whom the Assistant Residents, like Havelaar, must look for guidance and instructions. THE REGENT, a native functionary whose native men. title is Radeen Adhipatti and whose name is Karta Natta Negara. A Regent is a mative official appointed by the Dutch Government always belonging to the high aristocracy of his country, and usually of the family of princes who formerly governed in that part of the country.

VERBRUGGE, the Controller, an official who assists, and is subordinate to the Assistant Resident. LIEUTENANT DUCLARI, Dutch Commandant of the Garrison of Rankas-Betong.

TINE, Max Havelaar's wife.

Max, their son, a child of three years.

MRS. SLOTERING, the half-caste widow of Havelaar's predecessor, and mother of a large family. Max Havelaar on his appointment allowed her to remain in a house at his disposal, situated in the grounds of his official residence.

It is to be doubted if the speech Havelaar those letters. made when he came to take up his duties as Assistant Resident had made a lasting but always in vain; for as it was generally impression on the chiefs, but in all the known that the extortion was for the Revillages the report had spread that the gen- gent, of whom the Resident would not comtleman who had power at Rankas-Betong plain to the Government, all these conversawould do justice, and if his words were tions had no other effect than the ill-treatpowerless to prevent crime, they had at ment of the complainants. Therefore my least given the victims the courage to com- poor husband had said that if no alteration plain, however hesitatingly and secretly.

In the evening they crept through the ravine, and when Tine was sitting in her room, she was frightened by an unexpected noise, and saw before the open windows dark forms that sneaked shyly along. Very soon she started no more, for she knew what it meant when these forms wandered, like so many spectres, round the house, and asked protection of her Max. Then she beckoned him, and he got up to call in the complainants. Most of them came from the district of Parang-Koodjang, where one of the chiefs was a son-in-law of the Regent; and though this chief did not omit to take his part of the extortion, yet it was no should not soon be able to leave this place, in Tine. secret that he generally robbed in the name and I feared revenge. I have heard that of the Regent, and for his benefit. It was you, like my husband, oppose the abuses affecting to see how these poor men relied which reign here, and, therefore, I have on the chivalry of Havelaar that he would not a moment's peace. I would have connot summon them to repeat openly what cealed all this from you to avoid frightenthey told him in his room. This would ing you and Madam Havelaar, and so I only have caused their ill-treatment and the death watched the grounds to prevent strangers of many. Havelaar made notes of what they said then sent the complainants back to their villages, promising that justice should be done. He was soon afterwards at the place where the injustice happened, if he had not been there to investigate it already. He went without informing the Regent, or even the Controller Verbrugge, for he was anxious to shield the complainants from the danger of revenge and the Regent from the shame of a public inquiry. He still hoped that the chiefs would turn from the dangerous course they had followed so long; but whenever he spoke to the Regent on such matters, it was evident to him that all promises of amendment were vain. He was deeply pained by the illsuccess of his endeavours.

One afternoon Havelaar coming from his room found Tine in the fore-gallery waiting for him at the tea-table.

A Tale of the Dutch East Indies.

Madam Slotering had just left her house Now it was clear to Tine why Mada as though she were coming to Havelaar's. Sletering had kept her own household an Suddenly she turned and went to the gate, would not even make use of the kitchen with very violent gestures, sent back a man which was so large. Havelaar sent for the who had just entered. She remained stand- Controller. Meanwhile he sent a reques ing till she felt sure he had gone away, to the physician at Serang, to make a state This novel, built up from his experiences in Java, then came along the grass field to Have- ment of the symptoms attending the deal

"I will know what this means," said not in accordance with the widow's so together so that the continuity of the story shall he asked jokingly, that she might not think had died of an "abscess in the li he grudged her influence in grounds that Yet Madam Slotering had said that her were formerly hers:

> always, send back the men who come into to-day ride on horseback yesterday to inspect the grounds. What if that man, for in- a mountainous country some eighty mil stance, had fowls to sell, or any other in extent? kitchen requisite?"

ing a painful expression which did not been mistaken in his judgment of escape Havelaar's observation.

will stay away also-come now, Madam, tell can prove that everyone believed in the me why you keep such a sharp lookout on poisoning, and that this was suspected in The widow burst into tears, saying that her husband had been poisoned at Parang- laar's room; the latter asked abruptly:-Koodjang in the house of the district chief. "He would do justice." Mr. Havelaar, continued the poor woman, "he wished to put an end to the oppression of the people. He exhorted and threatened the chiefs, in councils, and in writing; you must have found his letters in the archives."

"He spoke repeatedly to the Resident, were made before the end of the year, he should aprly direct to the Governor-General. That was in November. A few days later the last question. You told me lately, when active, responsible part in it, because the he made a journey of inspection, took his there was a question about poisoning, that active and responsible were so few was a marked dinner at the house of the Demang of you were the only support of our sisters man; he must either wear out long years in Peraang-Koodjang, and soon afterwards was at Batavia—is that the reason of your fear prison, or become a hunted fugitive. He was brought home in a pitiable condition. He of what I always call your halfness?" cried while pointing to his stomach: 'fire, "Yes' fire,' and in a few hours he was dead; he who had always been remarkable for good

"Did you send for the Serang doctor?" his arrival. I did not dare to tell the doctor very fervently. When Madam Slotering was way through Europe, crossing the frontiers passmy suspicion, because I foresaw that I gone, he sent away the child, and called portless by night with the help of peasants who from entering the kitchen."

October 1, 1921.

of Slotering. The reply he received week husband was always healthy, and could . "Now Madam, do tell me why you person who dies of an abscess in the live

The doctor who treated Slotering man There was in the face of Madam Sloter- have been a skilful physician, and yet have symptoms of the disease, unprepared as "Ah" she said, "there are so many bad was to suspect crime. However this may be, I cannot prove that Havelaar's pre-"Certainly, that is the case everywhere; cessor was poisoned, because Havelaar was but if you are so particular, the good ones not allowed to clear up the matter; b account of his desire to oppose injustice.

The Controller Verbrugge entered Have. "What did Mr. Slotering die of?"

"I don't know."

"Was he poisoned?" "I don't know; but ---."

'Speak plainly, Verbrugge.' "But he endeavoured to oppose abuses as you do. . . and he would remained here longer."

Verbrugge wrote it. "To proceed, it is true, or untrue, much extortion is committed in Lebak?"

Verbrugge made no reply. "Answer me, Verbrugge!

"I dare not."

Write down that you dare not." Verbrugge wrote it down.

Verbrugge wrote it down. "That will do," said Havelaar, "I know of comrades. So, as to a light of hope shining Verbrugge left. Havelaar went out and

-to-day I accuse the Regent."

'No, Max; no, Max, I will not go . I will not go; we eat and drink together."

To be continued.

SOVIET RUSSIA

AS I SAW IT.

BY SYLVIA PANKHURST.

PRICE 2s. 6D.

WRIT ON COLD SLATE.

BY SYLVIA PANKHURST.

PRICE 1s. 6D.

From "WORKERS' DREADNOUGHT" OFFICE, 152, FLEET STREET, E.C. 4.

TANEW REPUBLIC.

the committees somehow. He was several Very slow indeed was the progress made by the mechanically:

crust and his small economies to spare a portion of his earnings to give to the workers' movement. loe, appeals for funds, for donations to fight amine and pestilence in his new country, appeals to invest in loans to the Government of his new were climbing a rope. epublic, accounts of the splendid things he was doing in the Republic; the proclamations of freeby his work and his rut, and a strange, quiet faithfulness made him reluctant to desert the old movement, those masses of sleepy exploited workers, and those few class-conscious comrades who were carrying on the old struggle, so feebly, so blunderingly, and with so remote a hope.

At last came the expected, the longed for—a general strike. It failed utterly; for the time being; the movement was wholly crushed. Jim, "Well, to proceed, you dare not answer drawn from his rut to take some more or less tired, embittered and despairing, not from the fure of the attempt, but wounded more deeply by many defections and even some treacheries before him, he set out to find Joe and the New

Yes, but my husband died soon after played with little Max, whom he kissed He left America as a stowaway: begged his pitied his pleading, and passing over the moun-Dear Tine! I have a favour to ask you tains by precarious goat tracks, to avoid the I should like you and Max to go to Batavia; sentries. Jim was a weakling, feeble in body. anaccustomed to walking, giddy and nervous of She fell on his neck, for the first time heights, insufficiently clad and with cheap thin opposea to his wishes, and cried, sobbing:- shoes soon broken. He suffered incredibly, but still he persevered, holding on at last only dully and by instinct to the quest for his goal—Joe's

Jim came at last to a deserted country with a , red sandy soil, parched and blighted and ig away into great pits and gullies. For itless hungry days he had met never a human reature, till he chanced at last upon a little log suse, at the door of which was a mumbling imapparently stone deaf. Bedridden within an old American traveller. He was stranded by illness, on his way to the New Republic. ad brought with him a company of servants, when he had grown too ill to travel. had all deserted him in their haste to reach promised land he had described to them. the idiot who could not hear his stories of ew Republic had remained to care for him. The fever under which the old man had colwas over, but he was still too weak to of a silent earnest observer in the movement, modest to claim the great Joe as his brother, cease to obey us." The other, Joe Barker, was a well-known orator, but he humbly tended the American till he was filled with a great despair: words on the stump almost every evening in the week strong enough to continue the journey, leaning which he had often heard Joe utter from the platand twice on Sundays, beside attending innumer- upon Jim's arm and with the aid of a stick. form came to his mind, and he repeated them es candidate for the City Government, for the two wayfarers, though Jim's timidity grew less "Religion is the opiate of the people: bring sake of the old man. At last they came upon a domination and all forms of superstition. There came a time after the Great War when steep mountain side that sloped down before trade depression was a blight on the Labour them to the edge of a great ravine, bridged only movement, when those who had been its active by slender tree trunks placed end to end and preperents were all out of work, a dozen men cariously attached. Jim quivered with fright were waiting outside for every man's job, and and he sank down on his hands and knees, over- sion, and all war." he funds and membership of every working- come by dizziness, dug his fingers into the earth, was almost extinguished. The section of the mountain side. The old man, who clung to him Socialists.' ovement with which Joe Barker was associ- always, sank down with him and crawled on to The procession moved off: Jim did not follow. and all leaders, and dropped into a slow, carping man's body and the grip of his twining arms and the marching feet covered him, bony shins, Jim lay for some time, speechless When he at last staggered to his feet, he set off Then it was that Joe Barker, being a man of with mental agony. Then he begged the old doggedly, though painfully, to return whence interprising temperament, set off to found a man to unloose his hold, and let him go forward he had started, telling himself that there are no new Republic somewhere in the far East. Jim, alone to the New Republic, only a few hours' short and easy cuts to progress: that the Social such a quiet, sluggish fellow, stayed at home in distant now, promising to return in haste with a Revolution is a harsh and toilsome business, an

The elder consented, and Jim, almost choked but the only thing that could satisfy him, the with fear and horror, somehow managed to cross only thing in which he could manage to believe. Years passed, and occasionally news came from the deep ravine by the slender tree trunks, clinging to them with arms and legs and body, swarming desperately along them, as though he

That night he arrived, in the dark, at Joe's headquarters; a large wooden blockhouse, dimly dom and brotherhood issued; the great equalities lit and heavy with the smoke of many pipes. That was the case. Havelaar had read certainily have been poisoned if he had instituted. Sometimes Jim had thought of going was thronged with men: Joe's closest associates, to seek the New Republic, but he was absorbed dressed brightly and richly, but rather shabbily, in an odd and unfamiliar dress. The talk was loud, the bottles circulated freely; the remains of a huge supper were on the table. Joe, stouter duce women into the old political scramble withand older, but otherwise little changed, sat in the out changing it!

excitedly for something to be done, Joe curtly she is a Coalition M.P. and a Unionist. motioned him to be silent and went on talking with his companions in a language that Jim could not understan l.

noise of shouting and tramping and the beating the head of Lady Astor's Government? Really, of gongs. Joe told Jim there was to be a great there is little to choose between the leadingfestival; he was dressing himself in a strange strings in which these two ladies are held—both beaded head-dress and a long robe shaped like a their parties are out to maintain the capitalist dressing gown, but made of bright-coloured striped silk, and thickly wadded, so that it stuck out stiffly and made Joe look as stiff and as artificial as a china figure.

Joe strutted out of the house and Jim followed. Now it was daylight Jim saw that he was in the the conventional ruts of social work and politics midst of a wretched village of poor little huts that open out before women of their respective built of earth and wood; the sandy road was positions in regard to their class and their matriunpaved, and the people, with matted hair and monial connections. clad in filthy rags, went barefoot. They were No more than a man can a woman exercise as over a bone they had found lying by the door of the social system, unless she is possessed of ideas visible between their clutching hands.

A procession was forming, headed by Joe's friends whom Jim had seen the night before, and Lady Astor to make any difference in politics, a dozen men in gorgeous embroidered robes, chanting and swinging incense burners: before them went naked men, chained together by the neck and tossing up coloured balls, or beating to be

It was like a Roman Catholic procession, combined with something ruder and more primitive. Jim caught Joe's robe:

"What is it all about?" he gasped, dumbdupright. He showed Jim a pressing invita- "This is a religious festival: those are !he to visit the New Republic which he had re. Councillors, the priests, and the slaves the Refrom Joe, and many testimonials of appre- public has taken in battle. The people still have

Two brothers were Socialists; but one, Jim ciation for the large sums of money and con- religious cravings; they are still impressed by parker was a quiet fellow, a very quiet fellow signments of goods which he had collected for the ceremonials; we are obliged to organise these Yankee, and took little more than the part Republic over a period of years. Jim was too functions to impress them; otherwise they would tate Legislature, for Congress and the when he had another to care for, and his feeble down the Kings from the thrones and the gods esidency; indeed, he was an indefatigable strength was capable of bigger efforts for the from the skies; set mankind free from every

"Education and economic equality are the

"Call no man master and no man slave.

"Socialism will banish all slavery, all oppres-

"Oh, that," said Joe; "but it will be fifty class organisation were so low, that propaganda clutching the scanty tufts of grass on the years at least before people will begin to be sted turned bitterly away from all candidatures his back. Oppressed by the weight of the old He fell fainting on the ground, and the dust of his rut, continued his labours to earn his daily band of Joe's stalwart Republicans to fetch him. affair of patient hardship and constant sacrifice,

ANOTHER WOMAN IN PARLIAMENT

The undiscriminating feminists are rejoicing, of course, that another woman has entered Parliament. Now, they hope, we may be on the high road to the millenium: that is to say, those of them who are spirited enough to desire a millenium: so many of them want only to intro-

Some of them who are discriminating enough Jim eagerly told his tale of the old American to notice that Lady Astor has not cut an imposing left alone on the mountain, and showed the old figure in Parliament, are taking the cue given man's letter of invitation from Joe, and his packet by certain Liberal newspapers, in saying that of testimonials for services rendered; but no one Lady Astor has been handicapped in radiating the rose to go to his assistance, and when Jim pressed power of a woman's influence, by the fact that

Mrs. Wintringham is also, however, a capitalist party hack, though her party happens to be out of office and of a slightly different complexion; Jim sat all night near to Joe's feet, on a box from that of Lady Astor. In office Mrs. Wintring with a broken lid, listening to the talk and ham's party would be much the same as Lady watching the bottles circulate, till he fell asleep. Astor's; indeed, have we not Mr. Lloyd George, In the morning he was wakened by a great who comes from Mrs. Wintringham's party, at system as it is.

> Both these ladies desire to put bandages on the sores that fester upon the social system. They both supported the war; they both follow haggard and emaciated. Some children fought beneficient influence and bring about reforms in Joe's house, gnawing together at the bits of it and a policy combined with the courage to break away from the restraints of old convention.

> Mrs. Wintringham appears as little likely as though it is hardly possible that a second woman will prove so glaringly inconsistent as the first woman Member of Parliament has shown herself

> > " MOSCOW."

Daily Organ of the III. Congress of the "Comintern" (Communist International). 3d. each. 4d. Post Free.

An interesting and valuable record. From the "WORKERS' DREADNOUGHT" Office, Editor: SYLVIA PANKHURST.

An Matter for Publication to be Addressed to the Editor Business Communications to the Manager: Workers' Dreadnought, 152, Fleet Street, London, E.C.4. TELEPHONE: CENTRAL 7240, SUBSCRIPTION: ... Post Free 3/3 THREE MONTHS (13 weeks) SIX MONTHS (26 weeks) ONE YEAR (52 weeks) 13/-

Vol. VIII. No. 29. Saturday, October 1, 1921.

THE GRIP OF CAPITALISM IN RUSSIA.

Soviet Russia and the Trade Agreements with Capitalist Powers.

The reply from Berzin, of the Russian Trade Delegation, to Lord Curzon's allegation that the Third International was carrying on anti-British propaganda in India, Persia, and Afghanistan, is unpleasant reading for Communists. After refuting the accusations, Berzin says:-

proof of its good intentions in taking Russia against that wicked ogre Churchill. stitute a breach of the Agreement."

Offence to his Britannic Majesty's Government! Capitalists fight Soviets. All propaganda for Communism gives offence to the British Government. Is this statement to be construed to apply to the Third International? Presumably it is, since it was the London from Moscow without any very de- lives and relationship of rich and poor. If equali-Third International which Lord Curzon specific- finite conclusions being arrived at. Agree- sation of Rates be secured, the rich in the West ally accused of propaganda. It therefore means, ment with the Soviet Government is hanging End will take steps to recoup themselves for the in the long run, that the Third International must fire, like the Irish question. The Soviet change; as landlords of working-class dwelling suspend all revolutionary propaganda where Trade Government beholds millions of the people they will seek a pretext for increasing rents and Agreements between Soviet Russia and capitalist starving, but is slow to give them the oppor- reducing improvements and repairs; as traders Powers have been entered into.

Third International Barred in the East.

For the present, the position is that the Third International in the East is absolutely suspended by these pledges, in return for a trade agreement which has been but of very small value to Soviet Russia.

In the East, at least, a new organisation must What he had to say was not very definite the'r wealth. How hopeless is the path of piecearise to take up the work of propaganda and preparation for the International Communist Revolution: either that, or the propaganda must be entirely local and unrelated to any international movement.

There are signs that it is not only in the East in the Russo-Asiatic mines. that the Third International is being weakened by the compromises of into which the Russian been arrived at, though it is quite possible Boards mitigated but very slightly the hard lot Government has thought it necessary to enter, this may be otherwise within a short time, of the sweated workers. as well as by the apportunist attitude it is adopt- particularly as M. Krassin is again visiting ing in many directions.

Left Communist organisations that met in will be returned to their rightful owners.' Germany the other day, to form a new Inter- The last passage is exceedingly ominous, in which you must cease to regard the first Soviet to the old capitalists. republic as your guide and leader. Enmeshed by To agree to such an arrangement would "A leading member of the Italian Commun the tentacles of Capitalism, she is sinking back- be to place a burden of debt on the Party has expressed himself on the expulsion of ward. When will you come forward to assist shoulders of the Workers' Republic whilst Comrade Sylvia Pankhurst from the English her to tear herself out of the slough into which robbing her of the natural resources by Communist Party. Outside of the fact that in environing Capitalism is now steadily pushing which she might repay the debt, and con- the actual question under dispute Sylvia Panke that M. Krassin, in a reference to Lord employer. be recalled forthwith and punished."

Punished for working for Communism! Let than in the number of the dead.

us hope that this message is a fabrication! Remember the splendid challenge of those declara- revolution now have the courage to refus tions first issued by the Soviet Republic in the to purchase relief at the expense of freedom early days of its rise to power: how brilliantly and progress! inspiring was their call! How utterly they differed from the tame subserviency of these last

The Trade Agreement with capitalist Powers was bound to be a source of weakness to Soviet Russia: if entered into with small neutral countries like Norway, its ill, small, effects might be counter-balanced by the value of the goods imported; but a Trade Agreement with the powerful British Empire must, of necessity, be in the terests of Britain and, therefore, opposed to the interests of Soviet Russia and Communism in general; it could not be otherwise. Should it prove otherwise, Britain would withdraw from the agreement.

Popularising Lloyd George.

The Daily Herald is now at its old task of confusing the issue: it is endeavouring to popularise The next move will then, obviously, lie with the Trade Agreement and Lloyd George, by in- the householders, who should refuse to pay the sisting that it is the work of his beneficient hands. Rate should the L.C.C. attempt to collect direct and that now he is busy "immersed in Irish from them, or deduct the amount of the Rate and Labour affairs at Gairloch," the wicked ogre, from their rent, should it be levied upon the Lord Curzon, has chosen this moment to in- landlord. trigue against both him and the Trade Agree-

The Daily Herald has sounded this note many "Mr. Berzin wishes to impress upon the times: a flagrant instance being its story that Foreign Office that the Russian Government Lloyd George and President Wilson were working wishes more than ever to promote friendly and for a people's peace against the wicked ogre sincere relations with his Britannic Majesty's Clemenceau. It frequently used to tell us that Government, and that it has given the best Lloyd George was working for peace with steps immediately after the signing of the This sort of thing should not blind anyone to trade agreement, to cease all activity and to the actual trend of events. When Lloyd dissolve any organisation in the East which George's friends think it worth while to get him might be construed as likely to give offence to whitewashed by the Daily Herald, something his Britannic Majesty's Government or to con- particularly iniquitous is usually afoot which has to be screened from view.

ontains the following curious paragraphs:— of Rates will give only a small temporary rel tunity of earning money to obtain the nour- and manufacturers they will find a means of inishment they need. Time may be required creasing prices; as employers, they will reduce for the arrangements to be made, but this wages; as taxpayers, they will secure the transfe is a case to which the words 'hurry up!' of taxation from income and property to commodiemphatically apply. Mr. Urquhart has been ties, by which the consumer is forced to pay. It away five weeks, and directly he reached not by a little expedient like the equalisation of Victoria Station, a correspondent of the Rates that one may permanently improve the Financial Times was there to interview him. standard of the poor and cause the rich to reduce or precise. He found revolution still exist- meal Reform is seen by the fate of the Wages ing in Russia, and dissensions amongst the Boards established to protect the workers i Soviet leaders. General agreement has been sweated trades. The greatest and most im reached on the essential provisions of the portant of these, the last to be secured, is the contract for the resumption of operations first to go: those dealing with the sweated in-London. Rumour has it that an agreement Here is the justification for the Revolutionary will be signed here by which the mines and it would appear from the general trend Regretfully we say it, though this develop- of the statement that Soviet Russia is being ment was doubtless inevitable: revolutionary offered loans to be used for famine relief proletariat of the world, the day is fast dawning on condition that she surrenders the mines

demning the mine workers to submit them- hurst had the right attitude, it is especially in "A Reuter telegram from Berlin states selves again to the joke of the capitalist portant in such a matter to take her personality

Curzon's Note, said that he was convinced We hope that, whatever may be the result, purification of the Communist International of that if the agents of the Soviet authorities in Soviet Russia will stand out against such the ground of firm party discipline shall no Afghanistan and Persia were guilty of the iniquitous proposals. Terrible is the Rus- mean the exclusion of such a valuable revolution charges preferred against them, they would sian famine; but it may prove more terrible ary as Sylvia Pankhurst. The Italian comrade in the chains it will cast for the survivors

May those who had the courage to n

October 1, 1921,

NO RATES.

The Bethnal Green Borough Council has now decided to follow Poplar in refusing to levy the L.C.C. and other general Rates. Some other Council will now probably adopt the same course and pressure should be brought on all Councils with Labour majorities, to come into Sir A. Mond states that the Government will retaliate by giving the L.C.C. power to collect direct from the householder or the land. Them to do so. lord the general Rate which the Poplar Councillors refuse to levy.

The best outcome of the whole struggle would be a rent and Rates strike, not for the equalisaton of Rates and work for the unemployed alone, but for a wide and comprehensive programme which would necessitate an entire change in the social system. This would, of course, mean the Social Revolution and the establishment of the Soviets. A large proportion of those who are supporting the no-Rate move are unprepared for that; but Communists must continue to advertise their programme in connection with every popular agitation, in order that they may arouse in the people a desire for its fulfilment. T Communist goal may appear relatively remote to Rates with the confident hope that this obje The Mining World of September 24th will speedily be achieved. But the equalisation "Mr. Leslie Urquhart has returned to and make no lasting difference whatever to the dustries in which women are mainly employed "It is clear that no agreement has yet will shortly disappear. Yet these sweated trades

ITALIAN COMMENT ON OUR EXPULSION

[The following paragraph appears in the " Rosta Wien "].

"Italian Comrade gives advice to the English Party." Turin, September 18th. and her editorial services into consideration. The gives the English Communist Party the friendly advice to withdraw her expulsion."

INEMPLOYMENT.

oin as methods by which the unemployed essential. whilem may be met. It is only recently that he e Addison would not assent to the abandonof such a programme that was not even enough to meet either unemployment, or the or need of the people. The only tangible thing that has so far resulted the unemployment agitation and the Poplar their banking accounts, if the banks will permit ing down of the revolutionary spirit.

All sorts of proposals, said to emanate variously om Lloyd George, Sir Alfred Mond, and Sir d Mond's Committee, are now being dis-These include: Boards of Guardians to be permitted to raise short-term loans, the Government guaranteeing the interest, and the Ministry of Health reguting the scale and forms of Relief.

tees to be more ready to make advances on exports and to finance industry.

Manufacturers to be induced to keep their plant running by Government offers of guarantees

The premier to call a Conference of financiers, merchants, and manufacturers, and Trade Union

The Prime Minister told the Labour Mayors that he cannot shoulder the burden of unemployent alone, and that co-operation between and George's mind is now said to be turning the Government, local authorities, manufacturers. ds housing schemes and the beautifying of traders, bankers, and organised Labour

These proposals mean, firstly, that there is to be with his old supporter, Dr. Addison, be- be an attempt to secure a so-called "industrial peace," such as we had during the war-a peace in which, whilst capital carries on the classstruggle as before, Labour ceases to fight, and the Trade Union officials make themselves responsible for preventing strikes and maintaining discipline amongst their members. During test except what the unemployed have them- such a peace it is hoped by the Government and res rung from the Boards of Guardians, is the em, loyers to effect wages cuts, the undermining mission for Boards of Guardians to overdraw of Trade Union rules and practices, and the break-

> Government subsidies to capitalists, subsidies which come out of the pockets of us all, are also envisaged for stimulating industry. When Capitalism fails in its business, it uses the power of the Government to force the people to pay up to provide it with more capital.

The Labour Party has laid before the Government and the people its own proposals for dealing Banks to be induced, by Government guaran- with unemployment These may be summarised Labour Party's Proposals for dealing with Unemployment.

Government Departments to anticipate future needs and issue orders for stores and equipment now.

for staple commodities with manufacturers.

Employers to supply to Government at reduced charges; working week to be 40 hours.

LABOUR PARTY v. LLOYD GEORGE

Government orders to be allocated within the industry by joint decision of employers' organisations and Trade Unions.

Government to export products made under these conditions, on credit, to Continental countries needing them.

The Government to deal direct with other Governments, Co-operative Societies, or other organisations able and willing to pay for the goods ultimately.

Some of these goods to be disposed of at home, for instance, agricultural machinery to be sold on instalment system to smallholders.

Public works, and especially housing, to be roceeded with by Government and local Government to give "much more generous assistance" to local authorities than it has

If work is not found for the unemployed, they must be maintained on an adequate scale. We need scarcely point out to our readers that these Labour Party proposals are hopelessly vague and inadequate. The Labour Party has not even the courage to name the amount of maintenance it considers adequate, or to state any tangible basis on which it may be assessed. The Labour further fails to say to what extent the Government should assist the local authorities. In short, the Labour Party's policy is a bankrupt one.

The unemployed are wise to conduct their fight Government itself to place substantial orders in their own way, without reference to the Labour Party.

> We Communists continue to fix our hopes upon Communism and the Social Revolution.

those who take up the cry for equalisation of THE UNEMPLOYED V. THE LABOUR PARTY.

mbarrassing those who administer it. On the of the present system. ntrary, that is precisely what they desire: they sire to smash the system, and they know that when one is trying to smash a system it is wise to cipal Reformers would have said in their place:do everything one can to put it out of gear.

Moreover, they take their stand on the priniple that they are workers willing to work; that hey are human beings with all the needs of manity, and that, therefore, they refuse to suffer privation in a land of plenty.

The Woolwich unemployed have fixed a scale of Relief, which they demand as an alternative to work, at a Trade Union wage of 25/- a week for an adult, married or single, and 8/- a week for a child. The unemployed in other districts emand Relief on similar, or slightly lower

The Woolwich Labour Party, which has a Councillors. ority on the local Board of Guardians, has rly days, the Woolwich Labour Party assailed of the time. them in the same cause. The Woolwich Labour Party has acted just as its capitalist predecessors did; it has refused the unemployed demand, on the score that it is exorbitant, and has issued a leaflet justifying its own action and condemning the unemployed. It has taken up the defence of the ratepayer and so has become the defender of he present system.

There we see the gulf between Communism and Labourism: Labourism has not broken with he present system, and that being so, it asks men and women to be reasonable, in view of the imitations of the present system. The Woolwich Labour Party circular says that if the Relief scale demanded by the unemployed were £4 10s, a week, plus rent." The Woolwich Labour Councillors do not think £4 10s. a week, plus rent, too high a wage for Labour Parties. man with a wife and five children to receive:

Those of the London unemployed who are class- on the contrary, under ordinary circumstances, nscious and who are organising the beseiging they are inclined to argue that it is too little; f Boards of Guardians and Borough Councils but to give such a sum to a man out of work, are not dismayed at the prospect of destroying though they admit that the man is not to blame, e smooth working of the capitalist system and they consider out of harmony with other features

The Woolwich Labour representatives say, just as the Pogressives, the Moderates, and the Muni-

"This would mean a charge on the local Rate of a minimum of £25,000 per week. This sum is equivalent to over a sixpenny Rate ner week."

"This would mean an increase of 6/- week on a house now let at 13/9 weekly (pre-

There it is: the unemployed must go short, because their working class neighbours cannot afford to pay more rent; the idea that they should lead those neighbours in a rent strike does not occur to the law-abiding minds of Labour

Again, the partially-employed men are earning sued a circular in opposition to the unem- a mere pittance: Woolwich Councillors cannot loyed demand. It finds itself in the position approve that the unemployed should demand the capitalist parties occupied, when, in its more than those whom the employer is using part

Says the circular:

"The average amount drawn by a labourer in the Arsenal, taking into account the week off in six, is £2 18s. 2d."

Thus the small pittance of the partially-employed man is to be made to serve as a reason why the workless should get less.

"The Boards of Guardians, in refusing to be bullied into adopting the scale, will be supported policy of the Labour Party: it is a half-way house by every self-respecting working man and woman between the extreme reactionaries and the workin the Borough, be they employed or unem- less masses clamouring for relief. ployed," says the circular; but those who wrote it are aware that their wish in this respect will

The London Labour Party has approved the 'It would mean that a married man with a Woolwich circular, and has sent it with a letter onte and family of five children would receive of its own to Labour Mayors, Labour Party leaders, and Whips and Secretaries of affiliated local Trades Councils, and Borough and Divisional

This letter of the London Labour Party says :-

"There are two tendencies from which the Party must keep itself distinct:

" (1) That which is quite happy in the continuance of a social order which creates a substantial number of industrially unemployed well-to-do people, but which is bitterly indignant when any attempt is made to rescue the unemployed of the poorer classes from extreme poverty and despair; " (2) That which is represented by those known as 'extremists,' who are diverting attention from the responsibilities of the national Government, concentrating the great bulk of the attack on Local Authorities which do not possess adequate resources and powers to deal with the question (particularly in the Labour areas), and who are demanding scales of Poor Law Relief which cannot be regarded as reasonable, having regard to the general standard of life of the workpeople who will have to find a substantial part of the cost of such Relief.

"The Executive is of the opinion that we must fight with great vigour those cruel and heartless elements in national affairs, which appear indifferent to the sufferings of the unemployed, and also that we must decline to be intimidated by a small band of enemies of the Labour Party who are endeavouring to intimidate Labour Local Authorities into pursuing policies which stand no chance of being endorsed by the electorate and which would impose what would be regarded as unreasonable burdens upon the working and lowermiddle class ratepayers."

Those passages very graphically sum up the NOTICE.

An Orchestral and Choral Academy has been started with a view to encouraging musical art in the ranks of the Labour Socialist and Communist movement. Funds are urgently needed to support the above effort on behalf of Labour's cause.

All instrumentalists (beginners, intermediate or advanced) wishing to join the above Academy are) cordially invited to communicate with the Secretary, J. James, Office, 55, Rodney Place, Palatinate Estate,

WINNING AND LOSING.

The miserable wages of the German mining of morals. worker make huge profits possible for the German capitalist in spite of the low prices Ogmore workers to the type of men who dominate at which the goods are put on the foreign the Evangelical Council, whose intellects appear

A trade agreement concluded between Stone Age." Italy and Germany gives facilities for the of articles of luxury, amongst which are amongst the workers, the congregations which such prime necassaries of life as wine, assemble to hear the dogmas preached from their fruits, silk, coral, ivory, mother of pearl pulpits will dwindle to vanishing point. and tortoiseshell.

The English workers who won, and the German workers who lost, the war, are both paying for it in low wages and starvation, WHAT TO STRIKE FOR: over-work and unemployment. The English capitalists who won the war and the German capitalists who lost it (both by proxy, of course), are still living on the fat of the land; racking their brains for new ways of How? spending their superfluous cash, so as to stimulate their appetites, gratify their perverted instincts, and satisfy the craving of vacant minds after novelty; sending to the four quarters of the globe for toys and

And the worker looks on his brother worker, whether of the same country, or an alien, as an enemy, one who may at any time take his job from him, and snatch the bread and margarine from his mouth; but as for those who deny him the right tion, distribution, and exchange, the houses, the to work for himself, and then come to him when he is starving for the bare necessities of life, and set him to work fashioning of industry being owned and managed in Bottomley obligingly offers to arrange the whole a luxuries for them; why, he thinks they are common. indispensable to his existence; they "make employment "!

As long as these things are so; as long as worker fights worker for the behoof of from the industries and the homes, will replace masters of another class, we shall have all these. hard work to distinguish winner from loser.

Only when the battle of all the workers against all their masters is fought and won will the issue be clear, and we shall not celebrate a mere paper victory with flags and cenotaphs, empty honours, and still emptier stomachs. Our happy lives, unhaunted by the fear of arbitrary interfer- the means of subsistence in virtue of being a Bottomley. ence, with no need left unsatisfied, will be human being. the proof we have won a victory worth having, and conquered the Right to Live. A. IRONIE.

JUSTICE HOLDS THE SCALES EVEN.

Bruno Schäfer, the responsible editor of Schäfer's advocate showed how reactionary justice exercises its functions. The total of the sentences passed for the murder of 314 workers amounted only to 31 years, three months' imprisonment; whilst for 13 reactionaries killed in the revolutionary struggle, 8 death sentences were passed. and a total of 176 years, 10 months' impri sonment meted out to the workers.

OGMORE EVANGELICALS OPPOSE EDUCATION.

Bolshevists write from Ogmore Valley: "The Workmen's Hall Committee at Ogmore for the winter season, including such subjets as to work, are obliged to subsist on "doles," ever, issued a manifesto appealing for the aboli- the Cornish miner will receive with gratitude tion of Sunday evening lectures, on the ground employment, even coming from the hands of that they desecrate the Sabbath and tend to the a former enemy."

weakening of religious feeling and the under-

"This manifesto should open the eyes of to be on a par with those of the men of the

The members of the Evangelical Council rightly importation into Germany of a great number fear that with the spread of scientific knowledge

RENT AND RATE STRIKE.

To abolish unemployment.

To abolish rent.

To abolish poverty.

By Communism. WHAT IS COMMUNISM

A form of society in which there will be:

No class distinctions.

Economic equality for all.

No employers of labour. No buying and selling.

Common ownership of the means of productrams, trains, means of transport, the light and subject to 6 per cent. interest, 3 per cent. and fuel, the farms, the fisheries and all forms which is to be drawn for in Prize Bonds.

No Parliament.

No Municipal Councils.

The Workers' Soviets, or Councils of delegates

No Boards of Guardians.

No Workhouses.

No Poor Law Schools.

There will be no destitute men, women and children for such bodies to attend to.

Free Education for all, up to the University. Ignorance, poverty, and want will disappear.

A GERMAN BENEFACTOR.

As everyone knows Cornish tin mining in a bad state. The mine owners pleaded the Rote Fahne, the organ of the K.P.D., with the Government for a loan of £200,000 was condemned the other day to three to £250,000. This was refused, mines were months' imprisonment on account of an shut down, and masses of men thrown out article published in the paper denouncing of work. The employment dole exhausted, the "justice" of the Ebert Republic which these men are now on poor law relief. filled the prisons with Communists and let Private enterprise failed, the Government the murderers of Liebknecht and Luxem- refused to come to the rescue, the workers pension." burg, Yogichos and other revolutionaries go starve; another instance of the unsatisfactory nature of capitalism.

Though Cornish mineowners have failed it." to make their tin mines pay, some people of opinion that they might be rendered highly profitable. One of these is the rich German capitalist Herr Stinnes. Says the work doing anywhere."

Mining World: His son is in England, and we believe that the purchase of the dumps in Cornwall old woman, confidentially), shilling a day." and elsewhere is one, if, indeed, it is not OLD WOMAN: "Oh, well, that's not so bad." the sole object of his visit. We know for SAILOR: "Two years as a boy and twelve years a fact that the dumps at Grenville United as a stoker, fourteen years; I reckon I've done mines have been examined on his behalf, my time." and reported upon, and that the results are now before him. . . . He will be welcomed in Cornwall as a benefactor if he can only give employment to those who Vale has arranged an excellent series of lectures are now without it, and who, though willing anthropology and psychology. Education is the supplemented by grants from relief funds essential need of the workers to-day and every raised within the county. Deserted by their worker in the Valley should attend these lectures. own Government, which has refused to "The Ogmore Evangelical Council has, how- respond to every call made to it for aid,

The Mining World refers, it will observed, to the miserable plight of miners, but, as the trade journal of mineowners, its real interest is for owners. The owners are prepared to come Herr Stinnes, if they can make m out of him, although, as the Mining W. says of him :-

Herr Stinnes made himself known in an unmistakable way to the representative of the Allies at the Spa Conference, towards the close of which he delivered a speech which not one of those who heard it a have forgotten; neither will it cease to remembered by those who read it who published. His implacable attitude in re gard to those who accomplished Germany defeat in the Great War showed how he was disposed to accept accomplished far but rather revealed him as the incarna of that spirit of revenge which lies la in the German breast."

Yet the Mining World, in the same artic hails Stinnes as a "benefactor." Of 81 hypocritical stuff is capitalist patriotism when the pocket is touched.

SOME PLAN!

That impostor, Horatio Bottomley, placarded London last week week with advertisements that he had a " plan " for dealing with unemploy. ment. The "plan" turns out to be merely to raise a loan of £100,000,000—a plan that anyone could have thought of-this loan to be tax-free thing free of charge. His record assures every intelligent person that he forsees ways and means of making not merely kudos, but hard cash out of such an offer if it were accepted—which his character is too well known to admit of. Bottomley suggests that the £100,000,000 be spent on making a Channel Tunnel and other works. But, as Bottomley knows, the Government is not likely to agree to a Channel Tunnel: it is too much afraid that it may presently quarrel with some Powers in Europe for that.

Thousands of workers read John Bull, because Everyone will be entitled to an equal share of it is so widely advertised, and are taken in by

COMING HOME.

Bus Conductor: "You're a mug!" OLD WOMAN: " Ought to have put a few more years in, to get a good pension!"

Young Woman: "Yes, that you ought!" BUS CONDUCTOR: "I've got a brother, been seventeen years in it." Sailor: "Well, he's a hero!"

BUS CONDUCTOR: "Going to get a big

OLD WOMAN: "Yes, you should have looked after your pension." Young Woman: "Yes, indeed!" SAILOR: "Got to be a Chief now to get a big Bus Conductor: "Well, he is a Chief." SAILOR: " Our Chief Stoker's resigned out of Bus Conductor: "Well, you're a mug." Sailor: "I've come out to get married." OLD WOMAN: "No work to be got now; no Young Woman: "You'll never get any!" SAILOR: "I'm going in the Reserve (to the OLD WOMAN: "Well, you have." Bus Conductor: "You're a mug; who'll give you a day's work?" Young Woman: "Aye, you're right. work to be had!"

DREADNOUGHT DEVELOPMENT FUND

J. Blundell 4s. J. Sullivan 5s., J. Donovan 2s. 6d. A. Dunn 2s. 6d., Poplar Comrades 10s., A. V. M. 10s., A. Frayne 2s. 6d., A. Gilbert 5s., N. S. B. A. Smithsen 23. 6d., B. R. Austin 58., A Sympathier (per Mrs. Cahill) 5s., H. Hersey £1, J. Leakey 22, . Hill 10s., A. H. Holt 2s. 6d., Mr. Simpleton 28. Total, £6 11s. 7d.

TERNATIONAL NOTES.

ala v. Roumania.

to that Roumania is behaving most aggres- mittee. The Petlura bands are crossing the frontiers The New Silver Roubles. d and Roumania and are attempting to the collection of the Produce Tax and the the relief work. Petlura bands have a railway catastrophe, through which the meant for the famine district was destroyed the railway workers killed. These bands were The Task of Noulens. nto Russian territory by the Roumanian and Trotzki has published a general army and navy nought Office.

scow School Year begins.

ons has been fixed for September the 15th.

vhite Terror in Bulgaria,

Igarian Communist Party formed a Russian mittee. The Police President of Sofia and the prosecution of the Executive of this but, at the instance of the government, was withdrawn because it had caused the Committee had collected 144.598.80 leva.

me Day's Pay a Month. Sprava Robotniza" reports: The Trade Union Warsaw has formed a committee of workers rise the relief work for Soviet Russia.

Russian Famine Relief. The Russian Commissary for Food stated, on Sepper 7th, that the following seed has been derered to the Volga district:-

Resides this the Ukraine has delivered 11,679,000 pood which is 78 per cent. of its programm. A communique of the commissariat for food of the famine districts at 21,255,000 pood. The following ships arrived in Reval harbour on ust 30th and 31st with grain for Soviet Russia:

"Maywik" and "Egil," the Finnish sail-Oni " and " Nordo," the Esthonian sailing and the Norwegian steamer "Buri. l in Turkestan for the famine sufferers he Volga has vielded 500 millions rubles besides amounts of food and clothing.

Rostow a shortage of food for the deserted took place. It was decided that all dealers came to the city with food, should give up a ion of their products for the childrens' home. Every morning special waggons from ling centres go to the market to collect the ions. At first, the dealers were much disisfied, but very soon they convinced themselves at the collected food went without any bureaucratic umlocution to the childrens' feeding centre.

Arming the Reaction. Vienna "Rote Fahne" publishes a letter, reaw on August 19th, 1921, arranging for the and, is to be shipped to Poland by way of with them in a general strike.

ry and Roumania without delay.

famine amongst the Volga Germans. The commissariat for nationalities possesses the llowing data over the autonomous Volga Ger-The area is about 13,200 square versts. itants number 450,000, including 109,000 eight years of age, 112,000 children of gool age, 96 per cent. of the population is Ger-In this district there are 335 schools of the grade with 433 teachers, and 26 schools the second grade with 91 teachers. The number of pupils is 69 000. Besides this there are 49 Kinderartens with 2,000 children. At present 73,000 dren under 8 years of age, 68,000 children om 8 to 15, and 150,000 adults are in extreme stress. Since January 49,000 human beings have members of the party who exercise responsible supplied by the National Army." curity in several positions will receive a fixed maxiof food, housing, clothing and pocket money, for garians carry out under the kindly hints of the of these positions only,

Communist Ethics.

"Put" reports: The state mint will issue silver roubles to the value of 580 million by January 1st, 1922. The new rouble has the same weight as order in which he points out the significance of the election of Noulens as chairman of the International Two pamphlets by Philip Kurinsky. "Industrial Relief Commission of the supreme council. He states Unionism and Revolution" and the "Intellectual that the task of Noulens is not the organisation of and the Worker." Published by the Modern Press, opening of the schools, teacher's con- the relief work, but the preparation of a new action New York, U.S.A. 10 cents. each. against Soviet Russia. In a joint meeting of the "Industrial Unionism and Revolution" is a plea Odessa Soviet, Trade Unions and Factory Committees, for militant industrial unionism. It declares for for their own interest. The bourgeoisic know that two tendencies in the I.W.W.: the evolutionary and without Russia the economic situation of the world the revolutionary. The former school, says Kurinsky, cannot be restored. For this reason they now seek believe that the I.W.W. will blossom forth out of nger of the workers. Up to the 29th of once more to approach the Soviet government. capitalism like a beautiful flower, and that "it is Nevertheless, one cannot reckon with the active help a peaceful organisation," which only needs to learn of Europe and America. At the head of the Inter- how to take over run the industries "when capinational Relief Commission are Noulens, General Pau talism shall have collapsed." Kurinsky, as a member and Giraud, the sworn enemies of Soviet Russia." of the revolutionary school, contends, on the other Referring to the hostile action against Soviet Russia hand, "the nature of industrial unionism is such in the Bukovina, Roumania and Bessarabia, he added: -that it must be revolutionary; or else become value-"We do not want war, since the economic restoration less. It must act in a revolutionary manner under of the Republic comes before all for us. Neverthe- all conditions, and its tactics must be just as reless, we must protect our southwest frontier." If volutionary as its ullimate aim. Otherwise it is anybody dare to attack us, we will give them such as misleading as the impotent and counter-revolua blow that the frontiers will no longer run were tionary trade-unionism." they are to-day."

3,000,000 pood International Proletarian Solidarity.

In the town of Cuneo in Italy, 116 soldiers from the local garrison have given their meat rations to the "Pro-Russia" committee. Several soldiers of the 34th infantry regiment sent 29 meat rations , to the "Pro-Russia" committee.

Starving Children.

The commission for the protection of children of at creating "One Big Union," and organising the the Central Executive has made the following report workers within it along industrial lines, which places of the children in the Volga:-Child-feeding in public homes as well as with the fact that it exists largely amongst the unskilled the parents is very scanty. The death rate is high. and migratory labourers, hitherto unorganised, amongst The public homes are over filled and cannot accept the bottom dogs of industry, and those who live the all the needy children. The help so far carried out adventurous life of the lumber camps; the character and begun is insufficient. In the Shuvash district and outlook of the men who began it and have there are 300,000 children and 7,000 infants hunger- set their stamp upon it; these things have given ing. In the province of Viatka and in the territory the I. W. W. both the name of being revolutionary of the Mary over half a million children are hungry. and a bent in that direction. Yet, as Kurinsky tells In the Tartax Republic the number is 750,000, and us, the levelling tendency of majority rule in a in the province of Ufa over half a million. 150 period and a country in which the masses are not deserted children are picked up daily in the streets revolutionary, has its effect even in the I.W.W. of Ufa. The distress is still greater in the province Kurinsky clearly states, in the foreword to the of Simbirsk; there are nearly 800,000 hungry children "Intellectual and the Worker," that in the United n all these provinces a relief base will be erected States "there is not, as yet, any revolutionary by the Commission for the Protection of Children, sentiment amongst the masses," for this he is inclined and in each base a representative of the American to blame the leaders rather than to attribute the Relief Committee will work. The Food Campaign.

Up to September 16 26,322,000 pood of grain have been handed in under the produce tax in Soviet deadens the spirit of revolt, lowers their pride, Russia and in the Ukraine over 8 million pood.

The End of Baron Ungern. The public trial of the white guard leader Baron Ungern took place here. He was sentenced to death and the sentence carried out. Czecho-Slovak Railwaymen-Solidarity with the ment, but most not be allowed to belong to working which have been purchased in Vienna by Railways and the metal workers of Mahrisch-Ostrau class intellectuals, and these he would have very he Ukrainian delegation for the Ukrainian Peoples group held two meetings on September 7th and carefully watched. We think that Kurinsky makes decided in case of a strike of the miners to join a mistake in using the term intellectual; it is not > come from Mahrisch-Ostrau should not be without would think of describing Arthur Henderson, J. H. interest to English readers. It will be remembered Thomas, or J. R. Clynes, M.P., as intellectuals, that J. H. Thomas of the N.U.R. visited Czecko- yet they are misleaders of an extreme order. More-Slovakia last winter. Since that time the events over, they have sprung from the working class. As of the English Coal Strike in which he played no a matter of fact it has been proved abundantly that small part took place. A coal strike is approaching a man's origin does not determine his sympathies. in Mahrisch-Ostrau. The rank and file are taking and that a worker who has left his class cannot by no chances that the experience of the English any means be guaranteed to work on behalf of his workers with Mr. Thomas on that occasion shall be class repeated for the Czecko workers in this coming strike. The matter is being settled in advance by rank and file decisions to down tools the moment the miners go on strike. Think it over!)

A Disarmament Swindle in Hungary. The Budapest official Gazette publishes two orders of the ministry of finance on the organisation of "Customs Police," whose task is "to report the "Prayda" reports: In the last sitting of the events upon the frontier which are of significance cutive of the Moscow Committee of the Russian for the order of the State," and further, "to prevent These pamphlets may be obtained from Workers' at Party the commission on ethics submitted all attacks coming from neighbouring States directed ort. It was decided that every case of offence against persons or property which are on Hungarian t party ethics upon which the Committee territory." Section 11 of the order states that judgment should be given the widest publi- "until the 'Customs Police' are organised independently, this service will be performed by troops,

(This is all part of the eyewash which the Hun-Entente representatives in Budapest. The Entente are the last people on earth who want to see Hungary disarmed. However, to go through the farce of assuring the democratically elected representatives Commerce as a means of livelihood as well as of the people that Hungary is actually disarmed, ctatement that the Russian government has the purchase of any article for the purpose of re- they must have a statement that the Hungarian ned a state of war on the frontier of Bess- selling is absolutely forbidden for members of the army is only of a certain strength. They hope that is a lie. The Russian and Ukrainian Red party. The question of political ethics will be de- the people will not learn of "Customs Police," e merely defending Russian territory. In bated in the discussion club of the Moscow Com- "transport companies limited," "Aero transport com-

RECEIVED FOR REVIEW.

"The Red Labour Union International." Buffetin of the Executive Bureau. No. 1. August 30th, 1921. Published by the Red Trade Union International, Moscow. May be obtained at the Workers' Dreadsocial revolution by general stirke and the armed "The capitalist governments will use the famine insurrection of the proletariat. It discussed the

It is interesting to get this criticism of the I.W.W., and explanation of the two tendencies within it from one of its own members. That there should be the dual trend is inevitable, owing to the fact that it takes in all the workers in a given industry, if it can induce them to join, whatever their political views may be; therefore it is necessarily composed of non-revolutionary workers as well as revolutionary. The fact that the I.W.W. aims to the Americal Relief Committee over the condition it inevitably in opposition to the old trade unionism embodied by the American Federation of Labour; lack to any inherent backwardness in the masses. Kurinsky opposes Parliamentarism, which, he says, "misleads the workers, turns them from their path, and leaves them patiently waiting for the bones the capitalists throw them from time to time."

The burden of argument in the "Intellectual and the Worker" is that the "intellectual" is an egotist and a danger to the movement. The intellectuals, Kurinsky argues, may be allowed to help the moveclass organisations. Kurinsky here means bourgeois The workers and officials of the State Electric intellectuals. He admits the existence of working the intellect of misleaders of the working class to (These continued demonstrations of solidarity which which we object, but their misleading. No one

> The masses oppressed by wage slavery will fight together for better conditions when circumstances force them to fight; but only a few persons will continue to fight on behalf of the masses, when they themselves are withdrawn from the pressure of circumstances which causes the masses to revolt. It is the pressure of circumstances, not the quality of their education, or social origin, which causes the Dreadnought Office.

BADGES.

SOVIET ARMS, in gilt on red enamel, 1s. 3d. and 9d. each, 12s. and 6s. per dozen.-Apply, Manager, "Workers' Dreadnought," 152, Fleet Street, E.C. A.

NO MILK

In Poplar recreation ground the other day, a little boy and girl were minding their baby brother. The baby was sucking away at his bottle-a bottle not of milk, but of water.

A group of young women stopped to speak to the children:

"Why have you put water in baby's bottle instead of milk?"

"Mother hasn't any milk for his bottle. She hasn't any money to buy it with," the children answered.

No milk for a baby's bottle: that is the pass at which we still remain in this twentieth century: under the capitalist system which some, even amongst the working class, would still maintain. All the vaunted Social Reform of recent years, the Ministry of Health and the baby clinics have left this baby without his bottle ofmilk.

This little chap in the Poplar recreation ground has been robbed of his birthright: his mother istoo under-nourished, too overworked to give him his natural sustenance, and cannot afford even to buy him a substitute.

If he survive, his parents will put him to work, from sheer economic necessity, as soon as the law allows them: even before the law permits it, he will be earning odd coppers by selling newspapers, running errands, minding other people's babies, or even by begging.

But if he had been born of the well-to-do, if his father provided him with an inheritance, he need do no work all the days of his life, and yet he would be respected by all men: if he should deign to work and not take pay for his services; then, indeed, men would shower praises upon him. Even our Labour Councillors would feel him to be a superior man, because his possessions enabled him to live without toil.

As it is, if his father joined the crowd of men who demand from Boards of Guardians twentyfive shillings a week for each adult and eight shillings a week for each child, Mr. Ramsay MacDonald, the Executive of the London Labour Party, and a chorus of Labour Councillors, would denounce that father and his demand as mischievous and extravagant.

To the employing classes, the workers, the numerous hordes of "Have Nots," are of diffeent clay from themselves: unfortunately, too, even the workers are apt to forget that the needs of the unemployed are precisely the same as their own.

We stand for Communism, which shall abolish all social classes and give to everyone of us the right to free, unstinted enjoyment of what the earth and its people produce; just because we are living, sentient beings.

THE WORKERS' DREADNOUGHT BOOK SERVICE.

152, FLEET STREET (Entrance first door on left in Bolt Court from Fleet Street.)

Open Daily, 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. Saturdays, 10 a.m. to 1 p.m.

We can supply you with any book you desire, new or second-hand, from British, Colonial, or foreign publishers. Give us all particulars you have, and send a deposit.

By buying books from us, trade discount is transferred to propaganda.

At our office you may consult publishers' catalogues and place your order for any book not in stock.

If you order by post, you must add, on the average, one penny for every shilling, to cover postage.

We charge the postage of foreign books, from London only, and fix price at current rate of over erchange exchange,

WE CAN SUPPLY!
Books on History and Economics.
Modern Science (Leo Tolstoy)	2d.
An Appeal to the Young (P. Kropotkin)	2d.
Gold, Prices and the Witwatersrand (R. A.
Lehfeldt)	5/-
Origin of Poverty, and Formation of the Village Community (J. St. Lewinski,
D.Ec.Sc., Brussels)	3/6
The Industrial and Commercial Revolutions	250 in Great Britain during the Nineteenth Century. (L. C.A. Knowles, Litt.D.).
432 pages. Cr. 8vo	6/6
The Industrial History of Modern England.	0.10
(G. H. Perris). 603 pages	8/6
The Inequality of Incomes in Modern Com-	10/0
munities (Hugh Dalton, M.A.). 8vo	10/6
The Working Life of English Women in the	10/6
Seventeenth Century. 8v	10/6
A.B.C. of Communism (Bukharin)	$\frac{3}{2}$
Communism (Eden and Cedar Paul)	6d.
	ou.
A History of Trades Councils, 1860-1875 (Cicely Richards)	1/
With the Turk in War Time (Marmaduke	1/-
Pickthall)	5/-
Red Europe (Frank Anstey)	3/3
Economic Consequences of the Peace	9/0
(Keynes)	2/-
Abolition of Money (Seijiro Kawashima,
Editor of "Dai Nippon")	1/6
A large Stock of Russian Literature.
Before and After the Revolution (S. Carlyle Potter)	1/-
Novels, Poetry, etc., with a Communist Ten	donos
A Market Bundle (A. Neil Lyons, Author of	ченез
Awkins, etc.)	WI
LOOKING DEVONG A Secural to 11 1-Backward" (L. A. Geissler) paper	1/6
cloth	9/

Looking Backward (Edward Bellamy) paper 2/-

Monsieur Bergeret in Paris			7/6
Clio and the Chateau de Vau
On Life and Letters (3rd Seri	es)		7/6
" (4th Seri	es)		7/6
Le Comte Morin Deputé (1	llustra	ted b	y
Henri Basthelemy)			7/6
Marguérite (Illustrated by Si	méon)		7/6
The Spy (Upton Sinclair)			. 3/6
The Iron Heel (Jack London)			. 2/-
A Communion of Sinners (Eve	lyn Sh	narp) .	1/6
Prison Impressions (Clara Gill	ert Ce	Ne)	6d.
Communist Books, Literature	and B	aniad!	icala in German, French, Russian, No
Reduced Rates are offered to over a hundred copies of the fo	o cust	omers	taking
Name or Title			the second secon
D 1 D . (D 2)			per 100.
Red Russia (Reed)		4/-	16/-
Ireland (Gorter)	ld.	9d.	4/-
The Finnish Revolution	3d.	2/6	8/-
The Communist Party (Zinoviev)	2d.	1/6	8/-
The Hungarian Revolution
(Schmidt)		8/9	24/- SOVE IN
Bourgeois Democracy (Lenin)	20.	1/6	8/-
The Truth About Russia	43	01	101
(Ransome)	40.	8/-	12/
Facts About Communist Hun-		NATURE STREET
gary (Alice Riggs Hunt)	4d.	8/-	16/-
To British Workers (with map explaining Soviets' working system	id.	2d.	1/-
An Appeal to the Young	B Ball
(Stewart)	2d.	1/6	8/-
Communist Song Book		8/-	8/-
			The State of the Late of the L

My Life, and other Stories, from the Russian

The Green Ring, and other Stories, from the Works by Anatole France (Translated into

(Anten Tchekhov) 7/-

Russian (Zinaida Hippins) 3/6

English) 2/-

The Crime of Sylvestre Bonnard 2/-

The Red Lily 2/-

Penguin Island 2/-

BACK FROM RUSSIA.

Papers exchanging with the "Workers' Dread-

EXCHANGES.

nought" should be sent to 152 Fleet Street, London,

E.C. 4.

cloth 3/-

limp cloth 3/-

stiff boards 3/6

Comrade Norah Smyth just back from Russia will take speaking engagements in London and provinces. Write Workers' Dreadnought Office, 152, Fleet Street, London, E.C. 4.

LEFT WING COMMUNIST MEETINGS

SATURDAY, OCTOBER 1st. Corner of St. Stephen's Road and Roman Road, Bow, E., 6.30. SATURDAY, OCTOBER 8TH, Corner of Chrisp Street and Grundy Street, Poplar, 3 p.m. East India Dock Gates, 7 p.m.

From the Greenwich Communist Party. Greenwich Branch, C.P. of G.R. To Manager, Workers' Dreadnought.

1 am instructed, as secretary of the above send you the enclosed sum of 5s. as a small sub scription to your paper in recognition of the good work in the past of our Comrade Sylvia Pankhurst. ! Yours fraternally, B. R. AUSTIN.

From a Young-Old Comrade of 84.

Dear Editor,-Enclosed I send $5 to help alone your Dread nought. This in all probability is the last; wish it might be a larger donation-say $500 but cannot. Am 84 years old in January, active in mind and body; years simply to live and exist I d not crave-let me go when I cease to be interested in the mighty problems confronting all nations and peoples. If I could I would get a thousand sub scribers for you. Alas! for America just now; she will awaken soon.

> Yours sincerely, MRS. A. D., SWEET.

De Kalb, U.S.A. An Independent Organ Imperative.

Dear Comrade,-I am so glad to hear that Dread nought is to continue. The existence of independent organ seems to me to be an imperative necessity in these critical years. From the point of view of an independent Communist organ it seem certain that had you obeyed the dictates of the C.L.P. Executive, the only true and uncompromising Communist paper in England would have gone the way of all flesh. I thought at the time that the stoppage of the Dreadnought for a period would be infinitely preferable to its control by the Party. agree with you when you say that this "farcial parade of discipline is a passing error." The C.P. is still in the silly stage of youth, and has got to be matured. Perhaps, after all, your expulsion will be productive of great good. It seems that the Executive do not desire criticism; it seems that they wish to be omnipotent and all-powerful, and the only fly in the ointment is your paper. I should like to draw the attention of the ran kand file the C.P. to that famous slogan "Watch your leaders." Hoping your efforts to continue the paper wil meet with the success they deserve.

> I am yours for the cause, ALICE SMITHSON.

P.S.-I am enclosing a trifle for the benefit of your valuable paper.

Dear Comrade, -Enclosed please find 5s. 6d. am really grieved at the turn events have taken r your expulsion, and do think the Communist Part is making a serious mistake so far as I can judge. G. BALLAM.

From Poplar. Please find enclosed £1 from Poplar Comrades We were all sorry when we read in the Dreadmough that it was stopping, but glad to hear it wil continue. We hope you will get enough money to relieve you of the worry, and only wish we had more to send. Cheer up: better days are coming, though we may never live to see them. Poplar Comrades,

ADVERTISEMENTS. OUR RATES.

One Single inch (up to three inches) Every additional inch after three inches Contracts for not less than 13 weeks 25% discount Contracts for a column, half column, page and half page with liberal discount. Terms on application to-MANAGER,

> "Workers' Dreadnought," 152, Fleet Street, E.C. 4.

(per) ELSIE LAGSDING.

DENTISTRY.

For Satisfactory Teeth see F. ALDRIDGE, Communist, 44 Waterloo Road, S.E.1. 10 per cent. Discount for Comrades.

Rem. 7, £5 5s. Barlock, £6 6s.

Yost 20, £9 9 Rem. 8, £7. Monarch, £10. Oliver, £8. Rem. 10, £10 10s. L. C. Smith, £10. Flats, £2 10s. Gest. Rotary, £8. Roneo, £10. PAYMENT ALSO BY INSTALMENTS. Sand for List.

W. FRANCIS DEACON, 91 Long Lane, Borough, S.B. Hop 3621.

SMALL ADVERTISEMENTS-1d. a Word.

IF YOUR Branch could do with a Reliable Type writer or Duplicator, see my Advertisement above Note Prices. Deacon, also at 14, Crooked Land E.C. 4.

DAY NURSERY STUDENT, who has just complete her training desires appointment. Apply Box Workers' Dreadnought Office.

TYPEWRITING articles, circulars, etc., 9d. per 1,0 words. Donald Mullens, Ansford, Castle Ca Somerset.

Published by E. Sylvia Pankhurst at 152, Street, London, E.C. 4, and printed by 8. Con at 10, Wine Office Court, Fleet Street, Londo E.O. 4.

Advertise your Wants in the "Dreadnought," Deal with our Advertisers and mention the Paper.