FOR COMMUNISM AND BROTHERHOOD

Vol. X. No. 32. 35

November 3, 1923.

WEEKLY.

what is dening the Label!

A Plea for Clearness

Men and women call themselves Socialists, Communists, Anarchists, Individualists; think. ing they thus explain their views to themselves and others.

Yet question them, but a little; you will discover how few of them have any clear conception of what they mean by their labels. Thus it is that many fail to recognise a brother of their faith, unless he bear a label, discourse he never so fully and clearly upon his beliefs and ideals,

When we are considering the as yet intangible things of the future; the life of our hopes, beyond our present experiences, precise thinking is difficult; prolonged research and meditation are necessary to arrive at any clearness of aim.

Therefore behind the labels we find abundant confusion. The advocate of such an extreme form of State interference with the liberty of the individual as compulsory birth-control is found to label himself Individualist. Zealous upholders of Capitalism also label themselves Individualists, though Capitalism could not be maintained an hour without the power of the State forces, which protect private property, and prevent those who have not enough to satisfy their needs from despoiling those who have something to spare.

Self-styled Anarchists are found who have not thought out a single fundamental of a society without law, and who support variously nationalisation of the land, the single tax, and other State organised panaceas, Trade Unions with their centralised mechanism and oppressive officialdom, and petty trading and production for profit, which, like the larger Capitalism, necessitates law and its forces to protect the property-holder from being dispossessed.

So-called Socialists are found whose idea of Socialism consists in various reforms of the Capitalist system: Parliamentary legislation to secure such things as more liberal charity towards the poor or closer supervision over them, higher taxation or taxation on a new basis, municipal trading, State Capitalism, State subsidies and other encouragements to great Capitalism, or, on the other hand, war on great Capitalism, and State encouragement of small Capitalism, and other confused and conflicting expedients.

Self-styled Communists are found whose aims differ little if any from those of the most confused and vague of the reformists.

"What is Socialism, what is Communism, what is Anarchy?" ask a multitude of would-be converts, weary of the cruelty and waste of Capitalism and eagerly desiring an alternative.

For answer they receive only confused denunciations of existing things; no hopeful vision of the new life which the labelled ones are supposed to advocate is vouchsafed them. They turn away empty and discouraged.

Programmes become cramping and conservative influences if men and women worship them as holy writ, and refuse their thoughts permission to go on before an accepted formula. Yet without discovering for ourselves what our aims really are, without defining them so that they may be understood by others, how shall we work for them, how shall we sow the seed that shall create a movement to achieve them?

Our aim is Communism. Communism is not an affair of party. It is a theory of life and social organisation. It is a life in which property is held in common; in which the community produces, by conscious aim, sufficient to supply the needs of all its members; in which there is no trading, money, wages, or any direct reward for services rendered.

The Individualist emphasises his dislike for coercion by the collectivity, his desire that the individual shall be free. We also dislike coercion and desire freedom: we aim at the abolition of Parliamentary rule; but we emphasise the inter lependence of the members of the community: we emphasise the need that the common storehouse and the common service shall provide an insurance against want for every individual.

We aim at the common storchouse, not the individual hoard. We desire that the common storehouse shall bulge with plenty, and whilst the common storehouse is plenished we insist that none shall want.

We would free men and women from the stulifying need of making their own individual production pay; the peasant toiling uncounted hours with i adequate too's, the far of incaracty and want always dogging his thoughts; the litthe business man counting his losses and profits with anxious mind; the wage-slave selling his labour cheaply and without security; the artist debarred from the effort to improve his skill and quest for his ideals by the insistence of the economic spur.

MR. "POINCARE LA GUERRE" Specially drawn for Workers' Drea' nought by Mannet

We aim at the common service: we desire that all should serve the community, that no longer should there be divers classes of persons; the hewers of wood and the drawers of water; the intellectuals, the leisured classes, who are merely parasites.

The Individualist cries: "Freedom." answer: "Thou shalt not exploit." "Thou shalt not be a parasite."

Yet we would have nothing of dictatorship: willingness will become, we believe, altogether a rarity: we would not have the occasional oddity who will not join the general effort disciplined by law; the disapprobation, even the pity of his fellows will insure his rarity.

. The thought: "I will not produce because I can secure a better living as a non-producer," whether it be the thought of an employer, or of an unemployed worker, is a typical product of Capitalism. A society in which that thought predominates is inevitably one of poverty and exploitation. The thought: "I will not produce if I can avoid it " falls like a blight upon society to-day. It is the inevitable product of the capitalist system. Let us produce in abundance: let us secure plenty for all: let us find pleasure in producing: these thoughts must pervade the community if it is to be able to provide, in lavish measure, plenty for all-in material comfort, in art, in learning, in leisure. At such a community we

The Individualist fears that even the autoever desire the Workshop Councils in order to insure personal liberty. -

In the Communist Society at which we aim all will share the productive work of the community and all will take a part in organising that work.

How can it be done?

In these days of great populations and varied nceds and desires people are not willing to return to the stage at which every individual or family made its own house, clothing, tools, utensils, and cultivated its own patch of soil and protoil we desire and expect to see, but work in might get more. which many workers co-operate we expect and We have in Glazgow, and in fact every town desire to retain.

sorts of machinery, the construction of cables, workers go, men and women, and they also keep weaving and spinning by machinery, and num- a great number of children of deceased workers. berless other things are dependent on the co- They feed them, and clothe them, and keep them ordinated work of large numbers of people, just the same as if they were respectable work. It is probable that developments in the use of ers, and they send the children to a school, and electricity, and other present and future inven- bring them up just as foster parents, and none tions, will tend to render less economically neces- of these people work. How much would they sary than used to be the case, both the vast get if they were working? If they were workworkshop and the vast city. Moreover the in- ing they would be social outcasts, and all the fluence of profit-making being eliminated, the submerged of the working class to-day are social unhealthy and uncongenial massing together of outcasts, a grade below the inmates of our Poorpeople will be checked. Nevertheless for at least house. a very long time, the large-scale production, The posters also say "that the Socialist would either to be directed from above or from below. being had." Unless each individual in the workshop is an Might I tell the poster-man that we don't want independent co-operator, taking a conscious share in the organisation of the collective work, then all the workers in the shop must be under the recipients of their products, then that codirection of a manager; and that manager must ordination must be affected by an outside authorieither be appointed by those whom he directs or ty with power to enforce its authority .-

by some outside authority,

Socialism

By TOM ANDERSON. (Proletarian Schools.)

On the hoardings here are big posters warning the workers against Socialism. They are issued by the Constitutional Defence Society of

One thing they especially draw your attention to is: "YOU WILL LOSE YOUR WORK." That is not a joke, ye unemployed of Britain. That is meant to be dead earnest. "You will lose your work." Of course this is not meant we believe that a public opinion can be created for those that are not working. They do not which will produce a general willingness to serve count. It is meant for all the "Henrys" who the community. The exception to that general are working. It is intended to make them fear that if they were to become Socialists they would lose their work.

Work: beautiful thing-for some people only. The men who have issued the bill do not be- workers. lieve in work for themselves, but they believe in other people doing the work. You, being very fond of work, would be in a terrible state if you had no work.

Why should you work? Why should you be ods, because it is popular to do so; they a afraid to lose your work? Work to-day is toil- come the same gag, because they think the some and degrading; no real man or woman should work under the penal code of to-day.

What is the difference between work and no work? Not much. The man who is hunting slavery." You may call the employment by any and praying for work is an unemployed slave. genteel name you choose, but it matters no something behind the idea of working. What is a slave. The workers will yet see that, and, one it do you think? It is respectability, "Henry." they see it, we are on the way to Communism If you could throw overboard the idea of respectability, you would never ask to work again. For remember you cannot eat work, or sleep We emphasize the need for the Workshop or drink work. All you can do with work is produce "surplus values."

The difference between the man who is worknomous Workshop Councils may lead to the ing and the man who is not working, is only a circumscribing of personal liberty. We how- difference of respectability. That is the sum total. It is a phrase like "Your king and country need you. 'As for a country, there are a few hundred thousands who have got no place to bury their dead, and you only require a little bit of country some 7ft. by 2ft. for that purpose. Would you believe it—there are men and women in Scotland who have nowhere to sleep? And there are one hundred thousand in Glasgow who perform all the functions of life in a little square box calle l a house, measuring on the average 12ft. by 11ft. 6ins. If that it all they get by work, how much would they get vided all its own tools. A return to product without work? I have no hesitation in saying tive work, a discarding of artificial and useless they could not get less, and the possibility is they in Scotland, a place called the Poorhouse. Ta The building of engines and ships and all this place a great number of old worklers wrought by many inter-related workers, will number you, and you could only live, move and remain a necessary condition of maintaining have your being by obeying the official placed both plenty and leisure for all. over you. And again it says: "A Socialist If large numbers of people are working to- State could not get trade, and that everything gether and if the varied needs of large popula- would be jobbery, and the result," the poster tions are to be supplied, the work will come says. "is a gamble, and you, the workers, are

In order to promote the liberty and initiative The same principle applies throughout the of the individual, as well as for the welfare of entire field of production, distribution, and trans- the collectivity, therefore, we emphasize the need O hymns immoral, resignation preaching port; unless the workshops co-ordinate them- for the autonomous workshop councils, co- Unto this poverty and aimless drift, selves, unless they themselves arrange their re- ordinated along the lines of production, distri-. This life of sadness in the appalling slums. lationship with their sources of supply and the bution and transport. E. Svivia Pinkhunst.

the State, and we don't want trading, neither do we want money, or any of the officials he has suggested. The Socialism that the poster-man has written about belongs to the I.L.P. and in a very few years it will be discredited. This kind of Socialism is a middle-class Utopia, and it will be adopted by all our leading politicians before many years are over, from the very simple rea. son that it will become an economic necessity.

What we want is our own: and when the people have their own, they will not require Parliament or State to preserve stolen property. There will be no Capital, and no Parliament no kings or queens, lords, dukes or knights, o fine ladies; the big and small parasites will be shorn of their glory, very many of the big festival; of to-day will pass away, all useless labour will cease, work in the modern sense will not exist, art will take its place, and the artists wil be the owners: to-day they are slaves, alia

When one is an owner what a marked difference it makes in your life.

Lord Soap lives in a mansion and lectures his soap slaves about thrift and business methslaves know no better. Write it in large letters:

'Every man and every woman who works for another man or woman accepts the badge o The man who is working is an employed slave. what name you give it: the one that accept When you come to consider it, there lurks enters into bondage, and, in plain language,

Was She Insane?

She stood in the square in the moonlight, And high were the heels of her shoon With dare-devil eyes she looked upward And put out her tongue at the moon.

White was the light of the moonbeams, And black were the shadows cast there: Fiercely she stamped on her shadow A figure of utter despair.

She lingered awhile 'neath the street-lamp Which flared with a pale yellow glare; And mockingly to herself whispered: "Now, what are you going to do Claire?"

When midnight the town-clocks were tolling With bare shoulders turned to the light, She gazed at herself in the mirror, And struck at her cheeks left and right.

Then laughing she danced to a waltz tune Which flowed from her lips tinted red; Then put out the light with a shudder And stumbled her way into bed.

Next morning what time in dim churches Strict priests, full of sin, sins forgave; With rouge on grim death's ghastly pallor FRED SILVESTER.

Slum Sadness

Calm thee, O troubled heart that sees the moon, A dullèd light amid the sombre sky Pendant like some great tear beneath the cloud Sorrow sublime that broods above the world.

Frail little arms that wraith-like reach t

Upon the door that opens not and not To weary children's urge. Now raucous sound The hollow cough of the consumptive there, Clinging unto the lamp that shines A feeble twinkle in this mistiness.

Resounds the swell of melancholic hymns,

Letters from Cermany

PHASES OF THE GERMAN MOVEMENT.

The German working-class before the war was ided into numerous branches. In the first e there were the so-called Red Trade Unions reie Gewerkschaften). They had nearly three mes as many members as all the other Unions rether. These Trade Unions were allied to Social Democratic Party; that is to say, the S.D.P. is the parliamentary representative of

The other Unions were: Local-Verbände (Synlicalist organisation), Hirsch-Dunker Gewerk Vereine (organised by the National Democrats), Christliche Gewerkschaften (Catholic Unions), and Gelbe (Yellow) Gewerkschaften (the Unions f strike-breakers).

The German Social Democratic Party (S.P. had two tendencies: The radicals and the formists. The leader of the radicals was Bebel; the leader of the reformists Bernstein. For years and years these tendencies fought one anther. In the year 1903 a split seemed inevitble; but the strong personality of August Bebel nd his wonderful oration on the Party day, 1003, led the combatants back to unity.

Nevertheless the reformists-especially after death of Bebel in 1913—became stronger and stronger, because all the leaders of the Trades Unions belonged to the reformists. When war broke out the reformists were supreme in the arty and the old revolutionary German Social Democratic Party, which had long been the model r all the Socialist parties in the world, became a pro-war party, and voted for every war credit Government desired. Without the support If the S.P.D., Germany would have been unable to make war, for most of the Socialist workers were against the war. Yet, seeing their leaders and their parties going with the Government, t.on. and trained to believe in the honesty of their leaders, they became confused, and went to the battlefields like lambs to the slaughter.

Karl Liebknecht, the leader of the radical wing, soon explained the true cause of the war, to small groups of workers, and by and by he succeeded in convincing some of the other Socialist members of Parliament that their vote for the war credit was directed against the principles of Socialism. When the German Government asked Parliament for the third war credit, Liebknecht and about sixteen other members voted against it.

The Government and the S.P.D. declared Liebknecht to be insane, and with being a quarrelsome man not worth listening to.

Those members who voted against the war majority. They formed a new Party, the U.S. P.D. (the Independent Socialist Party). In time other Socialist members of Parliament joined this had a large and increasing crowd of followers in the working class.

Yet Karl Liebknecht and one of his friends, Poor Claire was stretched out for the grave. because this party voted only against the war plain interjections to turn the sittings of Parliacredits but was not willing, as Liebknecht wished, ment to a ridiculous farce.

to prepare for a general strike to stop the war. the Revolution and the Republic!"

hind him, the Government ordered his arrest. ing-class acts.

The new Party, the Independent Socialist Party they will become so to-morrow. (U.S.P.D.), in January, 1918, caused the Yet the worker members are learning the truth the workshop face to face with the employer.

general strike of the amunition workers, which This same party (U.S.P.D.) was the preparer and manager of the revolution which took place in November, 1918.

Three weeks before, Liebknecht, Rosa Luxem- good news? strike were released. At once Liebknecht and hand over his heart, and stammered nervously:

for by the Entente. (Every true word in Ger- in a position to pay you for your trouble . . . by the enemies.)

Yet, when he was in prison, the letters were still a wonderful masterpiece in antique bronze." written and distributed, and the Government The doctor made a grimace. became puzzled as to who was the writer of these "Why, my dear friend," he said, "it is ensplendidly-written letters, who was so very well tirely unnecessary. I don't need this in the informed about all the facts.

Liebknecht and Luxemburg, Leo Yogisches, a you please accept it!" man not known to the German officials. He was He began to unwrap the bundle, continuing also a brilliant writer, and later became the head his entreafies in the meantime: editor of the "Rote Fahne." In March, 1919, "If you do not accept this, you will offend he was brutally murdered by the White Guards, both my mother and myself. . . . This is a but his murderers have never been accused. Yo- very rare work of art . . . an antique bronze. gisches was a wonderful fighter for the revolu- It is a relic left by my dead father. We have cus Bund (or league) was formed. The members ing them to lovers of old statuary. . . . And of this organisation were above all things men now we continue in the same business, my mother who fight the monarchists with arms, heroic and myself." people who in most cases died, but did not Sasha undid the package and enthusiastically surrender; people worthy to carry the highest placed it on the table. order for their bravery were killed like sick It was a low candelabrum of antique bronze, dogs when captured. For Liebknecht they would a work of real art representing a group: On have gone through fire and hell without ques- a pedestal stood two figures of women clad in tion, although hundreds and hundreds of them the costume of Mother Eve and in poses that were deserters and were called cowards in the I have neither the audacity nor the temperaarmy of the Kaiser.

were murdered, the leadership of the Spartacus pression that, were it not for the fact that they Bund fell into the hands of people who made it were obliged to support the candle-stick, they a Parliamentary Party. One of these was a law- would leap down from their pedestal and exhibit yer, Paul Levy. Thus out of the heroic Sparta- a performance which . . . my dear reader, I credits were knocked out of the S.P.D. by a big cus Bund, grew up the K.P.D.—the Communist am even ashamed to think of it!

Party of Germany. lutionary party, inspired by the remembrance blew his nose. new Party till it had about thirty members. It of their first leaders and their fights, consider- "Yes, indeed, a very pretty piece of work," ing Parliament only as a tribune to confuse all he mumbled. . . . "But, how shall I say it,the members of Parliament, to disturb all the not quite . . . I mean . . . rather unconventional business of that House, to make a terrible noise . . . not a bit literary, is it? . . . You know Otto Ruehle, did not join this new party, be- and to prevent all speeches, and by short and . . . the devil knows."

On May 1st, 1916, Karl Liebknecht went to Party, almost half of the K.P.D. formed a new phantasmagoria upon my table I would pollute the Leipziger Platz, in the heart of Berlin, anti-Parliamentary Party—the K.A.P.D. (the my entire home! took a platform, and called upon the soldiers Communist Workers' Party). With similar par- "Why, Doctor, what a strange conception you to throw away their arms and to finish the war. ties in other countries this party formed the have of art!" cried Sasha in offended tones. A big crowd of workers and soldiers cheered Fourth International in opposition to the Third "This is a real masterpiece. Just look at it! him, and cried "Down with the war! Long live International. Whilst the K.P.D. has its head- Such is its harmonious beauty that just to conquarters in Moscow, the Fourth International template it fills the soul with ecstasy and makes Liebknecht was not molested because the Gov- has its headquarters in Germany. The K.P.D. the throat choke down a sob! When you see ernment feared his arrest would stir the work- is at present only a left wing of the S.P.D. ing class to disaffection, even to revolution. The Both the S.P.D. and the K.P.D. are steadily Government believed that there was a big party losing their influence on the German workingbehind Liebknecht and that this was the reason class. The working class is marching quicker than of his courage. When it learnt from the leaders the parties and the leaders are able to follow. about the parties and the Trades Unions. They of the S.P.D. that Liebknecht had no party be- While the parties in Parliament speak, the work- form new organisations based on industry and

The Court did not condemn him to death as All the Socialist and Communist parties to fight modern Capitalism. The foundation is martial law demands, because the Government without exception have much the same pro- not the office of the leader, but the workshop. would make the people think he was an insane grammes. They differ more in word than in Here is the place where the fight has to start, man who must be pitied, not condemned. He was fact. Every party claims to be the only real here is the place where the workers may learn sentenced to four and a half years hard labour Socialist party. All the leaders of all these who are their friends. time enough for the war to be finished in. parties are corrupt, and if they are not, then It is easy to cry in the meetings: "I am a

A WORK OF ART

Holding under his arm an object wrapped in lasted six days, and was at length beaten by a newspaper, Sasha Smirnov, the only son of the leaders of the S.P.D. and the Trade Unions. his mother, walked nervously into the office of Doctor Koshelkov.

"Well, my dear boy," exclaimed the doctor warmly, how do you feel to-day? What's the burg, and all the leaders of the January general Sasha began to blink with his eyes, put his

Rosa Luxemburg formed the Spartacus Bund, "My mother sends her regards and begs to an anti-Parliamentary organisation. Already thank you. . . . I am my mother's only son, during the war small Spartacus groups had and you have saved my life . . . and we both grown up. Liebknecht wrote letters signed hardly know how to thank you."

Spartacus," which were periodically printed "Come, come, my young friend, let us not and sent without the sender's name to thousands speak of it," interrupted the doctor, literally and tens of thousands of people to tell them melting with pleasure. "I have only done the truth about the war. None but a few friends what anybody else in my place would have done."

in Germany knew the writer and the sender "I am the only son of my mother. . . . We of these letters. It was said they were paid are poor people and consequently we are not many during the war was said to be paid for and it makes it very embarrassing for us, Doctor, although both of us, mother and I, who The Government and most of the members of am the only son of my mother, beg of you to Parliament guessed that Liebknecht was the wri- accept from us, a token of our gratitude, this ter, for he could not hide his splendid style. object which . . . is an object of rare worth,

This time the writer was a friend of "Oh, no, no!" stammered Sasha. "I beg

After these "Spartacus" letters the Sparta- My father used to buy up bronze antiques, sellment to describe. These figures were smiling After Karl Liebknecht and Rosa Luxemburg coquettishly and in general gave one the im-

When the doctor espied the present, he slow-When it started, the K.P.D. was a real revo- ly scratched his head, cleared his throat and "Beetzebub himself could not have conceived When the K.P.D. became a Parliamentary anything more ugly. Should I place such a without leaders. Such organisations are needed good revolutionary," but it is not so easy in

(Continued on page 7.)

Founded 1914. Editor: SYLVIA PANKHURST. 4 4 4 All Matter for Publication - To The Editor . Business Communications — To THE MANAGER.

WORKERS' DREADNOUGHT, 152, Fleet Street, London, E.C.4. SUBSCRIPTIONS. Three months (13-weeks) 1s. 71/2d. Six months (26 weeks) 3s. 3d. One year (52 weeks) 6s. 6d.

Vol. X. No. 33. Saturday, November 3rd, 1923.

Subscriptions can start from any week.

Our View.

THE GERMAN SITUATION grows yet more strange. Still more evident grows the aggressiveness of reaction, the rapacity of Capitalism, the coward-In Germany ice and frantic clinging of the Social Democrats to the present system, the blundering inadequacy of the Communist Party Third Internationa!, and the misery and endurance of the masses.

The Central Coalition Government's suppression of the constitutional Government of Saxony The is so amazing a piece of bullying illegality that Miners even British capitalist newspaper correspondents Again are astonished by it. Yet the Social Democrats in the German Government made only the stipulation that instead of being arrested and deposed the Saxon Government—a coalition of ders of the industrial movement amongst Bri-Socialists with two Communist members-should tish workers. be first given the opportunity to resign. Now that the Saxon Government, having refused to resign, has been deposed, the Social Democrats only demand that the maintenance of order in Saxony shall be entrusted to the police. The Workshop Committees, independent of the reinstatement of the Saxon Government they do not even resist. Meanwhile, though the Ger- Miners man Trade Union Congress has passed a resolu- versus tion to declare a general strike if the Socialist Engineers Governments of Saxony and Thuringia are interfered with, the Social Democrats beg the in the engineering industry were, on the whole, ward to any extension of working-class power. workers not to act. Even in Saxony the Social much less advanced than the miners. Democracy has merely organised a three days' protest strike and meanwhile is forming a new before the engineers; but they did not contemcoalition Government: this time with the De- plate that the unofficial movement would ever mocrats instead of with the Communists-by supersede the Trade Union, its executive and offipermission of Herr Stresemann, of course.

The deposing of the Saxon federal and local Governments and the prohibition of a meeting duce the members of the Trade Union to induce of the Diet until called by the Commissioners the Union executive to move. The miners' unfrom Berlin is an act of pure Fascism. Herr official movement therefore regarded itself mere-Stresemann simply turned out his political op- ly as a propaganda organisation. ponents by force of arms and the Social Democrats have virtually approved his action, though not in every respect the manner of it.

He defends his action on the audacious plea that the Socialist Coalition Government of Saxony contained two Communist members, and that Communists ought not to occupy Government office. Stresemann's organ, the "Zeit," declares that the Communists are preparing a fore it is inconsistent with constitutionalism, for them to occupy Government office. Even the story has little or no foundation.

Apparently the basis of the charge is a bellicose article written in the security of Russia by Zinoviev, a member of the Soviet Government which has announced that it will not intervene in the German civil war.

class movement without attempting to meet Fas- same workshop. cism with any more forcible weapon than a Hence the clear need for a Workshop Council resolution.

Meanwhile the Bavarian reactionary dictatorship grows daily more aggressive. The dictator Von Kahr has given orders that the land and ment shall not be collected; yet the Stresemann Fascist bands are massing on the Thuringian munist Government and the proletarian movement there.

A coalition of Von Kahr, Hitler, and Ludendorf is freely discussed as a possibility which would break out to re-establish the German monarchy.

What will be the outcome?

Ultimately the masses will arise to form their heir own policy and expel all the dictators. The workshop movement and belief in free non-authoritarian Communism are the only hope for a better life for the German people.

As to the Rhineland Republic, the French Government plays with it whilst it negotiates with the great industrialists, Stinnes, Krupp, and the rest; the British capitalists oppose it whilst they also manœuvre for profit and power. The destruction of Capitalism offers the only

For ten years previous to the coal lock-out of 1921 the question: "What will the miners do next? was ever present in the capitalist mind of this country. The miners were regarded as the lea-

THE ENGINEERS, by the formation of their put forward at that inquiry.

The miners had their unofficial movement cials. They regarded the unofficial movement merely as a means of doing propaganda to in-

The engineers were forced by the structure of their existing organisations and the peculiar circumstances of their work to develop, not merely a rank and file propaganda movement, but a rank and file fighting organisation.

The reasons are obvious: firstly the miners were united in an organisation embracing all underground workers: their lodges were formed sanguinary revolt against the constitution. There- on the lines of production, each lodge covering the workers in a given pit. The engineering workers, on the other hand, were split up into capitalist press correspondents admit that the a number of organisations having branches formed, not according to the working place, but to the residence of the worker. The workers in a single workshop were represented by many organisations, with executive officers actuated often by policies of rivalry.

The constitution of the Miners' Federation, and eventually opposed on the industrial field As to the German Communists of the Mos- being more democratic in structure than that because it stands for peace with the employer cow Order, they also talk revolution at times; of several unions to which the engineering work- and the maintenance of the capitalist system. but they have gone out of office in Saxony with- ers belonged, provided always the illusion that The New Rank and File Movement, the Workout a kick. The Saxon troops have left their the rank and file members could, or might, ers' Council Movement of the mines, must aim arms with Stresemann's Reichswehr army, and control the policies of their executive. Such an at taking control of the mines and joining the the industrial workers remain calm. The Third illusion could not gull the engineering workers, workers in other industries in the overthrow of Internationalists mention revolution in their per- who clearly saw that even could they control the capitalist system. The All Workers' Union orations, but they make no preparation for any- the executive policy of their own society, they of Workshop Councils should be planted in the thing save Parliamentary manœuvres. Thus they could not control the policy of the other socie- mines without delay.

give a handle to Fascism to attack the working ties, whose members worked beside them in the covering all the workers in the shop.

THE RANK AND FILE movement in the coal Power industry tax decreed by the Central Govern- pits, especially in South Wales, where it began and remained the strongest, was Government makes no effective protest. Hitler's Workshop constantly acting in local matters Committees as though the lodges were workfrontier doubtless to attack the Socialist-Com- in the Mines shop or pit councils, and taking direct action to settle local affairs without reference to the higher officialdom been divided by their Union membership into separate groups, dependent for freedom to act on diverse outside officialdoms, unofficial pit committees would inevitably have been formed.

Another reason why the unofficial workshop movement made more apparent headway in the engineering shops than in the mines was that the struggle of wages versus rising prices, the exactions of the Munitions Act, and the result of the Treasury Agreement between the Trade Union officials and the Government were more constantly and clearly felt by the engineering workers than by the miners. The phenomenal growth of the munition making, the enormous influences of new workers, the multiplicity of operations and piece wage rates, the various attempts to increase output and profits, and (by the Government) to control prices, maintained a constant struggle between worker and employer in the munition workshops. There-UNREST IN THE MINES is always an omin- fore a machinery capable of representing the ous thought to the industrial owners, since coal workers in that struggle had to be devised, and supplies and coal prices affect all was devised—the Workshop Committees.

> THE UNOFFICIAL rank-and-file movement in the coalfields long kept both miners and mineowners seething with expecta- letarian constitution. The Check in tion of a great struggle; but Had the workshop movement which had grown and File Movementhy the officialdom of the union into the Government Inquiry presided over by Judge Sankey, and into the tame nationalisation proposals which the union

The struggle came at last when unemployment Trade Unions, actually went fur- had fallen like a blight on the working class ther along the evolutionary road movement. The moment was chosen by the emby which all sections of workers ployers, not by the workers. When the struggle must eventually travel, than the came it was one in which the workers were deminers. Nevertheless, the workers fending the existing conditions, not pushing for-

When the struggle came it was conducted by the officialdom. The result, as we all know, was a disastrous defeat for the miners, whose living conditions were seriously reduced.

NOW the miners are demanding some relief from their present poverty; the employers, so far from responding to this cry of real need, are proposing a fur-Wages Cut ther cut in wages. The Trade Union officialdom proposes a revision of the Agreement, concluded at the close of the lock-out.

with the situation. The ac-Wanted-a New tual workers in the pits grow more and more discontented. Movement The time is ripe for the rise of a new unoffic al movement. It must be more independent than the last; it must have bolder tactics and a larger objective. It must aim at superseding the Miners' Federation. Its members may hold the Federation card if they choose, as long as the Federation will let them. The Federation may be tolerated as a benefit society; but it must be disregarded ernments cover their violence with a veneer of The old order was crumbling: either it must sit for their qualifying examinations, Josephine Fascism to rebuild the old. Butler and her colleagues assailed in the same manner in their campaign against the C.D. Acis, the Suffragettes, the C.O.'s and opponents of war, the Germans and others whose houses were sacked during the "Intern Them All" agitation—all these have encountered Fascism.

In Italy Fascism assumed more monstrous proportions and was invited to assume Governmental power, simply because the pioneering the occupation of the barracks by Free State force Fascism was used to crush was stronger troops. and more fundamental in its aims than the British movements we have enumerated.

* * *

THE SUCCESS OF FASCISM is the outcome of the failure of the Italian Socialists and Trade Unionists to destroy Capitalism low Fascism in Italy whilst the Italian masses were seething for the struggle and the power of Italian

Capitalism was weak. For three years nothing was lacking to a proletarian rebellion, save that those who held the executive power in the large working-class organisations should give the lead to break away from the tottering old capitalist constitutional structure and set up the new pro-

o in Italy during the war been independent of Free State the Trade Union movement, and had a similar Troops as would have arisen even had the Trade Union and Socialist leaders opposed it.

As it was, the Socialist and Trade Union leaders who had opposed the Government's war policy held the leadership of the working-class

These leaders led not towards the Soviets, but away from them.

The first mistake was the mistake of Lenin, who, clothed in the halo of the Russian Revolution, told the Italian comrades in the autumn of 1919 not to go to the Soviets and the revolution, but to the Parliamentary elections.

Serrati and his fellow Maximalists, who had secured the leadership of the proletarian movement, were too comfortable in temperament to cast off mere oratory and to realise that the time for action had come. Bordiga and his anti-Parliamentary Communists had not the stability to maintain their policy. They had not the foresight and capacity for action necessary to save Trade Union officialdom knows not how to cope not attempt to dislodge the workers by force. The Anarchists, either through lack of numbers or of capacity, failed to affect the situation.

> WITH THE DEFEAT of the metal workers, Capitalism prepared to attack, if possible to destroy, the workers' organisations. Wholesa'e d'smissa's and victimisation were used against the workcreailles ers' councils in the factory; Fascism was used to fight the workers outside the factory and even to attack the reformist organisations which had served the turn of the employers.

The question arises why the Fascisti, the hired bullies of big business, should have been allowed o take Government office and to remain in power. Why was it that a Liberal Government, under Nitti, for instance, did not follow the crushing of the proletarian movement?

The answer is that the peace of Versailles and the post-war policy of the British and French

THE ANNIVERSARY of the Fascist rise to Governments had created in the Italian bour-

Birthday non; it is even said that Mr. Treaty was that Italy found greater difficulty in losophy to Italy. As a matter fore. Italian business of all kinds was languish- of domestic instruction. of fact, however, Fascism is ing, the currency was falling, old-established merely the politics of the bruiser. Other Gov- manufacturing concerns were going bankrupt.

legality: Fascism glories in its violence and ac- be swept away altogether or re-built on a more companies it by utterly wanton torture and ter- aggressive pattern, pledged to use any and every that they may be fitted, if required, to become rorism. We have often had in this country the means to benefit Italian Capitalism. The Socialthing that is called Fascism. The medical wo- ists, having failed to make good their promise of the Federation. Had the workers in the pits men assaulted by hired mobs when they went to to create a new society, the way was clear for What a commentary on the condition in

> THE IRISH WORKERS have shown themselves more disposed to strike for the release of Republican prisoners than many In Ireland people imagined possible: witness the dock strike development and the Strike of Sligo gas workers, followed by

> Though the dock strike began over wages, it is continuing mainly upon the question of the prisoners, the Government terms agreed to by the Transport Union Executive being rejected by the rank and file. Jim Larkin and his comrades who lead this revolt, have shown themselves more than a match for the executive of the Transport Workers' Union, which dismissed Larkin from the secretaryship of the Union. After the executive had called off the strike, the Larkinites have induced the men to refrain from work, even though the executive now refuses strike pay.

THE IRISH GOVERNMENT seems determined to prove to the workers that it can be as oppressive and partial to the em- for us. . . . ployers as any Government, since organisation existed for land workers, the Soviets Strike Breakers to assist the owners of cattle again becomes a vassal, or, maybe, a conquered of the strike pickets.

> PRESIDENT COSGRAVE has refused the of- sistance, sound advice upon what the Government fer of a return to work on condition of the ought to do, in short, a hand outstretched in and mouse with two thousand hunger-strikers friends? would be difficult. Moreover the Free State would probably have to pass a new law for in connection with the Public Debt, for instance, the purpose. That will be done, no doubt, but has not only been above reproach, . . . it takes time to arrange these things. The official treatment of the hunger strikers, whose ages range from sixteen years up to old age, ESTS here are important, and, if further neseven days on hunger strike, though poorly clad, were driven in open lorries from Mountjoy to Broadstone, and kept waiting there an hour bethe situation when the metal workers seized fore being put into a train for the Curragh. their factories and the Socialists met with the After three hours in an unheated train, they were employers to negotiate the workers back from transferred to open lorries and kept another ANOTHER STRUGGLE approaches. The those citadels, from which the Government dared hour waiting there before being driven to Tin- tations taken—from Mr. Asquith, Lord Robert town, which they reached at 3 a.m., having Cecil, or what bourgeois politician? started from Mountjoy at 7 p.m. After another hour's wait in the open they were removed at 4 a.m. to a hut, into which most of them had to be carried. The sanitary arrangements of the hut are reported as deplorable. At Hare Park Camp the hunger-strikers are in unheated huts. At Kilmainham Gaol they are in dirty, unheated cells. At Gormanstown GERMINAL CIRCLE. GERMINAL CIRCLE. the hunger strikers suffer intensely from cold Prince Henry's Room, 17, Fleet Street, E.C.,4. and are practically without clothing. The blankets have not been washed or fumigated for a year and are filthy.

At Dundalk some of the hunger-strikers have been beaten with sticks and there is a reign of terror. At Tintown No. 1 Camp the hungerstrikers are in rags, the cold is intense, and the huts are infested with rats.

THE RECOMMENDATION of the Committee appointed by the Government to consider the dearth of servants makes the power in Italy is at hand. Fascism is often geoisie a spirit of aggressive Nationalism. The Domestic retrograde proposal that elereferred to as a new phenome- The result of the war and the Versailles Scrvice Report mentary, central and secondary school girls of 12 years Mussolini has given a new phi- obtaining coal and other raw materials than be- and upwards shall be compelled to take courses

> The proposal is retrograde because it makes a distinction between the education of boys and girls, and because it proposes to modify the education of the vast majority of girls in order servants to a privileged few.

which the masses are obliged to live is the following statement:

The home life of a very large number of girls does not provide them with such training, and since it is extremely difficult to place untrained girls of 14 in private homes nowadays, it is necessary to provide reasonable facilities for teaching young girls how to perform the work required of them.

If the recommendations are accepted we shall doubtless see an increase in the demand for poor little girls of fourteen years to do the heavy work in other people's homes.

Words of a Second Internationalist

'There may be a revolution; there may be foreign invasion; there may be the worst of all failures—a breakdown owing to internal weakness; there may be success. . . .

"General Harington has done splendid work it is supplying Free State troops Turkey will go from bad to worse until it to take them on board in spite State, unless it can produce administrators, develop its resources and lay a sound financial basis

Disinterested financial help and economic asprisoners' release; yet the hunger friendship, would be an enormous advantage to strike is forcing him gradually to young Turkey now. If our policy had only had liberate the prisoners. The release vision, that aid would now have been soughtis unconditional. To follow the and, to be effective, it ought to be sought. Will British Government in playing cat Turkey go elsewhere? Will it choose bad

"In his heart, the Turk knows that our work

Moreover, a final sentence is not out of glected, a serious OFFENCE will have been committed. No country shows better than Turkey now does the connection between the blunders of our foreign policy and our unemploy-

The quotations are taken from an article in the "Daily Herald" by Mr. Ramsay MacDonald, Leader of His Majesty's Opposition." Puzzle: Find the Socialism.

MONDAY, NOVEMBER 5th,

EXHIBITION of the works of EMERICH GONDOR, The Hungarian Artist, 6-8 p.m. Music and readings of their poems by the authors, 8-10 p.m. During the readings Gondor will illustrate the poems from the platform. Admission free.

'Germinal' No. 2 will BE ON SALE.

A Review of the Struggles of the Catering Trade Employees

By W. McCARTNEY

(Late Vice-President, United Catering Trade

II.—"THE HOTEL AGENT" (continued);

plicant's language, says "Yes, I have a good place rarely even thought of. The applicant starts work in the new place, and table-preparing cellar under the pavement.

taurants the smallest amount of space possible buildings. is rather poor owing to the bad food that is cause of the expense. given him—they call it "staff meals." Often At another famous city restaurant the man the workers cannot eat the food offered them, and who cleans the knives has to work all day from his customer. Yes; but even they are prefer- get a bit more food than usual. Although you able to the disgusting and indigestible staff-food. have produced more profit by your work for Woe betide him if he is caught eating leavings— the boss, it is his—there is none for you. cutlets or curried chicken, and so on.

A certain large well-known city club has a I know a lad, 17 years old, working as a waiter Dublin "Evening Telegraph." A class-conscious, basement kitchen; the members object to the on commission from 8 a.m. till 9, 10, and working-class paper might find time to look smells coming up from the kitchen, so all the sometimes is at night, with not even two hours up a few of the late conservative statesman's kitchen windows must be kept closed. It does off in the afternoon. This is no isolated case; it anti-Labour speeches. not concern the members how the health, the is too common an accourrence to-day in the hotels eye-sight, and general welfare of the kitchen of this "great London.", We fought for better workers are affected by this cruel order. Gas conditions; even the Capitalist law says in its fumes, coal heat, steam heat, artificial light, no Shop Hours Act that no restaurant employee fresh air, which is essential to life—and what is shall work more than 74 hours a week. Yet to- Russia in retrogression—gambling and bankthe natural result? Some kitchen worker is al- day, in many hotels and restaurants, 100 and ways away ill, very rarely are they all at work; 120 hours a week is quite the usual thing. some have even died in the kitchen.

At a well-known restaurant in the Strand, with an orchestra, carpets and liveried doorkeeper, some five or six cooks have to work in a space not more than five yards square. The steam boiler is also in this space. Alongside the boiler is the water-closet for the male kitchen endeavour to secure new subscribers to the smaller kitchen, where you sit on the coals to ever is possible. However small the sum you change your clothes, slipping all the time on can collect, it will be welcomed. Send it in potato skins, etc.

basement kitchen. Owing to its being so small is unpaid. all vegetables are prepared in a cellar under the pavement, so you can imagine the condition of the vegetable worker in the winter, shivering crosses to the kitchen to cook, gradually gets Hall, Glasgow, for attempting to whitewash the go into the ice-cold cellar. No wonder we are ganisation deputation in Glasgow.

Our foreign applicant for work has arrived breeding consumption, asthma, and other dreadin this country at his or her expense, with an ful complaints! Profit, profit all the time! introduction to the London branch of a Conti- Profit is the one and only thing that counts. The nental hotel agency. The agent, speaking the ap- comfort and health of human beings are very for you; my fee is 103" (sometimes a pound). At a great West End Club we have the vegequickly he begins to learn that England for the At a large Government Luncheon Club wages worker is not the happy hunting-ground he was are low, staff food is poor, the passage on the told by the agent. He gets hardly any wages to walls of which the workers are allowed to hang start with, and has a hard fight to get an in- their clothes is called a dressing-room. Its walls crease. Sometimes he is out of work for months. are running with water from the steam of the The Kitchen Worker. kitchen. Just imagine the state of the workers' At some of the great palatial hotels and res- clothes, and this still goes on in Government is allowed for the kitchen, which is in the base- At another city restaurant the kitchen is so ment, gas or electric light being used all day. small and the heat is so great that the Com-The worker soon almost forgets what daylight pany very reluctantly had an electric fan placed and sun are like but he learns that his eye- in the wall, but the workers always had a very sight is not so good as it was and that his health hard job to get the management to start it be-more goes in the pig-tub than is eaten. 8 a.m. till 9 p.m. in the cellar, with just a com-Any afternoon in the small West End cafés mon gas jet. Sometimes, if late dinners are on, or coffee shops you will see waiters, page-boys, he has to stop till 10 or 11 p.m. He is very and all kinds of kitchen staff, spending some of lucky if he gets anything to eat or drink after their miserable wages on plain, wholesome food. his so-called dinner about 3.30, working down They have just left a place where there is plenty in a gold cellar all day. No wonder one man of good food, but it is reserved for the profit of died, and another left after two years, broken the boss. Can you wonder that the workers in health and eye-sight ruined. He was halfobtain (the manager calls it stealing) some real starved, and sometimes too tired and ill to food, and that nobody tells? Restaurant work- eat his supper when he got home at night, ers have a common comradeship where food is But he must go on, because jobs are hard to get—and this is "Merry England." Just picture to yourself a fine, smart, well- A kitchen worker is engaged to work for cerstarched, well-dressed, half-starved waiter. Im- tain hours for a certain money-wage and food, possible, you say; but it is an every-day occur- but if there are late dinners once or twice a rence in your great London hotels to-day. week, he is, as a matter of course, expected to Just imagine a waiter hiding behind a door stop and work. There is no talk about extra or screen, eating the leavings from the plate of pay for extra work; you will be lucky if you if they are potatoes, they will make nice pomme If an hotel or restaurant is very busy with sauté next day; if soup, that can go in the dinner parties, they may engage a few extra brown sauce; if joint, well, that will make waiters for a few shillings, but never any extra very nice minced beef with poached egg; if help in the kitchen. Of course it pays to make chicken, next day we shall have more profit a good show of waiters, but the kitchen-Oh, from chicken already paid for—either as chicken nobody sees them, so they can be worked to death. Nobody knows, and nobody cares.

(To be continued.) ----

IMPORTANT!

We urgently suggest that comrades should "Workers' Dreadnought" and that they should Another restaurant, not far away, has even a collect at meetings and from their friends whatstamps or postal orders. The "Dreadnought" At an hotel in the Strand we have another is not self-supporting: the editing and managing

Mr. Wal Hannington, national organiser of with cold—he can hardly peel potatoes. He the N.U.W.C.M., was howled down at the City warm, then hot, begins to sweat, then has to baton charge on the Unemployed Workers' Or-

Nettles and Docks

The "Daily Herald" writers are amongst the most accomplished eulogists in London, which is saving much. Take this:

Mr. Bonar Law.

His fiercest political opponents are amongst the foremost to testify to his rare personal qualities when he passed from the arena of political strife.

"I have come to regard him with a real affection," said the leader of the Labour Party. Mr. J. Ramsay MacDonald, and almost every tribute paid him laid special emphasis on the straightforwardness and honesty of purpose that characterised him.

"If I can do no good while I am a member of the Ilouse of Commons," he is reported to have said, "I will try not to do any harm."

Most politicians are regarded as prize-fighters. . . . Bonar Law was thought of as a real man and an honest "trier." He deserved his reputation.

A few quotations from the speeches of the object of the "Herald" eulogy are appropriate

"If this Home Rule Bill should by any chance be forced through, then Gol help Ulster, but heaven help the Government that tries to enforce it."—From a specch delivered at Marne on April 9th, 1913.

"If Ulster does resist by force, there are stronger influences than Parliamentary majorities. They know that in that case no Government would dare to use their troops to drive them out. They know, as a matter of fact, that the Government which gave the order to employ troops for that purpose would run a great risk of being lynched in London."-From a speech in Parliament, June, 1912.

'We regard the Government as a revolutionary committee, which has seized by fraud upon despotic power. In our opposition to them we shall not be guided by the consideration, we shall not be restrained by the bonds which would influence us in an ordinary political struggle. We shall use any means—whatever means seems to us likely to be the most effective. This is all we shall think about. We shall use any means to deprive them of the power which they have usurped, and to compel them to face the people they have deceived. - From a speech at Blenheim, July

The above quotations were taken from the

Mr. Bonar Law was a strong advocate of con-

'Fourteen workers' savings banks are now in operation, two more having been opened in Ekaterinburg and Tashkent. The deposits on current account in these banks were over 20,000,000 roubles on May 15th.

Women workers have done extraordinarily well out of the Gold Loan. At the first draw a woman employee on the North Western Railway won 100,000 gold roubles and two women weavers won 25,000 gold roubles each.

'In Novo-Nikolaevsk province on the average twenty per cent. of the population are able to read. Some five per cent. of the adults, however, are now attending schools for illiterates, for which the State provides fifteen per cent. of the expenditure."-Russian Information and Review.

Even the illiterates will wake up some day to the fact that they have lost their revolution.

Just look at it! What life, what motion, what to the comedian Shoshkin., men as human beings, and not as if they were

"Of course," said Sasha, "if you look at it neighing of horses. and especially when your refusal to accept this "Oh, no, no, my darling, you musn't. I am class comrades who are employed. self, who am the only son of my mother. After the performance the comedian shrugged are fortunate enough to be allowed to pile up ber me to your mother and . . . But for God's that one could conceal in a drawer! 'In the warehouse, workshop, or factory, one next to the vase. By Jove, but it's a pity The comedian followed his advice. . . . on their statements, and these only go to prove that I haven't got the mate to give you. But Two days later Koshelkov, his head support- how deeply the capitalist dope has been instilled looked for a long time at the candelabrum and and into the office rushed Sasha. He was to-morrow, the stroke of a pen, or some

"It would be a pity to throw it away. . . . And ped in a newspaper. . . . ployed whom they so ardently scorn. who in the world is there to whom/ I can pre- my joy! As luck would have it, I've just suc- how to keep his job. They are afraid to face friend of his, the lawyer Ukhov, to whom he mother. . . . You have saved my Life." ways afraid that those "lazy, indolent unem-friend of his, I cannot very well offer him tor. The latter opened his mouth as if to ably low, but do they complain or ask for more? money, and so I will give him this piece of in- say something, but uttered not a word. . . . His Not they: on the contrary they take the unem-for it . . . single, and somewhat of a gay bird,

No sooner thought than done. Dressing himself, the doctor took the candelabrum and went to the home of Ukhov.

"Good morning, old chap!" he said. "I have come here to thank you for your trouble. . . . You will not take money, and I will therefore repay you by presenting you with this exquisite masterpiece. . . . Now say for yourself, isn't

As soon as the lawyer caught sight of it he was exhilarated with its beauty.

'What a wonderful work of art!' he laughed uproariously. "Ye gods, what conceptions artists will get in their heads! What alluring charm! Where did you get this little dandy? But now his exhilaration had obzed away and he became frightened. Looking stealthily toward the door, he said:

"But, I can't accept it, old chap. You must take it right back."

'Why?" asked the doctor in alarm. Because . . . because . . . my mother often visits me, my clients come here . . . and besides, I would be disgraced even in the eyes of gesticulating wildly. "You simply have got to of the capitalist system, which should be given them starve to death; but if the full necessiaccept it! It would be rank ingratitude for very careful thought and consideration by all ties of life were guaranteed to all, it would give you to refuse it! Such a masterpiece! What class-conscious comrades. I do not suggest that freedom and independence to the man in the motion, what expression. . . . You will greatly we can do anything effective against the Capi- workshop which would be detrimental to the ticulating even more wildly, he ran out of Uk- at them in the doping press. Class-conscious no fault of our own, and as human beings have hov's house in the thought that he was rid of men who say the unemployed are useless and a perfect right to live. Who knows; to-morrow fully examined the candelabrum, and then, just as the rest of the working class. Of course you Class-conscious comrades who condemn the unrascal loves such things, and besides, this is his vation in its trail. benefit night. . . . "

such loveliness you forget all earthly things. . . noon the well-packed candelabrum was brought cause other workers to speak of the unemployed

That whole evening the dressing-room of the a separate species apart from the human race. "I quite understand all this, my dear boy," comedian Shoshkin was besieged by men who It is a matter of little importance here to interrupted the doctor. "But I am a married hastened to inspect the present. And during mention the methods the capitalist class adopt man. Little children run in and out of this all the time the room re-echoed with hilarious to antagonise the employed against the unemroom and ladies come here continually." laughter which most closely resembled the ployed, but nevertheless the fact remains, they through the eyes of the rabble, you see this If any of the actresses approached the door tality of the masses, and so have caused the noble masterpiece in an entirely different light. and said, "May I enter?" the hoarse voice of unemployed to be looked upon as something But you certainly are above all that, Doctor, Shoshkin was immediately heard to reply: low, immoral and degraded, by their working-gift will deeply offend both my mother and my- not dressed!" . The working workers, those doped Dubbs who

You have saved my life . . . and in return we his shoulders, gesticulated with his hands and profits for the boss, are always ready to scorn give you our dearest possession and . . . my said:

mate to this candelabrum." this? I live in a private apartment! I am often than they, and while they get the dole and re-"Thanks, friend, many thanks. . . . Remem- visited by actresses! And this isn't a photograph lief will never work.

sake! You can see for yourself, can't you? "Why don't you sell it?" suggested the wig continually hears such remarks as these being Little children run in and out of this room, maker. "There is a certain old woman who made about the unemployed as a mass, but and ladies come here continually. . . . However, buys up antique bronzes. . . . Her name is when one individual is singled out the accusers leave it here! There's no arguing with you." Smirnova. . . You had better take a run over say they don't mean him, he looks for work— "Don't say another word!" exclaimed Sasha there; they'll show you the place all right, - they mean the others. joyously. "Put the candelabrum right here, everybody knows her. . . ." The employed do not think for one moment it can't be helped. Well, good-bye, Doctor!" ed on his hand, was sitting in his office con- into their minds. They should remember that After the departure of Sasha the doctor cocting pills. Suddenly the door was opened nothing is certain, nothing is sure or permanent; scratched his head. smiling radiantly and his breast heaved with small mistake on their part, is sufficient to place "This is beautiful, all right," he thought. joy. . . . In his hands he held something wrap- them on the human scrapheap with the unem-was indebted for legal services. And Sasha, quivering with thankfulness and ployed" will take their job. "Fine!" chuckled the doctor. "Being a close rapture, placed a candelabrum before the doc- The workers' wages, we all know, are miser-

The Unemployed

By J. T. BELLAMY.

During my three years with the unemployed I have often met comrades who claim to be classconscious Communists coming into the organised unemployed movement, and after a few weeks, for no apparent reason whatever, suddenly

Invariably I manage to get into contact with these comrades, and when asked for an explanation of their conduct, they emphatically declare that the unemployed are useless, and it is a waste of time talking to them. The line of demarcation between the employed and the unemployed man was invented and is still rigidly being maintained by the capitalist class as a potent tactic and one of their methods of keeping the great mass of humanity

-the working class-subjected. Causing dissension within its ranks by antagonising one section to another through the "Don't say another word!" cried the doctor medium of the press is a factor and a weapon who condemns them would not wish to see offend me if you don't take it!" talist Press at present, but what we can do is capitalist system. When the doctor was gone the lawyer care- that they are useless and can as easily be doped ployed and forced to face the world of sorrow?

No sooner thought than done. That after- ment, or at least speak of and endeavour to they wish, and easy access to any political meet-have been very successful in moulding the men-

the unemployed, call them lazy, indolent loafers, only regret is that we are unable to give you the "Now what in the world am I to do with and declare that the unemployed are better off sent or donate it?" ceeded in getting the mate to your candelabrum! the world outside the workshop in spite of the After long deliberation he hit upon a good Mother is so happy! . I am the only son of my "glorious dole" and "relief," and they are al> unthinkingly, inhumanly declare that it should be lowered, because they get nearly as much out of work as those at work. The employed should recognise that these conditions are the inevitable > outcome of this system of society. The boss keeps one eye on the unemployed and reasons thus: if the unemployed can exist on a few shillings the employed do not require

It may seem strange, but nevertheless it is true, that in many instances wages are determined by the scale of relief. If the employed man reasoned sanely and humanly, he would begin to better his own poor condition by lining up with the unemployed man and demanding from society, not an increased scale of relief, but the full necessities of life, i.e., food, clothing, and shelter, for every man, woman, and child, irrespective of being employed or unemployed, he then would be doing his duty to himself, his class and humanity. The unemployed man is unemployed through no fault of his own; he is a product of the system. Being so, is it the wish of humanity that he should suffer, starve, and possibly die, because he is not allowed to sell his labour power? Of course not. Even the employed man

"If only this were daubed over or covered to show more comradeship towards the unem- The employed man should stop the silly, ployed, treat all workers as human beings, and thoughtless abuse of the unemployed man, and But the doctor refused to listen to him. Ges- cease to condone the cruel lying criticism levelled remember we are all men, on this earth through then cease activities, by their own action prove you may be placed in the ranks of the unemas the doctor had done, he began to wonder cannot and will not see any immediate returns employed as hopeless should always remember what in the world he could do with it. for your efforts, but the fires of revolt are still that the unemployed are part of the working-"A very beautiful object," he thought. "It smouldering, and it is for every class-conscious class, and if they are hopeless, then the workingis a pity to throw it away, and yet it is disgrace- man to do his little bit until the day dawns when class cause is hopeless. Knowing the employed ful to keep it. I had best present it to someone. these smouldering fires will burst into flames, and unemployed (at present being amongst both) Live got it! This very evening I'm destroying this wretched system which creates I have no hesitation in declaring that the ungoing to give it to the comedian Shoshkin. The the unemployed, with much suffering and star- employed are the advanced section of the working class. Economic conditions have caused them You should get into the unemployed move- to think, having freedom to read what papers ings (not being afraid of being seen by the boss or his representative) have broadened their outlook. This has tended to make them conscious of themselves, conscious of their class. The organised unemployed man is at least a few degrees above his employed fellow worker mentally.

To those who have a andoned hope, and labelled the unemployed hopeless, you should remember that unemployment is, and will remain, a permanent feature in this society, and the time to tackle the problem is right now.

Do not give up hope or trying, realise only by our small individual efforts, and by working for the common good can we ever hope to march forward to the dawn of the day when men will live as men, and unemployment, poverty, suffering and sorrow no more will be known.

F. J. Isley, whom the Poplar Guardians accused of cowardice, in (as they alleged, but he denied) hiding from the police behind a chair was recommended for the V.C. in the late war, but failed to receive it because his officer died and therefore could not give evidence on his behalf. Later he won the D.C.M., but lost it through overstaying his leave. Later on he won the Military Medal, which he still retains.

UNEMPLOYED WORKERS' ORGANISATION CORRESPONDENCE.

Mrs. Parker, who appealed for comforts for the comrades wounded in the baton charge at the Guardians' offices, sends letters from hospital patients:

K Ward, St. Andrew's Hospital, Bow, E.3.,

Dear Comrade,—I wish to thank you and the comrades of Bow for their kindly thought of me in sending me the tobacco and fruit, which, needless to say, I very much appreciated. Trusting the comrades will rally together and sink all petty differences, in view of the tremendous conflict that is facing us.—Yours in the struggle,

W. A. ROBINSON
(Sec., Poplar Branch, U.W.O.).
B. Furniaux writes from R Ward, St. Andrew's Hospital:

"I hope to be able to get about again soon."

G. E. Hall writes from L Ward, St. Andrew's

Hospital:

The wound on my head is still open, done by those courageous fellows in blue. . . . Best of luck to you and the organisation."

Mrs. Robinson, of 142, East Ferry Road, Mill-wall, writing on October 24th, nearly a month after the baton charge, says her husband, having refused to stay in hospital any longer, had been brought home in an ambulance "still very weak."

RATIONAL LIVING.

A radical, independent magazine for the workers, devoted to the teaching of rational methods of living in present society, always emphasising the social-economical-industrial background of wrong living. Stands for prevention of disease, for conservation of health, for drugless healing, and against all swindles in the healing professions. Special price for the readers of the "Workers' Dreadnought," 1.50 dol. (7/6 for 12 numbers). Our famous book, "The Child and the Home," by Dr. B. Liber, on the radical upbringing of children, special price for the readers of the "Workers' Dreadnought," 1.50 dol. (7/6). Address: Rational Living, 61 Hamilton Place, New

A SALE OF WORK is being arranged in ail of the

on

" WORKERS' DREADNOUGHT"

SATURDAY, NOVEMBER 17th,

At MEMORIAL BUILDINGS, Roscoe Street (off O'd Street).

"DREADNOUGHT" £1,000 FUND.

Brought forward, £114 10s. 10d. Mr. Light, 2s.; Mr. Beckett, 2s. 6d.; A. and J. Matthews, 5s.: Irene Smith, 2s. (1s. weekly); Anon. (per Mrs. Calfill), 5s.: Mr. Taylor, 1s. Total for week, 175, 6d. Total, £115 8s 4d.

LIST OF LITERATURE.

LEON TROTZKI: The Bolsheviki and World Peace. 5s.

S. WINSTEN: Chains (Poems). 3s. 61.

C. H. BRETHERTON: Rhyme and Reason. 4s.
HENRY KITTREDGE NORTON: The Far Eastern Republic of Siberia. 6s.

GERHARDT HAUPTMANN. The Sunken Bell. 3s. 6d.

JACK LONDON: The Iron Heel, 2s. The God of his Fathers (second hand), 9d.

C. K. STREIT: Where Iron is there is the Fatherland. 2s. 6d.

W. J. TURNER: Landscape of Cytherea. 3s. 6d. SIDNEY OSBORNE: The Saar Question. 8s. BISHOP BROWN: Communism and Christianism. 1s.

PIO BAROJA: The Quest. 63.

From "Dreadnought" Bookshop, 152, Fleet St., E.C. 4.

Read EIRE The Irish Nation
Weekly Review of Irish Republican Opinion

PRICE TWOPENCE

On Sale Saturdays

COMMUNIST WORKERS' MOVEMENT.

A business meeting of the Central London Group will be held at 152, Fleet Street, E.C.4, at 8 p.m., on Friday, November 2nd. All members and those wishing to join are invited.

WANTED.—Second-hand copies: "How the War Came," by Lord Loreburn; "Economics for the General Reader" (Clay); "Brass Check" (Upton Sinclair), cheap edition; "Ancient Lowly" (Osborn Ward).

PROLETCULT.

A monthly magazine for boys and girls, edited by Tom Anderson and published by the Proletarian Bookstall.

39, Shuttle Street,

Glasgow.

ONE PENNY.

ENGINEER, married, experienced in I. C., Steam and General Machine Repairs, seeks employment or will undertake auto or mechanical repairs; 17 years experience States and Canada; 2 years proprietor of machine-equipped garage; estimates on reconditioning. — Box 76.

To the readers of

THE WORKERS' DREADNOUGHT.

All you have to do is to cut this coupon out and write your name and address in ink and send it to the "Workers' Dreadnought" Office, 152, Fleet Street, London, E.C.4., when you get 24 coupons.

Name:

Address:

WATCH THE "DREADNOUGHT"

Germinal

ASK for No 2. at your Newsagent.

A Complete

play by Toller Stories
by Marsden, Gorky, Grant, and others.

32 Pages—Sixpence

Camberwell Mutual Service Players

Show the Way

An Allegorical Musical Play by Clara Gilbert Gole at 84, Blackfriars Road, Thursday, Nov. 15 at 7.30

Character sketches, songs and dances, and Playlette by Mrs Vaughan. Etc., etc.

Admission free. Silver collection. Programmes 2d.

COMMUNIST WORKERS' MOVEMENT, meetings to explain the policy of this movement, can be arranged on application to the Secretary, 152, Fleet Street, E.C.4.

W. McCARTNEY, 26, Pasley Road, Manor Place, Walworth Road, S.E. 17, is starting a group of the Communist Workers' Movement. Those desirous of joining should communicate with him.

SYLVIA PANKHURST is booking provincial lecturing engagements.—Apply for dates to "Dreadnought" office, 152, Fleet Street.

THE "ONE BIG UNION BULLETIN"

(Canada's Foremost Labour Paper).

The One Big Union seeks to organise the workers on class lines. Read about it.

Eugene Sue's marvellous story: "The Mysteries of the People," or "History of a Proletarian Family Across the Ages," now running in serial form.

10'- per year; 5/- six months.
l'lebs Buildings, 54 Adelaide Street, Winnipeg, Canada.

FOR SALE. — Engineer's Taper Guage, £1; Radius Guage, 7s. 6d. (Starrett's). Proceeds for "Dreadnought" Fund.

FOR SALE.—Bound Volume of "The Commonweal," No. 4, 1888, Official Journal of the Socialist League, edited by William Morris. Very rare. Good condition. What offers?—Box 76.

HEAD READING, by an expert phrenologist.—
Proceeds to "Workers' Dreadnought."— Apply, H., Box 20.

To get the address of a good DENTIST apply to the undersigned, who discovered him through the "Dreadnought," and wants to pass on his discovery to other comrades. You will all need a dentist SOME DAY, so write a postcard NOW to R. Scott, Wayside, Capel, Surrey.

YOUR SUBSCRIPTION

A blue mark in this space indicates that your subscription is now due.

The high cost of production of the paper necessitates prompt payment.

Published by E. Sylvia Pankhurst, at 152, Fleet Street, London, E.C. 4, and printed by the Agenda Press, Ltd. (T.U.), at 10, Wine Office Court, London, E.C. 4.