To the readers of THE NEW REPUBLIC:

Never was the moment more auspicious to issue a great magazine of liberty.

With the Russian people in the lead, the world is entering upon the experiment of industrial and real democracy.

The possibilities of change in this day are beyond all imagination.

We must unite our hands and voices to make the end of this war the beginning of an age of freedom and happiness for mankind undreamed by those whose minds comprehend only political and military events.

With this ideal THE LIBERATOR comes into being on Lincoln's Birthday, February 12th, 1918.
