FOR GOING TO THE ROOT.

Vol. X. No. 49.

February 23rd, 1924.

WEEKLY

TO ALL IN PRISON.

By H. SMITH.

A small green cage high on a passage wall And a nightingale singing. . . . Singing Till passers-by in the street pause And peer, as through a triumphal arch Erected to mark man's creation of hell upon earth

Through the mean rooms into the ash-strewn vard.

(Behind how many of our triumphal arches Are there anything but ashes?)

And day long through the stench and squalor The bird's song swells to heaven.

Why is the sky grown dark? Why is there no more wind?

Why is everything like the hush before a storm?

If a storm were to come I should understand, But all is so still.

Why do you live beneath a wooden sky? Because I am in a cage must you be in a cage? Do you enjoy being caged? And if not, why do you cage me?

Can you not see that if I am bond you are still more in bondage?

Can you love freedom while I languish thus? And if you do not love her how can you be free?

I have my revenge, not that I desire vengeance. (All that I desire is a little space to fly in and my mate.)

As you oppress me so are you opprest, As you mock me so the machine mocks you. e I do not know, the woods and fields are my place,

But it seems to me that while any creature is enslaved

There is not much hope for the rest.

While tyranny lives, it matters not who is tyrant.

There is no hope because you are hopeless, And if you were fearless there would be nothing to fear.

Not that I am fearless.

ar But all I fear is that I shall not soon die. I can hear the night wind in the beeches, Like my mate singing,

Like a boy's pure voice in the twilight, And the bars are up against my breast. Do you hear? The bars are up against my breast,

And I am free with a freedom you will never understand.

And the bird sings on,

And the masters of the bird live on. They hear the bird's song, but they do not understand it.

The day on which they understand it will be the end of a world.

DREADNOUGHT £1,000 FUND.

Brought forward, £185 6s. 113d. Office collecting box, 1s. 1d.; L. Grant, 1s.; C. Hart, 3s. (monthly); E. M. Brett, 5s.; collection, New Morris Hall, 4s. 91d.; D. Jewson, 5s.; S. Palmer, 1s. (monthly); I. A. Cahill, £1; Lewisham Labour Party, 10s.; donation, 9s. 5d.; total for fortnight, £3 0s. 33d. Total, £188 7s. 3d. Brought forward, £188 18s. 3d.; E. Wright, £2 10s.; J. Cook, 1s.; E. L. Johnson, 2s.; A.K.H., 10s.; H. White, 2s. 6d.; E. Hulley Rawlins, 30s.; Æ. Tollemache, £1; J. Clarke, 2s.; total for week, £5 17s. 6d. Total, £194 15s. 9d.

THE DOCK STRIKE. By Sylvia Pankhurst. Government Action: Which Side Will It Assist?

The Labour Government has officially announced that it will secure the transport of necessary food supplies during the dock strike; Mr. MacDonald's statement in reply to a Parliamentary question was as follows:-

The Government will not fail to take what steps are necessary to secure the transport of necessary food supplies, and has already set up the nucleus of the organisation.

" May I express the hope, however, that nothing will be said, or asked, in this House to make difficult the only thing that really matters—a settlement of the dispute."

We do not think any docker will agree with Mr. MacDonald that the only thing which really matters is a settlement of the dispute. The dockers will naturally say the only settlement which matters is one that will improve their miserable position. The dockers are right to hold that view.

This brings us to another point: what sort of steps will the Government take to secure the food supplies and who will benefit by those steps?

Government Intervention to Benefit the Workers.

When the railway strike took place we pointed out that capitalist governments have been the friends of the employers and their intervention has always resulted in benefiting the employers. We urged that the Labour Government should show itself to be the friend of the workers, by taking over the railways and running them in the interests of the community until the employers were prepared to abandon the proposed wage reduction.

We observe that a mass meeting of Gloucester transport workers has now passed a resolution calling the Labour Government to use emergency powers to take over the ports and shipping and administer them, paying the wages increase demanded by the dockers.

The Labour Government might do this with some show of impartiality, because the dockers were granted 16s. a day by the Shaw award up to the end of 1924, but by agreement between the employers and the trade union the wage was reduced in accordance with the fall in the cost of living. Now that the cost of living has been rising for six months, it should be regarded as but fair, even by the capitalist mentality, that the dockers should get back something of what they surrendered from the award given to them by the Shaw Court of Inquiry.

We must declare plainly, however, that impartiality should not be expected of a Labour Government, nor, indeed, tolerated from it. One does not expect impartiality as between protection and free trade, from a Liberal Government, nor should anyone expect impartiality as between employers and employed from a Labour Government. The duty of a Labour Government is to act as the friend of the worker in all cases.

In the matter of legislation this Government cannot proceed without Liberal votes, but as long as it does not grossly defy the letter of the law it can take what administrative action it chooses. Of course, it could, and probably would, be brought to book by a vote of censure supported by both the other political parties. In that case it could call for a general election and go to the country on as fine an issue as it could get.

Government Intervention Which Helps Employers.

If the Government does not intervene definitely on the side of the workers, intervention by it to secure necessary food supplies will inevitably prove disadvantageous to the strikers.

The object of the strikers must necessarily be to paralyse transport. They are obliged, by the nature of the case, to aim at more than embarrassing their immediate employers. Because their employers are far stronger than they in staying power the strikers are bound to try to embarrass the whole community, in order that the strike situation may become intolerable before the strikers' power of resistance is ended. A strike is a war of attrition, in which the workers cannot long continue after their union funds, their private savings and any help that may come from friendly donations have been exhausted. When dealing with an employer whose capital is limited and who fears the encroachments of his business competitors, a strike covering a restricted field may be a formidable weapon. When dealing with powerful concerns, like the Port authorities, larger methods are required.

Should the Government intervene to secure food supplies, the question arises as to what labour it will employ and on what terms.

Should the Government employ other workers than those who are on strike, or should it employ labour on terms lower than those demanded by the strikers, it will be playing the part of strike breaker.

Should the Government make any attempt to show impartiality, as between employers and employed, it will actually injure the position of the strikers.

That the Government may use bluejackets to the detriment of the strikers is an assertion made by Mr. Ben Tillet and reported in the Daily Herald. For the Government to take such a step, or any step, which would weight the scales in favour of the employers in the struggle, would be a treacherous crime against the workers who have placed it where it is. Such a step would greatly hasten the day of its downfall. The Labour Cabinet may be fearing assaults from the Right, but its real danger lies to the Left. The statements of Mr. Ben Tillett should, however, be received with considerable reserve.

The Court of Inquiry.

The composition of the Court of Inquiry appointed by Mr. Shaw, the Minister of Labour, will not, we think, be regarded as at all satisfactory by the rank-and-file of the Labour Party supporters.

It actually gives a majority of two to one against the Trade Union representative. Mr. Holman Gregory, K.C., the chairman, is a Liberal Member of Parliament. There are only two other members of the Court. One of these is Sir Andrew Duncan, Vice-President of the Shipbuilding Employers' Federation, and Coal Controller in 1919 and 1920. Like the chairman, he is also a barrister.

The Trade Union representative is Mr. Henry Boothman, General Secretary of the Amalgamated Association of Cotton Spinners, Clitheroe; member of the Trade Union Congress General Council, and member of the Oldham Town Council.

Trade Union Blacklegs.

The lack of solidarity which is the most noticeable feature of Trade Union practice, is, as usual, strikingly demonstrated in this contest. The so-called "Blue" Union, the National Amalgamated Stevedores, Lightermen and Dockers' Union, has blacklegged on the members of the Transport and General of Kronstadt, on the battleships and in Peters-Workers' Union, just as the N.U.R. black- burg, broke out. Then-as by a breathlegged on the A.S.L.E.F. in the recent rail- Communism collapsed. Its foundations dis-be forgotten. When the rank-and-file dockers ing the huge size of the country. Moreover, refused to accept a reduction in wages eight the peasants were not, and are not, organised months ago, and came out on strike to resist as a class; but the small act of a small group it, the officials of the Transport and General of peasants was sufficient—it is said that the Workers' Union ordered its members to accept warships were mostly manned by peasants' the reduction and refused strike pay. The sons. "Blue" Union was therefore formed by the The Bolshevist party represented principally strikers.

support the present strike may therefore be showed that they wanted something more than regarded as retaliation for the bad treatment land, the party at once gave way, and the The private ownership of the soil naturally meted out to the dockers by the Transport and proletariat, out of which the party had been re-appeared. The law of May 15th states, i General Workers' Union officials eight months evolved, had finished with its Communism. is true, that the whole of the land belongs to and bring its members back into its own fold. and its capitalism.

whatever union he may happen to belong.

The Failure of the Unions.

The failure of the Trade Unions is shown, secure united action in one industry, but also in many industries. The miners are preparing to strike in the early future, but the dockers' struggle will be over before the miners' take

The call of Mr. Bromley to the engine drivers and firemen to "hold the ring," and the decision of the N.U.R. that those of its members who come under the Shaw award shall strike are merely futile. Concerted action at least of all transport workers is essential.

The workshop councils in all industries, able to take immediate, simultaneous action unhindered by bureaucracy, unhampered by agreements, for they will make none, must be the industrial fighting forces of the future.

Strike Profiteering.

It was amusing to find a capitalist paper, Daily Mail, demanding that dealers should be prevented from using the strike as a means of profiteering at the public expense. We should like the Government to take such vigorous steps as would cause the Daily Mail to regret its outburst. We fear that our wish will not, however, be gratified.

THE INTERNATIONAL WORKERS' REVOLUTION.

By HERMAN GORTER.

that even in their so-called Communist revo- bring about Communism. lutionary stage the Bolshevists proved their Capitalist property re-appeared, and how? St. Quentin serving 14 years. His o capitalist character by the distribution of the We take the following extract from a decree offence is that he came forward to give evisoil, their slogan of the self-determination of of the Russian Soviet Republic, dated dence for a comrade, but when he had given all nations, the peace of Brest-Litovsk, by May 27th, 1921 (published in Izvestia of his testimony he was arrested for membership her dress with a trembling hand; but Pavel admitting peasants to the Soviets and giving June 18th, and in the French newspaper, of the I.W.W. under the Criminal Syndicals them political power, and finally by their party Journal des Débats, in a French translation by law, purely because he admitted members dictatorship.

We shall now examine the second period, which began after February, 1921.

Hitherto, both the peasants and the proletariat, under the guidance of the Bolshevists, had fulfilled their historic mission in striving, the proletariat to establish Communism, the peasants to establish the democratic-capitalist Republic.

In February, 1921, the rising in the fortress appeared in an instant. It may be argued The history of the "Blue" Union must not that the rising was very insignificant consider-the vast millions who wanted land, and as soon The refusal of the "Blue" Union to as quite a small section of those millions The proletariat was made the servant of the Republic. In fact, under the mantle of the There is also another aspect of the case. It peasantry. To advance the interests of the Socialist State the law gives the peasants full is stated, and the statement has undoubtedly peasants, the proletariat had to slave under ownership. For the law declares that a peasant will come of it. It is impossible!" gained acceptance in some quarters, that the the orders of its own party, which was, from can only lose the right to use the soil, on three Transport and General Workers' Union hopes now, no longer the representative of the prole-conditions: by the present strike to destroy the new union, tariat and its Communism, but of the peasantry (1) If he himself ceases to use it;

The eight months' old "Blue" Union We shall recapitulate now the greatest (3) If the State claims the soil for its own naturally could not provide benefits for its changes in the changing over to capitalism, members during a long strike. The older not in their chronological order, which is of union would offer strike benefits to all the small importance here, but to explain what has "Blue" Union members who would re-join happened. The reader must understand that it. The "Blue" Union has justified its re- behind all these changes is the hidden influence fusal to strike on the ground that it was taking of the peasants, which did not even move as minister of the Czar. separate action to secure recognition from the a mass, which was not even organised. It port authorities, and it finally joined the strike. only showed itself locally, but by its enormous It gives the peasants the right to sub-let the Nevertheless, the refusal of the "blue" numbers it made the whole Bolshevist party land for one year (or, in exceptional cases, for Union members to join the strike is a suicidal its tool. It was like an elementary power two years). one from the point of view of the docker, to which forced the Bolshevists-even men like Lenin-to stand against the class from which the Bolshevists had sprung, and which was inimical to the peasantry. We can cite examples from the bourgeois work. not only in the fact that they are unable to revolutions where the representatives of a class were compelled to rise against their class by because they cannot secure simultaneous action the power of other classes. But in those bourgeois revolutions both or all the bourgeois classes, that is to say, the landed proprietors, industrialists and financiers stood on the same basis. Such a fight was always small. But here in Russia the representatives of quite a new world-a Communist one-were opposed to the reactionaries who wanted to be the builders of the old capitalist order. They did what the reactionaries wanted, though it was against their own class. What the reactionaries wanted, of course, was to build up > Without resistance all that was Communist disappeared. Industry was denationalised, at first partly. The absolute State monopoly of the most important food stuffs and raw materials was cancelled; the State regulation of trade unions was abolished. Private trading, at first only internal, afterwards also with foreign countries, was again introduced; the principle of unpaid service to the State disappeared; the principle of the free maintenance of the workers and employees was abandoned, and the wage system was re-

Communism vanished like a ghost into the background, and capitalism re-appeared, ever stronger, in the foreground.

that proletarians may see how capitalism is convicted under the iniquitous Crim made by Communists in a peasant State. Thus Syndicalism law merely for taking part in t the workers in Western Europe may no longer Los Angeles harbour strike. be fooled, but may learn that they who are not William Rutherford, who left England it his We shall sum up the first period by saying dwelling in a State controlled by peasants can September, 1913, and was a member of the on the porch. Suddenly the door was flung a Russian delegate at the Hague Congress):

"All citizens have the right to engage in industrial and commercial occupations. This right is founded on:

(1) The right to hold property in houses, including the right to sell them, and to sell or let the ground on which such houses are situated.

local authorities to build on urban and Silver Collection.

rural land, with the right of ownership for

(3) The right to own houses, factoric and workshops, industrial and commerci undertakings, machinery, and means production, agricultural and industrial property, financial capital.

(4) The right to mortgage these proper. ties or to borrow money on land. (5) The right to inventions, trade marks

(6) The right of married people and their children to testamentary or legal inheritance, up to 10,000 gold roubles, the right of legal enforcement of contracts.

(2) For criminal reasons;

and author's royalties.

There are a few other restrictions, but in the main they are rules for the personal acquis tion of property. The Soviet Republic has re- In the taverns and the factory strangers turned to the policies of Stolypin, the la

The law makes two important stipulation

The second and more important stipulati is the cancelling of the order which forbade t hiring of workmen. This is now permitted all the members of a peasant family are at it was not so dangerous. But pride in her son

The carrying out of the law regarding re and the hiring of workers is left to the Peasa Committees; that is to say, the Soviet State gives the peasant absolute freedom on these important points. Agriculture thus becomes the basis of a capitalist State. In the prese condition of Russia this will not be a ra process, but if the harvests are good it wil more rapid than many people think.

Proprietors and landlords are created, rural proletariat is formed. A home mark springs up and becomes the basis for the wholesaler and a reservoir of workers own nothing but their labour, which may be exploited by capitalist industry and commerc

This is the way Russia will go if European revolution does not come to her a It is the way all capitalist States have gro up from a peasant population. In this ca the capitalist State is being developed un the guidance of celebrated Communists and small bureaucratic party which was or four or five years ago, and was a member the N.A.F.T.A. here, is in St. Quentin Prison, m Let us recall its main work, in detail, so California, under sentence of 14 years. He was Half awake, half asleep, she listened to the

(To be continued.)

UNDER THE STARS AND STRIPES.

> I.L.P. and S.L.P. in this country, is also wide open; the Little Russian entered the of the I.W.W. in giving his evidence.

Will the Labour Government make representations on behalf of these British subjects; at it with his hand, asked: What do comrades say?

Germinal Circle. Fifth evening, Wednesda February 20th, 7-11 p.m., Rehearsal Theatre (2) The right to make contracts with 3, Bedford Street, Strand. Admission Free

THE AWAKENING OF A MOTHER. By Maxim Gorky.

They spoke in the village about the socialists who distributed broadcast leaflets in blue ink. of the mother, and, raising one hand to his Two gendarmes seized Nikolay under the In these leaflets the conditions prevailing in ne factory were trenchantly and pointedly terrible eyes, said: picted, as well as the strikes in St. Petersn were called upon to unite and fight for oth as they read the literature, and said sively: "Breeders of rebellion! For such moustache: acked." And they carried the pamphlets to Get up, old woman!"

The young people read the pamphlets erly, and said excitedly: "It's all true!" The majority, broken down with their work, indifferent to everything, said lazily:

But the leaflets made a stir among the ple, and when a week passed without their ting any, they said to one another: "None again to-day! It seems the print-must have stopped." Then on Monday the leaflets appeared again; self courage: and again there was a dull buzz of talk among working men.

ere noticed, men whom no one knew. They ed questions, scrutinised everybody; looked und, ferreted about, and at once attracted ersal attention, some by their watchfulness, thers by their excessive obtrusiveness.

The mother knew that all this commotion was due to the work of her son Pavel. She saw how all the people were drawn together about him. He was not alone, and therefore mingled with her apprehension for his fate; it was his secret labours that discharged themselves in fresh currents into the narrow, turbid

One evening Marya Korsunova rapped at the low from the street, and when the mother ened it, she said in a loud whisper:

Now, take care, Pelagueya; the boys have ten themselves into a nice mess! It's been ided to make a search to-night in your se, and Mazin's and Vyesovschikov's."

e mother heard only the beginning of the nan's talk; all the rest of the words flowed ether in one stream of ill-boding, hearse larya's thick lips flapped hastily one against other. Snorts issued from her fleshy nose, eyes blinked from side to side as if on the k-out for somebody in the street.

"And, mark you, I do not know anything, and I did not say anything to you, mother dear, and did not even see you to-day, you under-

Then she disappeared.

The searchers appeared at the very time they re not expected, nearly a month after this Patrick Casey, I.W.W., who left England at Pavel's house talking with him and Andrey about their newspaper. It was late, about dnight. The mother was already in bed. w, busy voices. Presently Andrey got up "You, Nakhodka, you have been searched the and carefully picked his way through and out before?" asked the officer. of the kitchen, quietly shutting the door after "Yes, I was searched in Rostov and m. The noise of the iron bucket was heard kitchen, and announced in a loud whisper: I hear the jingling of spurs in the street!" came to her door and said calmly:

You stay in bed; you're not feeling well." A cautious, stealthy sound was heard on the ch. Pavel went to the door, and knocking Who's there?" tall, grey figure shot through the dooray; after it another; two gendarmes pushed avel back, and stationed themselves on either de of him, and a loud mocking voice called

"No one you expect, eh?"

The words came from a tall, lank officer, scratched one hand with the other. with a thin, black moustache. The village "Take this dog out of here!" said the policeman, Fedyakin, appeared at the bedside officer. cap, pointed the other at her face, and, making arm and rudely pulled him into the kitchen.

"This is his mother, your honour!" Then, shouted: urg and Southern Russia; and the working waving his hand toward Pavel: "And this is "Stop! I am going to put my coat on." he himself."

"Pavel Vlasov?" inquired the officer, yard and said: The staid people who earned good pay waxed screwing up his eyes; and when Pavel silently "There is nothing out there. We searched nodded his head, he announced, twirling his everywhere."

denly and making a dash for the door.

the other room. old smelter, Tveryakov, and his lodger, the seen such persons, and now she had almost stoker Rybin, a staid, dark-coloured peasant. He said in a thick, loud voice:

"Good evening, Nilovna."

to herself in a low voice, so as to give her- hodka, under arrest."

"What sort of a thing is this? They come composedly.

The room was close, and for some reason with spiteful civility. smelt strongly of shoe blacking. Two gendarmes and the village commissioner, Ryskin, their heavy tread resounding on the "Wait a moment, Pasha!" cried the mother, floor, removed the books from the shelves rushing to the table and then addressing the and put them on the table before the officer. officer: "Why do you snatch people away Two others rapped on the walls with their fists, thus?" and looked under the chairs. One man "That does not concern you. Silence!" clumsily clambered upon the stove in the shouted the officer, rising.

The officer quickly seized the books with the document which he raised to his face. long fingers of his white hand, turned over Nikolay was brought into the room. the pages, shook them, and with a dexterous movement of the wrist flung them aside. ing his reading. Sometimes a book fell to the floor with a light thud. All were silent. The heavy breathing on the back, said in an undertone: of the perspiring gendarmes was audible; the spurs clanked, and sometimes the low question was heard: "Did you look here?"

The mother stood by Pavel's side against the wall. She folded her arms over her bosom, like her son, and both regarded the officer. The mother felt her knees trembling, and her eyes became covered with a dry mist. into the silence:

The mother trembled. Tveryakov rocked his their acid, heart-corroding taste. head as if it had been struck on the back. The officer regarded her contemptuously. Rybin uttered a peculiar cluck, and regarded He scowled and remarked: Nikolay attentively.

The officer threw up his head, screwed up his out, or you won't have tears left for the eyes, and fixed them for a second on the pock-future!" marked, mottled, immobile face. His fingers "A mother has enough tears for everything, began to turn the leaves of the books still more everything! If you have a mother, she knows rapidly. His face was yellow and pale; he it!" anxious night. Nikolay Vyesovshchikov was twisted his lips continually. At times he The officer hastily put the papers into his opened his large grey eyes wide, as if he new portfolio with its shining lock. suffered from an intolerable pain, and was "How independent they all are in your ready to scream out in impotent anguish.

Saratov. Only there the gendarmes addressed The officer winked his right eye, rubbed it, and showing his fine teeth, said: "And so you happen to know, Mr. officer scoffed.

The mother jumped out of bed, catching at Nakhodka—yes, you, Mr. Nakhodka—who those scoundrels are who distribute criminal proclamations and books in the factory, eh?"

The Little Russian swayed his body, and with a broad smile on his face was about to say something, when the irritating voice of Nikolay again rang out:

"This is the first time we have seen scoundrels here!"

Silence ensued. There was a moment of breathless suspense. The scar on the mother's face whitened, and her right eyebrow travelled upward. Rybin's black beard quivered strangely. He dropped his eyes, and slowly

There he planted his feet firmly on the floor and

The police commissioner came in from the

"Well, of course!" exclaimed the officer, siness they ought to get their eyes "I have to make a search in your house. laughing. "I knew it! There's an experienced man here, it goes without saying."

"Who is there?" he asked, turning sud- The mother listened to his thin, dry voice, and looking with terror into the yellow face, "Your name?" his voice was heard from felt an enemy in this man, an enemy without pity, with a heart full of aristocratic disdain Two other men came in from the porch: the of the people. Formerly she had but rarely forgotten they existed.

"Then this is the man whom Pavel and his friends have provoked," she thought.

She dressed herself, all the while speaking "I place you, Mr. Andrey onisimov Nak-

"What for?" asked the Little Russian at night. People are asleep and they come -" "I will tell you later!" answered the officer

"Bring in the prisoner Vyesovshchikov!" he commanded, and began to read aloud a

"Hats off!" shouted the officer, interrupt-Rybin went up to Vlasova, and patting her

"Don't get excited, mother!"

"How can I take my hat off if they hold my

The officer flung the paper on the table. "Sign," he said curtly.

The mother saw how everyone signed the document, and her excitement died down, a softer feeling taking possession of her heart. Suddenly the piercing voice of Nikolay cut Her eyes filled with tears-burning tears of insult and impotence. Such tears she had "Why is it necessary to throw the books on wept for twenty years of her married life, but within the later years she had almost forgotten

"You cry before your time, my lady! Look place!" He turned to the police commis-

"An impudent pack!" mumbled the com-

" March!" commanded the officer.

"Good-bye, Andrey! Good-bye, Nikolay!" said Pavel, warmly and softly pressing his comrades' hands.

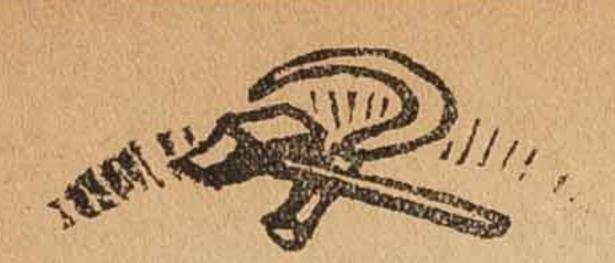

"That's it! Until we meet again!" the (Extract from "Comrades.")

YOUR SUBSCRIPTION

A blue mark in this space indicates that your subscription is now due.

The high cost of production of the paper necessitates prompt payment.

Maorkers' Dreadnought Founded 1914. E ditor: SYLVIA PANKHURST.

Business Communications — To The Manager WORKERS' DREADNOUGHT, 152, FLEET STREET, LONDON, E.C.4. Post free. SUBSCRIPTIONS. Three months (13 weeks) ...... 1s. 71/2d. Six months (26 weeks) ...... 3s. 3d.

One year (52 weeks) ...... 6s. 6d. Subscriptions can start from any week.

Vol, X. No. 49. Saturday, Feb. 23rd, 1924.

Our Piew.

The terrible munitions explosion at Erith, which resulted in the death of thirteen young women, is a shock to the public conscience, reminding it that munitions of war are still being handled, both for the chronic wars against exploited peoples and classes which never have ceased, and for the next big war between the great Powers.

These girls who lost their lives the other day were killed, as other girls were killed in another recent accident, through working for a miserable pittance at separating the component parts of cartridges, in order that those parts might be used again. The firm for which the girls were working in this case is engaged under Government contract as agent for the Government.

It is stated in the Press that the work was under the jurisdiction of Major H. McKenna, Chief Safety Officer of the Disposal Board, and that a Resident Safety Officer, Captain A. MacDonald, was at the works subject to Major McKenna's instructions. Without expressing any opinion as to the qualifications of these officers for their task, qualifications which should now be made public, we may assume that the Government Disposal Board, since its safety officers had oversight of the work, is responsible for the manner in which it was carried on.

We may also assume that the work is so dangerous that in spite of any precautions that may be taken, serious accidents are liable to stopped. The out-of-date munitions left over a Minister can give to the stupendous task of ment had "a lot on hand," but he "hoped" from the war should be got rid of as safely as acquiring a knowledge of what his department that their plight would not be "forgotten." possible without regard to the salving of the does, and to develop a policy which may He spoke as a man fettered and overwhelmed. material, which is of small importance compared to the safety of those at work on it.

An inquiry will, of course, be held into the cause of the accident, but the real cause is the character of the work done and of the materials doings of his department. which are handled.

material left over from the war, which involves current, sweeping away most of the little common product, at this rate would take danger, shall be performed by persons occupy- barques which he, like a feeble child, may seek thousand years! The pace must be quickened. ing well-paid posts of high responsibility in the to fling into the stream of departmental affairs. That is imperative. Army-not by sweated girls, ignorant of the awful risks to which they are exposed.

the Labour Government is able to take imme- defending those things, accepting responsibility and personal intrigue, of sham warfare for diate action.

Government is introducing into South Africa, policy, stated the sum necessary to compensate grievances of pensioners and ex-servicement compels all Asiatics to reside and trade within the owners of the cattle that have been killed, of wage workers unjustly dismissed, of work restricted areas, and not outside them. The whilst his under-Secretary, Mr. Smith, pleaded less people denied insurance benefit, of widows measure is prompted by hatred of the competi- inability to compensate the labourers who have of orphans, of the houseless, the destitute and tion of Asiatic traders by European traders. been deprived of work by the slaughter, saying the afflicted. So many they are they lose all out number. It is said that the resignation of the Bavarian the owners. dictator, Dr. Von Kahr, is due to representa- Mr. Stephen Walsh has fallen an easy prey habit. Occasionally a petition is granted; tions that the British Labour Government to his department. At the bidding of the War hardship, in that one case partially mitigated could not intervene to restore Bavarian Office he briefly replied to a question that Mr. the underlying cause never touched. authority in the Palatinate, unless a guarantee MacDonald's pledge to the Army ranker When, from the outer world, the real world were given that Bavaria would return to con- officers would not be kept, as Mr. MacDonald the cries of the unfortunate shape themselves stitutional conditions. It is doubtless all to had not understood the position when he made the good that Dr. Von Kahr and General Von it. When Mr. MacDonald was twitted on the Lossow, the commander of the Bavarian subject by Mr. Austin Chamberlain he Reichswehr, should have resigned, but neither answered: "I shall do my best to put it right. freedom in the old Radical sense, nor economic . . . . I shall look into it again. . . . I an emancipation of the working class, seems to be not going to upset any decision of the War given a loop-hole for emerging under the Office. The War Office has to decide it. . . arrangements which the Allied Powers have Mr. J. H. Thomas seems to accept, with dictated to Bavaria and the Palatinate.

In the case of the Palatinate Mr. MacDonald pected of him, the position of defender of his said, in reply to a Parliamentary question on department. Yet the Colonial Secretary has to treated as the Western Powers treat the sider the case of King Prempeh of Ashanti peoples of Africa and India, on the pretext who has been detained in the Seychelles for that they belong to a less advanced civilisa- over 25 years, without charge or trial, M tion than that of the dominant intruders, and Thomas observed that the Governor of the are incapable of managing their own affairs. Gold Coast had advised his predecessor that This sort of bullying, even when masquerad- "the time was not yet ripe for Prempeh ing in paternal guise, as in this case, is in return." Nevertheless, Mr. Thomas would every sense objectionable, and is only tolerated "take an opportunity of discussing the by its victims because it is backed by a military matter "during the Governor's approaching agreed to the plan only in order that the or two amid the jokes and banter. Twenty-fiv British military may counteract the aggressive years of a black man's life is a small matter designs of the French Government. We re- to statesmen. peat our view that the proper course for those When asked by Mrs. Wintringham whether who are opposed to capitalist militarism and he would take any action on the flogging to imperialism is to refuse to take part in the death of a native in Southern Rhodesia, M military occupation of Germany.

All Matt er for Publication- To The Editor. February 18th:

devised for the Palatinate.

accustomed manner. Members of the Labour and gentlemen; read it, with horror, if you will, Government read out the answers to questions then forget it. prepared for them by the departmental When Mr. Adamson, the Secretary officials, just as their predecessors did. They Scotland, was appealed to on behalf of the would like, perhaps, to impart a touch of famine stricken people in the Scottish Islan individuality or humanity, but the machine and Highlands, he was driven to minimise t does not allow of it. Ministers are dependent distress, and to expatiate on the relief measure on the information supplied to them by their taken by the late Government, the low departments. Time allows of little, and as authorities, and charitably disposed persons the session proceeds, will allow of less per- through funds opened by Lord Lieutenant. sonal research by the Minister who is supposed Provosts and Mayors. The Board of Ag to be responsible to the Nation for all the culture would provide seed: he "hoped

Attendance in the House encroaches scores of people, who, through their pover modify, in some degree, the policy he has Progress toward a proper state of society inherited; the traditional policy of the depart- a brotherly condition, in which there will be We further insist that all disposing of ment which flows on, a swift, overwhelming plenty for all and the free consumption of the formula of the free consumption of the first constant con

Labour Ministers are carrying on the policies of the past, answering questions about things In the House of Commons one cannot This is an administrative matter in which that were done before they came into office, the wood for the trees. It is a place of particle with the state of the trees.

The Class Areas Bill, which the Smuts Agriculture's foot and mouth disease slaughter forlornly obtrude themselves—the urgent The cruel jealousies of capitalism are with- that the law, as it was made by a previous appearance of actuality, become cases to be Government, only gave power to compensate filed and tabulated merely. Most of the claim willingness, even with zest, the position exbe responsible for many ugly occurrences. He "As a result of considerable correspond- denied with vigour that air raids have been ence between His Majesty's Government used for enforcing payment of taxes in and the French and Belgian Governments, Mesopotamia. He seemed prepared to defy any it has been decided to entrust to the suggestion that the use of the bomb has ever representatives of the three Governments been anything but beneficial to the subject at Coblenz the task of supervising the peoples of the British Empire. He even gradual restoration of normal administra- rebuked Lady Astor for appearing to cast tion in the Palatinate, and the disarming aspersions upon the sale into slavery of little of all unauthorised persons. With the girls, under the "mui tsai" system, which has object of facilitating a settlement on these been abolished in other parts of China. H lines, the Rhineland High Commission has did not turn a hair in announcing that there nominated an Inter-Allied delegation, are 296 registered brothels in Hong Kong. which has proceeded to the Palatinate, and seemed to regard this as having no conand is co-operating with the local nection with the specially high incidence of venereal diseases amongst British troops Germany is coming more and more to be stationed in Hong Kong. When urged to conforce they cannot see their way to resist. leave in this country. Over the Havanas and We shall be told that Mr. MacDonald has the wine the exile's position will receive a wo

Thomas obligingly offered to send the ho The plan for Bavaria itself is similar to that Member a record of the proceedings received from the High Commissioner for South Africa The Parliamentary Machine grinds on in its "for perusal." An interesting MS., lad would be at less than cost price. As to the party advantage. Amid the careerism and the Mr. Trevelyan sponsored the Board of flippancies, the claims of unfortunate people are thrust aside with the indifference born of scarcity and the exploitation of the many by Lieut.=Colonel Ward in Russia.

porters have made that extravagent claim for forces at Omsk. We are glad to have the definite admission hat it is not, which Mr. MacDonald made to Mr. Austin Chamberlain said that Mr. Lloyd said of the Capital Levy:-

a proposal—it may be right or it may be Liberal Party? wrong—to ease the burdens of the National Debt which the industry of the country has to bear. . . . It would be folly for any hon. Members to say that the Government propose to introduce a Capital Levy in this repudiation and the other inflation." Parliament, and it would be equally folly for the Government to entertain any idea of doing anything of the kind."

The Capital Levy is one of those red herings which are periodically put forward as a specific for curing society of its most pressing election to public bodies. lls. The only tangible result produced by hem is to induce some of those who have been vice and propaganda, in the hope of finding a tions in Great Britain. speedier way out of social chaos. Production for use, not for sale and profit, wages, rent, interest, and profit. The abolition of Kings and Parliaments. Organisation of production by those who do he work on a Workshop Council basis.

ind, consequently, the abolition of money,

The sharing of productive work by all. Plenty for all and poverty for none. Since he community can produce more than it can consume of the necessities and comforts of life, the people's wants can be and should supplied freely, according to their needs and

What we want.

The abolition of the private property system. The common ownership of the land and the means of production, distribution, and trans-

E. SYLVIA PANKHURST.

Questions on the above points are invited,

PARLIAMENT AS WE SEE IT.

Amid the daily questions on the chronic expenditure has been or will be incurred." troubles, relating to pensions, unemployment, housing, and so on, Mr. Milne ( asked whether the murderer of Mr. Day in Dominion Governments will be consulted. Calcutta was a member of the Non-Co-operation operation Party.

Mr. McEntee (Lab.) asked whether the of Rossetti's lines: Government would amnesty all Irish political liar state of affairs!

into some general demand; then, after the The refusal to let Mr. Art O'Brien have a declared that Mr. MacDonald is experiencing agitation of years, at last, at long, long last, decent meal at the judge's request was just the same feelings as his predecessors.

Lieut.-Colonel Ward protested that when he assisted Koltchak in Russia he was not in The Capital Levy is not an instalment of the pay of Koltchak, but of the British Gov-Socialism, though some of its rank and file sup- ernment, and was commander of the British

A Poser for Lloyd George.

the House of Commons on February 14th. He George is "the only begetter and true father of a great part of the Safeguarding of Indus-'Some people imagine this is a stage to tries Act." What would Mr. Lloyd George Socialism. It is nothing of the kind. It is do about it now as one of the leaders of the

Mr. MacDonald and the National Debt. Mr. MacDonald desires the National Debt

to be paid by honest means. He says:-"I regard two means as dishonest, one Refused by the Labour Government.

To introduce a measure permitting farmers to kill game which destroys their crops.

To introduce a bill making persons who have received Poor Law Relief eligible for Communist Organisations.

Major Kindersley ( converted to Communism to abandon its ser- to call attention to the Communist organisa-

Mr. Robert Young was elected Chairman of Ways and Means. Mr. MacDonald indicated Act and the Imperial Conference resolutions that he is trying to come to a non-party by the Imperial Conference. arrangement for the Deputy-Chairmanship- As to the proposed commission for dealapparently the Liberals have put in a claim.

Singapore Naval Base.

In reply to questions whether the Govern- was the Cabinet itself, but if a commission ment has decided to abandon the Singapore were appointed, he wanted its composition and Naval Base, Mr. C. G. Ammon, Parliamentary terms of reference to be decided by the House Secretary to the Admiralty, and a pacifist in of Commons. This would have meant a trithe late war, said:

"As is generally known, those responsible cated that such was not his intention. for the present Government have always taken the view that no adequate reason has been shown for the very large expenditure proposed by the late Government at Singapore.

"The Government, however, think it only right that they should hear and examine the case for the scheme before announcing their decision, and this they are proceeding to do."

He added that in the meantime no fresh and speakers can be supplied to explain them expenditure would be incurred. Up to January the Communist Workers' Movement, 20th, £13,000 had been spent, and the Govern-We demand that all such work should be seriously upon the all too small attention which would be evicted on Whit Sunday, the Governcontracts to an expenditure of £34,000. That, of course, is a plain threat to turn the Liabilities have been incurred on work already Government out. in progress, such as railways, road connec- Mr. Asquith declared that the Mond Order

The work already begun is thus still going

Tory Humour.

party. Mr. Wallhead asked whether the late Mr. Baldwin was cynically humorous in Alliance. lamented Crippen was a member of the Tory replying to Mr. MacDonald's opening speech Mr. Asquith declared that the Mond Order Party; and Mr. Richard (Under-Secretary for (dealt with in our leading column last week). had been made under statutory powers made India) said the assassin was member of a revo- He said that the new Prime Minister seemed nearly a hundred years ago, as though it were lutionary secret society, not the Non-Co- to be labouring under a tremendous sense of thereby sanctified—instead of that being responsibility, not yet fully experienced by his actually an evidence that it is out of date. He No Amnesty For Irish Political Prisoners. colleagues. As he watched them he thought declared that terrible conditions exist in ear is granted—some palliative, pallid and in- defended. "The belief that by exhibiting a spirit of adequate, is devised to meet one of the School Buildings, Meals, and Scholarships. sweet reasonableness we could bend the whole outstanding grievances that come surging up Mr. Trevelyan observed that, now he is of Europe to our will." He predicted that from the troublous life of a society based on Minister of Education, the restrictions on Mr. MacDonald would find that "the spirit of unjust foundations.

> "The blessed damozel lean'd out From the gold bar of Heaven."

* building new school accommodation will be sweet reasonableness may be carried to excess withdrawn. The limit to school meals will without reaping any of the rewards which are withdrawn. The limit to school meals will without reaping any of the rewards which are Each attempt to redress a particular also be abolished, and the State scholarships, its due." He declared that the Labour rrievance produces new hardships. That is which were suspended, will recommence as Government is carrying on the foreign policy inevitable, since the social system is based on soon as possible. of its predecessors. The same, he added, was true of unemployment:

> "As each Government has tried to do a little bit more in the way of palliatives to try to sweeten an impossible position for those who are suffering from it, so this Government is proposing to take a little step in advance which would have had to be taken by any Government in power before the winter had passed."

As to Russia, Mr. Baldwin quoted Zinonieff: "We shall support Mr. MacDonald as the rope supports the hanged man."

"MacDonald will certainly grovel on all fours before the opulent English

Mr. Rakovaky had spoken of loans of £20,000,000 to £30,000,000 being needed in Russia for trade credits, one-third of the amount being placed at the disposal of the Soviet Government. Mr. Baldwin drew from Mr. MacDonald the statement that there is no question of a loan by the British Government to the Soviet Government. The only question is that of guaranteeing British credits to ) gave notice British traders dealing with Russia.

Asquith Delivers an Ultimatum. Mr. Asquith took Mr. MacDonald to task for not having declared the policy of his Government on the Safeguarding of Industries ing with taxation, Mr. Asquith eonsidered that the only proper commission for such a purpose party commission. Mr. Snowden later indi-

Mr. Asquith proceeded to attack the action of Mr. Wheatley in rescinding the Mond "Poplar" order. He observed:

"I wish to say in the plainest and most unequivocal terms, that unless the Government can see their way, as I hope they will, to reconsider the action taken in that respect, I do not think there is the least chance of that administrative Act receiving the countenance or approval of the House of Commons."

tions, water supplies, etc., but until further was issued "after a careful and impartial reports are received I cannot state how much inquiry by a thoroughly competent commissioner who came down from Lancashire." Mr. Lansbury retorted that the commissioner on. Mr. Ammon further stated that the had taken no evidence from the Guardians, but had consulted their political opponent, Sir Alfred Warren, of the Tory Municipal Poplar, but they also exist elsewhere. He argued that the rescinding of the Order was discouraging and paralysing the men of public The Under Home Secretary replied that the "The wonder had not left their faces," he spirit on other Boards and tempting them to Home Secretary is always prepared to consider said, "at finding themselves where they are." follow the example of Poplar by giving way representations in particular cases. He indi- Mr. Baldwin teased Mr. MacDonald regard- to their sympathy with poverty in defiance of cated that some of the North of Ireland ing his statement that the price of gilt-edged law. He understood the tremendous pressure prisoners have been sent over to England, securities had gone up with his advent to office, that must come from a man's conscience in the but declared the Home Secretary has no juris- and asked whether the rise in the price of food presence of such "hideous necessities" to diction over them. That is certainly a pecu- was also due to the appearance of a Labour induce him "to stretch and strain the law." Government. As to foreign politics, he Therefore he desired to have the power of the surcharge the Guardians as inadequate for disposing of the produce. Perhaps Mr. Asquith desires the power t The state of affairs shows the disastrous dangerous vice as simple humanity in face o suffering!

Mr. Lansbury's Answer.

not pass a law saying that no able-bodied man which produced land gambling. Tenant shall have relief outside a workhouse, or that farmers feared they would be sold out of their the Ministry of Health shall declare what relief holdings, and were induced to borrow money every individual shall have.

a case in which a stevedore with 10s. had had slump makes it impossible for them to pay. its aftermath. £4 in relief in a single week—he had only been They will be obliged to go into the bankruptcy relieved one week for after he returned to work. He had had £1 for himself and wife and 6s. and 5s. per head for the children.

Widows in Poplar get £1 1s. 6d. with one child and rent and 1s. 6d. for coal. With two children £1 5s., with three £1 8s. 6d. There is no additional relief for any children over five in number. Mr. Lansbury deelared that is monstrous: it is done in response to pressure from the Ministry of Health. An adult not living with his parents gets 12s. 6d. a week. Two adults living together get £1.

Poplar had defied the Ministry by refusing to count the earnings of sons and daughters as part of the income of their parents.

The Capital Levy.

Mr. Clynes, the Lord Privy Seal, when heckled on the subject of the Capital Levy, the world. plainly stated that the Government will not raise it in this Parliament. He said:

"I need not, of course, argue that we could not, of course, approach any question of a Capital Levy when no national approval has been given to a device of that kind. . . . The truth is that the device of the Capital Levy was not necessarily a Labour proposal, and it is known that it was looked upon at one time with a good deal of favour by many who are not attached to the Labour Party. We should be happy to receive from any quarter any alternative to the Capital Levy."

As to the unemployed, Mr. Clynes said that previous Governments "began by giving them money. . . . Once you begin that, to give something for nothing, either to rich or poor, you will find it very difficult to check, and may find it, indeed, almost impossible to stop it."

These are rather strange remarks to come from a fellow-worker who must have known unemployment at first hand in his time!

£500 Houses at 9s. a Week.

Sir F. K. Wood (Cons.), desired to know know how the Government proposed to build houses for £500 a piece and let them at 9s. a £11 10s. per annum for rent. When the mercies. Government began to build houses under the Addison scheme, houses which could be built the House did not notice that.

The Voice of the Labourer.

Mr. C. Edwards (Labour), who has worked as an agricultural labourer, protested that men of that class cannot pay 9s. a week rent. They get 6d. an hour, 23s. 7d. (less insurance), for a 48-hour week. That works out at 2½d. per clothes, etc.

Of course it cannot be done!

not pay a living wage to the labourers without "Rising Sun." The London organiser of the fact that Britain was merely using the Arabs a State subsidy.

he offered a bounty of £1 an acre to agricul- would be arrested. loans or guarantees to start co-operative enter- office.

law strengthened. He regarded the power t prise to buy seeds, manure, implements, and expel them from the Boards and impose a teri ailure of the old-established system of private of imprisonment for the exercise of such and interprise. Capitalism is indeed very sick.

The Tenant Farmer. As to the tenant farmers, Mr. Edwards said that the war-time corn production Act caused Mr. Lansbury replied that the House dare an increase in the value of agricultural land Mr. Cooper said the commission had found ing enormous interest to the banks. The court and there will be no money for wages.

All hail Communism!

Lady Astor made one of her silly speeches about a fair day's work for a fair day's wage, which caused some Labour Members to be so foolish as to cry: "Your place is over here!" She declared that "the British Navy had gone further than any single agency to make possible civilisation such as it is, not only in England, but throughout the world."

As an American by birth, Lady Astor seems to imagine her rôle should be that of the aggressive British patriot. Her words were truer than she thought in a sense she certainly did not mean. The coercion of the British Navy has certainly helped to force and maintain British overlordship upon a large part of

" Fit for Service, Fit for Pension." Mr. Ayles (Labour) wanted to know whether the Government would adhere to the principle fit for service, fit for pension.

Johnston versus MacDonald. Mr. T. Johnston (Lab.) asked the Prime Minister if his attention had been directed to the many authoritative statements made within the past two years upon the ruinous effects upon trade and employment caused by the policy of currency deflation and the effort to re-establish a free market for gold in London; if the Government is still guided by the conclusions of the committee on currency and foreign exchanges, commonly called the Cunliffe Committee; and if the Government is prepared to set up a Royal Commission of inquiry into our whole monetary system?

called the Cunliffe Committee.

To Abolish the Gap.

No Withdrawal from Mesopotamia.

The Labour Government will not withdraw before the war for £350 went up to £800 or from Mesopotamia, as many of its supporters ended than France and Britain began to conhoped. Mr. MacDonald said the Government The millions now being dangled before is considering the situation "in view of the employers and employed would result in sky- obligations imposed by the mandate on the one position there. This Franco-British rivalry hand, and the undesirability of remaining there An instance of the evils of capitalism, but any longer than is necessary to set the native government on its feet."

> That is what the last government said, as Tory Mr. Wood observed.

Dockers' Demonstration Stopped. Extra police are said to have been drafted into the dock areas last Sunday. An unmeal for a family of five having three meals a employed demonstration in support of the day and Is. 81d. to pay rent, and buy boots, strike on February 19th was stopped by the police. The Camberwell and Southwark pro- Syria. Indeed, the British Government pledge cession was stopped at Rotherhithe Tunnel, Mr. Edwards declared that agriculture can- the Deptford procession was stopped at the unemployed was informed that if any attempt as pawns. Mr. Baldwin, in effect, said the same when were made to hold a meeting the speakers ture at the last election. Mr. MacDonald This seems decidedly extreme action for the of the British to exclusive control of the Mosul hopes to restore the industry to health by State police to take with a Labour Government in oil fields, till by the San Remo Agreement of

FROM THE PUBLISHERS

"Turkey, the Great Powers, and the Bagdad Railway," a study in Imperialism, by Edward Mead Earle, Ph.D. (Macmillan, 10s. 6d.)

Mr. Earle describes in an interesting manner how backward Turkey invited exploitation. how the Germans seized the opportunity and overcame competition, and how the Bagdad Railway became a German Imperial enterprise. He tells of Russian resistance and French and British hostility to German expansion. Then to buy them at inflated prices. They are pay- the bargains by which it was attempted to patch up the rivalries, and finally the war and

The latter chapters are those of greatest interest to-day, because the war caused most people to gain considerable familiarity with the events treated in the earlier chapters.

Mr. Earle postulates wat the war has completely destroyed German influence in the Near East, and that considerable resentment against the German military domination of 1917-18 has been left behind. Moreover, he says Germany is indisposed for any attempt to regain her former position.

Confiscation of Private Foreign Investments. "The confiscation by the Treaty of Versailles of private property in foreign investments has set a precedent which will make German investors—as well as prudent investors everywhere—extremely chary of utilising their funds for the promotion of such enterprises as the Bagdad Railway."

Mr. Earle does not say, perhaps because it does not fall within the purview of his subject, that this decision of the Versailles Treaty provides a useful precedent for Soviet Russia to remember in discussing with the Powers the question of the pre-revolutionary foreign investments in Russia. If a war can be held by capitalist States to justify the confiscation of private investments, surely a revolution may be held to do so by a State calling itself a Socialist Soviet Republic?

The dismemberment of Austria and the formation of Jugo-Slavia have erected customs barriers barring the way of German trade towards the East.

Will Russia Return to Imperialism?

Mr. Earle recognises that the Russian revolution necessitated the abandonment of the old The Prime Minister: His Majesty's Govern- schemes of Russian Imperialism which made ment are of the opinion that the reappointment Russia the rival of Germany. He declares, of a Committee on currency and foreign ex- however, that with the development of her changes at the present time would be prema- industries Russia may again feel the urge to ture and inexpedient. The Government are still Imperialism. We agree; but the position is guided by the conclusions of the Committee on not correctly stated: It is with the developcurrency and foreign exchanges, commonly ment of her industries on a competitive capitalist basis that Russia will probably develop thus. Mr. Earle rightly states that The Gap Bill which has passed its Second any desire for a share in the Bagdad Railway, week, including rates. Sixty per cent. would Reading abolishes the gap and does no more. or other such enterprises, on the part of have to be deducted from rent, he said, for rent The unemployed will be glad of it-more's the Russia, will not be heeded by the Western and maintenance, which would leave only pity they have to be thankful for such small Powers until these are articulated in the language of power.

The New Eastern Struggle.

No sooner was the war against Germany tend against each other for domination in Turkey and for succession to the German was already an old one: it had been merely set aside for the ousting of Germany.

The French Government complained that the peace had given Britain the lion's share of the spoils, and that in his agreement with Clemenceau of December, 1918, which gave Mosul and Palestine to Britain, Mr. Lloyd George had been guilty of sharp practice. The French declared that British support of selfgovernment for the Arabs was merely an excuse to undermine the French mandate for of Palestine to the Jews, though previously it promised the country to the Arabs, reveals the #### Mosul Oil.

The French continued contesting the claim April 24, 1920, the French were given the influence and that the oil should pass free of Treaty. French taxes.

The French also considered, because they had held a 30 per cent. interest in the Bagdad Railway before the war, that they should have the controlling power in it now; but the Treaty of Sèvres placed the railway under international ownership and control.

Turkey weak, had loaded Turkey with reparations payments, and had placed Constantinople and Smyrna, the two essential commercial ports of Anatolia, under foreign control. Further, the British Government had "made possible" (we should rather say promoted) a Greek war against Turkey. France, on the other hand, preferred Turkey to be reasonably strong as a balance to British power in the Near East, and because French investors held per cent. of the Turkish pre-war debt.

It was against French troops that the new nationalist Government of Angora marched. When it rose to power and when it attacked he French zone of Cilicia in the autumn of 1920, the French General Gourand was occupied by an Arab rebellion in Syria. To negotiate with Mustapha Kemal, of the atified Treaty of Sèvres between the Sultan and the Allies. This was the course taken by he French Government, and on March 9th, 1921, an agreement was signed in London between France and the Angora Government. The Turkish Nationalists thereby granted began to work with the British against them. priority to French capitalists. In the granting f concessions in Cilicia and Southern Armenia, confirmed French interests in the Bagdad Syria, and to adopt a friendly attitude to the between France and Turkey widened. new Nationalist Government. Italy also made

The Angora Treaty.

France and Turkey continued to negotiate. and the Angora Treaty, signed for France by .. Franklin Bouillon, followed on October

This Treaty aroused great hostility in British Government circles. It adjusted nines, railways, harbours, and rivers to French capitalists, and especially to award to them the exploitation of the Arghana copper mines and cotton growing in Cilicia.

Lord Curzon Protests.

Lord Curzon protested that the French had no right to recognise the Angora Nationalist Government or to treat at all with Turkey except in concert with the Allies. France, he urged, had no right to hand back to Turkey the territory over which she had been given a handate, which had been conquered by British forces, and was a common guage of Allied victory. France had ignored the League of Nations. The portions of railway returned to Turkish territory were a menace quarter share which used to belong to Ger- to British communications in Mosul, Mesopo- miles of railway, with exclusive rights to many. Even then the British drove a shrewd tamia and Irak. Britain would not assent to exploit all mineral resources within twenty bargain, for it was provided that the French Control of the Bagdad Railway, which kilometres on each side of the lines. The comshould agree to the construction of two pipe was the common asset of the Allies. Britain pany may also lay such pipe lines as are neceslines and railways through French spheres of would insist on the revision of the Angora sary, utilise water power along the line of its

The Greco-Turkish War.

At the Washington Conference in December, to construct port and terminal facilities at 1921, there was "a verbal war" between M. Samsun on the Black Sea and at Youmourtalik Briand and Lord Lee. Mr. Earle, as an on the Gulf of Alexandretta. Turkish Govern-American, does not hesitate to mention these ment lands required for right of way, terminal little differences between French and British facilities, or exploiting mineral resources are to representatives. Franco-British differences at be transferred to the company, free of charge, The British Government desired to make Genoa, a clash over reparations at midsummer, for ninety-nine years. Public lands and 1922, charges that the French and Italians quarries required for construction may be used were helping the Turks and counter-charges free, and wood and timber cut without charge. that the British were helping the Greeks, led The materials, machinery, lines, ports, capital to the crisis of September, 1922, when French and revenues of the company are to be free of and Italian troops withdrew from the Straits and neutral zone of Anatolia. Then came the coal to be free for 20 years. French invasion of the Ruhr in January, 1923.

At the Lausanne Conference to secure peace in the Near East, the conflict at first raged between Lord Curzon and the Turks. The that the United States Government has no British Government, forced to abandon its attempt to secure a Greek empire in Asia Minor to counteract the Greeks, now concentrated on maintaining the British hold in Mesopotamia and the oil fields of Mosul and in the neutralisation of the Straits. The French did not Angora Government, was to defy the still un- care for these things, and left bord Curzon to U.S.A. in 1923, said the Chester concession fight the Turks whilst they concentrated on securing economic concessions for France and on good conditions for the French and Italian schools and missions. Presently, however, the French demanded too much, and the Turks The French desired that all the pre-war as States Government is no less imperialist than well as the new concessions to foreign exploiters should be confirmed. The British did Railway, and recognised special cultural and not care for this, since most of the old British religious interests of France in Turkey. concessions were in areas now detached from France in return agreed to evacuate Cicilia, to Turkey, especially in Mesopotamia. The Laureadjust the boundary between Turkey and sanne Conference broke up, and the breach

Enter America. March 13th, 1921, for Italy regarded the ment awarded to an American syndicate, talik might be used as a U.S. naval base. Treaty of Sèvres as giving Greece too much headed by Admiral Chester, concessions for When American destroyers were sent to advantage and frustrating her own ambitions nearly 3,000 miles of railway and valuable Constantinople in 1919 the possible developin Asia Minor. Moreover, the Nationalist rights for exploiting mineral resources in ment of economic resources was carefully soldiers of Turkey were giving Italy the worst Anatolia. This concession conflicted with investigated by representatives of American of it. Italy secured an agreement for Turkish- French claims to a Black Sea railway conces- commercial interests. "The representatives Italian collaboration in Adalia and the Hera-sion granted in 1913 and the Arghana copper were given every assistance by the Navy," and clea coal mine. Italy pledged itself to support mines granted in 1921. The Chester con- furnished with transport. Naval officers the Nationalist Turkish Government, and cession was calculated to win American collect and furnish business information to especially in the restitution of Thrace and diplomatic support. The French Foreign American firms, notifying them of business Office informed the Angora Government that it opportunities. "One destroyer is kept conwas "a deliberately unfriendly act, of a nature tinuously at Samsun, Turkey, to look after to influence adversely the coming negotiations American tobacco interests at that port." The at Lausanne." Such is the diplomacy into Navy Department says: "The permanent which the Labour Party is now projecting it- success" of American commerce in the Near

Britain Wins.

The Lausanne Conference reopened on April boundaries so that a part of the Bagdad Rail- 22nd, 1923, and on May 15th it became known way, lately coming within the territory of the that a syndicate of British banks had purchased French mandate, now came on Turkish soil, a controlling interest in the "Bank für this and other parts of the railway being given orientalischen Eisenbahnen" of Zurich, the Trench capitalists, to be nominated by the Deutsche Bank's holding company for the French Government. No preferential tariffs Anatolian and Bagdad Railways. Ismet were to be established on the railway "in Pasha is said to have encouraged the British principle," but both Turks and French could plan. This was a very important matter. introduce any exceptions to the principle they Says Mr. Earle: "Thus, after twenty years of might think fit. The Turkish Government diplomatic bargaining, British Imperialists had agreed to view favourably concessions for won possession of the 'short cut to India'!" At that time the Guaranty Trust of New York opened a branch bank in Constantinople, stating that Americans there had previously been obliged to rely on foreign banks, which was "not only inconvenient, but devoid of that business secrecy which is so necessary in exploiting new fields."

In 1901 U.S. exports to Turkey amounted to only about 50,000 dollars. In 1913 they had risen to 3,500,000 dollars. Between 1913 and 1920 they rose to 42,200,000 dollars. Between 1913 and 1920 U.S. imports from Turkey rose from 22,100,000 dollars to 39,000,000 dollars.

The Importance of the Chester Concession.

The Chester concession gives the American-Ottoman Company the construction of 2,800 railways, instal hydro electric stations for the service of its mines, ports and railways. It is all duties and taxes for 99 years. Its imported

The Chester concession is probably as or more important than the Bagdad railway concession granted to Germany before the war and now secured by Britain.

According to Mr. Earle the Turks believe political ambitions in Turkey. Probably the Turks are too shrewd to be so mistaken, but consider it well to bring in America to counterbalance France and Britain. Dr. I. Fouad Bey, a member of the Angora National Assembly, when on a semi-official visit to was granted because it was a business enterprise without imperialist aims, and that was why the Grand National Assembly was "prepared to welcome American capital with open

As Mr. Earle indicates, however, the United those of other Powers, and he provides evidence to show that it may even out-do the Governments of Europe in this respect.

Dollar Diplomacy. The United States Navy is said to be vitally interested in the Chester project. The Secretary for the Navy has said of it that the Navy "is always concerned with the possibility of friends with the Nationalist Government on On April 10th, 1923, the Angora Govern- oil supplies." An American port at Youmourself. It is certainly entering a den of thieves! East depends largely upon "the continued influence of the Navy in that region." An instructor in the U.S. Naval Academy says:

"Destroyers are entering Turkish ports with 'drummers' as regular passengers, and their fantails piled high with American samples. An American destroyer has made a special trip at thirty knots to get American oil prospectors into a newlyopened field. . . . If this continues we shall cease to take a purely academic interest in the naval problems of the Near East. These problems are concerned with the protection of commerce, the control of narrow places in the Mediterranean waterways, and the naval forces which the interested nations can bring to bear. They cannot be discussed with constant reference to political and commercial aims."

All this leads inevitably to war with rival Powers and to the crushing of all freedom and development amongst the exploited peoples of the Near East.

The only solution for the rivalry amongst the powerful capitalist groups for the exploitation of the weaker nations and their natural resources is Communism, which provides the only alternative to war.

" Should Great Britain succeed in establishing her point that the Bank für, Orientalischen Eisen fahnew is a neutral Swiss rather than enemy German corporation, and therefore exempt from seizure under the reparations provisions of the Treaty of Versailles; and should the Chester concessions be recognised as superseding the rights of the Black Sea railways, French interests in the Levant will face a powerful Anglo-American which it will be very difficult for them to combat with any degree of success. And the power of French government is so heavily invested in the Ruhr occupation that it is doubtful if it can do anything at all to coerce the Turks into full recognition of French claims."

Here, indeed, is a first-class subject of rivalry between French and British capitalism, with the United States coming into line with Britain against France, and in the last analysis against Britain also. What solution has the Labour Government to offer? Is the MacDonald Government prepared to abandon the advantage secured by its predecessor for the sake of peace?

In summing up the situation, Mr. Earle says:

"Italy, which sought to transform the Adriatic and the Ægean into Italian lakes, has finally been compelled to recognise that she assumed imperial liabilities out of all proportion to her economic resources. France, after achieving a temporary victory in the new Turkey, has had to surrender her position to more powerful competitors. But Great Britain has emerged from the conflict in all her glory. She has obtained possession of another highway to the East. Alongside the Suez Canal, in the collection of British imperial jewels, will be placed Jerusalem and Basra and Bagdad."

This is exceedingly interesting and important. It is thus that Lord Curzon, and the Prime Ministers under whom he has served, have busied themselves during these years, in which Mr. MacDonald and Mr. Clynes have complained that the British Empire has hardly counted in the world. One remembers the "Three Nations" cartoons of Max Beerbohm, in which, most of the time, the French and Germans were fighting each other, whilst John Bull was piling up his wealth.

American Imperialism in the Near East.

Before the war the United States was practically self-sufficing in raw material; its exports consisted mainly of food stuffs and raw material, and America was a debtor, not a creditor nation.

The war, and with it the great acceleration of American industrial development, have changed all this. The United States now import raw material and export manufactured articles on a large scale, and America has become one of the great creditor nations. American business men are concerned about the foreign control of rubber, nitrates, chrome and petroleum. They are stretching out all over the world for raw materials for markets, and for opportunities for the profitable investment of capital. All these are to be found in the Near East.

In the spring of 1920 the Government of the United States was engaged in a controversy with the British Government regarding the right of American capital to participate in the oil resources of Mesopotamia.

SPICE.

"I would like to tender my humble sympathy to the Chancellor of the Duchy. It is almost pathetic to find the labourer of the first hour grudged the penny which is so lavishly bestowed upon the Noble Lords who hardly arrived in the field in time to take part in the distribution."—Mr. Austin Chamberlain in the House of Commons.

NON-CO-OPERATION PROGRESS.

The Municipal Corporation of Bombay is issuing tender forms asking contractors to note that no articles manufactured in the British Empire outside India will be used in the municipal departments.

TO IRISH COMRADES.

To the Editor, "Workers' Dreadnought."

Dear Comrade,

When James Larkin returned to Ireland from the U.S.A., a rally of the social revolutionary elements in that country commenced, partly because of his advent, more particularly for other reasons explained by the recent developments of public affairs. Larkin and others began The Irish Workers' League, a body whose manifesto is content with deciding in favour of a Workers' Republic based on the common ownership of the land and agents of production and its application to supply the needs of the whole community. It marks, however, a re-forming of the working class revolutionary ranks and rise of the corresponding idea to the domination of Irish politics. It may lead to the final revolutionary Communist movement when it is really formed. Fortunately, it is quite free from the Labour Party and has not approached any International.

I desire to receive the co-operation of all real Communists with Irish connections in order to open a branch in London.

Contact has already been achieved with U.S.A., and we hope to form auxiliary bodies to the one in Ireland, wherever there are sufficient Irish exiles or their descendants abroad. These would render particular assistance to the home movement, e.g. by raising money for urgent purposes—at the present time for the 50,000 dependents of the prisoners in the anti-Imperialist class wars-by providing sympathisers of all nationalities with the truth about Ireland, and on occasion, by acting as the promoters of mass movements to aid the fight in Ireland. In 1921-22 the "Settlement" would never have been rammed down the throats of the Irish people but for the millions of money and the vast quantity of munitions supplied to the renegades by the British Government. The Irish in Britain should have begun a 'Hands off Ireland' movement amongst the workers to prevent what happened. This was not done, and most even of the class conscious, do not know to this day how the two Empire States were ever established in Ireland. If ever the British Government interferes directly with Irish affairs, the League would immediately stimulate the creation of such "Hands off Ireland" Committees.

We hope to organise to convert the mass of Irish workers here to Communism, a task which we could undertake far more successfully than any ordinary Communist body; and an obligation would rest on all our members to take their due part in the international movement, according to their conception of their duty, in whatever country they may inhabit

We should introduce to the whole working class movement the new art that has arisen in the Irish revolutionary outburst, eliminating undesirable features. There has taken place a revival of the culture that once prevailed in ancient Ireland, the society of which was in fundamentals, communistic and anarchistic, to a degree of which most English workers are unaware. This revival therefore breathes a spirit in harmony with our views on the future. This rebirth has taken place in a revolutionary atmosphere and from the subject class..

To keep this effort on the right lines we require the right people. Will any of your members willing to lend a hand—and this would not require very much of their spare time—please communicate with me?

c/oI.S.L.C., Gladstone Hall, New Cross Road, New Cross, S.E.

Those of Irish blood would be more adaptal ble, of course. Later on, when events progress in Ireland, there will be work for all and sundry in the "Hands off Ireland" movement to save the Irish Communist Revolution.

I am, Yours fraternally,
W. Robinson,
Temp. Hon. Org. Sec.
I.W.L.

THE TIME FOR SOLIDARITY.

Now is the time to show solidarity, fellow workers, now that comrades are on strike.

Now is the time to show you believe in one big union."

Mr. Jack Jones, M.P., says you should, and if you were there you certainly cheered that sentiment, fellow worker.

But you and I have had too much sentiment, fellow workers. What we require is action. If we fail to act, we must not complain that others fail also.

The dockers are starving; their leaders are making speeches. The Labour Government has set up a Court of Inquiry.

What sort of a Court is it, fellow workers?

It consists of one Trade Unionist, one Liberal K.C., and one representative of an Employers' Federation.

The balance will be two to one against the dockers, fellow workers.

Is that the sort of Court you expected the Labour Government to set up?

Do not be surprised, fellow workers. That

Do not be surprised, fellow workers. That is tactics, statesmanship, political wisdom.

The Court of Inquiry is only camouflage. It will not help the dockers. If they have shown that they know how to help themselves, the Court of Inquiry may agree to let them keep some of what they have won by their own efforts.

Where shall the dockers look for help, fellow workers?

Not to the employers, not to the Court of Inquiry.

To you, fellow workers, they can only look to you for support.

How can you help them?

You may subscribe your pennies to the strike funds, but that will not help much.

Solidarity is your only great means to help the dockers.

The sympathetic strike, the general strike, the one Big Union, are the practical means of showing solidarity.

Form the one Big Union.
What sort of one Big Union?

The All-Workers Union of Workshop Committees, the best form of one Big Union yet devised.

THE SEARCHLIGHT.

COMMUNIST WORKERS' MOVEMENT. Meetings.

Sundays, 3 p.m., Hyde Park. N. Smyth and others.

Sunday, March 2nd. 7.30 p.m. Hamilton Hall, 375, High Road, Willesden Green. Sylvia Pankhurst and others.

A LITERATURE PITCH.

Comrade Mrs. Ironside is organising a literature selling pitch in Oxford Street. Comrades willing to assist are asked to communicate with the "Dreadnought" office in order that we may forward their names to her.

Read EIRE The Irish Nation

Weekly Review of Irish Republican Opinio

PRICE TWOPENCE

On Sale Saturdays

CLERIAL WORK.

Volunteers are needed for Clerical and Organising work. Comrades should write to the "Dreadnought" office.

THE "ONE BIG UNION BULLETIN"

The One Big Union seeks to organise the workers on class lines. Read about it.
10/- per year; 5/- six months.

Plebs Buildings, 54 Adelaide Street, Winnipeg.

Published by E. Sylvia Pankhurst, at 152, Fleet Street, London, E.C. 4, and printed by the Agenda Press, Ltd. (T.U.), at 10. Wine Office Court, London, E.C. 4.