The Week in Parliament.

Esperanto Lesson.

Morkers & Dreadnought FASCISM IS THE CAPITALIST REVOLUTION AGAINST THE WORKERS.

VOL. X. No. 8.

SATURDAY, MAY 12, 1923.

WEEKLY.

AFTER CIVILISATION. By Edward Carpenter.

In the first soft winds of spring, while snow yet lay on the ground—

Forth from the city into the great woods wandering,

Into the great silent white woods where they waited in their beauty and majesty

For man their companion to come:

There, in vision, out of the wreck of cities and civilisations.

I saw a new life arise.

Slowly out of the ruins of the past—like a young fern-frond uncurling out of its own brown litter—

Out of the litter of a decaying society, out of the confused mass of broken-down creeds, customs, ideals,

Out of distrust and unbelief and dishonesty, and Fear, meanest of all (the stronger in the panic trampling the weaker underfoot);

Out of miserable rows of brick tenements with their cheapjack interiors, their glances of suspicion, and doors locked against each other;

Out of the polite residences of congested idleness; out of the aimless life of wealth;

Out of the dirty workshops of evil work, evilly done;

Out of the wares which are no wares poured out upon the markets, and in the shop-windows,

The fraudulent food, clothing, drink, literature;

Out of the cant of Commerce—buying cheap and selling dear—the crocodile sympathy of nation with nation,

The smug merchant posing as a benefactor of his kind, the parasite parsons and scientists;

The cant of Sex, the impure hush clouding the deepest instincts of boy and girl, woman and man;

The despair and unbelief possessing all society
—rich and poor, educated and ignorant, the money-lender, the wage-slave, the artist and the washerwoman alike;

All feeling the terrible pressure and tension of the modern problem:

Out of the litter and muck of a decaying world,

Lo, even so I saw a new life arise.

The winter woods stretched all around so still!

Every bough laden with snow—the faint purple waters rushing on in the hollows.

Far aloft the arrowy larch reached into the sky, the high air trembled with the music of the loosened brooks.

O sound of waters, jubilant, pouring, pouring

-O hidden song in the hollows!
Secret of the earth, swelling, sobbing to divulge itself!

Slowly, building lifting itself up atom by atom,

Gathering itself together round a new centre or rather round the world-old centre

once more revealed—

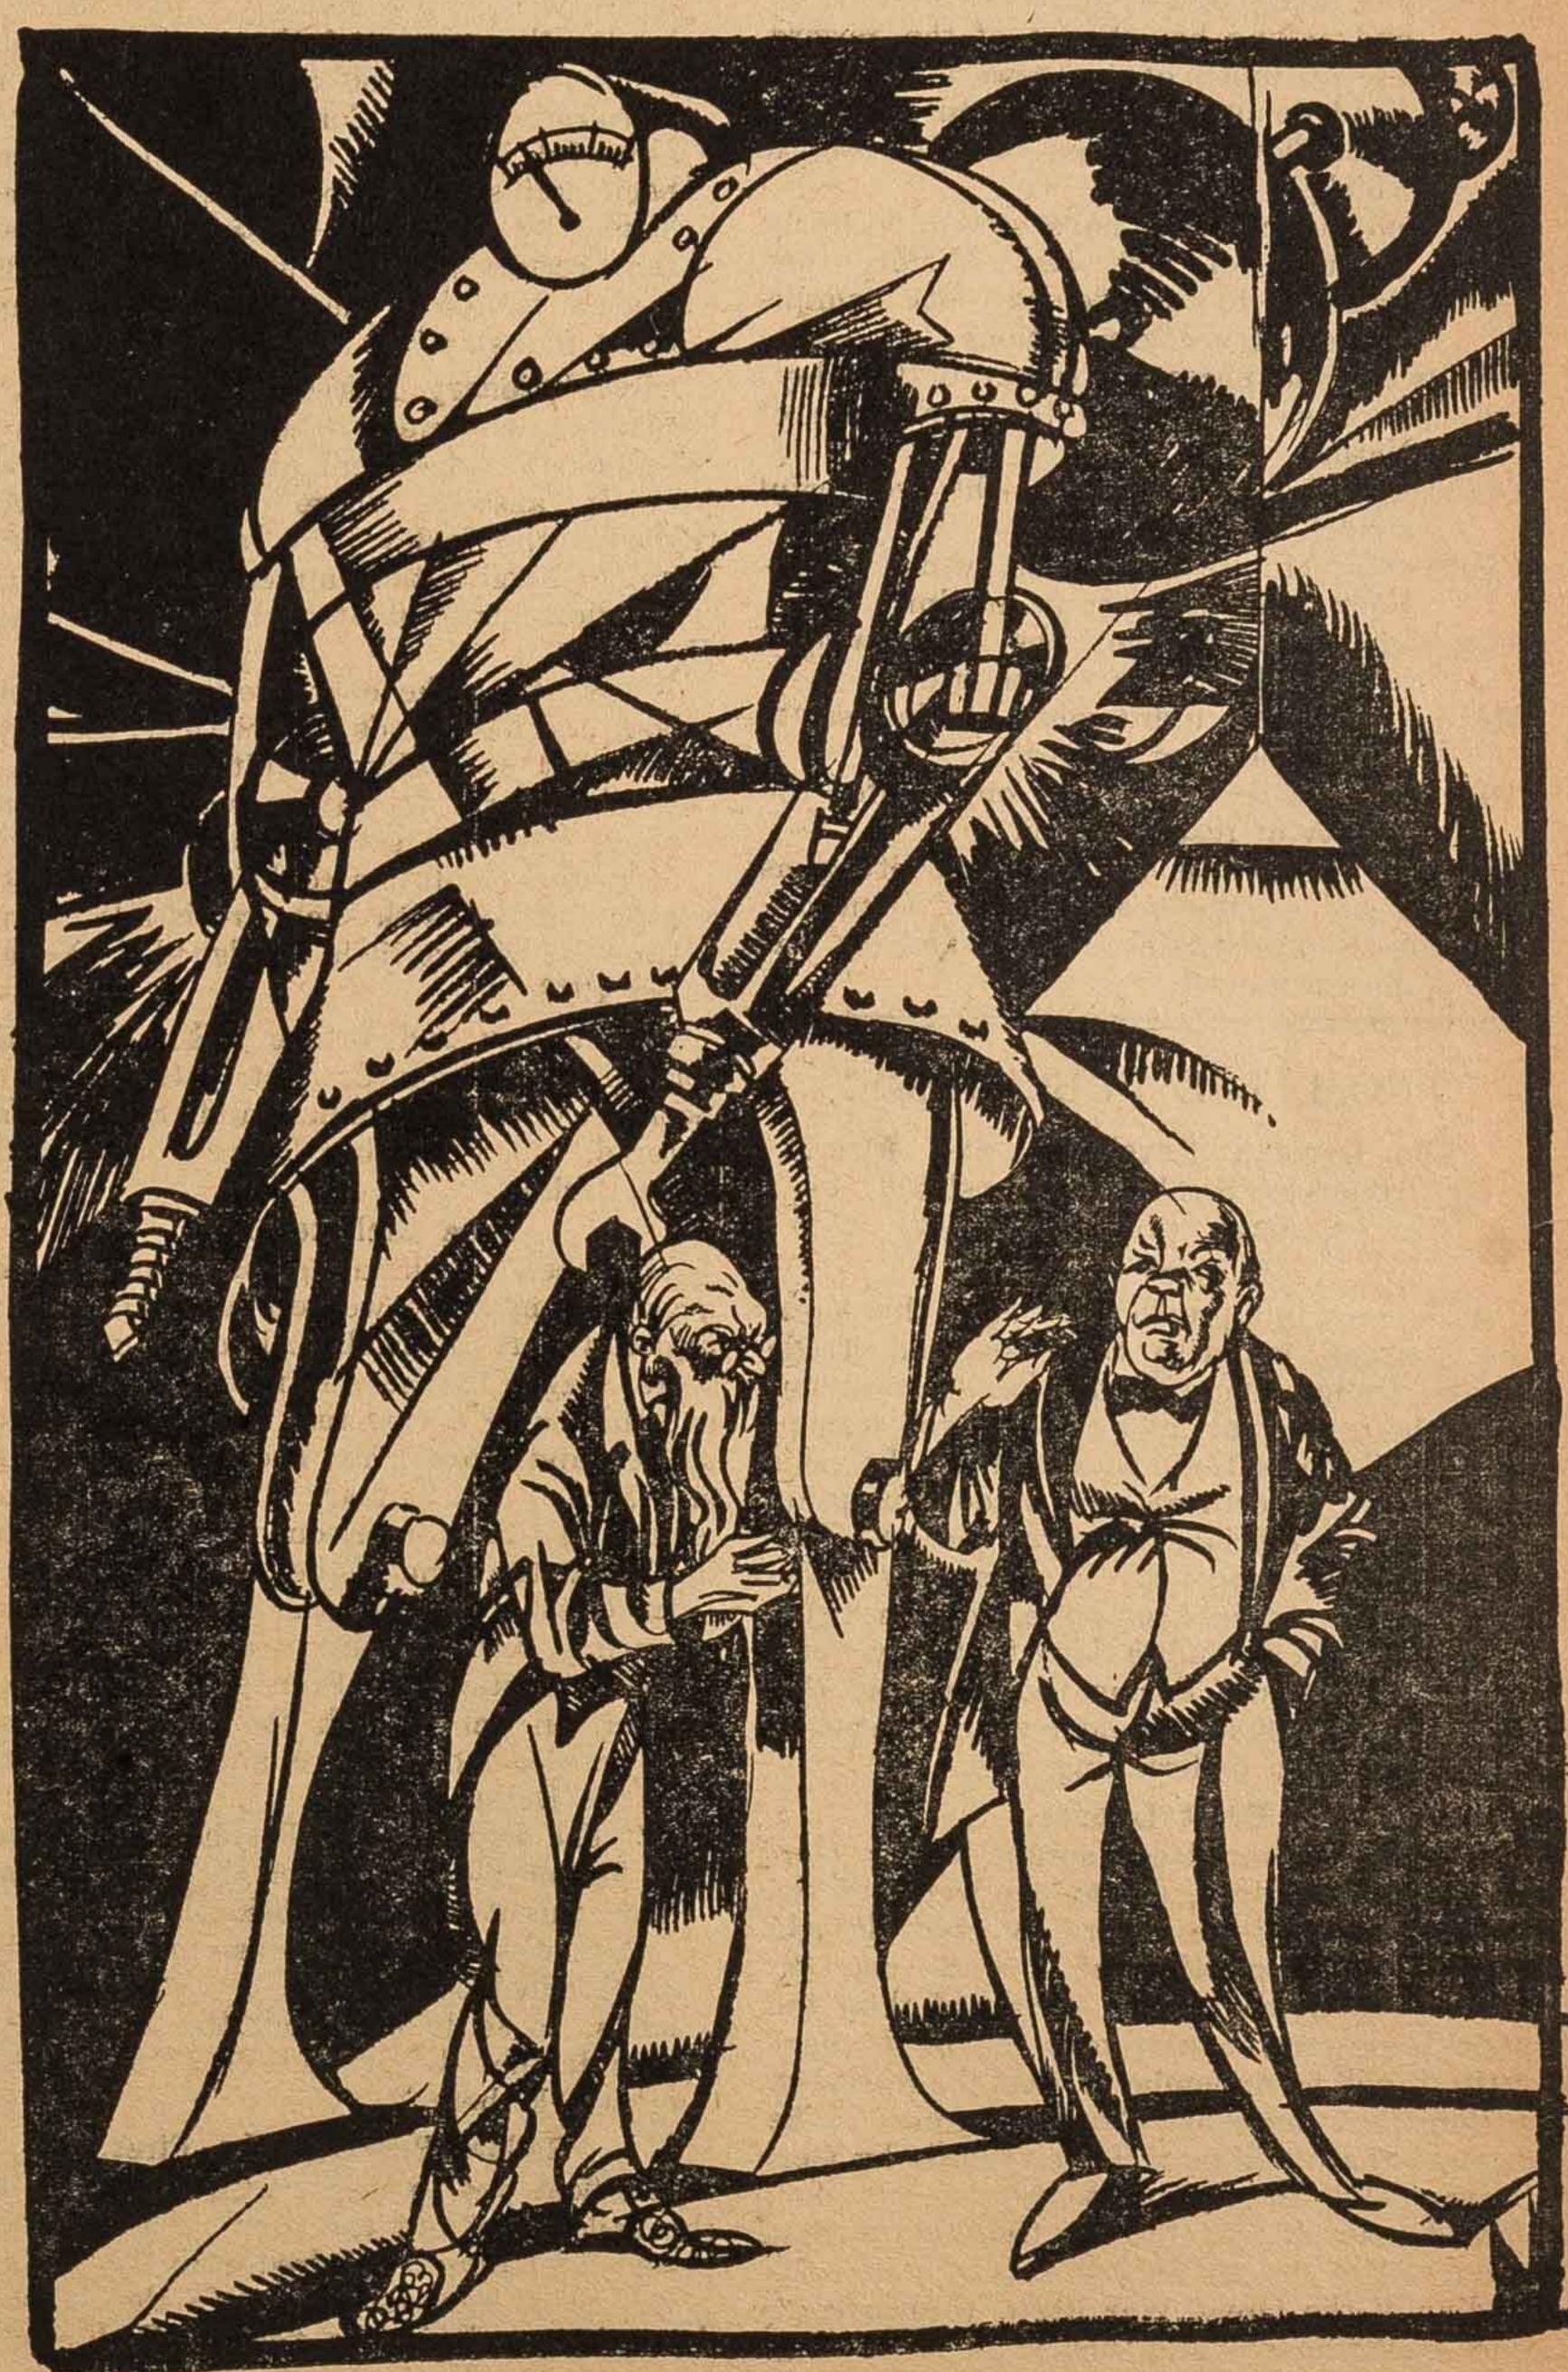

I saw a new life, a new society, arise.

Man I saw arising once more to dwell with

Nature;

R. U. R.

(Specially drawn for the "Workers' Dreadnought.")

The Inventor: "My mechanical workman will work for 24 hours a day, never rest nor strike, and all on a consumption of only four gallons of petrol per—"

The Employer: "What! You still have to feed the brute?"

ing, so loved,

The long estrangement, the long entanglement in vain things)-The child returning to its home, companion of the winter woods once more, Companion of the stars and waters, hearing their words at first-hand (more than alf issue. science ever taught)-

The near contact, the dear, dear mother so close, the twilight sky and the young tree-tops against it;

The huts on the mountain-side, companionable of the sun and the winds, the lake unsullied below;

in the parallel foam-lines of the sea, the pressure of the naked foot to the

The few needs, the exhilarated radiant lifeno more trouble;

(No hurry more, no striving one to override its view of the situation as follows:

Each one doing the work before him to do, and taking his chance of the reward, Doubting no more of his reward than the hand doubts, or the foot, to which the blood flows according to the use to which it is put); The plentiful common halls stored with the products of Art and History and Science to supplement the simple household accommodations;

The sweet and necessary labour of the day; All these I saw-for man the companion of Civilisation behind him now-the wonderful stretch of the past;

Continents, empires, religions, wars, migrations-all gathered up in him; The immense knowledge, the vast winged powers—to use or not to use— He comparatively indifferent, passing on to other spheres of interest. The calm which falls after long strife, the dignity of rest after toil; Hercules, his twelve labours done, sitting as a god on the great slope of Olympus, Looking out over the earth, on which he was once a mortal.

FROM THE PUBLISHERS.

The German Revolution and After. By Henrich Strobel. Translated by J. H. Stenning. (Jarrolds, 12/6.)

the German majority Socialists and Trade imperial port of Kiel. Already, in 1917, a Union leaders supported the Government secret league had been formed amongst them, throughout the war, and endeavoured to sup- and this being discovered, the leaders, Reichpress all opposition movements. In this spitsch and Koves, had been court-martialled country an agreement was made exempting and shot. In January 1918 the foremost Trade Union officials from war service. The leaders had been imprisoned to prevent action same thing happened in Germany. The in Kiel at the time of the general strike. German Government gave the German Trade In October, whilst the Government was Union officials an undertaking that they would ostensibly democratising itself, and a request be "unmolested" during the war, and that for an armistice had been sent to President Trade Union offices would not be treated as Wilson, on October 5th the Fleet Command essential war undertakings." Brest Litovsk.

Workshop committees sprang up in Germany, as in Britain, during the war; but the German committees were created largely under the inspiration of the Spartacists They were much further advanced than the British committee movement. In January 1918, it will be remembered that the workshop committees brought about a great strike against the invasion of Soviet Russia by Germany, and the annexationist peace then forced upon Russia by the German Government. But the strike was also to secure the ending of the Great War itself, to overthrow the Government, and make the revolution in Germany. A million workers took part in the strike, which lasted a week.

Russia's Policy. May it be that if Soviet Russia, instead of assenting to the Brest Peace, had joined letarian cause might have triumphed? Was it the demand for tranquility and the oppor-

(The old, old story—the prodigal son return- tunity to re-build economically at that juncture which was the fatal mistake of Soviet Russia? Would renewed warfare with Russia then, have brought about the military collapse of Germany earlier, and at a better moment for the proletarian struggle?

Heinrich Strobel does not touch upon that Treachery of Labour Leaders.

He records, however, that the German majority Socialists and Trade Unionists use l all their endeavours to end the strike as rapidly and as harmlessly as possible. Some of the Social Democrats did not disapprove the Brest Peace terms; others contented The daily bath in natural running waters, or themselves with merely blaming the Entente for not taking part in the negotiations Twenty-five Social-Democratic members were willing to vote for the Brest terms in the Reichstag; the majority decided to abstain.

the food and population question giving The General Commission of Trade Unions, in its official report afterwards, summed up

> The influence of the German working the Social Democrats. class was, unfortunately, too weak to Revolution began in Berlin on November ingly, in bad Russian: hinder, the course of these peace negotia- . 9th. The day before "Vorwaerts," now in tions [of Brest Litovsk] upon which the liands of the reactionary leaders, published powerful influence. It would also have just now, as this would provoke in the counbeen unjustifiable to influence this Peace try the bloodshed which has ceased at the Treaty by political mass strikes in the way front." The Social Democrats were in the that certain sections of the working class wished to utilise the strikes in the arma- posed to countenance mass uprising. ment industry."

volutionary workshop organisation is interesting. It answers those professed revolu- also had been arrested again, having been to the very end, even in the most laughable tionaries who to-day have taken to declaring such an organisation unnecessary. It also on October 21st. The Workers' Committee "What did you do, Yanson?" contradicts many of Strobel's own assertions. now issued a handbill, on November 9th lishment of a closely knit organisation of done in Kiel. revolutionary delegates, which in Berlin alone comprise several thousands of per- took the power. They went in a great prosons, the revolution could never have been cession, headed by the soldiers in arms. accomplished with such irresistible momentum and with so little bloodshed, in November 1918."

On October 2nd Prince Max of Baden formed a Coalition Cabinet, into which the Social Democrats Bauer and Scheidemann entered. On October 3rd the Kaiser fled

The Kiel Rebellion.

The open rebellion against the old order As we saw in a previous notice of this book, began amongst the workers an dsailors at the had yet decided to have a great sea battle with the British.

"The lives of 80,000 subordinates were to be sacrificed in order that the German Navy might go down gloriously.

"It was intended to assemble the fleet off Heligoland, behind a chain of 'U boats, so as to draw out the English and provide the 'U' boats with an opportunity to attack them."

Sailors Put Out The Fires.

The fleet was to start on October 28th, but the sailors put out the fires. The mutinous sailors, including a hundred from the "Markgraf," were imprisoned; but in the following days the revolt in the fleet at Kiel became general. On November 3rd a procession of workers and sailors was fired on, and thirty people were killed; but the workers and soldiers' councils were elected, and the imprisoned soldiers were released by the Goverwith the German revolutionaries then, the pro- 'nor. The authorities were powerless, and the working class had secured a complete-

Enter Noske.

On November 4th the sailors dispatch telegramme to the Independent Sociali asking that Haase, Ledebour, and Oscar Colm should come immediately. This tele. gramme was held up by the authorities; but on November 4th Noske, one of the foremos of the jingo Social Democrats, arrived in Kie Noske, who had been solid in his support of the Government and the war, solid in determination to suppress all popular revolt and gendarme said to him, in a vague way: now got himself elected by the 300 represe tatives of all the military and naval divisions as Governor of Kiel.

Workers' and Soldiers' Councils Take Control The revolution spread quickly through ( many; workers, soldiers and sailors' counci everywhere taking control. In Munich K Eisner, the leader of the Independents, had been imprisoned in the January strike was elected President. The Governmen officials placed themselves at his disposal but he formed a Coalition Government v

Coalition Government, and they were not released from a previous incarceration only and most stupid details, life remained life. announcing that the hour of revolution money

Without bloodshed, the Berlin proletariat Yanson lazily withdrew it. epaulettes, but no one was injured.

amongst the Social Democrats. He stated again to release it. of Baden, "with the support of the whole of soldiers uniform, of the muck-heap, and of the State secretaries," and that he, Ebert, was wet leather. The breath of a young gen.

peace and order."

Prince Max of Baden. Scheidemann, advantage of the proletarian victory 2 o'clock on November 9th, to proclaim t Social Democrats.

of the Workers' and Soldiers' Council con in the approaching execution. sisted of Barth. Bruhl, Eckert, Franke, "Where are we going?" asked Yanson Haase, Ledebour, Liebknecht, Wegmann suddenly. The continuous and prolonged and Nuendorf. Of these, Liebknecht, the shaking of the sombre vehicle gave him ver Spartacist, and Ledebour, the Independent, tigo and a little nausea. Landsberg and Ebert.

Mr. Strobel considers that the decision to join the Coalition was a wise one: but, in should have been held by the Workers' and Soldiers' Councils, and the Government At first Yanson said nothing, but after a which Ebert was forming should have been moment he replied:

THE

SEVEN THAT WERE HANGED. (By Leonid Andreyev, a Famous Russian Author.)

ON THE WAY TO THE GALLOWS. When Werner bent to get into the vehicle, tinuation of chapter in previous issue.)

". There is another in there who goes with

Werner was astonished.

Who is it? The soldier said nothing. In a dark corner something small and motionless, but alive, lay rolled up; an open eye shone under an oblique ray of the lantern. As he sat down, Werner brushed against a knee with his foot

" Pardon me, comrade! " vehicle had started did the man ask hesitat-

Who are you?" "My name is Werner, sentenced to be door; the gendarme loosened his weak fingers; German Army Command exercised a warning to the masses: No thoughtlessness hanged for an attempt upon the life of XX and grasped his arm. Ivan caught at the clared to the fatigued and irritated policeman.

In two hours they would be face to face The with the great mystery as yet unsolved; in revolutionary committee of workshop repre. two hours they would leave life for death; Revolutionary Workshop Committees. sentatives had decided to strike on November thither both were going, and yet they became Strobel's comment on the value of the .e. 4th. This was postponed. On November 8th acquainted. Life and death were marching Daumig and others were arrested. Liebknecht simultaneously on two different planes, and

"I stuck a knife into my boss. I stole

You are afraid? " asked Werner. "I do not want to be hanged."

officers were disarmed and deprived of their They became silent. Again Werner found Next morning appeared in "Vorwaerts" between his dry and burning palms. It re- their way to the poorly lighted railway car-proceeding to form the new Government in darme, redolent of garlic and bad tobacco, agreement with the parties." He urged the streamed continually into the face of Werner. people to "leave the streets and maintain who sat opposite. But the keen fresh air came in at the windows, and thanks to this Thus Noske became Governor of Kiel by the presence of spring was felt in the little the vote of the Soviets, and his colleague moving box even more plainly than outside. Ebert was created Imperial Chancellor by The vehicle turned now to the right, now to the left; sometimes it seemed to turn around other leader of the reaction, had also taken and go back. There were moments when it to me whether the lamp is smoking, when appeared to the prisoners as if they had been coming forward in the Reichstag Square, at going in a circle for hours. At first the idea. He threw a quick glance at Werner, bluish electric light came in between the and turned away his head. But both stopped republic that had been already proclaimed in heavy lowered curtains; then suddenly, after yawning.

"Dear friend! I think that you are in an opinion, it was a serious mistake. The power uncomfortable position. Draw nearer to Thank your I am comfortable! And your, they are going to hang you, too?

Yes! 'replied Werner, with an unlookedfor garety, almost laughing. He made a tree and-easy gesture, as if they were speaking or some future and stupid prank that a ban i of affectionate practical jokers were trying to play upon them.

You have a wife? "asked Yanson. No! A wife! 1? No, I am alone.' So am I. I am alone.

Werner, too, was beginning to feel the ver tigo. At times it seemed to him that he was on his way to some festivity. A queer thing: almost all those who were going to the executo lear and anguish, they rejoined vaguely 'n existed, but now it exists no more.' the extraordinary thing that was about to The slightly pallid cheeks of Musya red happen. Reality became intoxicated on mad dened. ness, and death, coupling with life, gave birth to phantoms Here we are at last! " said Werner, gay and curious, when the vehicle stopped; and descend. He clung to the handle of the him, and stopped short. corner, at the door, at the high wheel, out 'See to it that I travel comfortably, otheram Yanson. . . I must not be yielded at every intervention of the gendarme. wise I will not go with you! Rather hang me me auhered to things rather than gripped right here, to the lamp-post! Oh, the scounthem. And it was not necessary to use much drels, what a carriage they have given me! force to loosen his grasp. In short, they pre Do you call this a carriage? The devil's guts. vailed over him.

As always at night, the station was dark. deserted, and inanimate. The passenger out his neck, and advanced towards the other trains nad already passed, and for the train prisoners. From the frame of his bushy nair that was waiting on the track for the prisoners there was no need of light or activity. werner was seized with ennui. He was not airaid, he was not in distress, but he was bored; an immense, heavy, ratiguing ennui Without the courageous lead of Lede- had struck, and that the Workers' and From the sound of his voice it sounded as filled him with a desire to go away, no his hand; then, with a wink, he leaned over bour and his friends, and without the estab. Soldiers' Council must take power as it had if Yanson were asleep. Werner found his matter where, hie down, and close his eyes limp hand in the darkness, and pressed it. He stretched himself, and yawned repeatedly. If only mey did these things more > quickly!" said he, wearily. lanson said nothing, and shuddered.

When the condemned passed over the dethe Esthonian's hand, and pressed it tightly serted platform surrounded with soldiers, on a manifesto signed by Ebert, prominent mained motionless, but Yanson did not try riages, Werner found himself placed beside Sergey Golovin. The latter designated some that he had been made Imperial Chancellor They stifled in the cramped vehicle, whose thing with his hand, and began to speak; his by the late Imperial Chancellor, Prince Max musty smell mingled with the odours of the neighbour clearly understood only the word lamp "; the rest of the phrase was lost in a weary and prolonged yawn. What did you say?" asked Werner, vawning also. The reflector . . . the lamp of the re-..ector is smoking," said Sergey: Werner turned around. It was true; the glass snades were already black.

les, it is smoking! " Suddenly he thought: "What matters t Sergey undoubtedly had the same all the streets without the assistance of the a turn, darkness set in; it was from this that All walked to the train without difficulty; the travellers gathered that they had reached Yanson alone had to be led. At first he The Social Democrats, fearing that they the suburbs and were approaching the stiffened his legs, and glued the soles of his might be swept aside by the revolutionary tion of S-. Sometimes, at a sudden turn, feet to the platform; then he bent his knees. proletariat, now approached the Independent. Werner's bent and living knee brushed in a The entire weight of his body fell upon the Socialists, offering to take them into a Coalin friendly way against the bent and living kne arms of the policeman; his legs dragged like tion Government. The Executive Committee of the gendarme, and it was hard to believe those of a drunken man; and the toes of mis boots ground against the wooden platform. With a thousand difficulties, but in silence, they lifted nim into the railway carriage.

Vasily Kashirin himself walked unsupported; unconsciously he imitated the moverefused to join the Coalition; but Barth and Werner answered, and pressed the Estho. ments of his comrades. After mounting the Haase. Independents, and another Independentan's hand more tightly, than before. He steps of the carriage, he drew back; a policeent. Dittmann, joined the Government with would have liked to say specially friendly and, man took him by the elbow to sustain him. the Social Democrats, Scheidemann and kind words to this little sleeping man, whom Then Vasily began to tremble violently and already he loved more than anyone in the uttered a piercing cry, pushing away the > "Vasily, it is I, Werner!" "I know! Don't touch me! I want to walk alone! "

> And, still trembling, he entered the carriage and sat down in a corner. Werner leaned toward Musya, and asked in a low voice, designating Vasily with his eyes:

Well, how are things with him? Badly! " answered Musya, in a whisper. He is already dead. Tell me, Werner, does death really exist?

I don t know, Musya; but I think not! answered Werner in a serious and thoughtful

That is what I thought! And he? I suffered on his account during the whole ride; it seemed to me that I was travelling beside

I don't know, Musya. Perhaps death still exists for some. Later it will not exist . Who goes where? Ah! Yes! Another tion had the same feeling; although a prey at all. For me, for instance, death has

It has existed for you, Werner? For Yes, but no more. As for you!

They heard a sound at the door of the rail-There was no answer. Not until the ne seaped lightly to the ground. Not so with way carriage; Mishko the Tzigane entered, lanson, who resisted, without saying a word, spitting, breathing noisily, and making a very lazily, it seemed, and who refused to racket with his boot-heels. He glanced about

"There is no room left, officer!" he deyes, but not a carriage!

But suddenly he lowered his head, stretched and beard his black eyes shot a savage, sharp and rather crazy look. "Oh, my God!" he cried; "so this is where we are! How do you do, sir?"

He sat down opposite Werner, holding out and swiftly passed his hand across his companion's neck.

"You, too? Eh?

Yes!" smiled Werner.

Oh! oh! said the Tzigane, showing mis teeth. He examined the other prisoners with a swift glance, which nevertheless dwelt longest on Musya and Yanson.

'On account of the Minister?'

Yes. And you?

Oh, sir, my case is quite another story. I am not so distinguished! I, sir, am a brigand, an assassin. That makes no difference, sir; move up a little to make room for me; it is not my fault that they have put me in your company! In the other world there will

He took the measure of all the prisoners with a watchful, distrustful, and savage gaze. But they looked at him without a word. seriously, and even with evident compassion. Again he showed his teeth, and slapped Werner several times on the knee. "So that is how it is, sir! As they say in

'Take care to make no sound, O forest of Why do you call me sir, when all of

You are right!" acquiesced the Tzigane, with satisfaction. "Why should you be sir, since you are to be hanged beside me? There sits the real sir!

He pointed his finger at the silent ponce-

"And your comrade yonger, he doesn't seem to be enjoying himself hugely!" he added, looking at Vasily. "Say, there, you are afraid?

"No!" answered a tongue that moved

Well, then, don't be so disturbed; there is nothing to be ashamed of. It is only dogs that wag their tails and show their teeth when they are going to be hanged; you are a man. And this marionette, who is he? He certainly is not one of your crowd?"

(Continued on p. 5.)

Morkers' Preadnought Founded 1914.

Editor: SYLVIA PANKHURST.

All Matter for Publication- To THE EDITOR: Business Communications - To THE MANAGER. WORKERS' DREADNOUGHT, 152, FLEET STREET, LONDON, E.C.4.

SUBSCRIPTIONS. Three Months (13 weeks) ... Post Free 1/74 Six Months (26 weeks) One Year (52 weeks)

Vol. A. No. o. Saturday, May 12, 1928.

Our View.

THE UNITED FRONT of all Capitalist sections, and the reactionary character of Asquithian Liberalism was demonstrated by the London "Star" in its leader on the British Royal be one of the most enlightened of the bourgeois papers; yet this is what it said:

King George has a political mission, but it is a mission of amity. England expresses through him her affection for Italy, which in itself is worth doing, and takes on a special value to-day because elsewhere the Continent rings with discord. Also we are glad to show sympathy with Italy's experiment in strong government. She has given the world great political ideas before; and though we watch Fascism not without criticism, we are willing to believe there is something in it for us to learn."

OBSERVE THAT BENITO MUSSOLINI

has been made a Knight Royal Dinners Grand Cross of the Bath for his attack on the Labour, Cooperative, Socialist, and Com-Labour munist Movements of Italy, for Mussolini. and for his destruction of the Royal Honours democratic constitution

Observe that the King who has thus honoured Mussolini paid the same honour to THE BRITISH GOVERNMENT'S ULTI- THE GERMAN OFFER of reparations had the Russian counter-revolutionary General Denekin; yet he invites British Labour leaders to dine with him at Buckingham Palace, and also accepts invitations to meet Russia? them at the house of Lord Astor.

against the Russian Revolution; but why does King George confer nonours upon the claring that it will. We hardly think the diplomacy have taught us to expect that if destroyers of the Italian Labour Movement, Governments are yet ready for such an enter- one Great Power has been allowed by its colwhilst inviting British Labour leaders to his prise. Should it develop, however, Capi- leagues to commit a robbery, its colleagues house? The answer is, firstly, that a de- talism has much to fear from it, and all who will get what they call compensation by being stroyer of the British Labour Movement desire the overthrow of Capitalism must throw permitted to commit a robbery somewhere would be even more cordially regarded at all their energies into the struggle to impede else. The ten years which led up to the Buckingham Palace and by the Capitalist the war, and at the same time to use the Great War provided many examples of that powers grouped around the British throne war as a lever to stir up the people against practice. than is Mussolini. At the same time, it must the Government. be remembered that the Italian Labour Movement had gone further than the British when Mussolini made his attack upon it. It was a more sincere and intelligent movement. The major part of the British Labour Movesupported the war: the vast majority of the Trade Union officials not only supported the war, but formed a United Front with Capitalism against the workers at home, and when abroad. That was not the case in Italy. In Italy the great masses of organised workers failed to take action, but their opinions were Churches. sound: they were for Socialism against Capitalism: they were against the war: they were war with zest, because it was a Capitalist placed on trial because the French killed some for the Russian Revolution-nay, more, they war; and they were, both directly and of the factory workers, is one of those burwere for the International revolution of the through the personal interests of their lesque atrocities which seem quite impossible proletariat. They did not act; they did not prominent officials, indirectly concerned in until they occur, but which are daily growing know how to act; but their opinions were the success of the native Capitalism. A war sound. As for the officials, they, like the to vindicate the churches and their property masses, failed in action; but all; save a few would be supported by the churches the world of them, made propaganda for the prole- over with still greater enthusiasm.

issues since 1014. Capitalism had reason to should apparently be promoting the founds. Henderson.

THE HOME SECRETARY'S STATEMENT that the Government desires The Special to maintain the special constables at war-time strength shows that the Government in quelling popular unrest at no distant date. The same anticipation was revealed in the Government refusal to accept amendments providing that special constabulary should not be employed outside their own police district, that they may not be used as blacklegs, and that men shall not be debarred from service as special constables by reason of race, religion, political opinion, or Trade Union visit to Italy. The "Star" is supposed to SIR WILLIAM ORPEN has shown himself work he painted them ota ndreplaced um hm work he painted them out and replaced them May Meetings of the followers of "the Prince by the coffin of an unknown soldier guarded of Peace" for the purpose of selling anti-war by two dead comrades, in memory of "the literature that the religious folk have thrust whom he cannot forget. Probably the painter there must be war! " is one of the many whose eyes are still shut to the iniquities of the Great War, to the appalling crime that it was, to the awful guiltiness of the men he was asked to paint "Dally as peacemakers. Immersed in his work, he Herald's " has probably never considered the social Strange system; yet, as a trained observer, he has Statement. not been able to escape altogether a realisation of the immense victimisation of common men that the war meant, and the utter meanness of those ambitious gamesters who callously played with the destinies of millions matum to Soviet Russia 's Will there be adopt an abject attitude and exceedingly peremptory. Un-doubt exorbitant scale, the Trade Agreement together seems to suggest that British Capi-Denekin was honoured because he fought will be denounced. That war will follow talism feels it will be shut out from the rich seems incredible, though many people are de- spoils of the nuhr. The usages of Capitalist > ostensibly it is because Russia claims twelve Britain, France, and America—are in Anamiles of territorial waters, whilst Britain tolia, in the Ruhr, in Russia. The three great declares that the international custom gives competitors are playing the game of exploita-

The pressure making for a rupture with interest to use no more violence than is neces-Soviet Russia has, however, largely come from sary to attain their ends; but they have no the Church of England, strongly represented scruples about war if it seems likely to be the occasion offered, also against the workers in the House of Lords and on the Privy Coun- most profitable course. France is at war oil, and strong in land-owning and financial with Germany, but Germany feels unable to power, as well as from the Nonconformist fight.

The churches threw themselves into the last chairman of the works council, should be tariat against Capitalism on all the great We regret that the Soviet Government hate and fear the spokesmen of the Italian tion of a new church or church faction-" The Movement, whilst Capitalism found very ser- Living Church "in Russia; this tactical move viceable such spokesmen of the British may be of some little assistance momentarily. Labour Movement as Messrs. Thomas, Tillett, but in the long run it is bound to prove a Barnes, Clynes, Havelock Wilson, and grievous mistake and a hindrance to progress and the freeing of the popular mind.

Governments undertake international propaanticipates serious difficulty the established order must find propaganda as unfit for human habitation in the slums. The termination of the Treaty is therefore some Perth crofters will be dispossessed if the still more important than other Governments. Obviously the Soviet Government intended to do propaganda. Obviously it was doing propaganda. The slender veil of the Third International independence could deceive no one. We had already been informed by those who declared they had also advised the Soviet Goevrnment of the facts, that the Soviet administration was honeycombed by foreign Government agents, as well as by self-seeking persons willing to take a bribe from either side. The British Government declares itself to be fully informed as to the propaganda a genuine artist in his refusal carried on by the Soviet Government and the to paint, as the men who won money spent on it. The ultimatum gives the war, and as the men who quotations from the reports of Soviet officials. gave the world peace, a group The British Government's claim to have preof thirty-nine generals and cise information may, or may not, be justified. politicians. After nine months' incessant We are inclined to believe that it is.

We are told by one who has attended the soldiers who remain for ever in France." his papers aside, saying: "That's no good:

> correspondent on the question of propaganda says: "If the case is proven, then there is certainly occasion for apology and redress."

That is a most unwise statement to make. The "Herald" will find itself committed to approval of a war if it is not more guarded in its expressions of opinion. The remark certainly comes with a poor grace from the "Herald."

no chance of acceptance, because the French Government less the Soviet Government The German is determined to possess the Ruhr. Lord Curzon's appeal make reparation on a, no that the Allies should discuss the Note

The three great opportunities of plunder at As to the occasion of the ultimatum, present awaiting the three greatest Powerstion very briskly. Obviously it is to their

That Krupp, his fellow-directors, and the

When shall we come to the end of this nightmare in which overgrown Capitalism drags through its long old age?

Parliament As We See It.

HOUSING.

and the futility of Mr. Chamberlain's Bill Iraq was to last 20 years from 1922. It is vellers by running golf specials; that a railin relation to it, was given by the description decided it shall terminate when Iraq enters way company ought not to own golf courses of the problem in Merthyr by Mr. Walhead the League of Nations, or four years after or golf hotels; that the fares are too high; As to the question of propaganda: one of [Lab.). A penny rate in Merthyr raises the conclusion of peace with Turkey. The and that the company's station in Glasgow is the points on which we from the first objected $1,000. By imposing a penny rate for 20 British Government will advise the admission reglected. to the Anglo-Russian Trade Agreement was vears, and a 12d. rate for 40 years, Merthyr of Iraq into the League of Nations when the Mr. J. H. Thomas (Lab.), as he always by Mr. Chamberlain. 801 houses are re- when Iraq has what the British Government terests of the railway company. ganda. A Government set up in defiance of quired in Merthyr to replace those condemned considers a stable Government. Mr. Scrymgeour (Prohibition) said that

OXFORD SLUMS. Mr. Frank Gray (Lib.) said that there re no worse slums than those of Oxford. He cited a house containing five rooms, two of which were so unfit that they could not e occupied. Of the other three rooms, one was occupied by a family or seven, five of whom were children, the eldest suffering from disease which debarred him from entering an elementary school. Another room conined a family of four, two of them children, ne elder of whom had since been removed a sanatorium for tuberculosis. The reaining room was occupied by one person There were twelve people in the three rooms.

NOT ENOUGH LABOUR TO BUILD HOUSES.

Mr. Chamberlain replied that the problem of the slums cannot be re-housed on the same ouses cannot be solved. "You have not the abour or resources in the country to deal with these two things." Nevertheless, the unemployed problem is What further proof is required of the bank.

upter of Capitalism? In Birmingham there are 40,000 back-toack houses, in Leeds 70,000 back-to-back of the slums cannot be housed on the same shops, and "The Conquest of Bread"! ites, because the density of population is too reat. They cannot be removed, because v cannot afford to live at a greater distance om their work, being unable to pay fares. Blocks of flats of great height are, in his inion, "not very suitable for the working arcels, as for well-to-do flat dwellers.

NEEDLESS POVERTY.

£2 A SQUARE YARD.

Before the war Glasgow City Council paid strengthened. 2 a square yard for land to build houses on.

WIDOWS' PENSIONS.

During the twelve months ending March st, 1923, 9,725 applications for pension were nade by soldiers' widows; 4,540 applications vere granted, 340 were given part-pension, 4,845 were refused altogether.

TRAINING AND HOME TREATMENT. while his allowance and treatment were League of Nations. opped, and he and his family left penniless.

INDUSTRIAL SCHOOLS.

Edith Mansfield was sent to Stoke Park dustrial School at 11 years, to be detained ill 16; is still there at 22 years of age. Dora Thorp, who went there at 12, is there aged 24. The Government representae said that Edith is certified as mentally efective, and Dora had the mentality of a hild of 11 when the time for her discharge ame. When asked at what period mental deficiency was detected, the Home Secretary said he thought it was noticed at the age still in the air.

THE AIR FLEET.

It is not in the public interest to give the number of machines under construction.

AGRICULTURAL LABOURERS' WAGES. The highest weekly wage now paid to agricultural labourers was given by the Minister of Agriculture as 32/-, the lowest 25/-Lower wages than that are unfortunately ponies employed in British mines died through ployers of the N.U.R. members is a scandal injuries in 1921, and 1,933 through disease; of which everyone seems to be aware except whilst 6,102 received non-fatal injuries. Sir the N.U.R. members. J. Butcher (C.), who, like Sir Frederick Banbury (C.), is only solicitous for the welfare of animals, pressed for mechanical haulage.

PIT PONIES.

THE BANKRUPTCY OF FARMERS.

Two hundred and eighty-five farmers went bankrupt in 1921, their liabilities being £826,793, and 404 farmers in 1922, their liabilities being £768,561. Farmers bankruptcies fell during the war. In 1913 there were 326 with liabilities of £340,018. Farmers, like everyone else, would be much happier under Communism. Give your agricultural friends Mr. N. Chamberlain said that the people Kropotkin's "Fields, Factories and Work-

NAVAL WORKS.

£3,832,850 was voted for naval works, London, and the North Dublin Union; men buildings, etc., including a new naval base at are in Mountjoy, Dublin, and Brixton Prison. Singapore. The Admiralty representative London. stated that the oil tanks, especially on the route to the East, must be added to, and a Lifts are not provided for them or their much larger number of mines than used to be the case must be kept in reserve. Much more powerful explosives than gunpowder are with a hissing sound, he spat out his abundnow used, therefore the depots must be ant and sweetish saliva. Yanson, doubled up

> ness had led to the planning of "great answered for him. schemes for the comfort and betterment of "He killed his employer." the men of the lower deck . . . under sheer "My God!" exclaimed the Tzigane, in necessity we have had to drop a great deal astonishment. "How is it that they permit of that programme."

fore the naval base at Singapore had become his straight and piercing gaze upon her. ex-soldier, was sent to a convalescent centre others followed on the same line. To this knee with his hooked fingers. o train. During his visit home a member the First Lord of the Empire hypocritically Blushing and somewhat confused, Musya of his family got scarlet fever. Hughes was replied that the strength of the British Em. squarely returned the gaze of the attentive efused re-admission to the centre, and mean- pire is an essential factor in the policy of the Commander Bellairs (C.) said this country is not the centre of the Empire, but on its northern fringe, and Singapore is more the ing the whistle blew, the engineer being arraid centre of the Empire than Portsmouth.

would not be surprised to see Singapore used, all human activity, was being expended in not as a base to defend these shores, but to taking men to be hanged? The maddest attack them. The school which desires the thing in the world was being done with an centre of the Empire to go to the East he air of simplicity and reasonableness. Cars declared to be gaining ground.

J. H. THOMAS DEFENDS RAILWAY DIRECTORS.

Messrs. Neil Maclean (Lab.) and W. Graham (Lab.) opposed a private Bill of the The fact is that the disciplinary regime of Caledonian Railway, on the ground that it industrial schools and prisons is stultifying does not provide third-class sleeping carriages; that the week-end tickets are incon-A bird's-eye view of the housing problem, The Treaty under which the British occupy venient; that it inconveniences other traits debarring of Russian propaganda. All would get 156 houses of the quality proposed frontiers of Iraq have been deliminated and does, immediately rose to champion the in-

Bill goes through. It was strange that Mr. The main point is, however, that when the Thomas should speak specially for the railpresent Treaty is concluded, another will be way directors in this matter, and also in the handing over to them of "very substantial sums of money granted by the Government in recognition of their services." Mr.

Thomas had said that as the traffic increases (for instance, in special trains to Wembley the other day), so the employees receive the benefit. "I shall be glad to hear from any oranch of the National Union of Railwaymen in this country that have found the management of railways respond in the way the right hon, gentleman has stated."

The relationship between Mr. J. H. Two thousand two hundred and ninety-two Thomas, the N.U.R. official, and the em-

THE RENT BILL.

The Act which safeguards the rent increases of landlords, made without giving notice to quit, has passed through the Commons. WORKMEN'S COMPENSATION.

The Labour Party Workmen's Compensation Bill was read a second time on condition it goes no further. The Government will introduce a Bill of its own.

RECOGNITION.

For railway directors, cash payments; for Mrs. Starr, a medal and personal message from the King and Queen; for Cabinet Minis-

IRISH DEPORTEES.

Women deportees are in Holloway Prison.

(Continued from p. 3.)

His eyes danced incessantly; constantly, motionless in a corner, slightly shook the ears After the war a feeling of exalted hopeful- of his bald fur cap, but said nothing. Werner such birds as that to kill people? The Washington Treaty precludes Britain For a moment he looked at Musya from further developing Hong Kong; there- stealthily; then suddenly he turned, and fixed

Some ex-soldiers, totally incapacitated for a necessity according to the Admiralty repre- "Miss! Stay there, Miss! What is the ork, are awarded "home treatment" sentative. Mr. Lambert (Lib.) asked whether matter with you? Your cheeks are pink, and without allowances; some get an allowance of this was an attempt to get behind the you are laughing! Look, sne is really laughout 8/- a week. W. E. Picton Hughes, an Washington Treaty: Mr. Asquith (L.) and ing! Look, look! "And he seized Werner's and savage eyes that questioned her. All

The little cars bounced speedily along the narrow track. At every turn or grade-crossof crushing somebody. Was it not atrocious Mr. Walton Newbold (C.P.G.B.) said he to think that so much care and effort, in short were running; people were sitting in them as usual, travelling as people ordinarily travel. Then there would be a halt as usual: "Five

And then would come death-eternity-the

(To be continued.)

ESPERANTO.

Lesson 17. ORDINAL NUMBERS.

The numbers unu, du, tri . . . cent, mil, etc., are called Cardinal Numbers. By adding to them -a, we turn them into what are called Ordinal Numbers-e.g., unua, nrst; dua, second; tria, third . . . centa, 100th; mila, 1,000th, etc.

CLOCK TIMES.

To tell the time in Esperanto is a very simple matter. We use the ordinal numbers with la (the) before them, thus: La unua (horo), the first (hour), that is, one o'clock; dua, two o'clock, etc. It is not necessary which is understood.

To translate at four o'clock, etc., we use je before the hour, thus, je la kvara, at four clock; je la kvina, at five o'clock. je la dekdua, at twelve o'clock.

Before proceeding to fractions of an hour, the learner should draw a rough diagram of clock face, and mark on it the hours. ssume that the big hand is always at the gure 12. Now ask the question: Kioma horo estas? What is the time? Kiom means how much; from it we form the adjective kioma. Kioma horo estas? means, therefore, What (how much) hour is . . . at when is impersonal, is not expressed in Esperanto). ractise naming all the hours, thus: La unua, la dua, la tria, la kvara . . . la dekdua.

Now vary the question and ask Je kioma horo vi iros? At what time will you go? The reply will be: Je la kvara, at four o clock; je la kvina, je la sesa, je la sepa, and five (minutes). It is not necessary to Sumerian cities. minutoj, which is understood. We read 4.15 as la kvara kaj dek kvin; 3.45 as la tria kaj kvardek kvin; 3.30, la tria kaj tridek (or la tria kaj duono, " the third and a half "); 4.15 is la kvara kaj dek kvin (or la kvara kaj kvarono, "the fourth and a quarter").

fractions are formed by -on, thus: From du (2) we form duono, a half; from kvar (4), kva.ono, a quarter; from tri (3), triono, a third . . . from cent. (100), centono, -100th; from mil (1,000) milono, 1-1,000th --- milionono is a millionth.

Yocabulary.
revenos	will come back believe(s)
tredas	until, as far as ajs aj	and
ilingo	shilling
or-iras	go away, goes o
agonaro	train start(s)
ek-iras Bodiaŭ	to-day
iu	every
aro	year

Translate.

ia. Mi kredas, ke li ne revenos ĝis la 3.30 be slain. The man on whom the spell has (tria tridek or tria kaj duono). Unu estas been laid must also undergo an ordeal. He duono de du; du estas duono de kvar, kaj must plunge in the holy river. If the holy Evarono de ok. Kvarono de ŝungo estas tri river seize him, the layer of the spell shall encoj. Naŭ estas tri kvaronoj de dek du. take his house. If he remains unharmed, ha e kioma horo foriras la vagonaro al Parizo shall take the house of the layer of the spell, i ekiras je la tria tridek kvin. Hodiaŭ estas who shall be slain.

22nd, Whitsuntide.

ournemouth.

Arrangements made for return journey at a fare and a third.

LESSONS FOR PROLETARIAN SCHOOLS.

In the last lesson we gave some account of the laws of the earliest known inhabitants of Southern Mesopotamia, the Sumerians.

The Sumerian conception of divinity was Enlil, god of the air. They built for him .. great square tower tapering upward with small low temple beside it. Such towers were built all over the Plain of Shinar, and the temple tower of Babylon in later times gave rise to the story of the Tower of Babel.

Semitic Nomads from the desert had begun to settle in the region called Akkad. north-east of the Plain of Shinar. The leading tribe there was called Akkadian. Akkadians and Sumerians were often at war, and it is believed that about 2750 B.C. the Akkadian leader, Sargon, conquered the Sumerians. He was a successful general, and extended his dominion from Elam, on the Persian Gulf, to the Mediterranean, and far up the Tigris and Euphrates to the north. The Akkadians, who had been wandering shepherds, now adopted the customs of the Sumerians. They had not been able to write, but they now gradually learnt the cuneiform script of the Sumerians and the semitic language of the Akkadians was therefore first written in Sumerian characters. Sumerians acted as clerks, secretaries, and bookkeepers to the Akkadian kings and nobles.

Some time after 2500 B.C. the southern Sumerian cities, headed by Ur, revolted against the Akkadians and obtained equality with their conquerors, the kingdom being now known as "Sumer and Akkad."

A new Semitic tribe, the Amorites of Syria. now began to make war on the kingdom of To read 4.5 (five minutes past four), we Sumer and Akkad, and after a time seized first say the hour, la kvara (four o'clock) the little town of Babylon on the Euphrates. and then add the minutes, thus: La kvara The Elamites from Elam, in the eastern kaj kvin (minutoj), i.e., the fourth (hour) mountains, also invaded the southern

> After a hundred years of fighting, Hammurabi, one of the Amorite kings of Babylon, drove out the Elamites, and after 2100 B.C. made Babylon the capital city of his

Prior to the time of Hammurabi, or Hammurapi, Sumerian continued in use for legal documents and religious writings. Hammurabi codified the laws and added to them, and had them engraved in the Semitic speech of the Amorites upon a stone column, at the top of which was a sculptured scene in which Hammurabi received the laws from the sun god, Marduk. This pillar is now in the Louvre in Paris, and a copy of it is in the British Museum. On this pillar Hammurabi states that: "Anu the Supreme, the King of the Anunnaki, and Bel, the lord of lieave i and earth, who fixes the destiny of the universe," have called him "the renowned prince, the god-fearing Hammurabi, to establish justice in the earth." He follows with a long eulogy of himself.

The code of laws in many respects follows the Sumerian, of which we have already given the gist, but it is much more extensive.

Sorcery is recognised: for laying an un-Je kioma horo n revenos? Li revenos je la justified spell or curse on another, a man shall dekdua de Majo. En la jaro 1923a (mil Slavery is also recognised: a man who has meent dudektria). La unua de Majo en ĉiu stolen a slave, enabled a slave to escape, or pro okazas la festo de la internacia prole- harrevred a fugitive slave, shal be slain. A slave who denies his master shall have his ear cut off. A man who has contracted debt may give his wife, son, or daughter to The British Esperanto Congress takes labour in the house of the bondmaster for pe freed. If a man send his slaves to work not return to him. Tickets, 5/- each, obtainable of P. H. off his debt in the same way, and the bond-the bondmaster.

a sheep, a pig, an ass, or a boat, he shall pay thirty-fold; whilst a plebian snall pay tentold; the thief who cannot pay shall be slain.

A soldier who has been ordered to fight for the king, but who hires a substitute to go in his stead, shall be slain. The substitute shall take his house.

Again, as in the Sumerian code, care 18 taken to ensure that the land shall not be

If a man take a field to farm, and grow no corn on it, he shall be accused of neglecting to work the field, and shall give to the lord corn according to the yield of the district; he shall hoe and sow the field, and restore it to the lord. If a man lease unreclaimed land for three years, and neglect to work it, in the fourth year he shall hoe and sow it and return it to the lord, paying him ten "gur" of corn for each "gan."

If a soldier neglect his house and land, and another work them for three years, the property shall pass to the man who has worked

If a soldier has been taken prisoner on "the way of the king," and a trader ransom him, the soldier shall pay back the trader. If his house does not contain sufficient to repay, the temple of his city shall repay, and if the temple lack the means, then the great house shall pay. The soldier's house and land shall not be taken for ransom.

If a man has let his field to a cultivator, and the crop is destroyed by flood, then the cultivator bears the loss; but if a man owe a debt and his crop is destroyed, he shall not pay interest on his debt that year.

The landlord seems at that period to have been more favoured than the moneylender. The toll taken by the landlord was very heavy; a gardener renting an orchard must give two-thirds of the produce to the land-

It should be observed that a soldier taken prisoner in the service of the king was expected to pay his own ransom. If a soldier refused service, he was executed. The soldier could only bequeath his feudal land to a son, not to the wife or daughter, because they could not perform military service which went with the land. He could not sell or mortgage his feudal land.

If a man has rented an orchard of dates, and has borrowed silver from a trader, and if when the time for repayment comes he has no money, and if he say to the trader gather the dates from the orchard, the trader shall not consent. The lord of the orchard shall gather the dates, then, naving repaid the trader, he shall keep the rest of the dates

If a female beer-seller has sold drink at too low a price, she shall be thrown into the

Apparently the brewing interests inspired that regulation!

The Hammurabi code was ruthless against women who offended against the established

If rebels meet in the house of a wineseller, and she does not seize them and take them to the great house, that wineseller shall be slain."

'If a priestess or holy sister who has not remained in the convent shall open a wineshop, or enter a wine-shop for drink. that woman shall be burned."

The pressure of economic need is recognised in dealing with marriage relationships: If a man has been taken captive, and there is food in his house, and his wife forsake him and enter another house, then she shall be prosecuted; but if there is no food in his house she shall bear no blame. If she bear children to another, she shall nevertheless return to her husband if he come back.

If a man has fled and deserted his city, lace this year at Bournemouth, May 18th three years; but the fourth year they must and he come back to claim his wife, she shall

A neglectful wife may be divorced without wis. Hon. Sec., 12 St. Clements Road, master sell them, there is no claim against the return of her dowry or kept as the slave of the second wife. A conscientious wife Death is the punishment for theft, but 't must have her dowry returned if divorced. is also provided that if a freeman steal an ox, If a wife is ill, her husband may marry another, but he must keep the first wife in his house, unless she prefer to return to her father with her dowry.

pride price and rights of inheritance. If the a reduction of 10/-, and not only struck daughter of a freeman marry a slave, and the slave die, the dowry of the woman shall be rate of pay as white seamen," was their returned to her, and all that she and her slogan. husband had beside shall be equally divided between her and the slave-owner.

deal with adoption. An adopted son who was signed on. denies his parents by adoption, "his tongue shall be cut out."

There are many violent punishments. A son who strikes his father shall have his hands cut off.

A nurse whose charge dies, and who substitutes another child, shall have her breasts

A man who destroys the eye, breaks the he shall be fined. If a man strike the body pay to the hoster just the same. of a man who is great above him, he shall receive sixty lashes with a cowhide whip in the assembly. If a freeman strike a freeman, he shall pay a mina of silver. If a slave strike the son of a free man, his ear shall be cut off. "If a man strike the daugh. ter of a freeman and her foetus sall, he shall pay ten shekels of silver for her foetus. that woman die, his daughter shall be slain. If he has done the same to a plebian woman, he shall pay five shekels of silver for her foetus and half a mina of silver if she die: for the foetus of a slave he must pay two shekels of silver; if the slave woman die he shall pay a third of a mina or silver.

These, remember, were represented as God-given laws. In a future lesson we shall compare them with the supposedly God-given laws of Moses.

The doctors were in a difficult position: . doctor who opened a freeman's tumour with a metal knife and cured his eye was paid ten shekels of silver; but if the man died or the eye were destroyed, his hands were cut off.

If a man built a house and it fell, killing the owner, the builder must use; if the child of the owner were killed, the builder's child must be slain. Since the houses were built of sun-dried brick, and the foundations were of swampy mud and sand, the fall of a house was not uncommon.

Workers' wages were fixed, and their value may be gathered by comparison with the cost of hiring animals:

Hire of a boatman, six "gur" of corn a

Hire of a herdsman, six " gur " of corn " Hire of a pasturer for cattle and sheep, eight "gur" of corn each year. Pay of a weaver, five grains of silver a day. Pay of a potter, five grains of silver a day.

Pay of a carpenter, four grains of silver a

Pay of a leather worker, four grains of

Hire of a draught ox, four "gur" of corn

Hire of a milch-cow, three "gur" of corn

Hire of a boat, three grains of silver a day. Hire of a cruising boat, two and a-half grains of silver a day.

Should any man annul these laws, change the sculptures, or erase the name of Hammurabi in order to raise his own, that ruler called down upon him the punishment of Anu the father of the gods, Bel who fixes fate, Beltis the great mother. Ea the omniscient, Sham- in the fields follow? ash the great judge of heaven and earth, Sin the lord of heaven and divine creator of Hammurabi, Adad, the lord of fertility, Zamana the great warrior, Ishtar the mistress of battles. Nergal the mighty among the gods who granted victory to Hammurabi, Nintu, the creative mother of Hammurabi. Nin-Karrasha, the daughter of Anu, and all the great gods f heaven, the Anunnki in their assembly,

FROM LIVERPOOL.

The coloured crew of the Elder-Dempster Several provisions deal with the dowry, the Company's s.s. "Abinsi" refused to accept against it, but asked for an increase. "Same

The bosses got busy with the Labour Exchanges and relieving officers, and after a ten As in the Sumerian code, many provisions days' struggle a crew of almost starving men

> Between 200 and 300 shore men were laid off during the strike; and though many of them have lived here for years, they were refused the dole, on the ground that "they are not domiciled in England." On making application for relief, they were told that nothing could be done for them, as they were

These men receive a weekly wage of 25/bone, or knocks out the teeth of a man of out of which is deducted 4/- for upkeep of his own rank, shall suffer the same punish- the "African Hostel." Many of them are ment; but if he do the same to a plebian married and live at home, but they have to

Whites Scab on Blacks

The crew of the s.s. "Appam" also resisted the cut, but the delegates of " Have-a- the right to a privileged position, and entirely lot's "Union got white men to scab on them. neglects the masses who are merely pawns During the struggle these coloured men in a system they have the power, as soon proved to those who cared to notice that they as they possess the will, to alter. have some intelligence and knowledge of the class struggle. The one pitiful thing about it that men and women shall starve, or exist was that so few of the whites took the trouble to mix in. Later on, however, it will be different, for they are determined to carry on till they win.

'Have-a-lot's' tools were very busy getting scabs to Southampton also; and, thanks to them, the ship-owners have won another round. The decent element is disgusted with this clique, and it is a safe bet to say their usefulness to the bosses, as far as this locality is concerned, is finished.

As for the men on the 75 per cent. jobs. they are unable to make ends meet, even though they get in a full week. One reads in the papers almost every day of men committing suicide because they cannot bear to look at the sufferings of their families. The Board of Guardians is cutting down expenses in grand style; even members of the City Council are not safe. The member for St. Anne's Ward was told to take himself and family into the Workhouse. In 1911 the people of this district made things mighty hot for the authorities. They are now being driven to desperation by the stupid Bumbles and arrogant Law-and-Order boys.

The scalers of this port discovered they had been cut 6/- when they received their pay envelopes some time ago, and also that officials of the N.A.U.L. had made the agreement with the bosses. Naturally they are doing some thinking, just like the coloured men, just like the 75 per cent. men, just like the people of St. Anne's. Yes, quite number of members of the working class of the Port of Liverpool are doing quite a lot of thinking; that is why we feel hopeful.

The slimy scab-herders, blind bumbles, and treacherous Union leaders would do well to do some thinking also, ere it is too late; for when the people move they know their friends -and enemies.

The Catalonian Peasants' Congress.

The following are some of the questions on the agenda of the General Confederation of Labour Congress in Catalonia:

What ideology should the organised workers

What are the fighting tactics of the agricultural workers to obtain their moral and material emancipation?

In what way can the agricultural workers support the town workers, and vice versa? What attitude towards the co-operatives should the agricultural workers adopt?

Must a homogeneous organisation of the peasants to be formed within the C.N.T.?

OUT OF THEIR OWN MOUTHS.

Hardly a day passes without well-known exponents of Capitalism condemning the system in which they believe.

Said the Minister of Labour (Sir Montague Barlow) in the Commons the other day:

"The principle of work or maintenance would cause the piling up of goods which were uneconomically produced, or would lead to disaster in other ways."

The Capitansts desire to restrict output. That is legitimate, because it makes for profit and the preservation of the system.

Trade Union ca'canny, however, is immoral, because it restricts output in a wrong way. Men must labour their hardest in order that the minimum number of men might be employed. The greater the number of men out of work, the easier it is to force down Capitalist and Trade Union ca canny is the evil result of an evil system. To produce plenty, for all, should be our aim.

Uneconomically produced!" That does not mean wealth produced inefficiently-it merely means produced in accordance with the law that takes hold of a few who claim

It is a far, far better thing, says Capitalism, on an inadequate dole, than that anything shall be "uneconimically produced"!

It is a far, far better thing that agricultural labourers shall receive only 25/- a week than that agriculture shall be carried on without profit, and simply because men, women and children must be fed!

It is a far, tar better thing that thousands of women shall descend to prostitution rather han allow an economic law to be violated!

What matter that children cry from hunger and cold, and starve and die? Economic laws must be preserved! Pronts must be

And we, dear humble submissive workers? Shall we, too, by our attitude, say that it is a far, far better thing that economic laws shall be preserved rather than rise in our wrath and indignation and sweep the whole of a barbarous system away.

Have we been crushed so much that our vision of what might be is entirely gone?

Have we no alternative but to suffer and accept what is as inevitable? Never! Let us build for the society that There are ways and means at our hands. Here and now can be practised principles of mutual aid. Service can eliminate profit, human sympathy economic laws. Workers' solidarity can be developed, resistance stiffened to Capitalist attacks, and workers' councils can prepare to take control of all the means of production and distribution in the interests of the common good. Will, intelligence, perseverance and courage are the golden keys that will open the door to a workers' republic unfolding the ideal of integral co-operation.

UNDER THE STARS AND STRIPES.

Eight members of the I.W.W. in Sacramento, California, were found guilty of criminal syndicalism on March 5th.

Fifteen I.W.W.s have been on trial at Los Angeles, California, since January 29th. The case has been prolonged because the prosecution spy witnesses have been away testifying against I.W.W.s on trial in other parts of

Other I.W.W s are on trial at Susanville, Eureka, and Oroville. Three more are waiting for trial at Los Angeles, twelve at Sacramento. Ten I.W.W.s who were convicted at Sacramento on January 16th are appealing.

A public hearing has been granted by the Committee of the State Assembly sitting to consider a Bill to repeal the Criminal Syndigalism Law,

Our Bookshop.

We can supply you with any book, magazine, or newspaper you desire, new or second-hand, from British, Colonial, or foreign publishers. Give us all particulars you have, and send a deposit.

By buying books from us, trade discount is transferred to propaganda; for this reason, send your order direct to us, and not through other publishers or societies.

At our office you may consult publishers' catalogues and place your order for any book not in stock.

If you order by post, you must add, on the average, one penny for every shilling, to cover postage.

We charge the postage of foreign books, from London only, and fix the price at current rate of exchange. Purchasers will save themselves trouble by opening an account of 10/- or 20/- with us, in order to avoid the repeated sending of small postal orders, which means paying useless poundage to the Government.

We stock a variety of books and pamphlets on history, economics, science, education, essays, novels, and poetry.

Send for our Catalogue, which is supplied free of charge.

When in doubt, write to us for advice.

THE "WORKERS' DREADNOUGHT"
BOOKSHOP, 152 FLEET STREET.

(Entrance, First Door on Left in Bolt Court from Fleet Street.)

E. Untermann:
Marxian Economics	7/6
C. K. Street:
Where Iron is, there is the Father-	THE WALL
land	2/6
Bishop Brown:
Communism and Christianism
R. McMillan:
Origin of the World	1/6
Engels:
Origin of the Family	3/6
Postage extra.

THE WORKERS' STORES.

THE WORKERS' STORES.

Save middlemen's profits and assist the movement by buying through the Workers' Stores. Write to S. Cahill, "Workers' Dreadnought" Office, 152, Fleet Street, E.C. for anything you want. Callers can be seen by appointment, or between 1 p.m. and 3 p.m. Monday and Wednesday.

Some good lines in stock:

Woollen stockings, 2/- per pair.

Turkish towels, 3/6 per pair.

Spun silk stockings, 2/3 per pair.

Children's mackintosh aprens, 2/6 each.

Any article required can be obtained to order.

SMALL ADVERTISEMENTS.

HAND-KNITTED STOCKINGS made to order, in aid of the "Dreadnought" Fund. Apply to the Workers' Stores, "Workers' Dreadnought" Office.

TOBACCO, CIGARETTES, CIGARS and Matches from Workers' Stores, "Dreadnought" Office, 152 Fleet Street.

PLUMBING AND DECORATING; good work at moderate prices by H. J. Quinton, 2d Peabody Buildings, Walworth, S.E.17. Every order means a donation to the "Dreadnought" Fund.

BOOKS.—Send all the books you can spare, and the books you would like others to read, to be sold for the "Dreadnought" Fund.

Borough Hall, Greenwich, Saturday, May 19th, 7.30. Proceeds Irish Deportees' Dependants. Dance, 1/- only. Deportations protest speaker, S. Saklatvala. All Revolutionary Proletarians welcome!

THE SOCIALIST.

Monthly, 2d. Issued by British S.L.P. Holds:

That right without might is moonshine.

That Industrial Unionism is the Might to back up the Right—Workers' Control of Industry.

Order from the Socialist Labour Bookshop (the Marxian Depot), 46-48 Renfrew Street, Glasgow, or your newsagent.

A Few Words About Bonar Law.

Some of you, fellow-workers, evidently agree with us that Parliament is no good. tion to put at the head of it Mr. Bonar LawTherefore you made up your minds last elec—a man who quite plainly told you he would be no good for you.

When you chose Mr. Bonar Law, those of you who did it, fellow-workers, you chose reaction. Mr. Bonar Law is prepared to give reaction its full fling in this country.

You have been told a great deal about German militarism and what a dreadful thing it was, but what about the militarism that is coming to full bloom in this country, fellowworker?

What do you think of the incident between P.C. Patrick Gillam and the officer of the Royal Horse Guards in Piccadilly, on May 5th, fellow-worker?

There were the Horse Guards, crossing the road. There was P.C. Gillam on point duty, with his hand raised, holding up the traffic for the troopers, in all politeness.

Then bang! The officer whacks P.C. Gillam on the shoulder with the flat of his sword. (A sword is a nasty thing to get a blow from, fellow-worker.)

Why was it done?

Why? Because P.C. Gillam had not saluted the flag that the soldiers were carrying. Scotland Yard has attempted to excuse P.C. Gillam for his breach of etiquette in not saluting the King's flag. No doubt, fellow-worker, P.C. Gillam has also had something to say about that bang he got from the sword. No Trade Unionism is permitted amongst the police, but no doubt there is some trade-unionism of feeling and a good deal of indignation on this occasion.

Scotland Yard says it is "a part of general orders that the police salute the Royalty and the Colour"; but a constable on point duty in the busiest spot in Europe has his attention fully occupied.

The War Office declares pompously that there has recently been a general slackening on the part of civilians, and even some Army men, in saluting the Royal Standard, and, for instance, the Cenotaph."

You, too, may expect a blow from a sword, fellow-worker, and perhaps worse, if you fail to behave as an officer thinks you should.

Observe that the War Office, by inference, justifies the officer who struck the policeman for failure to salute the flag; and the civil authorities, instead of replying: "Hands off our men," simply protest that the poor fellow was too busy doing the duty of protect-

Meanwhile, fellow-worker, His Majesty has gone off to Italy with Her Majesty, to do honour to Mussolini. King George has demonstrated his regard for that notorious murderer by awarding Mussolini the Order of the Bath. He did the same for the brigand Denikin in Lloyd George's day.

Do not make any mistake, fellow-worker; it is not for the King and Queen of Italy that this pompous Reyal visit to Rome has been arranged. It is the first time since the reign of Henry VIII., by the way, that a British Queen has gone officially to Rome. This visit has been arranged wholly and solely to do honour to Fascism.

"What is Fascism?"

Fascism, fellow-worker, is the Capitalist revolution against the rising power of the working class, and against the growth of the idea:

"That man to man the wide warld a' Shall brothers be, for a' that."

Fascism, fellow-worker, is a force that is organised to fight you; and Mussolini is foremost exponent.

Mr. Bonar Law has meanwhile gone off for a little sea trip. He, too, may probably pay his respects to Sir Benito Mussolini, Knight Grand Cross, whose "Black Shirt" bullies cut off the nose and ears of a man who had offended them the other day, and tortured him for an hour or two before putting him to death.

THE SEARCHLIGHT.

THE "ONE BIG UNION BULLETIN"

(Canada's Foremost Labour Paper).

The One Big Union seeks to organise the workers on class lines. Read about it.

Eugene Sue's marvellous story: "The Mysteries of the People," or "History of a Proletarian Family Across the Ages," now running in serial form.

10/- per year; 5/- six months.
Plebs Buildings, 54 Adelaide Street, Winnipeg, Canada.

"The Karmi," a monthly journal, advocates the cause of Labour in India. Published by the Employees' Association at No. 72 Canning Street, Calcutta, Post Box No. 2852.

Navayuga, an independent weekly devoted to national and international problems, edited by G. V. Krishna Rao, Gandhipet, Guntur, Madras, India, 12/- a year.

The Workers' Opposition in Russia. ALEXANDRA KOLLONTAY.

Price 6d. Post free 8d.

That poster again! One of the very best ways to help increasing the circulation is to see that your newsagent shows our poster.

COMMUNIST WORKERS' MOVEMENT. OUTDOOR MEETINGS.

Every Thursday and Monday, 7.30 p.m., Finsbury Town Hall, Rosebery Avenue. J. Welsh and others.

Every Friday, 7.30 p.m., Broad Street and Berwick Street, W. W. Pratt, J. Humphrey, N. Smyth, J. Grove, and others.

COMMUNIST WORKERS' MOVEMENT.

Central London Group meets Thursdays, 152 Fleet Street, 8 p.m. For Group business, 9 to 10 p.m.

"DREADNOUGHT" £1,000 FUND.

Brought forward: £6 3s. 01d.

M. Powell (monthly), 5/-; Norwich Comrades (monthly), 5/-; E. Palmer (monthly), 1/-; A. C., 1/-; F. Brimley, 10/-; C. Hart, 3/-; A Friend, 8/-; C. Drake, 1/1½; F. A. Blossom, 2/2; Miss Henderson, 4/-; Mrs. Surtees, 2/6; W. C. Boone, 6d.; Irene Smith, 1/-; J. Oldenburg and Comrades (weekly), 2/-; I. A. Cahill (monthly), 10/-; J. and M. Paul, 1/-; Collection, Finsbury Town Hall Meeting, 4d. Total for week, £2 17s. 7½d. Total, £9 0s. 8d.

Published by E. Sylvia Pankhurst at 152 Fleet Street, London, E.C. 4, and printed by the Agenda Press, Ltdan at 10 Wine Office Court, London, E.